

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

NOVEMBER 3, 1881.

Official Returns.

DURING the four months ending 31st October, 1881, the receipts at the Custom House were $73,890.68. During the corresponding months last year, they were $95,864.34—a decrease of $21,973.76.

The receipts at the Inland Revenue office here, during the past four months were as follow:—

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes Licenses, Spirits, Tobacco, Malt, Petroleum Fees, Bill Stamps, Total, Amount collected during same period last year, and Decrease.

The following is a Comparative Statement of Deposits and Withdrawals at the Charlottetown Savings Bank for the first four months of the financial year, 1880 and 1881—July, August, September and October:—

Table with 2 columns: 1880 and 1881. Rows include DEPOSITS, WITHDRAWALS, Increase, Balance to the credit of Depositors on 31st October, 1881, and Increase for the last 12 months.

The Dogs Again.

We chronicled yesterday the fact that Mr. John Holman, of Charlottetown, had a few days ago, ten valuable sheep destroyed by dogs. We learn to-day that the Government Stock Farm flock of highly valuable sheep was attacked by dogs at daybreak this morning. Four out of five of those beautiful black faced ewes recently imported from England, (which cannot be replaced under twenty guineas each), and eight of the best lambs of the flock, (worth twenty dollars each, were destroyed by vicious dogs. The loss would doubtless have been far greater had not Mr. Bell the manager of the farm appeared on the scene as the dogs were attacking the fifth ewe, and drove them off. What will the civic authorities say now in defence of their neglect of duty in reference to this dog nuisance? They have been, as we stated yesterday, frequently warned to take action in this matter, in order that valuable stock might be saved from destruction. All was to no purpose. We have no doubt that now, when the great harm is done, they will set about to remedy a great evil.

We learn that two of the dogs which destroyed the Stock Farm sheep were traced to the residence of the owner, Mr. George Tanton, of this city, by one of the Stock Farm hands. The third escaped, but is so well marked that his owner is ere this discovered. The loss by this morning's destruction by these savage dogs allowed to run at large without their owners, is very great, and cannot be repaired for any money in time for the requirements of the country, and it is, to say the least, very aggravating to farmers who are anxious to improve their breeds of sheep.

Arrival of the "Alliance."

FROM A FRUITLESS SEARCH AFTER THE MISSING ARCTIC STEAMER "JEANETTE."

The United States war steamer "Alliance," Commander G. H. Wadleigh, from Reykjavik, Iceland, Oct. 5th, arrived at Halifax on Tuesday. The "Alliance" left Norfolk, Va., last June on an Arctic expedition in search of James Gordon Bennett's Arctic steamer "Jeanette," which left San Francisco in 1879 on a three years' cruise, since which time nothing has been heard of her but once. The steamer "Alliance" sailed from St. John's, Newfoundland, about the first of July last, and arrived in due course at Reykjavik, Iceland, from whence she sailed for Norway—going as high as latitude 80.10, longitude 10.55 East. Finding no trace of the "Jeanette," she returned to Norway, whence she went to Greenland, returning again to Iceland, but finding no trace of the missing steamer, she sailed for Halifax. She has no guns or ammunition on board, as she was so heavily laden with coal and provisions. She will remain in Halifax till Sunday, when she sails for New York and probably thence to Norfolk, Va. The "Alliance" carries 182 men; is 675 tons, and was built five years ago.

Guiteau and his Plea.

A Washington despatch says: "Sevillas correspondence regarding the insanity of Guiteau has assumed great proportions. Sevillas believes there will be no difficulty in establishing insanity. The assassin was very excitable on Saturday, and angry because the attorneys are pressing the insanity plea. He says he rests his defence upon the inspiration of the Almighty, who caused him to kill the President. Insanity will also be pleaded in the case of Mason, who attempted to kill Guiteau."

"What is This?"

The latest issue of the Scottish American Journal has the following paragraph: "WHAT IS THIS?—In a recent Highland magazine appears an article on 'The Fenian Skirmishing Fund and the Highlands,' which is said to bring together documents which are damaging to Mr. John Murdoch, the proprietor and editor of the Highlander."

THE STATE OF IRELAND.

ARCHBISHOP MCGADE'S PASTORAL.

NEW YORK HERALD BUREAU, DUBLIN, Oct. 29.

Archbishop McCabe has delivered an important pastoral. The following is an extract referring to the present crisis:—"The condition of our dear country calls for our bitterest tears. Only a little while ago our own city presented scenes of lawlessness which might disgrace an un-Christian rabble. It is true the evil-doers were but a handful of misguided youths, but it is nevertheless true that evil-doers are in our midst, and that the youthful culprit of today may become the hardened profligate, if society fails in its duties to the rising generation. We feel ourselves, very reverend fathers, imperatively called on to enter our most solemn protest against another indignity which has been offered to the moral sense of our own people in this city, the centre of Catholic Ireland. Only a few days ago ever-confiding men were startled from their dream of security by the publication of a manifesto which at once assailed the eternal law of good and struck at the foundations on which society rests. Passing over all other cases in which these rights are threatened, let us confine ourselves to one particular class of the community. There are hundreds of honest, industrious men among us who, trusting to their faith in the public conscience, and calculating on the security which a duly constituted Government is expected to give, have invested the fruits of their years of toil and self-sacrifice in property, from which they hoped they and theirs might draw the means of an honorable subsistence. But all this must be swept away by the breath of a handful of men, the bulk of whom have neither stake nor interest in the country. We disregard the warnings which cautioned us against the danger that lurked in the spacious programmes pretending to aid us in redressing the wrongs of an oppressed people. But now God's providence has forced from the lips of the unsafe guides an avowal of their aims; and if the notice to pay no rents be not the teachings of Communism, Communism is yet to be defined. Let no one suppose, very reverend fathers, that we have a word to say in defence of the oppression of the poor. We feel as keenly as the most outspoken of our brethren inspired by the ministrations of cruel injuries worked by bad laws on the defenceless tenants of Ireland, but we must not allow our abhorrence of injustice to betray us into a repudiation of the claims of justice. If to-day the landlord's claim to his just rent be questioned, who will guarantee the tenant's right to his outlay of money and toil? To-morrow injustice will repay injustice, and on the day of retribution the wrongdoer will be laughed at when he seeks for sympathy in his troubles. The issue is now plainly put to our people which of two paths they will follow: whether they will follow the men who have marked out the road that must lead to anger with God, and disgrace before the Christian world, or the bishops of Ireland, who, through a glorious and unbroken succession of fourteen centuries, are the leaders of those who encountered poverty and exile, and dared death in its most terrific form, for the people with whom their lives are irrevocably bound up."

CHAMBERLAIN VS. GLADSTONE.

The speeches of Mr. Chamberlain and Gladstone at Liverpool and Knowsley respectively, have not tended to the elucidation of the political controversy about Ireland. Mr. Chamberlain frankly admitted that the objects of the Land League were originally legal, "and even praiseworthy," and that only since the "no rent" proclamation had it become guilty of treasonable practices, and, therefore, illegal. Mr. Chamberlain further admits that the Government, of which he is a member, felt that the Land League agitation, with all its concomitants of outrage and terrorism, was absolutely necessary to enable them to push the Land bill through the Lords. Had it not been for this the bill would have been thrown out of the Lords, as the Compensation bill of the previous session was thrown out, thus giving the signal for terrorism. Mr. Gladstone does not admit that the League influenced the introduction of the Land bill, the Government having previously decided to treat the land question. In his Middlesexian speeches Mr. Gladstone intimated his intention of tinkering the Act of 1870, and it is probable that until the development of the situation he thought that sufficient. The compensation bill was an instance at once of a desire to do some sort of justice to Ireland, and of inability to comprehend the position of affairs. It may truly be said that until the agitations which resulted from the massacre of that bill by the Lords, Mr. Gladstone no more than other English statesmen understood the absolute wants of Ireland. The starting-point of the Land League at that juncture was an inspiration, and Mr. Chamberlain is no more than right when he acknowledges its power, and had it been kept on the original lines it would have continued to do magnificent work. Mr. Chamberlain's admissions are rather awkward for Mr. Gladstone, and expose him to the adverse criticism of the Conservatives, who ask at what point the illegality came in, whether with Parnell's speech at Wexford, or with the "no rent" proclamation. It seems, indeed, as if the Government had winked at the proclamation, as it was probably the League's last shot, and that they compelled the League to issue it by arresting Parnell. In any case, Mr. Chamberlain's speech gives a handle to the Conservatives and that portion of the Radicals who oppose the coercion policy to carry a vote of censure against the Government next session.

PARNELL DEPRECATES THE FORMING OF TENANT DEFENCE ASSOCIATIONS.

The Freeman's Journal publishes a letter from Mr. Parnell, dated Kilmahinch jail, deprecating the plan of evading the recent proclamation of the government by the formation of tenants' defence associations to replace the Land League organization. Mr. Parnell says such associations would be tolerated by Mr. Gladstone only so long as they appeared to be disposed to carry out his views, and would be mongrel reactionary associations, such as were formerly condemned by Mr. Davitt. Every man in Kilmahinch is willing to remain there any number of months or years that may be necessary.

LEAGUE LEADERS AT PARIS.

PARIS, Oct. 29. The Land Leaguers are still hesitating whether or not to transfer their headquarters to Paris. Virtually they are here already, for the only influential leaders of the league not in jail, with the exception of Arthur O'Connor, E. P. O'Connor and Justin McCarthy, are now at the Hotel Normandy. Arthur O'Connor was here a couple of days ago, but received a summons to London, where he arrived yesterday. The Leaguers have a shrewd suspicion that the French Government would not tolerate any regular organization hostile to England on French territory. It is probable, however, that the centre of the movement will be here for some time to come, but opening offices appears to be impossible.

SUBSCRIBERS in arrears will do well to settle their accounts to the end of the year; and commence the "Pay in Advance System."

The Princess Louise.

AN INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF HER INDISPOSITION.

Anent this subject Dr. Dupuis, of Kingston, writes to the Kingston "News," as follows:—

DEAR SIR,—I notice that in your issue of Tuesday evening you excuse the long absence of the Princess Louise from Canada by stating that she was seriously ill from the effects of the bruise which she received when thrown from her sleigh. I was glad to see that you had the facts of the case, as many persons and some newspapers incline to the opinion that she made use of that accident as a pretext for being absent from Canada. I am able to state, on the best of authority, that she was hurt so badly by the accident that her ultimate recovery from its after effects was for a time considered doubtful. In July last, at the Royal College of Surgeons, I was introduced to Erasmus Wilson, one of the oldest and most eminent surgeons of England. As soon as he knew that I was from Canada, he entered into a conversation respecting our country. In the course of his remarks he spoke something as follows:—"I always like to meet Canadians; but I tell you I shall not think so much of them hereafter if they do not use our Princesses better when we send them over there." This brought up the subject of her injury, and I told him that most persons here supposed that she was not seriously injured, and that her absence was caused by her dislike to Canada. He said: "Well, I know better than that; I know that she was badly injured, for I was consulted on her case as soon as she came home, and I can tell you, sir, that she was very seriously injured." The old gentleman then went on and detailed to me the nature of the injury and the consequences that had resulted from it, and convinced me that what we had ignorantly considered as a trifling bruise, not knowing the facts, was an injury of grave import. And he further informed me that it was by the advice of her medical advisers and of her friends that she remained at home.

Also, another gentleman who is personally acquainted with the Princess informed me that she was anxious to have returned to Canada, but on account of the serious results that had followed the severe bruise she received on the side of her head, her friends and medical advisers would not allow her to return.

I think, therefore, we should not judge the motives of our Princesses nor accuse her of dislike to Canada without knowing the reasons why she has been so long and so sadly separated from us."

SUBSCRIBERS in arrears are respectfully requested to pay up now while the money is going.

Smallpox in Chicago.

CHURCHES VISITED BY THE POLICE, AND THE CONGREGATIONS VACCINATED BY FORCE.

A CHICAGO despatch of the 30th ult. says:—"The crusade against smallpox, which is very prevalent in the densely populated wards in the north-western portion of the city, was begun in earnest to-day. At 3 o'clock the health commissioner, Dr. Wolfe, took a detachment of police and went to St. Paul's cathedral, Catholic, and vaccinated the entire congregation. At the same hour Dr. Garrett with another detachment of police visited St. Stanislaus church, where the whole congregation were compelled to undergo the vaccine process. The rapid spread of the disease in this part of the city is attributed to the popular superstition against vaccination. A few of the non-attendants were vaccinated at their homes. Thirteen hundred vaccine points were used to-day. Five new cases and four deaths were reported yesterday, making 121 cases this month."

Horse Raising.

The Toronto "Mail" says:—"If any man in Canada has any capital to spare, and would like to go into horse-breeding, now is his time to do so. All through the summer buyers have been in Canada purchasing horses for the other side, until there is almost a dearth of decent animals in the country. But apart from that, the victories of the American horses in England are bound to turn all eyes hitherward, and our people should be prepared to share in the general boom."

IT PAYS to pay in advance.

A Big Order.

A despatch relating to the purchase of the St. Lawrence (or Prescott) & Ottawa Railroad by the Canada Pacific Syndicate, adds:—

"The Syndicate has closed a contract for the winter delivery of 65,000 tons or 700 miles of steel rails from England and Germany, which is said to be the largest order ever given from this Continent."

THE ACADEMIC TOURNAMENT AT HALIFAX.—Of the $4,750 won at the matriculation examination of the University of Dalhousie last week, students from the various academic institutions bulked as follows:—

Table with 2 columns: Institution and Amount. Includes Pictou Academy, Prince of Wales College, Normal School, Halifax High School, New Glasgow High School, Private Study.

Thus Pictou Academy, of which Mr. Munro, the princely benefactor of Dalhousie, is one of the most famous graduates, has done its duty very satisfactorily.—Pictou Standard.

Local and Other Items.

The "Heather Belle" will make her last trip to Crapaud, to-morrow. She will leave at 6 o'clock a. m.

Last week the receipts of the P. E. I. Railway, were $800 in excess of the corresponding week of last year.

In thirty-one cities and towns of the United States there are 92,500 French Canadians, representing about 10,000 families.

A CORRESPONDENT requests us to warn citizens to keep their stables securely closed, as there is in the city two noted horse thieves.

HANLAN writes to the Toronto Globe stating that the race between Ross and himself will not take place this year.

The barque David Rees, reported as passed the Gut of Canso, on the 17th of October, has not yet arrived at this port.

ABOUT 7,000 or 8,000 tons of local freight was handled on the Grand Trunk railway during the past week. The scarcity of cars still continues.

MR. MICHAEL HICKEY, of the firm of Hickey & Stewart, has returned from the United States, where he had been selecting the wister's stock of tobacco leaf.

Y. M. C. A.—On Monday evening next a musical and literary entertainment will be given in Y. M. C. A. Hall. A good programme. Look out for it to-morrow.

THE schooner "Lavinia Elizabeth," Capt. D. Murphy, which sailed from Lunenburg for this port on the 6th of October, is now in Pictou. During a gale off Cape George, she lost both anchors, and was obliged to run into a harbor, where her cargo was sold.

UTILIZING AMMONIA IN GAS-HOUSES.—The Montreal city gas works shipped 200 barrels of salts of ammonia to England last week, the first experiment of crystallizing the waste ammonia water, which heretofore has run to waste and polluted the sewers. A large profit is expected to accrue from the new system.

THE directors of the Canada Pacific railway deny the report that they made a demand upon the Government for all the timber lands between Nipissing and Winnipeg. Their object in interviewing the Government was in connection with immigration measures for next year.

ENGLISH CAPITAL AT CAPE BRETON.—We understand that a gentleman from London, a representative of English capitalists, has arrived within the past few days for the purpose of ascertaining what advantages Cape Breton possesses for the investment of English capital. Judging from recent reports, bright prospects are in store for Cape Breton's mineral development.—Sydney Herald.

THE Pacific Railway Syndicate have purchased the interest in the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railway of the late Thomas Reynolds, formerly managing director of the road. This gives the Syndicate a controlling interest in the road. Now that they own the line from Ottawa to Prescott the Grand Trunk is practically cut off from the Ottawa valley until they build a branch line of their own.

THE Principal of the Deaf and Dumb Institution, Halifax, acknowledges with thanks the following donations: Wm. Ross, Pictou, $3; Rev. Robt. Patterson, Bedeque, $2; Hugh MacLeod, Kensington, P. E. I., $2; Miss Maggie McLean, Murray Harbor, P. E. I., $18; Rev. A. Cameron (thank offering from Riverside Congregation, Portauquis, N. S.) $13.50.

BUILDING AT WINNIPEG.—A strike is reported again amongst the bricklayers for an increase of wages. The probable result of these repeated importunities will be that all building operations will be suspended until next spring. Some contractors have shut down already; as they find that it now costs $50 a thousand to supply material and lay brick on a wall; and the remainder will doubtless follow suit. When things go to extremes a reaction is sure to follow.—Winnipeg Times.

In Charlottetown during recent years, a loving couple might be made one in peace. But the recent charivari murder in Ottawa, or the almost equally disgraceful affair at Summerside, seem to have had an influence for evil over some of our citizens. Last night was made hideous in the vicinity of the "Free Church" by the noise and devilry of a charivari party, organized to annoy Mr. Robertson and his bride. The residents of the neighborhood were seriously disturbed by the masked and boisterous mob. It is said that an insurance agent, some lawyers clerks and others, who should know and do better, took part in the proceedings.

HYMENEAL.—A correspondent, Lot 65, writes: "Quite a large number of people assembled at St. Ann's Church, Lot 65, on the 30th ult., to witness a matrimonial ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated. At 2 o'clock, p. m., the Rev. James M. McDonald took his place in the sanctuary, when Edward McGee, of Brighton, Charlottetown, and Mrs. McNaughton, of St. Ann's, Lot 65, were made one. Miss Cummings was bridesmaid, while Miss McEwen and Miss Murray acted as maids of honor. Mr. James Cummings, assisted by Messrs. Daniel McDonald and Patrick Berrigan, was groomsmen. Space will not permit of a description of the dresses worn by the bride and bridesmaid, suffice it to say that they were superlative. After the ceremony the happy couple partook of luncheon with the Rev. Father McDonald, after which they left for their future home in Charlottetown. We wish them a prosperous and happy career."
