SOME idea of the enormous amount invested in life insurance in the United States may be gathered from the report to New York Insurance Department of the six largest companies Dec. 31st, 1885:— Assets. The Mutual Life of New York, $113,679,962.00 Equitable, 75,510,473.00 New York Life, 74,921,928.00 Connecticut Mutual, 55,702,494.00 Mutual Benefit, New Jersey, 49,816,516.00 Aetna, Hartford, 31,489,027.00 THE Toronto World of the 1st inst. contains a report of the closing exercises in connection with the Ontario Veterinary College, which gives us an opportunity of chronicling the success of still "another Islander abroad." The young man who has in this case sustained the reputation of our Province is Mr. James McMillan, of Alberry Plains, Lot 50, to whose name we may affix the V. S., so honorably gained on the above occasion. We wish our young friend a successful professional career. We had the pleasure of being present at the Benevolent Irish Society's Dramatic Club rehearsal last evening, and were much pleased with the manner in which the different performers acquitted themselves. Both drama and farce have been carefully studied, and new and appropriate scenery and costumes prepared therefor. If the characters are as well sustained on Monday evening as they were at rehearsal last evening, we have no hesitation whatever in saying that a rare treat is in store for our citizens. The Grand Division met here yesterday, Wm. Ramsay, G. W. P., presiding. Owing to the fine weather and the day being Good Friday a large number of delegates came by train. O'Brien Division took a very prominent part in the proceedings. A committee was appointed to watch legislation. A sum of money was voted to supplement the salary of the Inspector of Queen's County was severely criticized. He appears to have done little else than draw his salary. There was no public meeting as had been announced. A committee was appointed to assist in the celebration of the Queen's Jubilee.

RETALIATION.

THE PRESIDENT'S VIEWS.

WASHINGTON, April 8. In the President's reply to a communication received from the American Fisheries Union of Massachusetts, calling attention to the fisheries dispute, and suggesting that the retaliatory act passed would, in their opinion, be sufficiently executed if the proposed retaliation was confined to closing the United States market to Canadian fish products, he says: "The existing controversy is one in which two nations are parties concerned. The retaliation contemplated by the Act of Congress is to be enforced, not to protect solely any particular interest, however meritorious or valuable, but to maintain national honor, and thus protect all our people. In this view a violation of American fishery rights and unjust or unfriendly acts toward a portion of our citizens engaged in this business is but occasion for action and constitutes a national affront, which gives birth to, or may justify, retaliation. This measure, once resorted to, its effectiveness and value may well depend upon the thoroughness and extent of its application and in the performance of international rights and protection of our citizens. The Government and the people of the United States must act as a unit, all intent upon obtaining the best result of retaliation upon the basis of the maintenance of national honor and duty. In the performance of the serious duty which Congress has imposed upon me, and in the exercise upon just occasion of the power conferred under the Act referred to, I shall deem myself bound to inflict no unnecessary damage or injury upon any portion of our people, but I shall nevertheless be unflinchingly guided by the sense of what the self-respect and dignity of the nation demands."
