Island Travel Bureau Receiving Many Inquiries

The young ladies on the staff of the P.E.I. Travel Bureau stepped into high gear yesterday to catch up with requests for literature on an "ask today, reply today" basis. In going over the 132 requests received yesterday Mr. Geo. V. Fraser, Director of the Bureau, was particularly interested in and pleased at the immediate results of the newspaper campaign launched by the Bureau in several Eastern United States and Canadian papers last Saturday and Sunday.

daily average from that source. The group of ads destined to reach the public from the Travel Bureau will be published in the areas referred to each week-end from March 21 to June 17. Enquiries were received from New York, Toronto, Montreal, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Ottawa, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

A cross-section of potential visitors includes clergymen, doctors, lawyers, authors, teachers, police and one writer indicated his desire to spend his honeymoon on the Island.

Season's Prospects "We have been reluctant to forecast the probabilities for the coming season in respect to the tourist traffic but the continued upswing of enquiries as compared with last spring warrants optimism," Mr. Fraser said. "January 1953 totalled 654, this year 966; February 1088, this year 1847. All of March last year 1274 while this year to date the total has reached 1580. These are all from prospective summer visitors and do not include the student enquiries."

Transportation In March, 1917

In a daily journal dealing with railway activities for the year 1917 the interesting recording is noted for March 23. "Cold weather—The P. E. Island left Georgetown at 2:00 p.m. The ice boats between Cape Traverse and Cape Tormentine crossed both ways."

Card Of Thanks

My sincere thanks is extended to Doctors, the Sisters, Graduate and Student Nurses of the Charlottetown Hospital for their kindness to me during my recent illness, also to my many friends who remembered me by their cheery messages, flowers, etc. Mrs. C. W. Croken. Emerald Junction.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of CHARLES F. LARTER, Who passed away March 25th, 1950. It is just four years ago today since your dear spirit passed away. The loneliness we have gone through. We wish we could tell it all to you. The vacant home and many things, that sadness to our memory brings. Your memory we will still hold dear. And miss you more from year to year. Lovingly remembered by his Wife and Family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear Father Nelson J. Gammeter, who passed away March 25th, 1945. This month recalls sad memories of a loved one gone to rest. And those who think of you today. Are the ones who loved you best. Ever remembered by his daughter Christine.

Taylor's Display Spring Fashion In Jewellery

In spring, a woman's fancy turns to thoughts of a new ensemble, complete with jewelry adornments. Prince Edward Island women will delight, then, in Taylor's Jewellers window display of jewelry to be worn at the forthcoming Parade of Spring Fashions. Novelty materials for jewelry this spring include nylon, straw, leather and mother-of-pearl, all showing in Taylor's window this week. A necklace and earring set of natural straw braid will attract the eye of many ladies. Bright-colored berries add the light-hearted spring touch to this pretty set. Nylon braid sets of necklace, bracelet and earrings are in pastel blue and beige, both colors which lead in this year's fashion chart. Sets of jewelry in red and beige leather, edged in gold, will set off many of the nubby fabrics of this season. Drop earrings are holding in popularity and in this display, their styles are fan-shaped silver mesh, circular gold and abstract coils. Round mother-of-pearl wafers in flower or plain design in sets in colors of brown, white and grey mother-of-pearl are most attractive. Also shown in the window are pictures of seven models who will wear this jewelry in the Spring Show.
