

Enmore and Vicinity

Mrs. Charles Frost, Springhill, was visiting relatives in Enmore on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Enman and family were visiting Mr. and Mrs. John R. Enman on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coulson and daughter Sharon, Summerside, are spending some days in Victoria West.

Mr. James Noye, MacNeil's Mills, was visiting his father, Mr. Wallace Noye on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Gordon MacArthur spent the weekend in North Enmore, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bryant.

Mrs. Edwin Dawson, Poplar Grove, was a recent visitor at the home of her brother, Mr. Gordon Noye and other relatives.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs. Allison Raynor in the death of her mother, Mrs. A. E. Wilkinson, which took place in the Prince County Hospital on Feb. 19th.

The United Ladies Aid met for their February meeting at the home of Mrs. Alex Ford. A large number of members and visitors were present.

Reverend George Cunningham, Alberton, conducted service in the Presbyterian Church, Victoria West on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stockwell, Stamford, Conn. are visiting at the home of Mrs. Stockwell's

Mount Pleasant and Vicinity

The many friends of Miss Mamie Stewart, North Enmore, regret to hear that she is a patient in the O'Leary Hospital. All join in wishing her a quick return to her usual good health.

Mrs. Dr. Davies and Mr. Carlyle Wilkinson, U.S.A., and Mr. and Mrs. John Wilkinson, Sydney, N.S. were recent guests of their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Raynor.

Miss Joyce MacKay and Mr. Allan Weber, Summerside, were recent visitors in this vicinity. These young people conducted Sunday School in Enmore School during the summer and fall months. Their pupils were pleased to see them again.

A most enjoyable evening was spent at the Mount Pleasant rink on Tuesday, Feb. 20th, when an ice Carnival was held in aid of the Stewart Memorial Health Centre, Tyne Valley. A large crowd was in attendance and many were in costume. Two clowns were also present and added greatly to the entertainment. Among the costumes were the Pied Piper, Robin Hood, Witches, rabbits, Old Chums, Mammy & Pappy Yokum, Spring, Sand Island, the Gay Nineties, Eastus, Aunt Jemima, Valentine, Cowboy and his bride, and many others. Prizes were given to the winning contestants. Lunch was served and home made candy was on sale. A sale of pies also took place and a substantial sum of money was realized.

The Town of Summerside, or rather the citizens of Summerside, do offer attractive activities for the youth of our town. The Y's Men in their sponsorship of the Boy Scouts are doing a fine work among the boys. We doubt if you will find any juvenile delinquents among boys who are active, or have been active, in Boy Scout work. The work of the Summerside Kinsmen among boys in the realm of sports is well known. They have contributed much in the last four or five years to help combat juvenile delinquency. The air cadet movement is another worthwhile activity that is flourishing here.

In spite of the splendid work of these organizations, however, Summerside lacks some of the facilities for youth welfare found in most towns of its size. We have no basketball court; we have an indoor rink but it's decrepit and generally unwearying character is almost enough to drive youth to juvenile delinquency. To state that the presence of these sports facilities in Summerside would blot out all juvenile delinquency would be naive indeed. The problem of youthful delinquents is a very complicated one, involving parental control, hereditary tendencies, etc. It is generally agreed, however, that a community centre wisely supervised and containing facilities to encourage youth participation in sports helps the over-all picture of juvenile behavior to a marked degree.

Well, the establishment of a home of correction on Prince Edward Island for juvenile delinquents is doubtless a pressing need and should receive the early attention of those responsible. Every Province should live up to its status as a Province by standing on its own feet in such matters.

It must not be forgotten, however, that a far greater problem lies behind this juvenile crime wave than the establishment of a suitable reform school. "Prevention is better than cure" was never more surely borne out than it is in the problem of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful anyway if homes of correction will cure delinquents any more than wheel chairs will cure arthritis. Both are sometimes absolute necessities, but we must look further for effective methods of fighting the disease.

A boy has been defined by somebody as a "complicated mechanism of bones and muscles capable of all things except rest". They must be active all the time. They must have pursuits and projects upon which to exercise their keyed-up enthusiasms. If desirable outlets are not available to absorb their energies, they may drift into undesirable channels of endeavour.

The Town of Summerside, or rather the citizens of Summerside, do offer attractive activities for the youth of our town. The Y's Men in their sponsorship of the Boy Scouts are doing a fine work among the boys. We doubt if you will find any juvenile delinquents among boys who are active, or have been active, in Boy Scout work. The work of the Summerside Kinsmen among boys in the realm of sports is well known. They have contributed much in the last four or five years to help combat juvenile delinquency. The air cadet movement is another worthwhile activity that is flourishing here.

In spite of the splendid work of these organizations, however, Summerside lacks some of the facilities for youth welfare found in most towns of its size. We have no basketball court; we have an indoor rink but it's decrepit and generally unwearying character is almost enough to drive youth to juvenile delinquency. To state that the presence of these sports facilities in Summerside would blot out all juvenile delinquency would be naive indeed. The problem of youthful delinquents is a very complicated one, involving parental control, hereditary tendencies, etc. It is generally agreed, however, that a community centre wisely supervised and containing facilities to encourage youth participation in sports helps the over-all picture of juvenile behavior to a marked degree.

Well, the establishment of a home of correction on Prince Edward Island for juvenile delinquents is doubtless a pressing need and should receive the early attention of those responsible. Every Province should live up to its status as a Province by standing on its own feet in such matters.

It must not be forgotten, however, that a far greater problem lies behind this juvenile crime wave than the establishment of a suitable reform school. "Prevention is better than cure" was never more surely borne out than it is in the problem of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful anyway if homes of correction will cure delinquents any more than wheel chairs will cure arthritis. Both are sometimes absolute necessities, but we must look further for effective methods of fighting the disease.

A boy has been defined by somebody as a "complicated mechanism of bones and muscles capable of all things except rest". They must be active all the time. They must have pursuits and projects upon which to exercise their keyed-up enthusiasms. If desirable outlets are not available to absorb their energies, they may drift into undesirable channels of endeavour.

The Town of Summerside, or rather the citizens of Summerside, do offer attractive activities for the youth of our town. The Y's Men in their sponsorship of the Boy Scouts are doing a fine work among the boys. We doubt if you will find any juvenile delinquents among boys who are active, or have been active, in Boy Scout work. The work of the Summerside Kinsmen among boys in the realm of sports is well known. They have contributed much in the last four or five years to help combat juvenile delinquency. The air cadet movement is another worthwhile activity that is flourishing here.

In spite of the splendid work of these organizations, however, Summerside lacks some of the facilities for youth welfare found in most towns of its size. We have no basketball court; we have an indoor rink but it's decrepit and generally unwearying character is almost enough to drive youth to juvenile delinquency. To state that the presence of these sports facilities in Summerside would blot out all juvenile delinquency would be naive indeed. The problem of youthful delinquents is a very complicated one, involving parental control, hereditary tendencies, etc. It is generally agreed, however, that a community centre wisely supervised and containing facilities to encourage youth participation in sports helps the over-all picture of juvenile behavior to a marked degree.

Well, the establishment of a home of correction on Prince Edward Island for juvenile delinquents is doubtless a pressing need and should receive the early attention of those responsible. Every Province should live up to its status as a Province by standing on its own feet in such matters.

It must not be forgotten, however, that a far greater problem lies behind this juvenile crime wave than the establishment of a suitable reform school. "Prevention is better than cure" was never more surely borne out than it is in the problem of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful anyway if homes of correction will cure delinquents any more than wheel chairs will cure arthritis. Both are sometimes absolute necessities, but we must look further for effective methods of fighting the disease.

A boy has been defined by somebody as a "complicated mechanism of bones and muscles capable of all things except rest". They must be active all the time. They must have pursuits and projects upon which to exercise their keyed-up enthusiasms. If desirable outlets are not available to absorb their energies, they may drift into undesirable channels of endeavour.

The Town of Summerside, or rather the citizens of Summerside, do offer attractive activities for the youth of our town. The Y's Men in their sponsorship of the Boy Scouts are doing a fine work among the boys. We doubt if you will find any juvenile delinquents among boys who are active, or have been active, in Boy Scout work. The work of the Summerside Kinsmen among boys in the realm of sports is well known. They have contributed much in the last four or five years to help combat juvenile delinquency. The air cadet movement is another worthwhile activity that is flourishing here.

In spite of the splendid work of these organizations, however, Summerside lacks some of the facilities for youth welfare found in most towns of its size. We have no basketball court; we have an indoor rink but it's decrepit and generally unwearying character is almost enough to drive youth to juvenile delinquency. To state that the presence of these sports facilities in Summerside would blot out all juvenile delinquency would be naive indeed. The problem of youthful delinquents is a very complicated one, involving parental control, hereditary tendencies, etc. It is generally agreed, however, that a community centre wisely supervised and containing facilities to encourage youth participation in sports helps the over-all picture of juvenile behavior to a marked degree.

Well, the establishment of a home of correction on Prince Edward Island for juvenile delinquents is doubtless a pressing need and should receive the early attention of those responsible. Every Province should live up to its status as a Province by standing on its own feet in such matters.

It must not be forgotten, however, that a far greater problem lies behind this juvenile crime wave than the establishment of a suitable reform school. "Prevention is better than cure" was never more surely borne out than it is in the problem of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful anyway if homes of correction will cure delinquents any more than wheel chairs will cure arthritis. Both are sometimes absolute necessities, but we must look further for effective methods of fighting the disease.

A boy has been defined by somebody as a "complicated mechanism of bones and muscles capable of all things except rest". They must be active all the time. They must have pursuits and projects upon which to exercise their keyed-up enthusiasms. If desirable outlets are not available to absorb their energies, they may drift into undesirable channels of endeavour.

The Town of Summerside, or rather the citizens of Summerside, do offer attractive activities for the youth of our town. The Y's Men in their sponsorship of the Boy Scouts are doing a fine work among the boys. We doubt if you will find any juvenile delinquents among boys who are active, or have been active, in Boy Scout work. The work of the Summerside Kinsmen among boys in the realm of sports is well known. They have contributed much in the last four or five years to help combat juvenile delinquency. The air cadet movement is another worthwhile activity that is flourishing here.

In spite of the splendid work of these organizations, however, Summerside lacks some of the facilities for youth welfare found in most towns of its size. We have no basketball court; we have an indoor rink but it's decrepit and generally unwearying character is almost enough to drive youth to juvenile delinquency. To state that the presence of these sports facilities in Summerside would blot out all juvenile delinquency would be naive indeed. The problem of youthful delinquents is a very complicated one, involving parental control, hereditary tendencies, etc. It is generally agreed, however, that a community centre wisely supervised and containing facilities to encourage youth participation in sports helps the over-all picture of juvenile behavior to a marked degree.

Well, the establishment of a home of correction on Prince Edward Island for juvenile delinquents is doubtless a pressing need and should receive the early attention of those responsible. Every Province should live up to its status as a Province by standing on its own feet in such matters.

It must not be forgotten, however, that a far greater problem lies behind this juvenile crime wave than the establishment of a suitable reform school. "Prevention is better than cure" was never more surely borne out than it is in the problem of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful anyway if homes of correction will cure delinquents any more than wheel chairs will cure arthritis. Both are sometimes absolute necessities, but we must look further for effective methods of fighting the disease.

A boy has been defined by somebody as a "complicated mechanism of bones and muscles capable of all things except rest". They must be active all the time. They must have pursuits and projects upon which to exercise their keyed-up enthusiasms. If desirable outlets are not available to absorb their energies, they may drift into undesirable channels of endeavour.

The Town of Summerside, or rather the citizens of Summerside, do offer attractive activities for the youth of our town. The Y's Men in their sponsorship of the Boy Scouts are doing a fine work among the boys. We doubt if you will find any juvenile delinquents among boys who are active, or have been active, in Boy Scout work. The work of the Summerside Kinsmen among boys in the realm of sports is well known. They have contributed much in the last four or five years to help combat juvenile delinquency. The air cadet movement is another worthwhile activity that is flourishing here.

In spite of the splendid work of these organizations, however, Summerside lacks some of the facilities for youth welfare found in most towns of its size. We have no basketball court; we have an indoor rink but it's decrepit and generally unwearying character is almost enough to drive youth to juvenile delinquency. To state that the presence of these sports facilities in Summerside would blot out all juvenile delinquency would be naive indeed. The problem of youthful delinquents is a very complicated one, involving parental control, hereditary tendencies, etc. It is generally agreed, however, that a community centre wisely supervised and containing facilities to encourage youth participation in sports helps the over-all picture of juvenile behavior to a marked degree.

Well, the establishment of a home of correction on Prince Edward Island for juvenile delinquents is doubtless a pressing need and should receive the early attention of those responsible. Every Province should live up to its status as a Province by standing on its own feet in such matters.

It must not be forgotten, however, that a far greater problem lies behind this juvenile crime wave than the establishment of a suitable reform school. "Prevention is better than cure" was never more surely borne out than it is in the problem of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful anyway if homes of correction will cure delinquents any more than wheel chairs will cure arthritis. Both are sometimes absolute necessities, but we must look further for effective methods of fighting the disease.

Mount Pleasant and Vicinity

Mrs. Lester Yeo, Summerside, is spending a few days in Mount Pleasant at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ancil Ballum.

Friends of Mrs. Richard Cotton will be sorry to learn she is confined to her bed through illness.

Mr. Eric Ladner, Summerside, spent the week end at his home here.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson will be sorry to learn their baby has entered the Prince County Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Turner Moore, Northam, was a visitor at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Allison Williams during the week.

Mr. John W. Ellis, O'Leary, spent a few days at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Claude MacArthur recently.

Mr. Ray Murphy visited O'Leary during the week, and made the trip with horse and wagon, something unusual for February driving.

Mr. Robert Morrison, Conway, was a recent visitor at the home of his sister Mrs. Ancil Ballum.

Sympathy of this community is extended to Mrs. Allison Raynor, Enmore, in the passing of her mother.

Friends of Mr. Alpheus Ramsay will regret to know he is ill at his home, and trust he may soon be restored to his usual health.

Mrs. Lottie Brydges has returned to her home in Inverness, after spending a few days at the home of her sister Mrs. Roderick MacLeod.

Mrs. E. R. Pyke and children, Borden, spent a few days in Mt. Pleasant during the week with relatives and friends.

Congratulations and best wishes are extended to Frank MacKinnon and Carmen MacLeod whose marriage took place recently in St. Stephen, N. B.

A large crowd attended the Carnival Tuesday evening in the Mount Pleasant rink. The many different costumes afforded much laughter. Proceeds of the evening go to the Stewart Memorial Health center.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stockwell of Stamford, Conn., and former residents of Mt. Pleasant are spending a while with Mrs. Stockwell's parents Mr. and Mrs. Major Noye, Enmore. Mrs. Ross Schofield, Annapolis Valley accompanied her parents to the Island for a brief visit.

Let's Talk It Over

A Prince County Viewpoint

Juvenile delinquency seems to be growing into quite a sizable problem in Summerside. Reports indicate that there is an unprecedented petty crime wave among juveniles in our town. Consequently, the lack of a suitable detention home for juveniles convicted of crime in Prince Edward Island is causing some concern to our judicial heads. The practice has been to send our erring youth to a mainland institution but the attitude of the mainland authorities discourages continuation of this procedure.

Well, the establishment of a home of correction on Prince Edward Island for juvenile delinquents is doubtless a pressing need and should receive the early attention of those responsible. Every Province should live up to its status as a Province by standing on its own feet in such matters.

It must not be forgotten, however, that a far greater problem lies behind this juvenile crime wave than the establishment of a suitable reform school. "Prevention is better than cure" was never more surely borne out than it is in the problem of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful anyway if homes of correction will cure delinquents any more than wheel chairs will cure arthritis. Both are sometimes absolute necessities, but we must look further for effective methods of fighting the disease.

A boy has been defined by somebody as a "complicated mechanism of bones and muscles capable of all things except rest". They must be active all the time. They must have pursuits and projects upon which to exercise their keyed-up enthusiasms. If desirable outlets are not available to absorb their energies, they may drift into undesirable channels of endeavour.

The Town of Summerside, or rather the citizens of Summerside, do offer attractive activities for the youth of our town. The Y's Men in their sponsorship of the Boy Scouts are doing a fine work among the boys. We doubt if you will find any juvenile delinquents among boys who are active, or have been active, in Boy Scout work. The work of the Summerside Kinsmen among boys in the realm of sports is well known. They have contributed much in the last four or five years to help combat juvenile delinquency. The air cadet movement is another worthwhile activity that is flourishing here.

In spite of the splendid work of these organizations, however, Summerside lacks some of the facilities for youth welfare found in most towns of its size. We have no basketball court; we have an indoor rink but it's decrepit and generally unwearying character is almost enough to drive youth to juvenile delinquency. To state that the presence of these sports facilities in Summerside would blot out all juvenile delinquency would be naive indeed. The problem of youthful delinquents is a very complicated one, involving parental control, hereditary tendencies, etc. It is generally agreed, however, that a community centre wisely supervised and containing facilities to encourage youth participation in sports helps the over-all picture of juvenile behavior to a marked degree.

Well, the establishment of a home of correction on Prince Edward Island for juvenile delinquents is doubtless a pressing need and should receive the early attention of those responsible. Every Province should live up to its status as a Province by standing on its own feet in such matters.

It must not be forgotten, however, that a far greater problem lies behind this juvenile crime wave than the establishment of a suitable reform school. "Prevention is better than cure" was never more surely borne out than it is in the problem of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful anyway if homes of correction will cure delinquents any more than wheel chairs will cure arthritis. Both are sometimes absolute necessities, but we must look further for effective methods of fighting the disease.

A boy has been defined by somebody as a "complicated mechanism of bones and muscles capable of all things except rest". They must be active all the time. They must have pursuits and projects upon which to exercise their keyed-up enthusiasms. If desirable outlets are not available to absorb their energies, they may drift into undesirable channels of endeavour.

The Town of Summerside, or rather the citizens of Summerside, do offer attractive activities for the youth of our town. The Y's Men in their sponsorship of the Boy Scouts are doing a fine work among the boys. We doubt if you will find any juvenile delinquents among boys who are active, or have been active, in Boy Scout work. The work of the Summerside Kinsmen among boys in the realm of sports is well known. They have contributed much in the last four or five years to help combat juvenile delinquency. The air cadet movement is another worthwhile activity that is flourishing here.

In spite of the splendid work of these organizations, however, Summerside lacks some of the facilities for youth welfare found in most towns of its size. We have no basketball court; we have an indoor rink but it's decrepit and generally unwearying character is almost enough to drive youth to juvenile delinquency. To state that the presence of these sports facilities in Summerside would blot out all juvenile delinquency would be naive indeed. The problem of youthful delinquents is a very complicated one, involving parental control, hereditary tendencies, etc. It is generally agreed, however, that a community centre wisely supervised and containing facilities to encourage youth participation in sports helps the over-all picture of juvenile behavior to a marked degree.

Well, the establishment of a home of correction on Prince Edward Island for juvenile delinquents is doubtless a pressing need and should receive the early attention of those responsible. Every Province should live up to its status as a Province by standing on its own feet in such matters.

It must not be forgotten, however, that a far greater problem lies behind this juvenile crime wave than the establishment of a suitable reform school. "Prevention is better than cure" was never more surely borne out than it is in the problem of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful anyway if homes of correction will cure delinquents any more than wheel chairs will cure arthritis. Both are sometimes absolute necessities, but we must look further for effective methods of fighting the disease.

A boy has been defined by somebody as a "complicated mechanism of bones and muscles capable of all things except rest". They must be active all the time. They must have pursuits and projects upon which to exercise their keyed-up enthusiasms. If desirable outlets are not available to absorb their energies, they may drift into undesirable channels of endeavour.

The Town of Summerside, or rather the citizens of Summerside, do offer attractive activities for the youth of our town. The Y's Men in their sponsorship of the Boy Scouts are doing a fine work among the boys. We doubt if you will find any juvenile delinquents among boys who are active, or have been active, in Boy Scout work. The work of the Summerside Kinsmen among boys in the realm of sports is well known. They have contributed much in the last four or five years to help combat juvenile delinquency. The air cadet movement is another worthwhile activity that is flourishing here.

In spite of the splendid work of these organizations, however, Summerside lacks some of the facilities for youth welfare found in most towns of its size. We have no basketball court; we have an indoor rink but it's decrepit and generally unwearying character is almost enough to drive youth to juvenile delinquency. To state that the presence of these sports facilities in Summerside would blot out all juvenile delinquency would be naive indeed. The problem of youthful delinquents is a very complicated one, involving parental control, hereditary tendencies, etc. It is generally agreed, however, that a community centre wisely supervised and containing facilities to encourage youth participation in sports helps the over-all picture of juvenile behavior to a marked degree.

Well, the establishment of a home of correction on Prince Edward Island for juvenile delinquents is doubtless a pressing need and should receive the early attention of those responsible. Every Province should live up to its status as a Province by standing on its own feet in such matters.

It must not be forgotten, however, that a far greater problem lies behind this juvenile crime wave than the establishment of a suitable reform school. "Prevention is better than cure" was never more surely borne out than it is in the problem of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful anyway if homes of correction will cure delinquents any more than wheel chairs will cure arthritis. Both are sometimes absolute necessities, but we must look further for effective methods of fighting the disease.

A boy has been defined by somebody as a "complicated mechanism of bones and muscles capable of all things except rest". They must be active all the time. They must have pursuits and projects upon which to exercise their keyed-up enthusiasms. If desirable outlets are not available to absorb their energies, they may drift into undesirable channels of endeavour.

The Town of Summerside, or rather the citizens of Summerside, do offer attractive activities for the youth of our town. The Y's Men in their sponsorship of the Boy Scouts are doing a fine work among the boys. We doubt if you will find any juvenile delinquents among boys who are active, or have been active, in Boy Scout work. The work of the Summerside Kinsmen among boys in the realm of sports is well known. They have contributed much in the last four or five years to help combat juvenile delinquency. The air cadet movement is another worthwhile activity that is flourishing here.

In spite of the splendid work of these organizations, however, Summerside lacks some of the facilities for youth welfare found in most towns of its size. We have no basketball court; we have an indoor rink but it's decrepit and generally unwearying character is almost enough to drive youth to juvenile delinquency. To state that the presence of these sports facilities in Summerside would blot out all juvenile delinquency would be naive indeed. The problem of youthful delinquents is a very complicated one, involving parental control, hereditary tendencies, etc. It is generally agreed, however, that a community centre wisely supervised and containing facilities to encourage youth participation in sports helps the over-all picture of juvenile behavior to a marked degree.

Well, the establishment of a home of correction on Prince Edward Island for juvenile delinquents is doubtless a pressing need and should receive the early attention of those responsible. Every Province should live up to its status as a Province by standing on its own feet in such matters.

It must not be forgotten, however, that a far greater problem lies behind this juvenile crime wave than the establishment of a suitable reform school. "Prevention is better than cure" was never more surely borne out than it is in the problem of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful anyway if homes of correction will cure delinquents any more than wheel chairs will cure arthritis. Both are sometimes absolute necessities, but we must look further for effective methods of fighting the disease.

A boy has been defined by somebody as a "complicated mechanism of bones and muscles capable of all things except rest". They must be active all the time. They must have pursuits and projects upon which to exercise their keyed-up enthusiasms. If desirable outlets are not available to absorb their energies, they may drift into undesirable channels of endeavour.

The Town of Summerside, or rather the citizens of Summerside, do offer attractive activities for the youth of our town. The Y's Men in their sponsorship of the Boy Scouts are doing a fine work among the boys. We doubt if you will find any juvenile delinquents among boys who are active, or have been active, in Boy Scout work. The work of the Summerside Kinsmen among boys in the realm of sports is well known. They have contributed much in the last four or five years to help combat juvenile delinquency. The air cadet movement is another worthwhile activity that is flourishing here.

Piusville and Vicinity

Miss Lois Warren, St. Louis was a recent visitor to Piusville.

The Misses Kemmie and June MacGregor, Burton were visiting in Piusville on Sunday.

Mr. George Keys, Summerside was a recent business visitor to Piusville.

Mr. Keith Kelly, Roseville recently spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Corcoran.

Mrs. Jack Adams and daughter, Blanche of Elmada, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Brendon Wallace on Sunday.

Miss Pearl MacArthur, Summerside spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James MacArthur, Rosebank.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Corcoran spent Sunday in Roseville, guests of Mrs. Corcoran's parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kelly.

Mrs. Loman Harris and family have returned to their home in Rosebank after having spent a few weeks visiting relatives and friends in St. John.

Mrs. John Corcoran and daughter, Aletha recently spent a few days in St. Louis guests of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien.

Mr. Ben Gallant who has been employed in the lumber woods for the past few months in New Brunswick has returned to his home here.

The many friends of Mr. Louis Gallant are sorry to hear that he is not feeling so well, and all hope that his condition will soon be improved.

Miss Doris Hardy and her brother Ralph of Summerside, spent the week-end with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hardy, Rosebank. They were accompanied by Miss Agnes Heffell, Summerside.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gallant and family, Coleman and Mr. Fidele Gallant, Charlottetown, P. E. I. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dalton, Summerside Mr. and Mrs. John F. P. Gallant and family, Woodstock Mr. and Mrs. Felix Arsenault, Woodstock Mr. and Mrs. Eusebe Arsenault, Howlan Mr. and Mrs. Leo Arsenault, Howlan Mr. and Mrs. Tennis Peters, Howlan Members of the Sodality B. V. M.

Spiritual Bouquet Occar, Helen and Mother, Halifax, N. S. Enrollments The Dupras Family, Lowell, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Thompson, Dorchester, Mass. Mrs. Marie G. Arnold, Boston, Mass. Messages of Sympathy Aunt Maggie and Agatha, Howlan Aunt Denise, O'Leary Aunt Addie and Uncle Gilbert, Lowell, Mass. Aunt Margaret and Uncle Ben, Paterson, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Dorice Gallant, Duvern Mr. and Mrs. Urban Pineau, Bloomfield Miss Laurette Arsenault, Howlan Mr. Pius Pinnan, Rigaud, Quebec Mr. P. A. Arsenault, Tignish Shore Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Peters, Howlan Mr. and Mrs. Francis Blanchard, Charlottetown Mrs. George Sweet, Woodstock Mr. and Mrs. Alban Arsenault, Howlan Mr. and Mrs. Earle Chappelle and family, Sherbrooke Mr. and Mrs. Roy Arbing, Woodstock Mr. and Mrs. Ben DesRoches, Miscouche Mr. Oscar Perry, St. John, N. B. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Perry, Charlottetown Mr. and Mrs. Earl Palmer, Woodstock Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, Woodstock Mr. and Mrs. Leo Arsenault, Howlan Miss Glenn Smith, Bloomfield Mr. and Mrs. Everett K&A, Dartmouth, N. S. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Murphy, Alberton Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Follett, Montreal Mr. and Mrs. John Jeffery, Roxbury Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gallant, Howlan Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dignan, Howlan Mrs. Dominic Arsenault, Charlottetown Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rayner, Greenmount Mr. and Mrs. William Shields, P. E. I.

Common Disease Epilepsy ranks with diabetes or active tuberculosis in number of cases, but not in mortality rate.

Card Of Thanks Lorraine Gallant, Howlan, P. E. I., wishes to thank the doctors and nurses of the Prince County Hospital, the Chaplain and the Rev. M. J. Rooney and all his friends and neighbors who were so kind to him and his little family during their recent sad bereavement.

CAMEO THEATRE KENSINGTON Friday-Saturday 7:15-9:15, Matinee Saturday 3:30. Gene Autry and Champion, world's wonder horse, in "RIM OF THE CANYON". With Nan Leslie, Thurston Hall, Clem Bevans. Also Serial and News.

CAPITOL Summerside (THE BEST IN SOUND & MOVIES) LAST SHOWING TODAY — 2:30-7:15-9:15 "CAPTAIN CHINA" Starring John Payne - Gail Russell Action Galore — Shipwreck — Cargo Loose — Typhoon — Mutiny. HIGH ADVENTURE ON THE HIGH SEAS IT'S GOOD . . . DON'T MISS IT! Monday 7:15-9:15 — Tuesday 3:30-7:15-9:15

SPY HUNT starring Howard DUFF - Marta TOREN PHILIP FRIEND - ROBERT DOUGLAS PHILIP DORN - WALTER SLEZAK KURT KREUGER A UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL PICTURE

THE GIVING STORY OF THE WATFOLDS AND THE MCCOYS—America's most famous food! They dared to love against all the angry violence of hate! SAMUEL GOLDWYN presents Roseanna McCoy

FARLEY GRANGER - CHARLES BRUFFORD - RAYMOND MASSEY - RICHARD BARBART - GIGI FERREAU and featuring JOAN EVANS Directed by GEORGE ABEL - Screen Play by Guy S. Bennett - Story by George Abell - Produced by GEORGE ABEL - Distributed by M.P.M. Inc.

ENMAN'S DRUGS Write or Phone If You Wish

Professional Cards T. Earle Hickey Chartered Accountant Canadian Bank of Commerce Building PHONE 2888 Summerside, P. E. I. E. E. Parkman, Opt.D., R.O. OPTOMETRIST Eyes Examined Glasses Fitted Office Hours: 9 to 12 — 1 to 5 and by appointment Phone 3287 REGENT THEATRE BLDG. Summer St., Summerside. B. F. Hunter R. O. OPTOMETRIST Complete Visual Analyses Glasses Fitted PHONE 3116 SMALLMAN'S BUILDING Summerside, P.E.I. R. E. ELLIS INSURANCE Fire — Auto — Casualty 5 Summer St., Summerside PHONE 2413 W. CHESTER S. MacDONALD L.L.B. Barrister, Solicitor, Notary, Etc. Office formerly occupied by Late Heath Strong, K.C. Collections Promptly Attended To. Money to Loan REGENT Today 2:30-7:00-9:15 2 BIG ATTRACTIONS "BLUES BUSTERS" Bowery Boys — AND — "BOMBA AND THE HIDDEN CITY" Johnny Sheffield Monday 3:30-7:15-9:15 Tuesday 7:15-9:15

Enmore and Vicinity Mount Pleasant and Vicinity Let's Talk It Over Piusville and Vicinity Borden and Vicinity

Notice To Borden and Surrounding District

Notice We are interviewing applicants for the following positions:—bookkeeper cashiers, stock room man, fruit man, stock boys (ages 16 to 21), butchers, truck driver. Mr. Rod MacNevin will be at the new Co-op Super-Market on Monday, March 5th from 1.30 p.m. until 4.00 p.m. SUMMERSIDE CO-OP SUPER MARKET

Featuring WOMEN'S and HALF SIZES

navy your best shade for spring

Priced From — 11.95

The subtle flattery of a Navy Dress for Spring. . . . It can be yours no matter what size you wear. Lovely Navy Dresses of faille, crepe, sheer and rayon in a wonderful array of smart styles with attractive contrasting trimmings. Here are fashions that will prove to be perfect for an often hard-to-fit-figure—These are in women's and half sizes.

HOLMANS "Where Old Friends Meet"

ENMAN'S DRUGS Write or Phone If You Wish

ENMAN'S DRUGS

ENMAN'S DRUGS

ENMAN'S DRUGS