FANCY DRESS CARNIVAL at Alberton rink Friday, Feb. 26 at 8 p.m., sponsored by Alberton South Women's Institute.

Alberton and Vicinity

Miss Margaret Hardy, R. N., Charlottetown, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Hardy, Alberton.

Blair Nicholson, Alberton, entertained a number of high school friends at a birthday party at the Hillside Restaurant on Friday afternoon on the occasion of his eight birthday.

Observed 80th Birthday Saturday

On Saturday, Feb. 6th, Mr. George Sudsby, an esteemed citizen of Summerside, celebrated his 80th birthday, still enjoying excellent health and in full use of all his faculties.

Mr. Sudsby, who is a retired blacksmith, lives with his nephew, Mr. Earl Arsenault. He has resided in Summerside most of his life.

He recalls vividly the disastrous fire of 1906 which destroyed a large section of the town as well as the second great fire of 1916 when a large part of the business section was wiped out.

He has been employed by the Town of Summerside for a number of years and at the time when Summerside first enjoyed electric lights was on the civic payroll.

At that time, he states, the electric light plant was on Fitzroy Street, situated where the residences of Dr. H. E. Clark and Dick Henthorn now stand.

During his years at blacksmith work he was employed with the Hall Manufacturing Co., Ltd., and is one of the few remaining blacksmiths now living in Summerside.

Now retired, he takes life fairly easy during the winter months but when summer rolls around he can usually be found at some useful work for the town, work that would daunt a man twenty years younger.

His many friends in Summerside are extending congratulations on reaching this memorable milestone of life and all express the hope that his good health will continue for many more years to come.

Rangers Have Sellout Crowd

NEW YORK, (AP) — Madison Square Garden had its first National Hockey League sellout in more than five years Sunday night.

A capacity crowd of 15,926—many more were turned away—was on hand to welcome New York Rangers back after a triumphant series of road games.

The last time the Rangers played before a full house was on Jan. 25, 1949—then as Sunday night—against Montreal Canadiens.

CAPITOL THEATRE SUMMER-SIDE FEATURES TENSE, DRAMATIC STORY

Gripping drama and stark realism against the roaring tapestry of a great and teeming city, Chicago, provides the action-packed and suspenseful story pattern for Republic's "City That Never Sleeps," now at the Capitol Theatre and starring a strong cast which includes Gig Young, Mala Powers, William Talman and Edward Arnold.

Partially filmed in the mid-west metropolis, the production also features such notable players as Chill Wills, Marie Windsor, Paula Raymond, Otto Huellett, Wally Cassell and a lengthy cast of outstanding actors.

In this tense film document, the audience will see the glamour, the tinsel and the stark tragedy of the big city through the eyes of the courageous policeman on the beat, the guardian of the law who never sleeps.

Chiefly, "City That Never Sleeps" tells the exciting story of a young police officer, who in seeking to rescue his present environment, finds his true self in the tracking down of a mad killer, running amok on the streets of Chicago.

Let's Talk It Over

We are all justly proud of our democratic way of running elections, especially when we compare our system with the Russian method where the choice seems to lie between voting for the government favorite, or not voting at all. Our secret ballot insures to all of us the right to vote according to the dictates of our conscience.

This does not mean, of course, that all citizens do vote according to the dictates of their consciences. There are unfortunately a number of things that dictate to the prospective voter before he marks the "X" on the symbol of democratic freedom which is the secret ballot. Outright bribery in its most corrupt form is, perhaps, the lowest of these outside dictators. A milder form of bribery, largely condoned and indeed sometimes part and parcel of a party's strategy, is the practice of voting for a candidate in the hope, or even assurance, that material gain in the form of patronage will be forthcoming because of this support. Perhaps this can be classed with the "white lie" but the practice, especially when carried to extremes, is somewhat below the ideal of voting for the good of the country, or the district, as a whole.

Also to be classed as part of the ideal is the device, very rare but occasionally used, of announcing under the guise of news how some important government functionaries will vote on an issue which is either divorced from party platforms. If this "news" of how the great men will cast their ballots is given without any argument for or against the issue involved, it is at best an insult to the intelligence of other voters, carrying the implication that they need not investigate the circumstances surrounding the issue but can safely follow the leader like sheep being a one-track path behind the old bell-wether.

Secret Meeting

into a Big Five parley to consider global problems.

U N Framework

3. Confine all international attempts to bring about world disarmament to the United Nations. Molotov himself came up with an idea nearly two weeks ago for world disarmament conference under UN auspices to include Red China and other non-members.

The ministers, with three aides and an interpreter each, begin the third week of their conference in the conference room of the Allied control administration building in the American sector here.

For the last week they had been meeting in the Soviet Embassy in the Communist sector.

The Western three have picked their way through a maze of political difficulties to reach a path they believe might lead to peace in Asia.

Eden's government is the only one of the three, for example, which recognizes the Mao regime. Bidault has to keep looking over his shoulder at domestic parliamentary and public groups agitating for an Indo-Chinese settlement almost unconditionally.

Dulles has to avoid any steps that might seem like appeasement of a regime responsible for tens of thousands of American casualties in the Korean war.

Explore Intentions

But all have agreed to explore whether Russia, in the absence of a German settlement, is ready to reduce tension in Asia, and whether they can set a test of Red Chinese peaceful intentions.

They have concluded Russia should be asked to persuade Red China, possibly, to help get the long-delayed Geneva peace parley going. If Mao's men at such a conference co-operate in the search for a settlement, the Western diplomats feel the talks later can be broadened to take in Indo-China.

At Saturday's meeting, Molotov ignored three compromise feelers by the West on German unification but refused to let the conference shelve this deadlocked question to take up the Austrian independence treaty.

Molotov wound up the second fruitless week of the parley by reviving last year's Soviet demand on the Western powers to cut their occupation costs.

It seemed another grandstand play by the shrewd Russian, who has showered his diplomatic proposals with unacceptably high headlines but bring the conference no closer to a solution on Germany.

Offers Concessions

Bidault offered two concessions to the Soviet viewpoint in a last-ditch try to start German unification rolling.

He dropped the idea of Big Four super-champagne elections—hotly attacked by Molotov—and suggested instead that supervisory commissions to protect the voters' liberties be made up of one West German, one East German and one neutral as an arbiter.

Bidault accepted the electoral law of the old Weimar republic, which had received a few good words from Molotov as applicable in unification. The Communists liked this law because it permitted organizations as well as parties to put up candidates. Their organizations, such as the Women's League and Free German Youth, might thus get on the ballot.

Eden offered to extend the British-Soviet mutual defence treaty against German aggression. It was signed in 1943 and is due to expire in 1963.

"We in the United Kingdom for our part abide by our treaty with the Soviet Union," he said. "We should I am sure be ready to prolong it if Mr. Molotov feels that this would give added security to the Soviet Union."

But Eden made it clear that the West will not compromise on two fundamentals for ending Germany's divisions: A free choice by Germans of their government, and a free choice by that government of its future alliances.

DRY DOCK UP

MONTREAL, (CP) — The Prince Rupert, B. C. dry-dock and shipyard, built 40 years ago, is being offered for sale. It was announced Thursday by Canadian National Railway.

The dry dock was originally intended to service a fleet of ships expected to operate in and out of Prince Rupert in trans-Pacific service. The service never materialized.

Two In Hospital After Truck, Car Collision

—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Perry of Summerside were admitted to the Prince County Hospital on Saturday night as a result of a car, truck collision between St. Eleazars and Missouche near the Curran and Brizis railway crossing. They were driving towards Missouche with Mr. Gleeson Williams when they met a truck driven by Mr. Byron Yeo of Lot 16. Apparently the vehicles swerved on the icy pavement and collided, inflicting heavy damage to the car and truck. Mrs. Perry was found to be suffering from a fractured right arm and Mr. Perry from severe lacerations to head and face. It is expected that both will be released from hospital this morning.

Three Players To Strengthen Lyndhursts

MIDLAND, Ont., (CP) — George Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, announced Sunday night that three players will be flown overseas to strengthen Toronto Lyndhursts, Canada's entry in the world hockey championships at Stockholm.

The players will be a goalkeeper, a defenceman and a centre. In addition, Bill Shill, regular forward for the suburban East York Lyndhursts who was unable to leave with the team, is expected to rejoin them in time for the tournament.

The three reinforcements I have in mind are Ontario boys, but I haven't contacted them yet, said Dudley. "I hope to know definitely within two or three days. If any or all of them are unavailable, then we'll get three others."

Fear that Lyndhursts, a senior B team, weren't strong enough because growing after they suffered a 2-2 beating in their initial continental exhibition game leading up to the tournament. They were beaten by a collection of Canadian-born all-stars playing in England.

Dudley's announcement followed a telephone call to him from team officials at Zurich, Switzerland, where, Saturday night, Lyndhursts edged the Swiss National team 6-5.

Murder Charges In Death Of Service Station Operator

SIMCOE, Ont., (CP) — Ontario Provincial Police charged two Americans with murder and held a third for questioning Saturday night in connection with the slaying of a 67-year-old service station operator and the severe beating of his wife.

Charged were Jerry Simmons, 47, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Joe Lotharp, 23, of Detroit.

Police said they are holding Henry Little, 43, of Detroit. Little is Lotharp's uncle.

Bruce Beatty, the service station owner, and his wife were found by a customer last Wednesday morning lying in a pool of blood in the station.

Beatty died Thursday night without regaining consciousness. Mrs. Beatty was taken to hospital in London, 40 miles west of here. She was still unconscious and in critical condition Sunday night.

When the victims were found, cash boxes at the station had been emptied and the building trashed. On the couch beside them was a blood-stained ax, believed used in the beating.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

Summerside hockey fans are still talking about the hockey match between the Charlottetown Abbies and the Summerside Aces. The local experts were a bit pessimistic about Laysh Schurman's charges being able to match strides with the Abbies whose roster included such luminaries as Bub Dowling, Jack "Spy" Ready, Art Perry, Willie Dunn. When the first period ended 3-0 the Abbies were probably no more greatly surprised than were most of the Summerside fans. But the Dowling men got off the floor with a determined glint in their eye, and the second period was not very old before it began to appear that the Abbies were a long way from being licked. Fans in these parts will not soon forget that routing the third period in which the Abbies cut down the lead, forged to the front, and then were forced to give way before a savage counter attack from the Aces.

Nobody in Summerside is kidding himself that the Abbies will not be plenty tough to down every time the two teams cross sticks, but it was quite a thrill, anyway, to see the Aces spring that first surprise and the cash customers will be lining up in long queues if the games to follow are as interesting as those we have seen. There is really not a weak team in the four-club circuit, and it should be dog-eat-dog right up until the tulps start to show themselves again.

We most heartily endorse recent comment to the effect that high sticking is getting to be a serious problem in our hockey picture. We thought there was a rule in the book that called for a penalty if a player was carrying his stick high whether he bashed anyone or not. If there isn't, then it's time some of the hockey solons put it in there. You can't play with a broken stick, and a high stick is just about as dangerous, even when the carrier has no intent to injure. As for those boys who swing sticks at each other with intent to injure, we haven't heard of any suspensions that were too stiff for them. Right from Geoffrion and Murphy down to the green performers in the bush leagues, they deserve to have the rule book thrown at them, as they have no place in the hockey program.

Throwing punches with fists is not nearly so serious, except perhaps when the hooks and jabs are directed at referees. A boy lucky enough to play hockey rarely ever gets seriously injured from a punch. But hockey sticks are different. It's up to the referees and the hockey executives to put more teeth into the punishment for such infractions.

We enjoyed the schoolboy curling championship play very much, and though disappointed that one of the Summerside rinks did not land on top, we are forced to concede that the MacDonald and Dillon rinks from Charlottetown were winners and runners-up distinctly on their merits. We have some good curling prospects in Summerside, however, and under the tutelage of Freddie Poland they will doubtless improve. We saw skips David Silliphant and Tommie MacKenzie score perfect shots when the ball game hung in the balance. Each throw it takes nerve to do this with the pressure on. Garland Harris, second stone on the Silliphant rink, did some particularly fine curling during the 'spiel, according to the experts.

Jockey Fatally Injured In Race

TUCSON, Ariz., (AP) — Jockey Curtis Day, 28, Alhambra, Calif. died Saturday night three hours after he was injured in a fall during the running of the ninth race at Rillito Park.

Jockey Day and his mount, Dona Girl, were in fourth place in a field of seven horses. As the horse rounded the far turn, Day's mount appeared to stumble and the 114-pound rider was pitched to the ground. His horse remained on its feet.

As he hit the ground, Day appeared stunned—tried to lift himself off the track and to safety but fell on the last two horses in the field were unable to miss him as they came out of the turn.

Day was rushed to a local hospital where he died without regaining consciousness.

Bus Driver Averts Possible Major Fire

ST. LUC, Que., (CP) — A Provincial Transport bus driver avoided a possible major fire Sunday when he drove his flaming bus to the outskirts of this village on the south shore of the St. Lawrence river 20 miles from Montreal.

The empty bus was parked in front of the village church when a passer-by noticed the fire. He summoned driver Jacques Borden, who was attending Mass.

The driver, fearing an explosion, drove it outside the village. He leaped into the burning bus and jumped clear when the fire got too near the gas tank.

Firemen doused the flames but the bus was destroyed. Provincial Transport officials say the fire may have started in one of the seats from a cigarette dropped by one of the passengers.

A Viking arrow point which experts date from the 6th century was unearthed near Oslo, Norway, in recent years.

Black Hawks Defeat Maple Leafs 2-1

Former Boxing Champion Dies

CHICAGO, (AP) — Oscar (Battling) Nelson, one of the greatest world's lightweight boxing champions, died Sunday of lung cancer at Chicago State Hospital. He was 71.

Nelson was committed to hospital by court order Jan. 4 when, after the death of his wife, a week earlier, he was found to be suffering from "an incurable senile dementia."

Nelson was born in Denmark and came to the United States as an infant. He ruled as lightweight champion from 1908 when he knocked out Joe Gans, until 1910, when in a 40-round fight Al Wolgast battered him into helplessness.

Colorful Career

The death of the "Durable Dane" ended a stirring rags-to-riches-to-rags career that saw Nelson rise from extreme poverty to a position as world sports figure with a fortune of $500,000, then back to such poverty that in his last years he was obliged to depend on the handouts of friends for subsistence.

Nelson weighed 133 pounds, and it was said by those who saw him that he was the greatest piece of fighting machinery the prize ring had ever known.

In 22 years of fighting, he met and defeated all the top ranking lightweights of the era.

Among victims of the Dane were such famed pugilists as Young Corbett, Jimmy Britty, Terry McGovern and Eddie Sand.

Nelson fought approximately 250 times and earned more than $500,000 in purses and from real estate investments. Everything he had was swept away in the financial crash of 1929.

His wife, Edna, 49, died just a week before Nelson was committed to the state hospital.

Nelson, weighing only 80 pounds then, was unable to comprehend her death or look after himself.

Richard Leads Canadiens To 4-1 Win Over Rangers

NEW YORK, (AP) — Maurice (the Rocket) Richard, Quebec's top goal-getter, scored twice Sunday night to lead Montreal Canadiens to a 4-1 victory over New York Rangers before 15,925 fans—the largest National League crowd in more than five years at Madison Square Garden.

Eddie Shore Tries New Experiment

SYRACUSE, N.Y., (CP) — Syracuse Warriors, with nine new players in the lineup, made coach Eddie Shore's experiment pay off Saturday night as they came from behind to defeat Buffalo Bisons 4-3 in overtime in an American Hockey League game.

Shore brought up seven players from the Syracuse Springfield farm club of the Quebec League and got two from Johnston of the International League. He took the action after sending three players to Springfield and suspending seven others because they refused to make similar moves.

Holdover Eric Pogorel scored two goals for the Warriors, his second of the season after 44 seconds of sudden-death overtime. Other Syracuse scorers were Ken Shinkel, a regular, and Ted Powers, one of the newcomers.

Pete Babando, Ed Slowinski and Gordon Pennell got the Buffalo goals.
