BALANCE DUE THE BANKS.

The balance due to the Merchants Bank of P. E. Island by the Provincial Government, on the 31st January, was $75,562.00. The amount set down by the Merchants Bank of Halifax under the heading "Loans to Provincial Governments," was, on the same date, reduced to $24,458.00. Is it possible that the whole of our half-yearly subsidy was used to reduce the indebtedness of the Province at the latter bank, and that the balances here stated—amounting to upwards of hundred thousand dollars—still remain to be paid?

RELIEF FOR THE POOR.

It has been decided by the powers that be that the poor relief granted from time immemorial by the Provincial Government shall not be afforded after the first day of March next. This is the first result of the extravagances of last fall. Having run the Province deeply into debt, for the opening of political roads and the construction of political bridges, to the end that a great political victory might be won, the Government, as the first of a series of "economical" measures, abandon the poorest of our poor in the midst of the severest winter that the country has known for many years! We cannot congratulate the administration upon either its charity or its wisdom. The poor people will not, of course, starve, while there are benevolent hearts and open hands to afford relief. Individuals—many of them not wealthy—must now make up the amounts which the Government are about to withdraw. The few must in the future do with difficulty that which the whole community has in the past done with ease. The tax for the poor will be the same as it has been; but it will now be borne, not by the Province at large, but by those persons whose charity may prompt them to deny themselves and give freely.

If, instead of abandoning our poor (outside the poorhouse) to the charity of a few persons, the Government had decided to bring in a measure under which poor people could be enabled to help themselves and one another, the Government might have at once relieved themselves of great part of the burden of poor relief, and at the same time have won the commendation of right thinking men and women. They need not have expended much original thought or great engenuity about the matter. The governments of many of the states of the neighbouring republic have shown an example in this regard which they would only have to imitate. There are in every community some persons who are in need because they cannot get work or are too lazy to work, and some persons in need because they are unable to work. The Government have plenty of land and could, with good management, provide work for the former and constrain them to labor for the food and shelter needed by all. But they have done nothing of the kind. They have, so far as we can learn, merely withdrawn the "poor grant."

Our City Government might well, if possible, at this juncture, provide work for some of the poor men who are idle about town. The breaking of stones for the macadamizing to be done next summer or the construction of the park roadway, would afford work for the unemployed and enable honest and willing men to obtain, without loss of their self-respect, the means of livelihood for themselves and those dependent upon, which they need. The adoption of these or other measures would be in strong contrast with the cold hearted desertion of our poor by the Provincial Administration.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The Montreal Gazette's Ottawa correspondent, referring to the vacant P. E. Island Senatorship, says that it is not probale that any appointment will be made for some time.

—Commenting upon the Supreme Court decision in the Manitoba schools case, the Montreal Gazette remarks that "so far as it goes it takes the issue out of the arena of party strife, and leaves the Tartes and the Martins, the opponents-for-votes, and the authors of the act, without the material they depended on for stirring up race and creed strife."

—Commenting upon the appointment of Lieutenant-Governor Howlan, the North Sydney Herald says: "No better select on could be made to the highest position in the gift of the government than the appointment of Senator Howlan. He is a patriot in the true sense of the word, has rendered valuable service to his country and po sesses the social qualities to make him a popular governor."

—Mr. Keeble, of England, says that Canadian hay is of fairly good quality, as English purchaers are finding out. But he thinks that if the Canadian hay was cut earlier in the season, while there was more nutriment in the stem, it would compare more favorably with English hay. By its being cut so late in the season and when so ripe the seed is all shaken out before the hay is placed on the British market, and the result is a loss which varies according to its over-ripeness. If more attention was paid to this point by Canadian farmers they would receive a larger price per ton. Again, a mistake is made in growing all timothy hay for the English market. A mixture of timothy and clover always commands a higher price from the consumer.

—At Toronto, the Hon. Mr. Joly divided his remarks under three heads—first, the treatment of the Protestant minority in the matter of political influence as to whether they got their full share of public offices, etc.; second, as to their treatment in regard to religious liberty, their right in regard to education, etc., and, third, as to security of property. In all these important respects he maintained that the Protestant minority were fairly treated and suffered nothing in the nature of persecution. They had no logical or rational right to complain of their treatment at the hands of the majority. Mr. Joly was very severe on the P. P. A. or C. P. A. movement, for the existence of which he, as a Protestant in Quebec, said there was no justification whatever.

—In an article in McClure's Magazine for March on "Ruskin at Home," it is stated that "Never has a man been more methodical in his work than the professor, nor more precise in his obedience to the rules he has laid down for his guidance. His working hours have always been from seven in the morning until noon, and on no account would he exceed the limit. Within those five daily hours has all his work been produced—books, lectures and business, public and private correspondence. Work in the afternoon has always been by himself forbidden, unless it took the form of reading. His earlier works, of course, were written at Herne or at Denmark Hill, or while on tour on the continent. His later ones have been wrought in great part at the flower-decked table of his study, overlooking Coniston Lake."

MATTERS AT RIO JANEIRO.

Rebel Warships Move Out of the Bay With De Mello on Board.

A recent despatch from Rio de Janeiro says: The rebel cruiser Aquidaban left the bay at 4 o'clock this morning in order to join the rebel warship Republica, lying off the bay, having on board, according to report, Admiral de Mello. When nearing the forts at the entrance to the bay, the Aquidaban was discovered and a hot fire was directed upon her; but she steamed steadily ahead, and succeeded in passing the forts, although she was struck several times. The forts kept on firing at the vessel until she was out of range, but it is not believed any damage was done. When some distance off shore the Aquidaban met her consort, the Republica, and both vessels steamed in a southerly direction.

It is reported ashore that the two rebel warships have gone in search of the Nictheroy, and that the latter is not very far off. According to one story, the Nictheroy is bound for Desterro, according to another story she is off Santos.

The insurgent warship Republica, with Admiral De Mello aboard, has made an attempt to re-enter Rio bay, but has been prevented by the heavy fire of the forts.

Yellow fevers is rapidly spreading here, and hundreds of deaths from the disease are reported daily.

LECTURE AT LONG CREEK.

On Thursday evening, 22nd inst., R. B. Stewart, Esq., of Strath Gartney, gave a lecture at Long Creek, the proceeds to go to the building fund of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, a very pretty little edifice built at that place from a design by Mr. W. C. Harris, architect, with money left for the purpose by Mrs. Cumberland, widow of Colonel Cumberland, who formerly owned land in that neighborhood. The building is all completed excepting the tower and some interior finishing.

The subject of the lecture was "A trip from P. E. Island to the Pacific." The lecturer took the trip as a Maritime farm delegate on the invitation of the C. P. R. Co., in the Summer of 1893, and he gave an account of what he saw at Montreal, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Calgary, Banff and Vancouver City, and other places of interest on the main line of the C. P. R., also of side trips to the Kootenay District of British Columbia, famed for its rich mines and beautiful scenery and to the Souris coal mines of Assiniboia and the farming lands of Southern Manitoba. Some specimens of wood of the Douglas Fir from British Columbia, coal from Souris, petrified shells from Medicine Hat, asbestos from Revelstoke, silver ore from Kootenay and nickel ore from Sudbury, with other curiosities were handed to the audience for inspection.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. J. S. Carvell widow of the late Lieut. Governor Carvell of Charlottetown P. E. I. is staying at the Amherst Hotel.—Amherst News.

Captain Richardson, commanding the Allen line steamship Sardinian, is dead. He died at Liverpool from general debility. Captain Richardson was well-known by Canadian ocean travellers.

Rev. J. A. Gordon, pastor of Maine Street Baptist church, has been confined to his residence for nearly a fortnight. He is recovering.—St John Sun.

Thermometer Readings.—Between Saturday night and Sunday morning the mercury in the thermometer at the agency of the meteorological department in Charlottetown dropped to 14 below zero, and thermometers in other parts of the city read several degrees lower. During the same period 16 below zero was recorded at Souris; 19 below at Georgetown; 18 below at St. Peters Bay; 15 below at Morell; 15 blow at Montague; 16 below at Summerside; 19 below at Tignish; 20 below at Alberton; 18 below at Vernon River. The weather began to moderate yesterday afternoon, however, and at nine last night 8 above zero was recorded at the meteorological agency, and 15 above was marked this morning.

A Desperate Attempt.—Four masked men made a desperate attempt to rob a large safe in the office of Hazel flour mill in East St. Louis Mo., early on Thursday morning. Finding a watchman and a boy, they bound and gagged both, after beating them into insensibility with clubs. They then set to work on the safe and made two unsuccessful attempts to blow it open with powder. The robbers unable to force the outer door with chisels, discharged another blast inside the safe, but failed. They left the mill after robbing the watchman, Charles Leonard, and two citizens, Fred. Block and Fred. Schelze, who had come in for some flour. All these are badly hurt.

McClure's for March.—Ruskin, in his character and home life, will be the subject of an intimate and sympathetic study by Mr. M. H. Spielmann, editor of the Magazine of Art, in McClure's Magazine for March. Views of Brantwood, Ruskin's home, and of points of interest roundabout, and various portraits of Ruskin, will accompany the article.

The steamship Baku Standard has arrived at Philadelphia from Dartmouth, having steamed across the Atlantic with liquid fuel. The stuff was petroleum refuse, and twenty tons of it did the work of thirty tons of coal. The saving in fuel space represented by these figures would mean a considerable increase in the earning power of a ship on a year's voyages, while the economy in the management of the furnaces would be another respectable item. The Chicago exhibition showed that much could be done on land with liquid fuel for creating motive power and the Baku Standard's expererience indicates that much can also be done at sea. It is safe to say that the early future will see a great developement in the use of petroleum in connection with steam power

London, Feb. 23.—A French electrician named Petit Jean, a close friend of Bourdin, the anarchist, who was killed as a result of the premature explosion of a bomb which he was carrying in Greenwich park, was arrested to-day in a workshop situated in the Mary-le-bone district. Petit Jean's father is said to have taken an active part in the commune.

Fredericton, Feb. 22.—John Schlever was discharged from custody on the charge of criminal assault upon Maggie Ryan, under fourteen years old.

How to Get a Sunlight Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" Soap wrappers (wrappers bearing the words "Why Does a Woman Look Old Sooner Than a Man") to Levey Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market and it will only cost 1 c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

London, Feb. 22.—Although James A. Spurgeon's term as minister of the Metropolitan tabernacle is only half expired, the friends of Rev. Dr. Pierson, the American preacher, are actively canvassing in his interests. It is understood that Dr. Pierson has been baptized, which is said to have removed the difficulty which previously prevented his election. A special meeting of the members of the tabernacle has been called to discuss the matter.

The British Empire at last counts a woman Mayor among her officials, Mrs. Yates, who succeeds her husband, Captain Yates, as Mayor of Anehimga, New Zealand, and, as she will probably be raised to the magisterial bench, she will have the pleasure of hearing herself addressed as her worship—or "washup," as it is often expressed.

There are seventy-six applications already received for private bills, which will be submitted to Parliament at Ottawa next session, for acts of incorporation. Mr. Fletcher, the editor of the Daily Chronicle, the leading radical daily of London, has been speaking on the subject of "Christian ethics and practical politics." Mr. Fletcher is reported to have said, with emphasis: "You can govern in accordance with the principles laid down by Jesus Christ in the Sermon on the Mount—that charter of man's redemption which He sealed with His blood—and it is only in so far as you honestly attempt to do so that you can hope to arrive at anything like a civilized order of things."

The conception of the Whitehead torpedo was the result, it is said, of an ingenious contrivance of an Austrian officer, about 1860. This contrivance was a small boat propelled by hot air or steam and steered from the shore by means of long ropes, and having in the bow a charge of gun cotton, which would explode on coming into contact with a ship's side. An Austrian naval officer was so struck with the idea that he undertook to elaborate it, and produced in time a model of a machine to be driven through the water by clock-work. He showed the model to Robert Whitehead, and the two, after many failures, produced the famous torpedo which now bears his name.

The London Globe makes the unqualified statement that the Government has become seriously bothered on the question of the maintenance of the navy. Part of the Cabinet is strongly in favor of maintaining the present standard of the navy, some going so far as to advocate a considerable increase in its efficiency at whatever cost may be necessary. On the other hand, other members of the Cabinet, including Mr. Gladstone, refuse to place themselves in the attitude of favoring the appropriation of money necessary to carry out the idea of those of their colleagues favoring a greater amount. All attempts to settle the differences on this question have thus far failed.

THE ROAD TO SUCCESS.

Be generous. Meanness makes enemies and breeds distrust.

Be polite. Every smile, every genteel bow is money in your pocket.

Be independent. Do not lean on others to do your thinking or to conquer your difficulties.

Trust to nothing but God and hard work. Inscribe on your banner, "Luck is a fool; pluck is a hero."

Spend less than you earn. Do not run in debt. Watch the little leaks, and you can live on your salary.

Make all the money you can honestly, do all the good you can with it while you live, and be your own executor.

Be punctual. Keep your appointments. Be there a minute before time if you have to lose your dinner to do it.

Be conscientious in the discharge of every duty. Do your work thoroughly. No boy can rise who slights his work.

Work. The world is not going to pay you for loafing. Ninety per cent. of what men call genius is only talent for hard work.

Enter into that business or trade which you like best and for which nature seems to have fitted you, providing it is honorable.

Be honest. Dishonesty seldom makes one rich, and when it does riches is a curse. There is no such thing as dishonest success.

Don't try to begin at the top. Begin at the bottom, and you will have a chance to rise, and will be surer of reaching the top some time.—Evangel.

THE GAME OF WHIST.

If you the modern game of Whist would know,
From this great principle its precepts flow:
Treat your own hand as in your partner's joined,
And play not one alone, but both combined.
Your first lead makes your partner understand
What is the chief component of your hand;
And hence there is necessity the strongest
That your first lead be from your suit that's longest.
In this with ace and king, lead king, then ace;
With king and queen, king also has first place;
With ace, queen, knave, lead ace and then the queen,
With ace, four small ones, ace should first be seen;
With queen, knave, ten, you let the queen precede;
In other cases you the lowest lead.
Ere you return your friend's your own suit play.
But trumps you must return without delay.
When you return your partner's lead, take pains
To lead him back the best your hand contains,
If you received not more than three at first;
If you had more, you may return the worst,
But if you hold the master card, you're bound
As a safe rule to play it second round.
Whene'er you want a lead, 'tis seldom wrong
To lead up to the weak, or through the strong.
If second-hand your lowest should be played,
Unless you mean "trump signal" to be made;
Or if you've king and queen, or ace and king.
Then one of these will be the proper thing.
Mind well the rules for trumps, you'll often need them,
When you hold five, 'tis always right to lead them;
In this with ace and king won't come in time to you,
Then signal to your partner so to do.
Watch also for your partner's trump request,
To which, with less than four, play out your best.
To lead through honors turned up is bad play,
Unless you want the trump suit cleared away.
When, second-hand, a doubtful trick you see,
Don't trump it, if you hold more trumps than three;
But having three or less, trump fearlessly.
When weak in trumps yourself, don't force your friend,
But always force the adverse strong trump hand.
For sequences, stern custom has decreed
The lowest you must play, if you don't lead.
When you discard, weak suits you ought to choose,
For strong ones are too precious far to lose

It's Pretty Early

in the season to advertise WALL PAPER, but it's a pretty good thing to get paper worth 50c. a roll for 15c. You can do it, though, NOW at the BAZAAR STORE. These are our last year's patterns, and WILL BE SOLD regardless of cost. Perhaps some may doubt this statement, but we only want a chance to prove it. Our 15c. papers are reduced to from 6c. to 10c. If you require Parlor Papers we have them, but if you want THE VERY LATEST SPRING STYLES, wait about two weeks and we will show you a few eye-openers. For Dining Room, Sitting Room or Bedroom Papers NOW is the time to buy. You get our last season's Embossed Gilt Papers for from 15c. to 25c. a roll. We notice there are some wide-awake people among the Guardian readers, from the number who took adtantage of our Reduction Sale of Window Blinds. If you have not noticed it in the Guardian look it up, or better still, read it here:—"Our whole stock of Dadoed Blinds at 50c. complete.
