SURPRISING TEETER TIP-UP
What one with perfect ease may do, Impossible may be for you. —Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit was holding his breath. Yes sir, Peter Rabbit was holding his breath. He had just stamped a warning, and he was afraid that warning had not been in time. It had been for Teeter Tip-up the Spotted Sandpiper. Teeter was on the big rock out in the Smiling Pool. He was bobbing and bowing in the funniest manner. He was showing off. He knew that somewhere hiding on the shore Mrs. Teeter was watching him. He was so intent on what he was doing that he had no thought for anything else.

Peter Rabbit had seen Sharpshin the Hawk coming that way. At first it had seemed that Sharpshin would go past the Smiling Pool. Then he had turned and suddenly headed straight for Teeter on the big rock. It was then that Peter had stamped a warning. But Sharpshin was flying so fast that Peter was sure his warning was too late. "Sharpshin will surely catch him before he can get to shore and hide," thought Peter. "He hadn't a chance in the world. Sharpshin is too fast for him. He can fly twice as fast as Teeter can. Oh dear, why didn't I warn him when I first saw that robber?"

It did look much as if that little Sandpiper had no chance at all. Sharpshin's claws were set to clutch Teeter. Just what happened Peter couldn't see. Sharpshin flew on with a scream that sounded very much like a scream of disappointment. But Peter couldn't believe that it was that for Teeter was no longer on the big rock. He was no longer in sight. So it must be that Sharpshin had caught him, and was carrying him off. Peter felt badly. He had been a good friend for a long time. He would miss Teeter. The smiling Pool would never be quite the same without Teeter bowing and bobbing there.

Suddenly Peter felt like rubbing his eyes. There, out on the water, almost to the other shore, was some one who looked very much like Teeter. But how could it be? Where did he come from? Do you wonder Peter wanted to rub his eyes?

It was Teeter. There was no doubt about it, and he was swimming. He was swimming straight to the shore where Peter was. He was in a hurry. There was no doubt at all about that. For such a small person he was swimming fast. When he reached the shore he ran up the bank and crept under a fern right beside Peter. Sharpshin the Hawk was coming back. When he had missed Teeter on the big rock he had been going so fast that he had shot across the Smiling Pool, and out across the Green Meadows. There he had checked himself, turned, and now was coming back. He circled over the Smiling
