JES' WHISTLE UP A SONG.

If th' road yer feet is treadin,
Keeps crookin as a s'eadin
Till it seems as if 'twas most uncommon long,
Don't ye let yer chin tip quiver,
Though yer knees is all a sliver,
Jes' crack a joke er whistle up a song.
When th' clouds begin to thicken
An th' lightning is a flicker
An a snappin like ole Lucifer gone wrong,
Jes' ye hol yer head up higher,
Jog yer feet a little suryer
An crack a joke er whistle up a song.
Don't yer forget for a minute
Oter folks is trav'lin in it
Jes' as footsore as yerself an not so strong,
An when they're a-growin weary
It will make 'em chirp an cheery
To crack a joke er whistle up a song.
If yer cup o' life is bitter,
Don't ye never be a quitter
Jes' drink it down an pass th' jug along,
Ehpin all is for th' best,
'Twill taste sweeter to th' rest
When yer jokin er a-whistlin up a song.
Then, when yer journey's ended,
An yer soul stands undefended,
Wills th' 'ordin angel foots th' columns long
Ye'll see yer head was loved
An ye've bunko steered th' devil
With yer jokin an yer whistlin up a song.

A HISTORICAL RELIC.

Original Copy of One of the Twelve Constitutional Amendments.
Hanging upon the wall in an office in the board of trade building, Indianapolis, is an interesting historical relic of undoubted authenticity. It is no less than one of the 13 original copies of the 12 amendments to the constitution. One of these copies was sent to each of the 13 states that formed the compact. This document is a parchment 28 inches wide by 32 inches long. It is perfectly preserved, the ink in some places still a jet black, but for the most part a rusty brown. The handwriting is admirably plain, free from all flourishes and as even and regular as copperplate. At the top of the parchment is written in large letters:
"Congress of the United States, begun and held at the city of New York, on Wednesday, the fourth of March, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-nine."
Then follows the reason for the making and sending of these parchments to the 13 states:
"The conventions of a number of these states having at the time of their adopting the constitution expressed a desire in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added, and as extending the grounds of public confidence in the government will best insure the beneficent ends of its institution."
"Resolved, By the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, two-thirds of both houses concurring, that the following articles be proposed to the legislatures of the several states as amendments to the constitution of the United States, all or any of which articles, when ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures, to be valid to all intents and purposes as part of the said constitution--viz (here follow the 12 amendments)."
This valuable parchment bears the following autograph signatures: "Frederick Augustus Muhlenberg, speaker of the house of representatives; John Adams, vice president of the United States and president of the senate. Attest: John Beckley, clerk of the house of representatives; Sam A. Otis, secretary of the senate."
This document belongs to Charles A. Shotwell. Explaining how it came into his possession, he said: "I was living at Troy, O., at the close of the war. I got it from a soldier in an Ohio regiment. I believe it cost me $5. He took it from the statehouse at Raleigh when that place was pillaged by Sherman's army."-Indianapolis News.

No other oil and no other medicine has ever been discovered which can take the place of Cod-liver Oil in all conditions of wasting. New remedies come, live their little day and die, but Cod-liver Oil remains the rock on which all hope for recovery must rest. When it is scientifically prepared, as in Scott's Emulsion, it checks the progress of the disease, the congestion and inflammation subsides and the process of healing begins. There is the whole truth. Book about it free.
