

Hensler Faces New Charge Of Non-Support

MONTREAL, Jan. 29 (CP)—Frederick Hensler, 37-year-old printer charged with theft of a draft copy of the controversial Currie Report, was taken by police to Toronto today to be arraigned on a charge of non-support. He will arrive in Toronto at 10 p.m. EST.

Police said he faces a charge of refusing to support his wife, who lives at Markham, Ont. Hensler surrendered at Quebec Provincial Police headquarters a day after a warrant had been sworn out in connection with theft of a copy of the Currie Report. He was free on bail.

Trading Eases Slightly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Jan. 29 (CP)—Trading settled back slightly today from Wednesday's record 12,641,000-share level but was still far above the "normal" 2,500,000-shares.

Volume for the session today totalled 10,122,000 shares as low-priced mining issues continued to attract wide speculative interest. Two issues traded more than 1,000,000 shares each: Porcupine, Pen, losing 5 1/2 cents and New Noranda, gaining one cent.

Losses in few of the most active issues were evident as many speculators took their profits on recent sharp advances. The rest of the market was mixed as industrials and western oils showed advances of about half a point on the exchange indexes and golds and base metals dropped slightly.

Poods were strong in industrials. Banks were also strong and retail stores, utilities and refining oils gained. Manufacturing companies and steels weakened.

Legion Supports Marine Slip Project

Members of the Charlottetown Branch of the Canadian Legion pledged their full support to the proposed Marine Slip at Bruce Stewart & Company Limited at their monthly meeting held here last evening.

Endorsement of the project came following a report made to the meeting by President C. M. Sinclair who represented the Charlottetown Branch at an open meeting of interested citizens held in City Hall Tuesday evening.

Reports were heard from all communities showing that preparations for the forthcoming festival is progressing favourably. The choral reading selections, syllabus and music have been placed in several centres so they may be easily available to all. Nine group membership renewals have been received this month.

Mrs. W. Shaw, reporting for field committee, stated she had advertised concerning contest for "Great Festivals of Canadian Music Festivals" and the hope was expressed that a P. E. I. youth may be the winner of the $100 reward from the Federation as well as $25. reward from the local Association.

Mrs. MacMillan reporting on the "dancing classes" expressed the wish that the auditorium large enough be procured this year, so as the embarrassment of last year in turning people away would not be repeated. The ticket committee suggested transfers as a solution to the problem of the adherents, who wish to hear part of session in one hall and part of same session in another hall, so that two admissions for one session would not be required.

It was decided to purchase a public address system for use during the festival. The program committee expressed the advantage to all concerned of getting entries in early and if accompanist name were put in corner of entry it would simplify confusion to the secretary, program committee as well as to the contestant at the time of performance.

Mrs. Scantlebury requested another committee be appointed to be responsible for final concerts. Mrs. Lawson reported several donations have been received for the scholarships. Mrs. MacLure thanked the Association for the scholarship ship she had received, and after taking a course at a summer school, obtained a 1st class license and is now teaching music in the rural districts of Kings County and has a weekly circuit of 15 classrooms, also piano pupils in each district.

Mr. Earle Terry and Mrs. Regina Green have been engaged for adjudicators for this year's festival. Howard Brown has been contacted as a part time adjudicator. Adjudicators for the dancing and choral reading classes have to be procured also.

Some discussion arose concerning different classes in the syllabus which were explained at the meeting and will be explained more fully through the press. One, two and three classes to be held include Grade 1 to 5 and 6 to 10 in their Rhythm Band and dancing classes.

General Meeting Of Musical Festival Ass'n

A general meeting of the Musical Festival Association was held last evening in the Agricultural room of the Vocational School with the president, Dr. G. D. Steel presiding. There was a good attendance with members present from several of the outlying communities.

Reports were heard from all communities showing that preparations for the forthcoming festival is progressing favourably. The choral reading selections, syllabus and music have been placed in several centres so they may be easily available to all. Nine group membership renewals have been received this month.

Congressional Ire Roused By Korean Raid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Congressional ire exploded today over the reported "scenario" staging of an ill-fated American combat raid in Korea last Sunday in which invited generals watched the attack with the aid of gay-colored programs.

Representative Clare Hoffman (Rep. Mich.) angrily compared "Operation Smack" with historical episodes of gladiators fighting to the death for the amusement of ancient Roman emperors.

Representative William Bray (Rep. Ind.) said he was "mad as hell" about it.

Representative Edith Nourse Rogers (Rep. Mass.), chairman of the house veterans' committee, told the House of Representatives she was "shocked."

Military Men Surprised In Korea, United States military authorities expressed surprise and dismay over the storm of criticism erupting on the home front. They denied it was a show put on to please top brass, and insisted that high-ranking officers frequently witness such attacks to learn combat lessons.

Meanwhile, the uproar spread abroad. In London, a labor member of Parliament, Ernest Fernyhough, said he would ask Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden to explain why the attack was put on with "all the trappings of a theatrical performance."

Fernyhough said he would ask Eden to lodge a complaint with the United Nations "over the levity displayed with regard to a battle in which United Nations forces suffered many casualties."

Asks Explanation In Washington, chairman Dewey Short (Rep. Mo.) of the House armed services committee said he had sent word to Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, asking him to explain to Congress just what happened.

It is inconceivable to me that military leaders would uselessly sacrifice human lives," Short said. "I think this was an actual operation, not a circus. When in doubt, we should give the benefit of the doubt to the field commander."

Some lawmakers cautioned against criticism before the full facts are known; others seemed convinced that U. S. soldiers had been exploited to put on a performance for generals and war correspondents.

Hoffman introduced a resolution demanding an investigation to determine whether "American boys were used as expendable cannon fodder for publicity purposes."

Front-line dispatches said "operation Smack" was directed against Little Spud Hill on the western front. Allied infantry, supported by planes, tanks and artillery stormed up the Communist-held slope and moved forward on schedule until caught in a withering hail of enemy cross-fire and grenades.

The attack faltered within 15 yards of the crest, and the troops finally pulled back to their own lines. Casualties were not disclosed.

Dispatches said generals and war correspondents were handed a seven-page time-table, bound in cardboard covers decorated in three colors, to help them follow the progressive stages of the raid.

In Korea, a spokesman for the division involved said it was "completely wrong" to call it a "dress rehearsal."

"Every operation has an operation order... the only difference between this one and any other operation order," he added "was that this one had little fancier cover. And it was a homemade cover, at that."

Addresses Public Health Nurses Here

"The prevention of behaviour difficulties and nervous disorders in later life largely depends on the parents' understanding and training of their children during the very early years," stated Dr. F. A. Dunsworth, Assistant Professor of Psychiatry, Dalhousie University, in addressing the public health nurses during their provincial staff conference held this week.

Dr. Dunsworth, Dr. Theriault, Dr. McVicar and Miss Mona Clay, of the Division of Mental Health, Department of Health and Welfare, also contributed to the discussion of the prevention of mental illness and Miss Hunter, speech therapist, gave a demonstration on the recognition of defective speech sounds.

Miss Kathleen Jackson, physiotherapist, was another who took part in the nurses' programme. She spoke on good posture for health and the prevention of foot disorders. Dr. E. Found, of the Division of Tuberculosis Control, and Mr. F. Jelkes, from the Provincial Laboratories, dealt with the "newer drugs in the treatment of tuberculosis. Dr. T. Hooper, cancer consultant and Miss Hazel Roland, nutritionist of the Department of Health and Welfare, also took part in the conference.

A special session was held with Dr. L. W. Shaw, Director of Education, and the school supervisors, also Miss Bowness, Director of Junior Red Cross for discussion of mutual problems.

Victoria Unions And New Haven In 3-3 Tie The Victoria Unions and the New Haven Royals played to a 3-3 draw last night in a South Queens Hockey League game at Victoria Rink. As a result the Unions moved into first place in the League standings with four points.

Lloyd Murphy was the scoring star as he came up with a hat trick performance for New Haven. Almon Boswell scored two and Rusty Millar one for Victoria.

The five teams in the League compete for the B. C. Wood Trophy. Behind Victoria with three points each are Crapaud and New Haven.
