

Legion Branch Lays Plans For Convention

MONTAGUE — The program for the provincial convention of the Prince Edward Island Command of the Royal Canadian Legion was discussed in detail at the September meeting of Branch No. 8 held in the Montague Legion Thursday.

President L. H. Martin led in the opening ceremony and acted as chairman for the meeting which was well attended. Speakers included guests E. W. Hogan, provincial committee secretary, and F. Pius Smith, chairman of the command membership committee, who each gave brief talks on convention details and the agenda.

They also extended congratulations to the Montague Branch on its efforts to ensure the success of the 1965 convention.

Advice and explanation on some convention matters were given by Mr. Hogan and Mr. Smith who met with the executive following the regular meeting and details of the program were finalized.

Other speakers included Eric MacKinnon, acting chairman of the convention committee, who praised the efforts put forth by all members of the branch in many past projects and paid tribute especially to those members from Murray Harbor, Murray River and other outlying districts, who form a substantial percentage of the membership.

Their support of the Montague branch has been of the highest order at all times and their advice and assistance on various projects of the branch has been invaluable, he said.

Business discussed at the meeting included the consideration of resolutions and other matters to be brought before the provincial convention on the 10th and 11th of September.

A report on the landscaping and repairs to the building was given by Sterling McKay, chairman of the building committee, who said that all would be in readiness before the convention.

A vote of thanks to D. H. Coffin for a recent donation of substantial value in equipment was unanimously carried.

Following discussion of other items of business the meeting closed with the usual ceremony led by President Martin.

Chateau Frontenac Employees Begin Strike On Wage Issue

QUEBEC (CP) — Some 500 employees of the Chateau Frontenac hotel went on strike Monday to back up demands for higher wages.

The hotel, which towers over the St. Lawrence River from the heights of Quebec City, was forced to close down most of its services.

A majority of its guests, warned of the strike possibility, had already withdrawn by the time the walkout definitely got under way at 11:15 a.m. Monday. Some would have been checking out anyway, the hotel said.

Earlier in the day, the employees had walked off their jobs, only to return when word went around that a settlement was imminent between the CPR, which owns the Chateau, and the employees' union, the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CBRTGW).

But a last-minute company offer was rejected at a rank-and-file meeting of the union and the strike was on with about 40 pickets ringing the 660-room building.

The company offered a wage increase of five cents an hour effective from Sept. 1; another three-cent increase as of Sept. 1, 1966, and three cents on Sept. 1, 1967. The contract was to remain valid for 2½ years.

Also offered were salary readjustments for certain classifications of workers, such as cooks, maintenance engineers and painters.

The employees asked a general wage increase of 15 per cent in a 12-month contract, and better working conditions.

Current pay rates run from a maximum of $2.65 an hour for maintenance engineers to a minimum of 85.6 cents an hour for chambermaids. The chambermaids are provided with meals, clothing and lodging.

Last Wednesday, the government-owned CNR agreed to pay a minimum of $1.25 to its employees at the Chateau Laurier Hotel in Ottawa.

The agreement averted a threatened strike there. The $1.25 is the minimum specified by the federal labor code.

The privately owned CPR said the federal minimum wage level was not an issue in the Quebec City negotiations. It said its hotels are governed by provincial rather than the federal minimum-wage standards.

About 800 guests left the Chateau Frontenac Sunday. Some 200 were reported still in the hotel by strike time.

Roland Jette, chief union negotiator, said the latest CPR offer to the employees "was very far from what they are seeking."

He said negotiations had been going on constantly in recent days and had started July 15.

He said the union was prepared to resume the talks whenever the CPR was ready but that as of noon Monday no resumption was in sight.

In Quebec City for the negotiations was J. R. Grealy, head of the brotherhood's hotel section.

ISSUE STATEMENT

The CPR said in a statement that union negotiators agreed, in a "memorandum of understanding," to accept the company's last offer made at the Monday morning negotiations.

"While the agreement signed by the union leaders was subject to ratification by the union membership, it appeared that this further step would result in an end to the strike and a return by the hotel to normal operations," the CPR said.

Following treatment, the child was transferred to Charlottetown for further treatment. The extent of injuries or the name of the driver could not be determined last night.

Carl Willis Of Sherwood Wins Queens Plow Match

By NEIL MATHESON

Carl Willis of Sherwood, who will represent Canada in world competition in Europe early in October, won the Queens County Plowing championship Saturday on the farm of Jim Robertson, Alexandra. Mr. Willis' performance earned the aggregate of 88 points from judges Dave Peacock, P.E.I. Department of Agriculture, and Ronald MacNeill, Mr. Hope, O'Leary, RR.

A feature of the competition was the fact that secretary Sterling Moore and president Art Jones finished in second and third positions, which must be a record for plowing match officials in this province. It means actually, that the plowing match association secretary and president would have topped the match had it not been for the presence of Mr. Willis, who has won international renown.

This young man who is a research scientist at the Experimental Farm — he holds the degree of Doctor of Philosophy — finished third in world competition in Army, Northern Ireland, several years ago. He had the best crown, finish and furrow.

Mr. Moore, who lived in Pownal when he last won the county title, is now a Charlottetown businessman who resides in Sherwood. Mr. Jones, the association president, presided at the official opening, then returned to finish the land which he had started prior to the ceremony.

FIRST IN 3 YEARS

Mr. Moore, who once represented the province in Canadian competition, was surprised to place second. He had not touched a plow in three years. His point total was a creditable 82.

Mr. Jones was awarded 78 points. He also won the Perfection Special match which is plowed at field speed. The weather was all that could be desired but, unfortunately, it contributed to the small crowd of approximately 200 people. Farmers could not afford to leave their grain harvesting on such a perfect afternoon for the job.

The match was opened officially by S. C. Wright, deputy minister of agriculture, who warmly congratulated the officers and directors of the plowing match association on "the wonderful job" they have done over the years in conducting the match.

There was a social word of commendation for the competitors "who really make these matches possible." One of the outstanding features in the Communist lands is their failure in the field of agricultural production, Heath Macquarrie, MP, observed as he emphasized the oft-repeated statement that "the prosperity of this province depends on the top six inches of its soil."

Hon. Angus MacLean recalled that "it was not until man began to domesticate animals and cultivate the soil, that civilization as we know it became possible." To the contestants he extended best wishes and "the hope that some of them would go on to provincial national and probably international competition, as some have done in the past."

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED

Mrs. Harold P. Smith of Pownal presented to Gail Foster,

Jones, Pownal, presided, then went to the plowing field and finished third in the county championship class.

Southport, the scholarship awarded annually by the No. 2 District Women's Institute to the student in the district making the highest marks in his annual provincial examinations. Miss Foster had an average of 84 per cent.

Mrs. Smith explained that she was making the presentation in the absence from the province of the district president, Mrs. Harold Beaton of Alexandra whose home is a short distance from the scene of the match.

Placing fourth in the title match was Barry Wilson, Cornwall, the Golden boy of 1964 competition who won the county and provincial titles last year. Mr. Wilson took the senior Road-E-O competition, this year.

Blair Jones, Pownal, won the Junior Road-E-O competition. Kenneth Morrissey, Cherry Valley, was second.

Donald Brown, Pownal, won the plowing class for beginners. It's knowing as the Elliot Robertson Memorial Match, named for the match's first president.

Alan Brown, Pownal won the class for entrants under 16 years.

The Alexandra 4-H Calf Club held their achievement day on the same farm.

The results are as follows: Beginners match — 1. Donald Brown, 2. Gordon Herman, Pownal, 3. David Mutch, Birch Hill. Championship Match — 1. Carl Willis, 2. Sterling Moore, 3. Art Jones.

Under 16 years — 1. Alan Brown, 2. John Brown, Pownal, 3. Clifford Wilson, Cornwall. Perfection Special — 1. Art Jones, 2. Barry Wilson, 3. Albert Bruce, Pownal RR.

Senior Road-E-O — Barry Wilson, Cornwall, 2. Bruce Jones, Pownal, 3. Barry Gallant, Junior Road-E-O — 1. Blair Jones, Pownal, 2. Kenneth Morrissey, Cherry Valley.

Announce New Healing Substance... Shrinks Piles, Checks Itch

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids... and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissues.

One hemorrhoidal case history after another reported "very striking improvement." Pain was promptly and gently relieved... actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

Among these case histories were a variety of hemorrhoidal conditions. Relief even occurred in cases of long standing, and most important of all, results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue. Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H.

In addition to actually shrinking hemorrhoids, Preparation H lubricates and makes elimination less painful. It helps prevent infection which is a principal cause of hemorrhoids.

Just ask your druggist for Preparation H Ointment (with a special applicator).

Satisfaction guaranteed or your money refunded.
