Co-operation On Trade Problems Urged By Yank

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor
TORONTO (CP)—Canada and the United States should work closer together in facing common world trade problems, Redington Fiske of New York said Wednesday in an address to a trade seminar of the Canadian Exporters' Association. Mr. Fiske, editor of the weekly publication Export Trade and Shipper, stated: "We North Americans face a tremendous challenge — a challenge to free enterprise and perhaps even to the survival of individual freedom — throughout the entire non-Communist world. No nation can meet this alone. To meet it we must work together and we should make it clear to others that we stand together even if we may have some family squabbles at times. TWO FACTIONS "You all know that an impressive group of business, civic, consumer and educational organizations in the United States, with the full backing of the Eisenhower administration, is trying to persuade Congress to continue the low-tariff, liberal trade policies which have been in effect since 1834. "You know also that various minority groups, special interests including the producers of non-ferrous metals, oil, textiles, pottery, and plywood are fighting to kill our liberal policies." It is too early to predict what legislation will come out of the present congress, but the situation is not safe or secure, Mr. Fiske said. "It is entirely possible," he added, "that some actions may be taken which will hurt Canadian prospects to the United States. If you are hurt we are going to suffer with you. Mr. Fiske said that American forces in favor of liberal trade policies can use all the help from Canada they can get. ADVANTAGEOUS POSITION Russia, Mr. Fiske commented, has a great advantage in its state trading. "If," he said, "they see some one-product country unable to sell its product it can step in and buy that product whether it be Egyptian cotton, Chilean copper or Uruguayan beef and hides, offering payment in credits which can be used only to buy goods from the Communist bloc. "This has already given the Soviets the whip hand over Egypt and it could happen almost overnight in almost any of the underdeveloped countries. "What the Russians do with the commodities is decided on a political basis. They may use them, sell them to Czechoslovakia or China or perhaps dump them on world markets. Commenting on United States investment in Canada, Mr. Fiske said resentment expressed in Canada in recent months has taken many Americans by surprise. Mr. Fiske suggested Canadian objections to American investment could best be dealt with by a better "public relations" job by the American parent companies. He thought Canadian subsidiaries might do more to advise the parent companies on the proper course to be followed in Canada.

TIMELY NOTES ON FUR TOPICS

The Danish fur sales held during March 13 and 14 at Copenhagen were not as successful as expected. Mink prices declined an estimated 7 1/2 to 12 percent, compared to January selling. There were 55,000 standard mink pelts offered, and 53 percent was sold at an average price of 141 kroner and a top price of 222 kroner; and a top price of 122. About 15,000 Pastel mink was 83 percent sold at an average price of 152 kroner and a top price of 190 kroner. Females were 89 percent sold at an average price of 80 kroner and a top price of 106 kroner. The estimated decline in males was 8 percent, and females 10 percent, as compared to the January sale. The Danish kroner is valued at 14 1/2 cents, compared with Canadian money. FOXES GOOD The Nordic Fur Auction Company sale in Stockholm, Sweden, on March 19, was well attended, but there were not as many buyers as were present at the January sale. Prices for foxes were good, but mink met price resistance and fell some 10 to 15 percent compared with the previous auction. A total of 434 silver fox pelts were offered, and they brought a top price of 75 crowns (about $10.50 in our money); 1,548 blue fox were offered; and they brought an average of 88 crowns and a top price of 120 crowns. Silverblue mink, males sold at an average of 100 crowns and a top price of 112 crowns. A total of 5,815 Sapphires were offered, of which 4,097 were sold. There was a good supply of all types of mink, but there is hesitancy in the buying, compared with previous auctions. U.S. AID A bill to expand and extend the federal loan program for fur farmers awaits Senate Agriculture Committee consideration at Washington, D.C. This bill was introduced by Senator William Proxmire of Wisconsin; it would authorize Farmers Home Administration to give seven-year $10,000 loans to fur farmers. Silver fox and mink breeders throughout the province, in fact a much wider field, will be glad to receive our congratulations, we are sure to Lowell W. Hancock on the publishing of the 240th monthly number of the Maritime Fox Breeder, which is edited and published by him in Summerside. Lowell has been one of the most consistent fox and mink farmers in this province, and despite the disappointment which caused most of our ranchers to give up silver fox farming because of the low prices obtainable after World War II, Lowell continues to breed a limited number of silver and mutation foxes, and from time to time, brings in the newer strains of mink so that he is always able to place on the show table, or pelt, foxes and mink that bring awards and high prices. It is largely due to his enthusiasm that many other ranchers throughout the Maritimes continued fur farming, notwithstanding the disappointments that developed in the early 1950's. FUR SALE Macy's of New York is probably the largest retail store in the United States, and it sets the trend in many fashions. At their recent fur sale, which was completed on Monday, March 24, they stated that $250,000 worth of furs had been disposed of in the five days of the sale. The figure included selling at the Herald Square store and four branches. The key price range was from $500 to $700 for let-out stoles, and around $300 for split-skin garments. The store spent a lot of money in advertising, included in which was a full page in Sunday's New York Times. The Mutation Mink Breeders Association of Racine, Wisconsin, has filed suit in a Federal Court to enjoin Canadian Fur Trappers Corporation of that city, and others, from using the name "Mormink" in marketing women's coats. In addition to injunctive relief, they are asking for an accounting and damages from the above and other firms. The Nordic Fur Auction Company sale was concluded in Stockholm, Sweden, on March 24. Prices for standard mink declined 10 to 15 percent, compared with the previous auction. Top quality lots met with some price resistance, while lower qualities were in great demand.

Four Hurt In Two Accidents

Two car accidents in the Bedeque area Saturday afternoon resulted in four persons being sent to hospital, although two were later released and neither of the other two are reported to be seriously injured. In the first accident at North Bedeque, at the corner near the United Church manse, a car driven by Mr. Henry Scales, Free-town in which Mrs. Scales and William Callbeck, Bedeque were passengers hit a parked school bus located just off the main highway, when snow and ruts caused the car to go out of control. Both vehicles were damaged considerably. All three passengers were admitted to hospital but Mr. Scales and Mr. Callbeck were released after being treated for cuts and bruises. Mrs. Scales was still in hospital last evening but is reportedly in good condition. The Scales party was on the way to a wedding in Summerside when the accident occurred. Later in the afternoon Mr. Earl Leard, Central Bedeque ran into the same difficulty with the rutty snow pile meeting a car driven by Mr. Tom Davies of the RCAF but Mr. Scales and Mr. Callbeck were released after being treated for cuts and bruises. Mrs. Scales was still in hospital last evening but is reportedly in good condition. This accident happened at MacCabe's Hill, Central Bedeque. Mr. Leard is a potato inspector and was coming from Kinkoro at the time of the collision. It is understood Mr. Davies was not hurt but both cars were badly damaged.

Goalby Wins Major Tourney

GREENSBORO, N.C. (CP)—Bob Goalby, a golf professional only 14 months, won his first major tournament by two strokes Sunday. A final round of 66, five under par, gave him first place and $2,000 in the Greater Greensboro Open. Goalby's 72-hole total was 275. Goalby won when both Al Balding of Toronto, halfway leader Saturday, and Sam Snead, who took over from the Canadian after this morning's third round, faltered. Snead, trying for his seventh victory in the $15,000 tournament that he first won 20 years ago, finished in a five-way tie for second with Don January, Dow Finsterwald, Tony Lama and Art Wall. All had 277. January moved up to the lead with a closing 64 that equaled the tournament record for the par-71 Starmount Forest Country Club course.

Junior Canadiens Take Two Game Lead In Series

HULL, Que. (CP) — Ottawa-Hull Canadiens, scoring in lightning-like plays, Sunday whipped shot on goal before Plante scrambled back. SWARM TO ATTACK Simmons had no more than made a save on Claude Provost's six-foot shot of a rebound than the Canadiens were swarming in again. Dickie Moore sent a pass to Henri Richard and the little Rocket was about to return it when Moore yelled. Henri then saw his brother in the clear for a second and got the puck over to him. The Rocket let fly in a split second and agal. Simmons saw the puck whizz through the narrow opening on his left. Before the game ended there was a wild scramble in front of the Montreal net. Plante was in the midst of it and the net was wide open. For some reason Boston's Leo Labine couldn't get a shot away at the empty cage. The Canadiens benched Bert Olmstead Sunday night and used rookie Alvin (Ab) McDonald. He played on a line with Jean Bellevue and Bernie Geoffrion, although Marcel Bonin once or twice filled in for Geoffrion. SUMMARY First period: 1. Montreal, M. Richard (Geoffrion, Harvey) 18:20. Penalties: Pronovost 3:27, Bonin 6:27, Toppazzini 7:29, Johnson 12:25, Horvath 16:17. Second period: Scoring: None. Penalties: McDonald 1:44, Talbot 19:03. Third period: 2. Montreal, H. Richard (Harvey) 3:00; 3. Montreal, M. Richard (H. Richard, Moore) 15:06. Penalties: None. Stops: Plante 8 4 6-18 Simmons 9 11 7-27

Richard

(Continued from Page 6) It was an open shot at only a slight angle and the puck went between Simmons and the post, about two feet off the ice. The Bruins missed one big chance in the second period when Vic Stasiuk's deflection of a shot by Allan Stanley sent the puck flying just outside the post. The teams were at full strength when the little Rocket scored with his long shot. Taking the puck from Harvey 10 feet inside the blue line, Henri drove one to Simmons' right. The goalie reached for it with his gloved right hand and missed completely for a soft goal. The Bruins kept plugging away. Plante once came far out of his net to scoop up Horvath's looper and fell after getting rid of the puck. In the wild scramble, Boston couldn't get a clear

President Plays Role Of Scout

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower played the role of baseball scout in the Pittsburgh Pirates' signing of the son of a White House doo-keeper. The Pirates announced Saturday night the acquisition of Preston Bruce Jr., 21-year-old Negro. At Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here it was disclosed how the president — a center-fielder in his youth — called Pirates' attention to young Bruce several months ago at a White House dinner. One of the guests was Branch Rickey, Pirates' board chairman. James C. Hagerly, White House press secretary, said Eisenhower told Rickey of young Bruce and referred to him as "a pretty darn good pitcher." A Pirate spokesman said Bruce has been assigned to play with the Lincoln (Neb.) club in the class-A Western League.
