30 RESOLUTIONS PASSED

Farm Federation Wants Prices Commission Here

The government of the province will be asked to urge that the Commission in Price Spreads Visit this Province to hold hearings here, it was decided in one of the some thirty resolutions passed last night by the Provincial Federation of Agriculture at its annual meeting held in the lounge of the Charlottetown Hotel.

There was a great deal of discussion on price spreads between the agricultural producer and the consumer. Roland MacDonald of Southport noted, for example that he had heard the price of eggs quoted on the radio as being 39 cents a dozen for Grade A, f.o.b. country points at Toronto and had read in the paper that they were 27 cents a dozen here at the same time. Kenneth MacLean, Lot 16, others joined in the discussion and urged that the problem of organizing bringing the price to the producer and that to the consumer more into line.

Another resolution asked that the Federal Minister of Agriculture have undertaken a socio-economic study of a sample of Prince Edward Island rural communities.

POTATO INDUSTRY

Several resolutions dealt with the potato industry. One asked that work be speeded up on the frost-proof warehouse at Georgetown. Another asked that the problem of organizing an effective organization of potato growers be considered. Another asked the federation to study the possibility of devising a policy that will encourage the construction of an economical type of frost proof warehouse. They asked the Department of Agriculture to provide bursaries for students wishing to take the practical agricultural course offered by the Nova Scotia Agricultural College.

The same department was asked to set up demonstrations of poultry projects on certain farms, to assist in testing strains of crossbred birds to provide encouragement to producer groups in the marketing and processing of eggs and other poultry products.

The meeting favored the present system of radio and television administration. They asked the Federation to urge federal and provincial authorities to make available to long term loans at "reasonable" rates of interest.

They criticized the present method of levying school taxes on real estate without considering the taxpayers ability to pay. They asked the Federation to study and recommend a suitable plan of deficiency payments to cover distressed periods in potato marketing.

They said license and registration on farm motor trucks is unrealistic and urged the government to consider fees similar to those in Nova Scotia and Maine.

They asked that the freight as-istance policy be continued and revised upwards.

They recommended that farm laborers be included in the Unemployment Insurance plan. They asked that a co-ordinator be named to assist youth organizations.

They noted that engines attached to farm machinery are not durable and urged that the same apply to engines brought in separately if they are for farm use.

They asked that the support price on butter be set at 65 cents per pound as of May 1, 1958. They asked that credit unions be permitted to make loans under the terms of the Farm Improvement Loan Act.

They approved a resolution that the Federation approve and support the program being planned by the A. Pickard Machinery Company and the Rome Plow company to hold a series of demonstrations throughout the province on land clearing and conservation.

They asked that consideration be given to having the same privileges extended to the Eastern farmer as are enjoyed by western farmers who get cash advances on farm stored grain.

They asked that the National Board provide more films pertinent to agriculture and rural life.

WANT FLOOR PRICES

They asked that floor prices be imposed on certain farm products here that would assure the farmer a reasonable return on his investment of labor and money.

They asked that the grading of beef be changed to "alleviate any stigma which may be attached to present C grade" and encourage the marketing of this grade so the grade will carry through to the consumer.

They emphasized their opinion that the tax on farm gas is "unfair and should be abolished."

They extended thanks to the press and radio for courtesies extended during the year.

Harold Brown, in welcoming the ministers and members of sister congregations paid high tribute to the splendid support always given these services by the Christian people of Charlottetown. Mr. Gibson was warmly thanked both for his presence and his messages by Mr. Brown on behalf of The Charlottetown Ministerial Association under whose auspices these services have been held.

Ice-Covered Highways Are Blamed For Several Accidents

Ice-covered highways contributed to several vehicle accidents in widely separated sections of the Province last night.

An accident that occurred at 5:30 p.m. on the Trans-Canada Highway in front of the Church of Scotland at Birch Hill, resulted in all involved being taken to the Charlottetown Hospital by ambulance.

Most seriously injured was William McInnis, 48, of 97 Green Street, Charlottetown, who was reported to have suffered a broken jaw in addition to lacerations of the scalp and shock. At the time of the accident, Mr. McInnis, who operates a grocery at the corner of Green Street and Spring Park Road, was driving a one-half ton delivery truck, the property of Kenny's Bakery.

The occupants of the second vehicle involved in the Birch Hill accident, a 1952 Ford car, Patrick and Michael MacKenna, 22 and 24 respectively, of Orwell Cove, suffered a number of cuts and bruises. Their injuries were not thought to be serious.

During the early part of last night accidents occurred on the highway at both Tracadie and Cornwall. Only vehicle damage resulted in each case. Several minor accidents were also reported within the city limits.

Fire Guts Old Ottawa Bldg.

OTTAWA (CP)—A general alarm fire Friday ripped through a century-old building in the popular By-Ward Market area and burned out three business premises before it was brought under control.

More than 50 firemen fought the blaze for more than 2 1/2 hours before they gained the upper hand.

Grey smoke and flames shot skyward as the blaze ripped through the roof and for a time threatened adjoining buildings.

Seven persons who lived in a flat above a restaurant in the building were left homeless. All escaped with only the clothes they wore and one, who worked a night shift, wore only his pyjamas under an overcoat all morning.

Fire Chief M. W. Dolman said an accurate estimate could not be made until statements are obtained on the losses by the business owners. He guessed the loss would be in the neighborhood of $100,000, but other estimates ranged from $50,000 to $1,000,000.

Employees of three government departments who occupied the adjoining Sussex Street building were evacuated soon after the blaze started and instruments and other equipment were carried out for temporary storage in other buildings in the area.

YEAR AFTER BAD FIRE

The fire broke out about 4 a.m., EST, almost a year to the day that half a city block in Lower Town Ottawa was levelled by a $1,000,000 fire in sub-zero weather. The fire was declared under control by 11:30 a.m., but smoke and steam still poured from the stone structure.

Fire department officials said flames are believed to have originated in an air circulation duct that sucked fumes from a leaky gas connection near the restaurant stove.

94 Attend Polio Clinic

Ninety-four persons attended the first adult anti-polio clinic of 1958 which was held yesterday at the CNR terminal. Eighty-three of these received second shots, while eleven were given the initial inoculation.

The clinic was conducted by Dr. Alan MacMillan, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Turner, R. N. Administrative workers included: Mrs. C. W. Currie, and Mrs. Barry Bugden.

The next clinic will be held Monday night at the Community Centre between the hours of 7:00 and 9:00 p.m. This is general clinic open to all residents of the city including the West Royalty area.

New patrons are reminded that they will be required to pay one dollar for the complete series of three inoculations if they are between the ages of nineteen and forty. Those over forty who wish to be inoculated will have to pay the former price, one dollar for each shot.

The cheaper cost to the younger group is made possible by the fact that the provincial Department of Health now supplies vaccine free to this age group.

Garbageman Loses Battle

The garbageman has been refusing to empty Lady Patience's garbage can since last September.

But a special meeting of the town council listened to a renewed appeal Friday and agreed to instruct the garbageman to collect the offending can once a month. Other local residents have theirs dumped once a week.

The difficulty over the Guinness garbage can results from the fact that it reposes at the far end of a driveway to yards long. The garbageman objected to walking that far and insisted Lady Patience carry the can to the street entrance.

Lady Patience, 55-year-old widow of Sir Arthur Guinness, former president of the International Chamber of Commerce, was helped in her appeal by her neighbors, 81-year-old Lord Dorchester and 70-year-old Sir Chester and 70-year-old Sir Claude Gidney, both members of the council.

You cannot expect a lady to carry her dustbin to the bottom of her drive," Lord Dorchester commented. "That is a man's job."
