LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Remember Carvell Brothers "Six Months" Trade Sale on Wednesday next, 11th inst.

The First Snow for the season—a light flurry—fell on Saturday.

Personal.—Hon. D. Laird arrived from Ottawa on Friday evening.

Presentation.—Mr. John McDonald, of Toronto, when in Charlottetown, last week, presented the Wesleyan Academy with $50.

Supreme Court.—Michaelmas Term of the Supreme Court closed on Monday last. Twenty-seven causes were argued and disposed of.

Robbery.—The house of Mr. Jas. Offer, Queen Street, was entered on Saturday morning, about four o'clock, and a quantity of liquor in bottles and jars abstracted. The police are on the track of the burglars.

Lecture on 'Amusements.'—Rev. John Reid, of Halifax, delivered the first lecture of the season in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Thursday evening last. The audience was moderately large, and the lecture tolerably successful.

Sale of P. E. Island Produce.—Mr. Duggan sold at auction yesterday the cargo of the schr 'Charles,' from P. E. Island, which realized the following prices—Oats, 55 cents; potatoes, 28c a 30 cents; turnips, 27c to 28 cents.—Ex. Chronicle, Nov. 5.

Cutting Rascality.—On Tuesday evening last, one of the large panes in the front window of Mr. J. O'Neil's Saloon was, by means of a diamond in the hands of some mischievous rascal, cut out. The pane fell with a crash, and the practical joker escaped.

Aquatic.—The Sadler-Brown race has been left in the hands of the Managing Committee of the Halifax Boating Club. If the statement in Bell's Life, that Sadler will take £100 and row Brown at Halifax, proves correct, this proposal will probably be accepted.

Journalistic.—The Montreal Gazette has established a branch office in London. The Quebec Gazette, at the good old age of 110 years, has passed into the hands of the Quebec Morning Chronicle. It is understood that it will still be published as a distinct journal.

Educational.—Messrs. K. Henderson, Union Road; D McPhee, Royalty; Isidore Gallant, Rustico; A. A. McKenzie De-Sable; K. McKenzie, Flat River, and James Welsh, and Albert Doyle, of Charlottetown, have gone to Halifax to attend Dalhousie College.

Police.—A St. John News despatch reports:—The North-west police force is to be reduced from 340 to 200 men, the change being considered justifiable by the peaceful state of the North-west and the efficiency of the men. No fears are anticipated of hostility from the Indians and others.

United States' Politics.—In the recent elections the State of Massachusetts threw a Democratic vote for the first time in twenty years. General Butler was defeated by a majority of about a thousand votes. In New York City and State the Democratic ticket carried. In Washington the excitement was reported to be more intense than at any time since the war.

Postal.—An Ottawa despatch to the St John Telegraph reports:—"The free postal delivery system, adopted in Montreal, having given entire satisfaction, it is announced that the Posmaster-General intends to extend the system to Toronto, St. John, N.B., and Halifax, at an early date, or as soon as arrangements for that purpose now in progress have been completed."

'The Civil Service.'—Ottawa advices state that a new Civil Service Act will be introduced during the next session of Parliament. It will provide for the reorganization of the service, with a complete readjustment of salaries. The Civil Service Board, composed of the Deputy Heads of Departments, has lately had several sittings for the purpose of making a recommendation in connection with the Act.

Petty Larceny.—The people of Margate complain of being troubled with thieves. Their dairies have been broken into and meat and other articles stolen therefrom. Mr. James Humphrey, one of the unfortunates, offers a reward for the apprehension or any information, of those who visited his dairy. We hear, too, of clothes lines being stripped and cut in pieces in the vicinity of Summerside. People should keep a sharp look out for those midnight robbers.—Sum. Journal.

Among the neatest jobs of the Mackenzie Government are those they have performed in behalf of Halifax.

The railway headquarters have not been removed from Moncton to Richmond.

The railway has not been extended even as far as that ultima Thule—North street.

The Queen's wharf has not been secured for a freight depot.

The grateful regards of Halifax are surely due to the apathy of Mackenzie, and the vigor of Jones and Power.—Hx. Reporter.

Emigration Conference.—The Emigration Conference met in Ottawa on the 4th inst. The representatives present were: Robertson, Quebec; Stevenson, New Brunswick; and Crooks, Ontario; besides the Premier and Mr. Jenkins, M. P. Owing to the absence of the Nova Scotia representative, no business was transacted. The proposition of a united system of emigration from the Mother Country seems to meet with the approval of all, and its establishment will likely be the result of the conference.

"Missionary Meetings."—A missionary meeting—at which Rev. Mr. McDougall, of Saskatchewan, Rev. Mr. Sutherland, of Montreal, and Mr. John McDonald of Toronto—a delegation of the General Wesleyan Conference of the Dominion—were present, was held in the Wesleyan Chapel, Charlottetown, on Monday evening last. One of the best addresses ever heard in the Chapel on Missionary work, was delivered by Rev. Mr. Sutherland. On Tuesday evening a social meeting was held, at which a thousand dollars were subscribed to aid the missionary work. On Sunday evening last, Rev. D. D. Currie preached an able sermon on the Missions in the North-West

A Farmer Robbed of $1,200.—A correspondent of the St. John Tribune writes that on the evening of the 28th ult. a daring robbery took place a few miles above Edmundston, Madawaska Co. Between the hours of ten and eleven o'clock, a man entered the house of Regis Martin, and took therefrom a trunk containing, among other things, $850 in gold and about $150 in paper, besides promissory notes to the amount of $200. Mr. Martin awoke just as the thief was going out of the house with the trunk in his arms. He sprang out of bed and ran after the fellow for a few rods, calling out to him to stop. The thief then dropped the trunk and struck Martin a violent blow on the head which laid him senseless on the ground. He then took the trunk and made off. No clue to his identity or to the missing money has yet been found. Mr. Martin is a respectable and well to do farmer.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Remember "Penny Readings" at St. Peter's Schoolroom to-morrow (Tuesday) evening.

Political.—The Legislature of Quebec is to meet for despatch of business on the 3d December.

Presbytery.—The Presbytery of the Church of Scotland will meet at St. James' Church on Thursday next at 11 o'clock a.m.

The Summerside Journal has been informed that Mr. James Tuplin's Blacksmith's Forge, New Annan, took fire on Tuesday, and was burned to the ground.

Pretty Good.—The Patriot reports that "Mr. Isaac Trowsdale, Crapaud, sold to Mr. Adam Leard, of the same place, a pig, 16 months old, weighing 582 lbs." Who can beat this?

Customs Receipts.—The Receipts of the Customs last month amounted to $37,234.40. The receipts for the first week of this month, ending Nov. 7th amount to upwards of $12,300.

Arrival.—The Ship James Duncan from Liverpool, Oct. 11—with general cargo of merchandize, arrived at this port on Sunday evening. Captain Kickham, reports heavy westerly winds.

A Good Yield.—Mr. John Breen, of Darnley, this year sowed fifty-one and a half bushels of wheat, and threshed six hundred and fifty bushels. We should like to know who has beaten this.

Remember the Great Trade Sale, at Welsh & Own's Brick Building, commencing this day, Monday, November 9th, at 11 o'clock, will be continued morning and afternoon until all is sold. "Positively no reserve." 1 in Water Works—A Suggestion.—Ex-Alderman Murphy suggests that the City Council request Mr. Boyd, C. E.—whose services in connection with the railway are now nearly ended—to furnish plans and specifications, with an estimate of the relative cost, of Water Works for Charlottetown. A good suggestion.

Fecundity of a Turkey.—Mrs. J. A. Ronahan, Somerset, has a turkey that, in the spring, laid 20 eggs. She sat and hatched 18 chickens, and fostered them till beyond danger. She then laid 14 eggs, and tried to sit again, but was not allowed. A few days after she commenced laying again, and has laid 20 eggs since. She now lays every second day as regular as the day comes round.

Trade Statistics.—The following are the receipts at the Customs here for the four months ending 31st October, as compared with the corresponding period last year:—

	1873	1874	Increase
July,	$9,616.29	$13,500.39	$3,884.10
August,	5,383.75	10,697.66	5,313.91
Sepr.,	7,334.05	43,338.88	36,004.83
October,	34,066.84	47,234.40	12,591.65
Total,	$57,732.72	$114,771.33	$57,704.49

Shewing an increase in the revenue since the first of July of over 100 per cent.

Inland Revenue.—The Inland Revenue still continues to increase, as may be seen by the following statement:—

1873 October,	$2,516.76
1874, October,	4,839.96
Increase, 1874,	$2,323.20

The Digby Murder.—The Digby Courier gives further particulars of the tragic death of Capt. Robichau. It appears that the murderer, Dugatt, had quarrelled with his victim two days before he stabbed him, and offered to fight the captain—but the latter declined, though a much more powerful man. Inflaming himself with drink, Dugatt lay in wait near Robichau's house, and on the fatal night attacked the unfortunate man who was going to the well for water. He stabbed him three times, and Robichau returned to the house, saying he was stabbed. The murderer lingered round the house, and, it is said, kicked at the door, saying, 'By God, if he isn't dead, I want to finish him!' But, owing to the excitement of the moment, no attempt was made to arrest him, although there is said to have been three men in the house at the time. The day after the affair, a boat was missing from the shore in his neighborhood, and it was pretty certain he had taken it to effect an escape. Two vessels, the 'Blythe' and the 'Life Boat' went down the Bay the same night, and it is supposed he got on board either of them as the missing boat was found ashore near Gilbert Cove with the sail set. Telegrams have been sent to every place where there is any likelihood of his arriving. The Yarmouth Herald thus describes the murderer:—"The murderer Dugau, is a Frenchman, about twenty-one years of age, about five feet nine inches high, and weighs about one hundred and fifty pounds, his hair is dark brown and short; eyes dark and small; talks some English; he is well featured, florid complexion, small mouth, light chin, straight and well formed nose; and the lower part of his face has something effeminate about it; not very heavy eyebrows, and generally a very well proportioned man. He has a large star on one of his hands, between the thumb and forefinger."

CORRESPONDENCE.

TEMPERANCE.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

I suppose there never was a topic that has been so much discussed as the temperance question. It has been, and is now, a prolific source of conversation in the palace of the rich as well as in the cottage of the poor. It has been a theme for editors, for lecturers, for pulpit orators, and for legislators. It has engaged the attention of some of the ablest, as well as the most inferior, minds. And yet, notwithstanding all that has been said and written concerning it, there is no question that is receiving more attention and engrossing so much deliberation at the present day. Moreover, there is every likelihood that in the future, as in the past and present, it is to form a subject for discussion among all classes, for it seems to me that it is as far from settlement to-day as it was half a century ago. Now, there must be some cause for all this delay in the final settlement of the temperance question. Is there not something wrong in the manner in which it has been treated? Has it been dealt with as it deserved to be? In my humble opinion, it has not; and, with your permission, I will give some of my reasons for thinking so.

In discussing a question of the nature of this temperance subject, the arguments used should always be sound, and such as to command the respect and attention of the people. If they are not—if they are illogical—the result will be that the opinions of the men using them will have no weight, and consequently will be ruinous to the cause they would espouse. Now, the ardent temperance advocates have always gone to extremes in carrying on their warfare, and have advanced some extremely absurd themes. For instance, the person whom they call the 'moderate drinker,' is, in their opinion, a most deplorable wretch. The idea they strive to create in the most of the world concerning this poor creature, is extraordinarily amusing. This moderate drinker is characterized by temperance writers and orators, as a type of humanity embodying almost everything that is evil and wicked. Now, careless and indifferent, he goes on sipping his champagne, relying on his own firm will to save himself from drinking to excess; but bye-and-bye, he is caught in the whirlpool of fast companionship, and finds himself some fine morning as drunk as a loon; then loses all self-respect; cares nothing for home nor friends, and finally ends a miserable drunken sot. Again he is made to assume the role of a sly, cunning, worthless sort of fellow, who not only consumes a considerable quantity of intoxicating liquor himself, but induces young men to sip at his table and indulge in stimulating beverages, until they become ruined in health, fortune and character; their downfall dating from the time they first raised the 'flowing bowl' to their lips, at his sumptuous board.

In propagating such bosh as this, is it any wonder their cause don't succeed? that their opinions are held in supreme contempt by all right-thinking men? Now, the fact is that moderate drinking is the characteristic of a vast majority of the male portion of the human family. In every walk of life, the greatest men have been, in all ages, moderate drinkers. Nearly all the great contributions to literature, art, science, and the comfort and necessities of life, generally, have been made by moderate drinkers. In short, in every sphere of life in which the human faculties are exerted, moderate drinking is found compatible with the highest excellence.

These ardent temperance reformers have another theory in which they go to extremes. They won't admit that there is any virtue whatever in spirituous liquor. Now, the very fact that it can be abused, simply proves that it has a right and proper use. They, then, instead of aiming to educate men to the proper use of liquor, go off in a tempest after rum, and strive to punish the abused instead of the abuser. That is another weak point in their logical conclusion.

And now, here on the Island, I notice that the temperance advocates are forming prohibitory leagues with the object of crushing out the liquor traffic, in the very face of the fact that this same prohibition has signally failed in other countries. Do these men suppose that a law that has failed everywhere it has been tried, will be successful here. I think they are on the wrong track, and the sooner they realize their mistake the better. It is as plain as daylight, that prohibition is a dead letter. Understand, Mr. Editor, that I believe in temperance, and that I would like to see the manufacture and sale of liquors prohibited if it were practicable. But where it is not, there is no use in wasting time and money in putting it into operation. I may return to this subject, Mr. Editor, with your permission.

Yours,
November 9, 1874. Raymur.

LETTER FROM MR. BURWOOD.

Halifax Nov. 2, 1874.

S. Sichel, Esq., Halifax.

Sir,—As there has been so much talk and newspaper correspondence about the unfortunate band affair in which you are so dreadfully misrepresented that the prejudice and feeling against you on the Island has been systematically engendered into the public mind so as to do you and your business a great injury, I cannot in justice remain silent any longer, and as I was one of the committee of the Hillsborough Boating Club, I feel it my duty to say, that this persecution, as I cannot call it anything else, against you, is entirely uncalled for, and unjust, and that, to my certain knowledge, you worked very hard and disinterestedly to procure the band for the committee, and especially to oblige Mr. Bremner and myself; as we werethe only parties known to you; that you made no money by the transaction; on the contrary, you lost money out of your own pocket. As I have made personal inquiries about it, and from the intimate knowledge of the whole affair I am in a position to testify that all the money you received for the services of the band was properly distributed to them, as the receipt given by Capt Dashwood plainly shows. I beg however, to draw your attention to the fact, that certain parties interested in the sale of instruments, both in Charlottetown and Halifax, are taking advantage of this band difficulty, and have combined, for the object of destroying your name and influence on the Island, so as to take advantage, to themselves, to supply the musical instruments and merchandize upon the Island. I consider the public should be made aware of this in order that the real cause of this persistent attack upon you may be seen.

The actual amount in question is far too small to make or keep up so much fuss about, were it not for some ulterior object, especially, as you offered to contribute twenty-five per cent towards that amount while in Ch'town.

Hoping the above explanation will be satisfactory, and tend to remove any wrong impression, and apoligizing for not having earlier communicated with you upon the subject, the cause being absence from home, and in a spot where few newspapers were obtainable.

I remain,
Yours respectfully,
J. R. BURWOOD.
