Cotton Used In Collection

MONTREAL (CP) — The spring collection of the Association of Canadian Couturiers has turned entirely to cotton for the first time in the history of its presentations.

The collection, sponsored by the Canadian Cotton Council, features gaily colored, high-fashion ensembles ranging from patio to formal evening wear.

The group of Canadian designers represented used variations on the high and low bell and tunic themes and the Eastern look. Several costumes came with matching hats and in some cases shoes matched.

Olivia of Hamilton's collection featured a dramatic yellow, flamingo red and chalk white. Eve Lynn of Montreal featured a "waterproof" raincoat in fuchsia red and Toronto's Rodolphe, also using rich red, created a colorful travelling costume. A white plique dress piped with red and some of the evening wear.

Association President Raoul-Jean Faure presented collection of ensembles in rich gold tones. An eye-catching contribution of Ottawa's Frances Stewart was a khaki cape lined with orange, gray and bronze print with matching print dress.

Color-bright wrap to wear over a dress now, alone when summer comes. The bow to cinch waist — no fitting problems for this snappy-sew.

Printed Pattern 4908: Misses' Sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 16 requires 2 1/2 yards 45-inch fabric.

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

Provincial Nutritionist Addresses WI Members

Interest was centered on nutrition at the March meeting of the United Road Kings Co. WI when Mary Thompson, provincial nutritionist, gave an informative lecture on the needs of milk for young and old in the dairy diet.

A lengthy discussion followed and many questions were answered by Miss Thompson.

Mrs. Lloyd Mellich, WI hostess and the president, Diane Mellich, was in the chair. The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Ellsworth Ross.

A new member, Heather Mellich, was welcomed. Routine business was conducted and a letter was read regarding the province-wide adoption of the Island of St. Lucia in the West Indies. This matter was discussed by the members and tabled for a later meeting.

A questionnaire on education was received from the provincial committee for education, Mrs. Edwin Cook, and was answered by the members.

A history of the local Institute will be sent to Mrs. Lloyd Mellich.

Music books and records for the school children will be purchased and a sale of remnants at the April meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Everett Moore.

After adjournment refreshments were served by the hostesses.

COVERED ROAD WI

The Covered Road WI held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Macdonald with seven members and one visitor present. In the absence of the president and vice-president, Mrs. Harry Birt presided.

The meeting opened with the singing of an Irish song, also repeating the creed in union and roll call was answered with an Irish ballad.

Routine business was attended to and the members agreed to help their sister institutes by baking for a joint party sale in aid of the cub scouts.

Committees gave their reports and the school committee will purchase small items.

A discussion period followed with education as the theme and members stressed the importance of adult education.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Harold Macdonald.

Mrs. Eddy Doyle was on program and read a poem entitled "Canada" and Mrs. E. n. s. MacMillan conducted a guessing contest which was won by Mrs. Samuel Woodridge.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem followed by lunch, served by the hostesses.

GLEN VALEY WI

The March meeting of the Glen Valley WI met at the home of the president, Mrs. Hendley Higgins, and opened with the ode and collect, with nine members and two visitors present.

The minutes were read and approved and proceeds from the Valentine party amounted to $15.20.

The sum of $5 will be given to the Central Queen's High School towards prizes.

Correspondence was read and an auction sale followed.

Mrs. Cyrus Martin sewed the quilt top together which will be quilted later at her home.

The sick committee reported it is made and new committees were appointed as follows: School, Mrs. Vernon Gillis and Mrs. Arthur MacLean; sick, Mrs. R. O. Frizzell; program, Mrs. Hendley Higgins and Mrs. Alton MacLean.

Roll call will be answered at next meeting by a get well of sympathy card, and Mrs. Vernon Gillis invited members to her home for that meeting.

Two contests were won by Mrs. Vernon Gillis and Mrs. Cyrus Martin.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Queen, followed by lunch, served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Edward Macdonald.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Each New Day is Full of Sorrows And Surprises

And here with the dawn was a brand new day! What did we think of? What expect from it? "A man who had preserved his youth, not only in appearance but in heart long after he had reached the limit of three first row farrow, or a lambkin come to the barns which sit in yard across fields."

"Now wouldn't this be the right day for you to catch up on some of your studies?" we may suggest.

"And I hear the last of this... And what did you do then, Granddaddy?" he will question eagerly, of some tale of James' youth on this farm.

And a brand new day was ours. And a March storm whelped in the night was heaping field and yard with rain and hail, with blown drifts "deep and white."

"It's not pleasant to be out in the snow," James reported at dinner, "though I've seen worse March storms."

"The snow is so deep I thought I'd never get here," Alex said, when he came a-voicing through the storm and in dim. "When a spring comes a-voicing there will be all 'go' he queried."

We think an island "Chinook" will come by one day, a warm, cutting wind of the south. And streamlets will trickle down the slopes of our valley. The mill-stream will catch them and in a mighty rush of waters falling noisily through the spillways in the dam, sooner or later bear winter off to the River and sea.

"Remember, Ellen," James now reminds us, as he faces toward the stairway "tomorrow will be the morning after the storm! We'll have a lot of clearing up to do."

Until tomorrow — — Diary — Good-night...

MARY HAWORTH

Comments Caustically On Misguided Parents

Dear Mary Haworth: I have your customary wise letters to newspapers, but I have never upon to give my opinion regarding the college freshman who feels his parents visit him too often.
