U.S. Plans To Smoke Out Crooks In Labor Unions

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The Eisenhower administration Thursday took the wraps off its 1958 labor legislation program aimed at smoking out crooks and racketeers from the labor movement.

It includes provision for full disclosure of union funds, secret ballot election of union officers, tightened bribery restrictions and broad recommendations for revision of the Taft Hartley Act.

The program was outlined in detail by Labor Secretary James Mitchell to the second constitutional convention of the AFL-CIO and was greeted by polite applause from delegates. The federation executive board will take up the program at its meeting Tuesday.

Earlier, AFL - CIO President George Meany told the convention the federation will make no deals with unions accused of corruptions.

He emphatically denied reports that the AFL-CIO executive is ready to water down its cleanup demands on the Teamsters international union or other AFL-CIO unions accused of corrupt leadership.

There had been reports Meany was willing to let James R. Hoffa remain in a subordinate position with the Teamsters if Hoffa would quit as president-elect of the union.

HOFFA ON TRIAL

Hoffa has been a target of congressional committee charges of corruption, and is on trial in Washington with President Dave Beck and the union itself on charges that Hoffa's election last October was rigged.

Mitchell said the government proposals will leave the basic responsibility for "honest and democratic trade unionism right where it is now—with you."

But, he added, they will correct conditions which appear "to have encouraged abuse and oppression on the part of some people."

Mitchell said later the program has the approval of President Eisenhower and was discussed with Republican leaders of both the House and Senate. The recommendations will be presented to Congress by the president in January.

S'side Board Of Trade To Name Employment Group

President C. R. MacLaggan presided at the December meeting of the Summerside Board of Trade held last evening in the Civic Building with 14 members present.

On the instigation of Mr. Earl Cannon a motion was approved in which the president will appoint a committee to act in an advisory capacity to the local employment office in an effort to increase employment in this area. Mr. Cannon said most town and cities have these employment advisory committees who meet with the regional employment officers to make suggestions, which are then forwarded to the national office, and if approved are presented to the Minister of Labor for disposition.

The annual meeting of the board is to be held January 9th, at which time the special speakers will be J. Lincoln Dewar and Dr. Frank MacKinnon who will talk on A.P.E.C.

The nominating committee appointed to bring in a new slate of officers at the January meeting is comprised of R. S. Hinton, T. Earle Hickey and John Wright.

Mr. Vaughan Groom reported that the Summerside directional signs located on the Trans-Canada Highway have been taken down. He said these signs were intended for year round service and requested that the board look into the matter. The president stated this would be done at once.

May Arrange For Permanent Summer Residence For P. M.

OTTAWA (CP)—Future prime ministers will likely have at their disposal a $100,000, seven - bedroom "summer cottage" on a picturesque Quebec lake, about 15 miles from here.

The Federa District Commission reported Friday it has offered the government a large house on Harrington Lake.

The two-storey house, on a secluded knoll above the lake, was acquired by the FDC while developing Gatineau Park.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, en route to Toronto for the Grey Cup game, could not be reached for comment, but it is understood he will accept the FDC offer.

The house was built in 1925 by Col. Cameron M. Edwards of Ottawa, a lumberman, at a cost of about $100,000. In 1951 the FDC purchased the property around Harrington Lake for $232,000.

The move was part of a development plan for the park, which will eventually cover about 80,000 acres.

The Edwards home was offered originally to the late Prime Minister King, but he did not accept because he had his own holdings at Kingsmere. Former Prime Minister St. Laurent preferred to spend his summers at St. Patrick, Que., on the southern shore of the St. Lawrence.

The house is located on five acres of landscaped grounds. It has large living and dining rooms, suitable for entertaining large numbers of guests, seven bedrooms and living quarters for the staff.

On the grounds are a boathouse, garage and a bathing hut on a small sandy beach.

Since the FDC acquired the house, it has been rented during the summer months to Ottawa residents.

New Navigational Aid For Planes Flying In Antarctica

By RENNIE TAYLOR

MCURO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—In the white waste of the Antarctic, a little smudge of black can go a long way.

In fact, it has set scientists to envisage startling possibilities: safe trails in polar regions made hazardous by crevasses, greatly simplifying supply and transport problems.

And black dirt or powdered coal may provide valuable navigation aids for aircraft over country where compasses don't work or play weird tricks.

EXPLOSIVE CLUE

The clue came from explosions set off by a trail-blazing party to dislodge flimsy snow bridges concealing crevasses across its path.

The party of U.S. Army and navy experts blazed the trail from Little America to a point 646 miles southward that was to become Byrd Station, a scientific centre for the International Geophysical Year (IGY).

The army-navy party detected the hidden crevasses with an electronic "feeler" extending in front of a Weasel, a small track-laying vehicle.

FILL 'EM UP

After blasting the snow bridges, which might support a dog or a man but not the heavy supply vehicles, the exposed crevasses — some more than 100 feet deep— could be bulldozed full of snow and ice to give firm footing to supply trains.

But the blasts also left a few ounces of black and grey particles to smudge small spots of snow.

Because of its dark color, the smudge began absorbing heat from sunshine, and as it warmed it melted its way down through the snow and ice leaving telltale depressions. The action continues as long as the smudge can pick up a speck of light. And some of it diffuses toward the top and can always be seen.

FOUND DEPRESSIONS

So when the party retraced its steps three weeks later, it found the crevasse fills well marked with such depressions.

This was last January. But even recently, a heavily - loaded trail party made the long trip over this stretch with supplies for Byrd Station, and it found the smudge-caused depressions.

To Palle Mogensen, polar navigation and transportation expert who was second in command of the party, the work of the smudge is an open invitation to scientists to channel some of the sun's power directly against the Antarctic, which has 84 per cent of the world's ice.

PERMANENT TRAIL

With a few hundred pounds of soot applied by air a year in advance and followed up with conventional and newly developed surface working equipment, Mogensen says, a permanently depressed trail could be made from McMurdo Sound, centre of American activity, to the South Pole, 750 miles away.

This would serve aircraft as a highly visible trail across one of the world's most forbidding parts, where anything that reinforces conventional navigation is highly welcome.

Welcome New Housing Plans

OTTAWA (CP) — Spokesmen for the construction industry welcomed Thursday government plans to make it easier for Canadians of modest means to own homes but warned that more mortgage funds will be needed to make the plans effective.

Tullis N. Carter of Toronto, president of the Canadian Construction Association, said in a statement the industry appreciates plans for lower down payments and income limitations announced Wednesday night.

"The reduction in down payments means a somewhat higher mortgage per unit unless the average size and cost of building lots and houses gets smaller," his statement said. "This in turn would mean a reduction in the number of houses financed unless the supply of mortgage funds also increases."

He described the allocation of $300,000,000 for loans by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for home construction as "helpful" but added that "a close watch must be kept on this situation."

Gets Trophy For Big Salmon

FREDERICTON (CP) — A trophy awarded annually to the sportsman or guide capturing the biggest salmon in New Brunswick open waters has been won for 1957 by Joseph Brophy, a guide of Howard, N.B. He caught a 29-pound Atlantic salmon in the Miramichi River Aug. 20.

The trophy will be presented here Thursday night at the annual banquet of the New Brunswick Fish and Hunt Outfitters' Association.

Nudist Win Appeal Case

NEW YORK (AP)—The state Supreme Court ruled Tuesday that nudist magazines can not be barred from newsstands in advance of publication.

The court acted in a six-year-long fight by city licence commissioner Edward T. McCaffrey to prevent open sale or literature he felt was obscene or provocative.

Associate Justice Francis Valente said the court unanimously agreed McCaffrey had infringed U.S. constitutional guarantees of free spech and free press.

McCaffrey wrote the city's 1,200 newsdealers in November, 1951, that he might lift their licences if they handled certain magazines. Two nudist magazines, Sunshine and Health and Sun Magazine sued for a temporary restraining injunction and lost. They appealed the decision of the lower court.

Valente said McCaffrey's action constituted "advance censorship" and that there were plenty of laws to take care of demonstrably obscene literature.

C. N. S. Ships Can Be Recalled

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Hees said Thursday that last month's transfer of the eight-ship Canadian National Steamships' West Indies service to Trinidad registry was subject to the fleet's recall to the Canadian flag.

The minister said, however, he has had no indication from the CNS management that such a return is contemplated. The ships were transferred after a five-month strike by their crews, members of the Seafarers' International Union (CLC). Mr. Hees said at the time the step was taken to get service resumed.

George Marler, Montreal St. Antoine - Westmount, last Liberal transport minister, asked in the Commons "was there an understanding that the transfer was subject to a provision that the ships could be called back to Canadian registry?"

Mr. Hees said yes.

Will Not Affect Canadian Wheat

OTTAWA (CP) — Trade Minister Churchill said in the Commons Wednesday he does not believe a proposed $1,500,000,000 boost in the United States surplus food disposal program would cut into Canadian wheat sales abroad

Mr. Churchill said he does not think an increase will interfere with U.S. assurances that Canada's export requirements will be kept in mind in the operation of the surplus food program.

A large part of the U.S. program was to assist needy persons in the world not normally consumers of Canadian flour and wheat.

On two occasions Mr. Churchill said the Canadian government also is considering methods to assist persons of the world in need of food. He did not elaborate.

UK Imports May Cut U. S. Orders

MANCHESTER, England (Reuters)—James S. Duncan, deputy leader of a 50-member Canadian trade mission, forecast Wednesday that Canadian imports from Britain "will cut very heavily" into orders from the United States.

"That is a most desirable fact from our point of view and also from yours," he said.

The group toured factories here and in neighboring centres in northwestern England during the day. Duncan described the reception the delegation received as "quite remarkable" and said the trade emissaries were "almost overwhelmed by the generosity."

"As a result of this visit there will be a much greater trend to ordering from this country," he said, "and that will cut very heavily into orders we are placing to ever increasing degrees with the United States."

Still Possibility Of Summit Meeting With The Russians

LONDON (Reuters) — British ministers have not dismissed the possibility of a forthcoming summit meeting with Russian leaders but they say present circumstances do not encourage such a conference.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, at a party political broadcast last week, emphasized that Britain did not rule out in principle the possibility of talks with the Communist world. But he again stated the view already expressed in Parliament that a summit conference without apparent prospects of success would do more harm than good to the prospects of international co-operation.

A foreign office spokesman declined formal comment Tuesday night on remarks of Canadian External Affairs Minister Sydney Smith referring to recent Russian proposals for a conference.

The spokesman said it was not British practice to comment in public on speeches made by ministers of member states of the Commonwealth.

But the British attitude to the possibility of a summit conference has been made clear on several recent occasions.

In the exchange with the Soviet Union on Middle East questions, Britain, in consultation with France and the United States, has told Russia that there appears little point in Big Four talks on the Middle East until a common basis of approach can be discovered.

Believe American Youths Are A Pretty Good Lot

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Despite all the publicity about delinquency America's youngsters are a pretty good lot, says Walt Disney.

The film wizard is back from an extended vacation in Europe and rarin' to get going on new projects. Many of the subjects will be of prime interest to youngsters, of course, though Walt has always said that he makes pictures for everybody, not just children.

"One of the things I want to do is make a picture that shows the good side of teen-agers," he said. "I get so put out with all these pictures about delinquency. I thought that one about Marlon Brando and the motorcycles (The Wild One) was bad, and The Blackboard Jungle upset me for three days afterward.

"I think those pictures are a mistake. After all, Monkey See, Monkey Do. Kids get bad ideas when they see such things on the screen.

NOT TRUE PICTURE

"And I don't think they show a true picture of young people today. All in all, I think kids are a good bunch. There are some bad ones, but there always have been. I remember when I was a kid in Kansas City, a bunch of kids were breaking into houses and storing the loot in the cellar of an unfinished church.

"The difference nowadays is that you always hear about such things. Everybody reads the papers, has a radio and TV set and goes to the movies."

The way to keep kids out of trouble is to keep them interested in things, Walt said. One of his big projects is to stimulate youthful interest in science. His film Our Friend the Atom is a favorite in the schools.

"I think we can do a lot more things like the atom and space features," he said. "I'd like to tackle a subject like mathematics and try to make it interesting to young people. That's a real challenge."

NOT THE ANSWER

Walt is convinced that lecturing to kids is no answer to delinquency.

"Preaching won't keep kids out of trouble. But keeping their minds occupied will."

While others overlook the vast juvenile market, Walt is developing his own stable of talented youngsters. The payoff is shown in his latest release, Old Yeller. The movie is a winner for the whole family, thanks in large part to such Disney moppets as Tommy Kirk and Kevin (Moochie) Corcoran.

Would Spend Millions On Scholarships And Building

OTTAWA (CP) — Senator Donald Cameron of Alberta urged a multi - million - dollar scholarship and building program Tuesday for Canadian education.

But Senator John T. Haig, government leader in the Senate, rejected the idea as soon as the independent - Liberal senator had completed his 70-minute speech.

"The government I have the honor to represent in this chamber will not spend during the next five years the millions and millions he has thrown around here this afternoon," he said.

"You already have," senators on both sides of the House commented, referring to the government's social security and other legislation at the current session of Parliament.

Senator Cameron, referring to a projected conference on education scheduled for Ottawa in February, said for Canada to maintain her place in the world her educational standards would have to be improved. More and better teachers would have to be recruited and teachers' salaries should be raised by 50 to 75 per cent.

He advocated a $10,000,000 revolving scholarship and student loan fund from which students could obtain interest-free loans to attend university or technical training institutes. The loans would be repayable within three to five years of graduation, at interest of three per cent beginning with the date of graduation.

Universities should be encouraged to specialize in particular fields. That would make them more attractive to post-graduate students now taking such training in the United States, and such students would look increasingly to them as places of employment later.

He urged $60,000,000 be spent yearly for the next 10 years on university plant and equipment.

Former Islander Is Tied Up By Bandits In Ont.

An Augustine Cove man, Ivan Wadman, 23, recently survived an unpleasant experience when tied up in Toronto by thugs attempting to break into an office safe at the all-night service station where he is employed.

Mr. Wadman was hosing down the service station floors when he heard a noise and turned to see a man with a silk stocking over his head standing behind him. The man, after indicating this was a robbery attempt, put a cloth over his face and two or three men dragged him into the stockroom where they tied him up and left him lying face down on the floor. He could hear them hammering at the safe.

A few minutes after the noise stopped Mr. Wadman began calling for help and about an hour and a half after being tied up, his shouts were heard by two men who untied him and called police.

The safe's hinges had been removed and unsuccessful attempts had been made to pry the door open. However the thieves did escape with $118.00 from the cash register.

Mr. Wadman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wadman of Augustine Cove, P.E.I.

Alberton Legion Branch Financial Report Presented

The annual meeting of the Alberton Branch of the Canadian Legion was held Wednesday evening with vice-president, Heath Profit, presiding.

Following minutes and roll call, the treasurer, Com. Graham Bennett, gave a comprehensibe report on the activities of the branch during the year including a detailed finiancial report. Due to the complete renovation of the Legion Home, following a fire last March, expenditures were considerably above normal. However earnings were also up, enabling the branch to show a small credit balance.

Gross receipts from the poppy campaign were $48.00 higher than the previous year, amounting to $255.68. The treasurer expressed gratification with the results of the poppy campaign, stating that they show that the people of the district were once again behind the Legion in their efforts to raise funds in aid of distressed veterans and their dependents.

It was decided to continue the sponsorship of Santa Claus with the date for his appearance at the Legion Home to be decided by the executive and a sum of money was voted for this purpose.

Com. Rochford was appointed to head the Santa committee.

The sum of ten dollors was voted for the P.E.I. Tuberculosis League. Comrades John Rochford, Keir Fraser, R. M. Dunn, Frank Weeks and R. D. MacKinnon were appointed to a nominating committee to select a slate of officers for presentation to a special meeting in ten day's time.

Correspondence included a letter from the Dominion executive council advising that a twenty-eight page year book is being prepared on all phases of Legion activities with suitable cash awards to the most worthwhile Legion branch in each Provincial Command. The secretary-treasurer, Graham Bennett, volunteered to prepare the requested five hundred word resume from the Alberton Branch.

Following adjournment a delicious lunch was served.

S'Side Gamma Hi-Y Club Meets

"The Good is The Enemy of the Best" was the theme of the regular meeting of Summerside's Gamma Hi-Y Club held at the "Y" centre on Green Street Tuesday evening.

Miss Joy Nicholson presided, and the meeting opened with the repetition of the Hi-Y Ritual, followed by worship conducted by Gerene Gallant.

The roll was called and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary. Weekly reports of the various standing committees were heard. The treasurer gave the financial report.

A letter was read by the secretary requesting the club submit the name of a candidate to fill the position of president of the newly formed Maritime Hi-Y Union. To qualify the person must be a Maritime resident, a high school student next year and an experienced Hi-Y member with a wide knowledge of the organization. The club referred the matter to the Gamma delegates to the 16th Maritime Hi-Y Conference held recently in Halifax.

The members were asked to provide sandwiches for the social which is scheduled to follow the induction to be held in the "Y" Centre, Saturday, December 7, at 7:30 p. m. All parents, friends or the interested public are invited to attend. (The induction candidates are asked to be at the "Y" centre at 7:15 p.m.)

In remarking on the weekly Hi-Y dances, the president stressed the fact that a guest that is a person who does not possess a dance card issued by the council or a "Y" card, is required to pay fifty cents admission.

At the next meeting all members are asked to bring canned food to be placed under the Kinsmen Christmas tree.

Plans were made for next week's meeting. Being the final meeting before Christmas it will be in the form of a social at which lunch will be served and sing-song enjoyed.

Cartons of life-savers were distributed and instructions given for the house to house canvass which the three Hi-Y Clubs are conducting on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The business meeting was followed by a Chinese auction with Ruth Ramsay acting as auctioneer. The club treasury received a boost from the funds realized.

Meeting closed by singing "God Save the Queen."
