DOUKHOBORS — A new home in Siberia will be recommended to British Columbia's troublesome Sons of Freedom Doukhobors.

If the fanatical religious sect accept the advice of a four-man group which came to Russia last month looking for somewhere to settle, it will end half a century's strife with Canadian authorities. William Mooljelsky, spokesman for the land-seeking team, said in an interview here Thursday they will recommend that their 2,000 followers settle either in the Omsk or Altai regions.

Omsk is a town in western Siberia, about 1,400 miles southeast of Moscow. The Altai area of southern Siberia and northwest Mongolia is another 1,000 miles southeast of Omsk.

LARGE POOL — The largest indoor swimming pool in Canada is at Victoria.

Man Injured In Spectacular Sydney Blaze

SYDNEY, N. S. (CP)—A spectacular fire and explosion Thursday morning levelled a bulk storage plant of the McColl-Frontenac Oil Company Limited at Sydney River. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

The blast severely injured plant employee Bernard MacDonald, 25, of Glace Bay. He suffered facial, leg and arm burns. St. Rita Hospital authorities said last night he was doing as well as could be expected.

Lloyd Quinn, Sydney River, found MacDonald on the highway minutes after the blaze. His clothes were in flames. Quinn wrapped a coat around the victim and summoned medical aid.

The blast erupted at 8:45 A.M. a short time after MacDonald opened the warehouse for the day. It is believed that MacDonald was outside loading a truck when the explosion occurred.

Spectacular work by two volunteer fire departments and the Sydney department was credited with preventing a major disaster. Flames from the storage plant licked close to nearby storage tanks containing thousands of gallons of gasoline.

The fire occurred almost in the centre of a cluster of tanks owned by three separate companies.
