The president, Mrs. Roy Oulton presided and conducted opening worship. They will also have a Valentine party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Oulton. The study entitled "What does it mean to be a Christian?" was conducted by the minister, Rev. W.G. Dickson, after which games and contests were held and delicious refreshments were served. This enjoyable meeting concluded by the Mizpah Benediction. The heavy rain on the icy roads made travelling very difficult on the homeward journey but it was accomplished without any mishaps.

Under the dynamic leadership of their capable young teacher, Miss Donna Palmer of Freeland, the Brae School has been greatly improved. By means of community get-togethers and social evenings Miss Palmer raised enough money to install new individual seats in her school and have the floor varnished. She has a new blackboard at present at the Coleman station which will shortly be installed in the school. In addition there will be a new bookcase and all former students of the Brae School will be asked to contribute at least one new book for the School Library. Finally, before her term is over, the teacher is planning to have her school painted. INSURANCE PLOT UNCOVERED IN SMASH MELODRAMA

Romance walks hand in hand with murder in Republic's exciting new melodrama, "Insurance Investigator," which opens today at Capitol Theatre.

Directed by George Blair for Associate Producer William Lackey, the picture tells the story of a young insurance investigator and the daughter of a prosperous businessman whose apparent accidental death turns out to be murder.

The ingenious plot at first leads the investigator to believe that the crime has been committed by a jealous business partner of the dead man.

It is only when romance brings the investigator and the girl together that the workings of a gang of unscrupulous hoodlums is uncovered, revealing that the business partner has been used as a dupe by the masterminds of an insurance racket.

In the course of their subsequent adventures and misadventures, the sleuthing pair provide an abundance of suspense and edge-of-the-seat thrills in bringing their hair-raising investigation to a whirlwind climax.

Richard Denning as the investigator and Audrey Long as the daughter are aided and abetted by a top-flight cast of filmland favorites which includes John Eldredge, Hillary Brooke and Roy Barcroft.
