ADVERTISING RATES

For small advertisements which are ordered for only one or two weeks the charge is 50 cents per inch for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuation. Rate cards are furnished on application at the office. Special contract prices at a reduced rate are quoted for advertisements four inches in size or larger, which are to run for three months or longer.

No special notices inserted unless paid for at the rate of 15 cents per line, and under no circumstances will such paid notices appear in the local column.

Special discounts made on all advertisements connected with Church Fairs, Bazaars, Picnics, etc. No notices will be inserted with the same unless the regular rate of 10 cents per line is paid.

THE EXAMINER is considered by our Merchants and Manufacturers to be the leading newspaper in P. E. Island, and consequently the most valuable advertising medium through which to make their announcements public, is abundantly proved by the fact that in order to accommodate our advertisers we have been compelled to enlarge the paper to its present size.

THE DAILY EXAMINER is for sale by the following agents:—

Important Announcement!

—(x)—

A Grand Treat for Subscribers to The Examiner.

—(x)—

THE GREATEST WORLD'S FAIR BOOK IS READY!

We take pleasure in announcing that we have made arrangements with the publishers of

The Magic City

to supply this celebrated work in Weekly Parts to our subscribers at the very low price of TEN CENTS per number. It will be issued in sixteen consecutive Weekly Parts, each containing sixteen to twenty magnificent Photographic Views and Historical Descriptions of the WORLD'S FAIR and the MIDWAY PLAISANCE, by the famous American Author, MR J. W. BUEL. The Photographs are the finest that have ever been offered to the public. They constitute a splendid series of

OVER 300 VIEWS

in NATURAL PHOTOGRAPH COLOR, embracing all the wonderful features of the World's Fair and its surroundings, and the famous MIDWAY PLAISANCE, with its curious and interesting character sketches of life in foreign countries and among wild and curious races of people.

IT IS { The Greatest, The Grandest, The Most Beautiful, The Only Complete

History of the Fair that has been published. The Photographs, in natural colors, are while the historical descriptions give the work a value beyond all computation. The author spent nearly the whole summer at the Fair, preparing his notes and superintending the work of the corps of artists employed in taking views. These pictures are the finest in existence. They were taken by trained artists of more than national reputation, who knew how to secure the best results and the most favorable points of view. Their beauty and splendor will be a surprise to our readers. Nothing equal to them has ever been seen in pictorial representations; and the fact that they were obtained especially for THE MAGIC CITY, and will not be made common by promiscuous publication in other works, adds a hundredfold to their value.

Beautiful as a Dream,

There are other World's Fair Series being issued, cheap, unreliable, garbled affairs but the price charged for them is no lower than for the magnificent "WHITE CITY" series. You only need to compare the specimen of "MAGIC CITY" with other books to show you that the "MAGIC CITY" will sweep the field and over-run the business being done by these inferior World's Fair Series in the field now.

The Examiner Always Gets the Best!

Watch Our Advertising Column for the Announcement of the First Grand Portfolio of "THE MAGIC CITY."

THE AMERICAN
$8.00 Typewriter.

This is a well-made, practical machine, writing capitals, small letters, figures, and punctuation marks (71 in all) on full width paper, just like a $100 instrument. It is the first of its kind ever offered at a popular price for which the above claim can be truthfully made. It is not a toy, but a typewriter built for and capable of REAL WORK. While not as rapid as the large machines sometimes become in expert hands, it is still at least as rapid as the pen, and has the advantage of such simplicity that it can be understood and mastered almost at a glance. We cordially commend it to helpful parents and teachers everywhere.

- Writes capitals, small letters, figures and marks—71 in all.
- Writes just like a $100 machine.
- No Shift Keys. No Ribbon. Prints from the type direct.
- Prints on flat surface.
- Writing always in sight.
- Corrections and insertions easily made.
- Takes any width of paper or envelope up to 8½ inches.
- Easy to understand—learned in 5 minutes.
- Weighs only four pounds—most portable.
- Compact, takes up but little room.
- Built solid and simple; can't get out of order.
- Capital and lower case keyboard alike—easily mastered.
- More "margin play" for the small letters which do most of the work.
- Takes good letter-press copies.

Packed securely in handsome case and expressed to any address on receipt of price, $8.00, in registered letter, money order or certified check. We guarantee every machine, and are glad to answer all inquiries for further information as to this machine and also the "Yost."

SUCCESSFUL SOCIALISM.

A Peculiar and Prosperous Community That Has Stood the Test of Time.

Most socialistic experiments in this country have fallen flat, but there are a few remarkable exceptions. One of these is situated in Iowa county, Ia., and is called the Amana society, or Community of True Inspiration. This socialistic society has stood the test of time, for it is very nearly as old as the state of Iowa—indeed it traces its early beginning back to the German Pietists of the seventeenth century. But in this country, and in Iowa, it was incorporated in 1859.

This society is a shining example. It has succeeded. It numbers now about 1,700 souls, and they are all healthy and happy and fast growing rich. They own some 25,000 acres of land, all cultivated up to the highest notch and well supplied with live stock, and they have mills and manufactories of almost every description. They carry on these many enterprises with the energy and skill of a people who believe that all must work. Not even the old are exempt from the universal law. You may visit Amana society any day except Sunday, and you will find everybody at work, one equal to the other, men and women, some in the fields or vineyards, some in the factories and a large contingent—most of these women, as it happens—in the large co-operative kitchens, where the meals are served. They are "brothers" and "sisters" together, as they say. They all eat the same food, wear the same blue jeans or blue calico, live in houses equally free from paint, and when they die each one is given the same kind of a wooden slab to mark his resting place. A few do indeed possess their own families, but even this is discouraged, and a life of celibacy held up instead as the highest ideal.

They are a simple, plain folk, but they are always apparently contented and happy. A visitor will be surprised to find so large a proportion of old people among them, for very few die in youth or middle age, and few are ever sick. There are no cases of nervous prostration here, and insanity and suicide are unknown. Nor has any member of the community ever filled a felon's cell.

This appears like a beautiful illustration of the good things attendant upon socialism and M. Zola's panacea of "incessant work," and it seems too bad for the sake of the theory that the Amanites do not base their success upon these principles. They claim rather that socialism and "incessant work" are only the means by which they attain a higher good. This higher good is freedom in observing their own religion.

This religion of theirs, however, is so pure and beautiful that one readily sees it is a potent factor of their success. Like their lives, it is without embellishment or show. It teaches them to speak the truth, to do no murder, not even in war, to love one another and to listen often for the "inward voice" of revelation. Thus they live, like the patriarchs of old, "a peculiar people," not for the sake of experiment, but because they desire so to do, and with all their peculiarity they find themselves happy and prosperous.—St. Louis Republic.

An Awful Moment.

Said an old railroad passenger agent: "I know what it is to live a year in two seconds. When I was a mere boy, crazy for railroading, I went out as a freight brakeman. One day our train was on a siding waiting for an express to go by. I went ahead to the switch. Now, I wasn't thinking of switches, trains, or anything in the world except a certain person whom I was expecting to meet at the other end of the run. I went to that switch whistling and thinking of this something else. I unlocked the switch, threw it open, turned my back to it and watched the express train grow larger as it swung down the long grade toward me. I saw it, but I wasn't thinking of it until it was almost upon me. I noticed the engineer jump from his place in the window. The whistle for brakes helped to arouse me. I turned to the switch, and then it dawned upon me that the switch was open and that the express train was headed for the siding.

"I jumped against the upright and the train went by on the main track.

"The engineer's face was white through the coal dust. I had no time to lock the switch. I simply lay against it until the last car had passed and then I dropped in a faint.

"That engineer knew me and never reported it. If he had, I wouldn't have been in the railroad business today.

"Since then I have some pity and sympathy for men who make what seem to be criminal blunders. You can't tell why they do certain things at the wrong times. They can't tell themselves.—Chicago Record.

A Bath Without Towels.

Many people will be surprised to hear that a great number of our professional athletes look upon a cold bath, without the aid of towels, as their principal aid to health. The method is to take a cold sponge bath every morning immediately on rising and then, while dripping wet, to draw on one's flannel singlet and pants. The bather then starts walking up and down his bedroom at a smart and even pace. He is soon bathed in a most delicious perspiration, and in about five minutes finds himself deliciously fresh and as dry as the proverbial bone. His underclothing is perfectly dry as well, and he can finish dressing at his leisure.

Young people will find this a healthy and delightful practice, however strange it may seem at the first blush. Mr. Paul Cinquevalli, the renowned juggler, equilibrist and athlete, ascribes his years of unvarying health and his muscles of iron to this method of bathing without towels. —London Tit-Bits.

Bismarck's Tartness.

A story concerning Prince Bismarck has just been brought to light by the publication of the memoirs of the late Duke of Somerset. The duke, writing of Dr. Busch's book of gossip about the great German chancellor, relates that Busch was employed by the prince to prepare articles for the newspapers and to record his sayings. One day Busch sent to the newspapers something Crown Prince Frederick had said, upon which Bismarck sent for the doctor and expostulated, "I told you to publish what I said, not what that fool of a crown prince says." "Well," replied Busch, "may I publish this saying of yours?"

An Oversight.

We are reminded of the old Vermont story of Ethan Allen at the special thanksgiving service after the capture of Ticonderoga. The officiating clergyman was ascribing all the praise for that cheering success of the American arms to heaven. The colonel stood it as long as he could; then he rose in his pew. "Parson ——," he said, "would you mind mentioning that Ethan Allen was there?"—Hartford Courant.

For Over Fifty Years.

AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures the colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasnt to the taste. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.—m. w. f. wkly—1 y

BEHIND THE FOOTLIGHTS.

Lottie Collins' "Marguerite" is being pirated, as was her "Ta-ra-ra."

Thomas Q. Seabrooke and George W Lederer have separated amicably.

Alice Gaillard has signed for "The Little Tycoon," in which she will play Hurricane.

E. A. Warren has completed arrangements for his starring tour in "Nobody's Claim."

Max Figman says that he is to star next season in a musical comedy that is being written for him.

Richard Carroll, William Blaisdell and W. G. Stewart will appear in support of Fay Templeton.

Mme. Herrmann, wife of Professor Herrmann, the magician, has been learning the intricacies of the serpentine dance.

The latest engagement made by Abbey, Schoeffel and Grau for the Metropolitan Opera company is Virginia Colombati.

The Lydia Yeamans-Titus company, which started out to present a farce comedy called "Ups and Downs" on tour, has collapsed.

Lucille Saunders has been engaged by Barnabee, Karl and Macdonald for the Bostonians. She is a contralto and has been singing in England.

Nelletta Reed, a young Minnesota woman, who successfully played the Frenchwoman in "Hands Across the Sea" last season, is with "Milton Royle's Friends."

Sophie Albert, a young society woman of Chattanooga, made her debut on the professional stage in that city, playing Kate in "She Stoops to Conquer," with Wilfred Clarke and Beaumont Smith's company.

PEN, PENCIL AND BRUSH.

W. D. Howells was a printer in Ohio when a boy. He used to set 6,000 ems and then go fishing.

Thomas Hardy started in life as an architect, and the house in which he lives was built from his own designs.

The real name of the most distinguished Dutch novelist of his time, Maarten Maartens, is Van de Poorten Schwarz.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes is now the oldest living man conspicuously identified with literature. He was born in the same year as Tennyson, Darwin and Gladstone.

David, the artist, when not painting, amused himself by scraping an old fiddle, which he did abominably. He would insist on playing for every visitor and often exclaimed, "Oh, if I had only been born a violinist!"

Robert Louis Stevenson is said to be a most laborious writer. He rewrites his manuscript to such an extent that at the end of the day scarcely one of the original sentences remains unchanged. Occasionally he spends three weeks on a single chapter and then throws it away.

Mark Twain has returned from a long trip abroad looking far from well. His usually rosy complexion is colorless, and his face looks thin and sickly. To an interviewer who tried to get him to talk he said: "You can't interview me. I lost my voice while abroad." He has a cough and speaks with difficulty.

RAILWAY RUMBLES.

Great Britain's capital in our railroads is said to amount to $500,000,000.

On its buffet cars last year the Pullman company served 4,500,000 meals.

The Burlington bridge across the Missouri at Bellefontaine bluffs will be completed in November.

The French government proposes to impose fines upon railway companies for trains that are run behind schedule time.

It is stated that a railway train traveling at the rate of 100 miles an hour could not be pulled up in a distance less than two miles.

There is an engineer on the Georgia, Carolina and Northern railroad who says he can make his engine get such a move on that she jumps over the shaky bridges without touching them.

The One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street viaduct approach to the New York Central bridge over the Harlem river has been completed as regards the iron work. The work has been under way for over two years.

EDUCATIONAL ECHOES.

The first normal school was opened in Paris in 1795.

The oldest German university is that of Heidelberg, founded in 1386.

Pupil teachers in British board schools earn at first 2 to 4 shillings a week.

A technical school is to be established at Osaka, Japan, for the training of youths in various handicrafts.

There are 185 male teachers in the public schools of Boston and 1,372 women. The average salary of the former is $946.06 per month and of the latter $70.69.

George C. Chase, Bates college's newly elected president, may be said to have worked his passage. He has raised about $140,000 for the benefit of the institution.

Mr. J. Grant Cramer, a nephew of General Grant, who was graduated with high honor from the University of New York, has been appointed instructor of modern languages at the Lehigh university, South Bethlehem, Pa.

CATS.

Long tailed cats sing loudest.

The cat and the goat are the only animals that spit.

The cat charms birds by waving its tail in semicircles.

The cat is the only animal that is addicted to the human habit of sneezing.

In Count Sarcodelli's opinion the prevailing type of voice in the female cat is the highest soprano, or what is known to teachers of singing as soprano sfogato.

M. Dumarier makes special mention of the fact that Tom, before beginning his roulades, solfeggios and other vocal fireworks, invariably turns his back on the moon and points his quivering tail in the direction of that luminary.—New York Recorder.

PHILOSOPHICAL COGITATIONS.

Our faults attract more attention than our virtues.

It is hard to be a friend to a man who is an enemy to himself.

A hypocrite is a man who, in trying to fool everybody else, only fools himself.

No man can do good as he has opportunity without enjoying the occupation.

The man who sits down to wait for something to turn up will need a cushion on his seat.

It is the man who has to live on corn bread at home who finds the most fault with the pie when he travels.—Ram's Horn.

Pond's Extract.

Used alike by the medical profession and the people, it holds a position held by no other medicine in this country, or, perhaps, the world.

Nursing Mothers and delicate children should make free use of Puttner's Emulsion, the best lung healer, strengthner, and flesh productor.

Clergyman, students and overtaxed business men will find a wonderful recuperative agent in Puttner's Emulsion, which contains Phosphorous (brain food) in the most assimilable form.

Raised from the Dead

Long and Terrible Illness from Blood Poisoning

Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 78 lbs., and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 lbs., eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.
