STARHEMBERG TO LEAD HEIMWEHR IN DRIVE TO MAKE AUSTRIA FASCIST

Apprehension Is Caused By Cabinet Upset.

VIENNA, May 14—An open conflict between the government of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg and the Heimwehr, private army of Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, ousted suddenly as Austria's vice chancellor and "semi-dictator," was a possibility tonight.

"The fight to make Austria Fascist now begins in earnest," said a spokesman for von Starhemberg.

At the same time a more democratic trend, one away from Fascism, was indicated by Schuschnigg's new government—a trend directly contrary to the Fascist Heimwehr principles.

A source close to the government said that Chancellor Schuschnigg and Franz von Papen, German Minister to Austria, discussed at length today the possibilities of improving the embittered relations between Germany and Austria.

This source said one German condition for a rapprochement was

Dispensary Reviews Year's Activities

Mr. F. W. Tidmarsh was re-elected president of the Charlottetown Free Dispensary at the annual meeting of the organization last night. Other officers elected were: honorary vice-president, Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan; vice-president, Major T. Edgar McNutt; secretary, Mrs. R. L. Cotton; district visiting nurse, Miss Amy Earle, O. B. E.; executive, Miss Florence Dorsey; Miss Margaret Cotton, Mrs. J. J. Johnston, Mrs. E. T. Higgin, Mrs. Charles Lyons, Mrs. Gavin Duffy, Mrs. W. F. Tidmarsh, Mrs. W. W. Clarke, Mrs. James Harris, Mrs. R. S. Jenkins, Mrs. George Warburton, Mr. John McKenna, Miss Amy Earle, O. B. E., and Mrs. D. A. MacKinnon.

Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan in a short talk paid a glowing tribute to the work the Dispensary has been carrying on. Despite the increased number of philanthropic institutions in the city, however, the condition of the citizens generally was very much worse than it was ten or fifteen years ago, he said. The need for charity is very much greater. He did not know of anywhere where there was such unbounded charity as there was to be found in the city of Charlottetown he went on to say.

In his opinion all the money that the Dispensary handled was carefully expended and used to the best advantage, he told the meeting. It had been his pleasure when Premier of the province to increase the grant to the organization by $100,000. He hoped that the increased grant would be continued.

Votes of thanks were tendered Mr. W. F. Tidmarsh, President, for his long and faithful service to the Dispensary, Mrs. W. L. Cotton, secretary, Mrs. D. A. MacKinnon, the auditor for a number of years, the Mayor and City Council for the use of the Board Room for the meetings, and the press.

A resolution conveying the thanks of the Free Dispensary to the Provincial Government and to the Mayor and City Council for the increased grants which both had made to the organization last year and expressing the hope that they would be continued, was passed and moved by Mayor McNutt and seconded by Judge Duffy.

The Judge in seconding the resolution paid glowing tribute to the work of Miss Earle.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

The following is the text of Mr. W. F. Tidmarsh's address:

"Ladies and Gentlemen—It is my privilege to again preside over this meeting which is the 26th annual meeting of the Free Dispensary Association. I, together with many others, assisted the late Dr. S. R. Jenkins in the organization of the Dispensary and I have been identified with it ever since.

"The Dispensary when first started, was a subsidiary branch of

CITY COUNCIL TO WAIT ON PREMIER

By-laws which were read a first and second time at the regular monthly meeting of the Charlottetown city council on Monday were given a third reading at an adjourned session of the meeting last night. After the passing of the by-laws His Worship Mayor Turner announced that the meeting would adjourn and the council would meet in caucus to discuss the unemployment question.

Questioned later as to what the council intended to do Mayor Turner announced that it was the intention of the council to meet Premier Campbell today and discuss with him the matter of providing work for the city's unemployed.

In the by-law respecting the licensing of bicycles and their operation in the City of Charlottetown an additional clause was added making it an infraction of the by-law for two or more persons to be riding on a single bicycle at the same time. The new by-law provides that all bicycles owned and operated in the city regularly or frequently, shall be licensed and carry a marker on the rear. It also provides that bicycles must after daylight carry a light or reflector both front and rear which shall be clearly visible at least 100 feet.

DEPUTIES HAIL MUSSOLINI

Says Annexation Of Ethiopia Is "Inevitable."

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) ROME, May 14—Premier Mussolini told 308 shouting, black-shirted members of the Chamber of Deputies today that Italy's empire proclamation is "irrevocable."

The deputies, cheering as they voted, then unanimously ratified the new empire decree announced Saturday by Il Duce. It annexes Ethiopia and makes Marshal Pietro Badoglio Viceroy of Ethiopia.

Count Costanzo Ciano, President of the Chamber, concluded the session by saying: "Italy, with her arms in readiness, has changed her fighting front—she is now attacking the front of labor."

Il Duce was not in the bubbling good humor which marked his recent public appearances. His mood appeared black.

THOMAS DENIES DISCLOSING BUDGET SECRET

Colonial Secretary Testifies Before Judicial Tribunal Investigating Alleged Leakage.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) LONDON, May 14—J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Colonies, entered a vigorous denial today that he had allowed his tongue to slip in respect to the budget secrets.

Testifying before the judicial tribunal investigating the alleged "budget leak" the cabinet minister said:

"I have heard nine budget statements and this is the first time I have ever heard any question of a leakage. I have never disclosed one word to anybody."

Thomas agreed to submit his bank and investment books to the tribunal tomorrow.

Reginald Marriot, a stock broker, testified he was informed by a friend on April 20, the day before the budget was presented to Parliament, that the income tax would be increased.

Marriot's friend, the witness declared, was a lawyer who previously had received the information "from a great friend of his."

"Did he mention who?" the witness was asked.

"Not by name," Marriot responded. "He said he was a great friend of somebody else."

"Who else?"

"J. H. Thomas," Marriot said.

Thomas described how he went to Prime Minister Baldwin and Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and demanded an investigation after first reports of the alleged leakage were heard in London.

(Thomas' son, Leslie, is a member of a firm through which several insurance transactions were handled on behalf of Alfred Bates, advertising man, described as a friend of both the minister and his son. Previous testimony showed Bates' dealings totalled about $85,000.)

Thomas told the presiding justice he spent four days with Bates during the Easter holidays and would have had ample opportunity to discuss the budget with him or "anybody."

However, the secretary declared, "I never disclosed one word."

(Bates also denied he received any budget information from either Thomas or his son.)

The minister acknowledged during nearly an hour he spent in the witness chair, he "was worried in my own mind as to whether I ought to resign."

He finally "braced up," he said after a friend had advised him: "For God's sake, Jim, don't resign as all manner of constructions will be placed on it."

Charges Intrigue To Control Canada From Wall Street

Sensation Caused In Commons By Social Credit Leader While Attacking B.N.A.A. Changes.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, May 14—John Blackmore, leader of the Social Creditors, threw the House of Commons into a furore today by relaying anonymous charges that an intrigue exists to place Canada under the control of Wall Street.

The former school teacher from Lethbridge refused to accept responsibility for the statement or disclose the author, finally withdrawing it after a stormy 15 minutes. The incident was climaxed by Deputy Speaker Sanderson ordering the statement expunged from Hansard, an incident which hasn't happened in years.

While attacking a government resolution to amend the British North America Act to empower the Dominion to guarantee provincial borrowings under certain conditions and extend to them power to collect sales taxes, Mr. Blackmore first gave his opinion "money power" was attempting to enslave all mankind.

Then he continued: "Here are a few words from a man who I very much fear knows a good deal about his subject." He then read the following from a yellow sheet of paper: "Your major danger in Canada now is in connection with an intrigue between the financiers of the United States, the Bank of Canada and"—he left this blank—"to modify the British North America Act so as to put you under the control of Wall Street. The danger is instant and serious."

This led to an immediate hubbub with points of order flying across the chamber.

Finance Minister Dunning wanted to know the name of the author. "I said I would not give the name," replied Mr. Blackmore.

"You should give the authority or accept responsibility for the statement," insisted the Finance Minister.

When this didn't work, Mr. Dunning appealed to the chair with Conservative leader Bennett, Premier Mackenzie King and half a dozen other members taking part in the short but pithy exchange.

The Deputy Speaker ruled the Social Credit leader must divulge the name or accept responsibility for the charge.

Given that choice, Mr. Blackmore withdrew, adding: "Naturally I do not propose to take the responsibility for the statement nor do I propose to give the name of the person who wrote it. It cannot be revealed at the present time so I will withdraw."

He stepped into trouble a few seconds later when he said: "I am glad the members have had a chance to hear it," referring to the statement.

This led the Conservative leader to suggest the statement be deleted from House records the Deputy Speaker agreeing with him.

The proposed amendments to the constitution were upheld by Minister of Justice Lapointe and attacked by former Secretary of State Cahlan.

Conservative leader Bennett led the attack on the proposed changes. He said the financial relations between the Dominion and provinces as established at Confederation, were delicate and complex. There should be deep study and careful examination before upsetting them.

If the Dominion widened the taxation field of the provinces so as

WILKES SENT UP FOR TRIAL

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) HALIFAX, May 14—Arthur Wilkes, slim, lanky Halifax county farm boy, was committed for trial for the murder of his cousin and neighbor, Alvin Wilkes, at the preliminary hearing today.

Alvin Wilkes died the evening of May 5. The Crown claims injuries he received when he was struck over the head with a club in the hands of his 26-year-old cousin, were responsible for his death.

During the hearing Crown Prosecutor R. M. Fielding announced that the prosecution was not contending that the killing of the 26-year-old woodchopping champion was premeditated.

"I won't make no statement," was the accused man's only remark at the hearing. He will await his trial, six months off, in jail.

143 Passengers Removed From Foundering Ship

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) SEATTLE, May 14—Rescued in fog so thick their lifeboats were hidden from each other, the 143 passengers and part of the crew of the foundering steamship North Sea were sped to shelter in View Cove and Rose Inlet, southern Alaska, tonight.

The steamship, which early this morning ran aground on Marsh Point, Prince of Wales Island, floated free and then started sinking, reported herself lying in rocky sided Eureka Pass this evening, her pumps controlling a rapid leak.

The Northland Transportation Company of Seattle, owners of the ship, said Capt. A. W. Nickerson of the North Sea reported no salvage assistance necessary and that removal of the passengers and enough crew men to man the lifeboats was merely a "precautionary measure."
