Mr. Oscar MacNeill of Convent read the report on Arts and Literature in which he warned that it is all too easy for education to degenerate into a means of acquiring more material wealth, rather than as it should be, "a sense of acquiring real values in life."

Encouraging reports were also read concerning the Arts and Drama Festival, the South Shore Musical Festival and the P. E. I. Musical Festival, all showing the way in which these movements have expanded in recent years.

Miss Mary MacLennan in a most interesting talk which she labeled "Bible—A Happy Dream Come True," told of many of her experiences and places in Great Britain she visited last year when she travelled to that country as a member of the Canadian Bibles team.

Primarily Educational

She remarked that there were many people who considered Homemakers' Clubs charitable organizations, and she hastened to point out that while they assist the needy of a community, they are primarily an educational institution.

Nobody would say what their chances were of survival. The terrific impact of the explosion or collapse—possibly caused by an accumulation of gas resulting from intense pressure—hurling tons of rock and coal into the section of the mine.

25 In Danger Area

There were 25 men in the immediate area of the accident but all but seven escaped being trapped. There was no immediate word as to the condition of the 18 who escaped but one report said they were uninjured. There was also no word from other miners who were in the pit at the time of the accident.

The pit head of the mine, officially known as Dominion No. 20, is not far from the business section of this mining capital of Eastern Canada but some of its many slopes snake far out under the Atlantic.

One mine runs out nearly six miles under the sea—the largest submarine coal mine in the world.

No. 20 mine is one of the top producers on Cape Breton Island and also is estimated to have a long life expectancy.

News Spreads Quickly

There was no whistle of woe from the dreary mine buildings to herald the accident as there usually is but news of the blast spread quickly through this town of 25,000 persons.

Thousands, miners volunteering for rescue work and relatives of the men underground, rushed to the pit head.

Reuben Cipin, Canadian Press staff writer at the scene, said police were attempting to keep all except rescue workers away from the pit-head to "prevent a panic" among the anxious relatives.

colleagues also were nominated. There will be two-man fights in 56 ridings—most of them country seats—and three-man contests in 23 others. In eight more ridings, four-cornered battles are in the making.

Montreal, where multiple contests have become almost a tradition, produced two ridings with six candidates apiece—Montreal St. Louis and Montreal St. Mary. Five candidates each were entered in three others, Montreal Ste. Dame de Grace, Montreal St. Ann and Montreal Verdun.

The Union Nationale did not place a candidate in Quebec County, represented in the last Legislature by Rene Chalouit, outspoken Nationalist member. The "Official Union National candidate—Leopold Larochelle—announced here to give Mr. Chalouit a fight, along with a Liberal candidate.

Three Women

Women, who got the right to vote in Quebec only in 1940 and haven't yet made a successful bid for election, appeared in three ridings. They are Mrs. Casgrain in Montreal Verdun, Miss Gisèle Bergeron, C.C.F., in Westmount-St. George, and Mrs. Jeannette Brunelle, Labor-Progressive, in Montreal St. Ann.

Representative of the sports world was entered, Buddy O'Connor, former centre with Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, is running for the Union Nationale in Montreal Verdun.

New Road In Alberton Area

The travelling public from Miminegash, Ebbsfleet and St. Louis, going to Alberton in the near future, instead of going around by way of Elmsdale will have a new 66-foot highway running from the corner of the St. Louis Road and the Western Road, right through the fields to connect with the Tignish-Alberton Highway near the Montrose River, a few miles out from the town of Alberton.

The new road, which is about two miles long, is being constructed by the firm of Morrison and McRae Ltd. and is expected to be completed before the end of July. When it is opened to the general public a saving of about eight miles will be made from the present method of going to Alberton via Elmsdale.

Alberton-Born Artist Spends Summer In P. E. I.

A native son of Alberton, who has gained recognition in the field of art, is spending the summer here. He is Mr. Hubert Rogers, younger son of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Rogers of Alberton.

After World War One, under the soldiers civil re-establishment scheme, Mr. Rogers began to study drawing and illustrating in Toronto. At the end of one year he was given a six-months extension. Following this, four years were spent in Boston where he studied drawing and portrait painting at the Massachusetts Normal Art School and the Museum of Fine Arts.

For a number of years he did illustrations for books and magazines, along with some portrait painting and drawing. During this period portraits done by him included those of Ernest Hemingway, Talbot Mundy, George Surdaz, Acmel Abdullah and Henry Lacossit. He did a number of heads of Pueblo Indians, two of which were purchased by the Smithsonian Institute, Washington.

During World War Two, Mr. Rogers did a number of war posters and while in Ottawa he had opportunity to sketch some well known military and political figures, including MacKenzie King, Admiral Leahy, the Earl of Athlone, Ray Atherton, Air Marshal Bredner and Mary Churchill.

While he continues to do a little illustrating, Mr. Rogers is now concentrating on portraits. During this summer on Prince Edward Island, he will be working on two portraits and two landscapes, one of which will be for the National Gallery at Ottawa and the other for the Canadian Club in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers with their children, Norma, aged 9 and Elizabeth, aged 5, motored from their rural home in Brattleboro, Vt., and have taken up residence in a cottage belonging to Mr. James Wells of Ottawa. They anticipate a very happy summer in this beautiful spot near Alberton.

It is interesting to note that Mrs. Rogers has a Master's Degree in modern dance and was with the Martha Graham Group for a time. She is now co-head of the Dance Notation Bureau in New York.

Mr. Rogers also has a talented daughter, Jean, who has been in portrait photography. She is in Boston with Bachrach's, whose well known portrait photography studios are spread across the United States.

W. I. Convention At Springfield West

The annual District Convention of Women's Institutes was held in the Springfield West Hall, seven miles from O'Leary, with a large number of delegates from each Institute. The entertaining Institute was Cape Wolfe, and Mrs. Lloyd Cooke was President and Mrs. Jean DeMoss was secretary.

An address of welcome was given by Mrs. Lloyd Barwise. Mrs. L. G. Dewar spoke about the Blood Donor Clinic and urged the residents to help by donating blood. A hearty sing-song was led by Mrs. Clayton Stetson of Unionvale. There were seventy-two Institute members and eighteen visitors present. Two delegates from each Institute were appointed to attend the Executive meeting for next year.

The reports of the work of the different Institutes showed that a great variety of labor is carried on, such as providing the schools with necessary equipment, visiting the sick, donating money to charitable organizations, instructing sewing classes and catering to banquets. The O'Leary Institute sponsors Boy Scouts and Wolf Cub activities.

The following ladies gave the reports for their different Institutes: Springfield West, Mrs. Stirling Frizzell; Cape Wolfe, Mrs. Alvin Costain; West Cape, Mrs. Truman Brooks; O'Leary, Mrs. L. G. Dewar; Unionvale, Mrs. Clayton Stetson; West Point, Mrs. L. Long; Dunblane, Mrs. Percy MacPherson; Knutsford, Mrs. Elva Wedlock.

The guest speaker for the afternoon was Dr. L. G. Dewar who spoke on Cancer and the danger of delay in not having it attended to. His address was most instructive.

"Fun and Nonsense" was by Springfield West and several ladies took part in a very humorous dialogue. It was well acted and greatly enjoyed and was entitled "Bewildering Popularity." The Supervisor, Miss Robin, was the next speaker. She spoke about the Drama Festival and congratulated Unionvale on its garden display and O'Leary for their sewing clubs for the girls. She showed a beautiful display of articles.

The educational part of the program was a panel discussion by O'Leary supposedly through a radio broadcast and was on "An Atomic Attack".
