Poetry.

AUTUMN AND WINTER.

BY FRANCES GAGE.

The autumn is going with its beauty so glowing,
 And Winter o'er all things is casting its pall;
The rose-tree is fading, no longer' tis shading
 The arbor of love or the bright water-fall.

The dahlias are lopping, the ripe fruit is dropping,
 The corn-leaves are withered and dry on the stalk;
The ring-dove is sighing, the grasshopper dying,
 The fire-fly no longer enlivens the walk.

The forests are changing, the wild birds are ranging
 To hunt out a hole where the skies are more clear;
The stream deeply flowing, the chilly winds blowing,
 All tell us that Winter, cold Winter is near.

Summer's sweets while we're tasting, away all are hasting,
 The days of the peach and the melon are o'er;
Then let us be trying while Au umn is dying,
 To lay up for Winter a plentiful store.

Work freer and harder, fill the barn and the larder,
 Then give to old Winter, whene'er he shall come,
A welcome most willing; we'll heed not his chilling,
 If there's warmth round the hearth-stone and plenty at home.

But while we are cheerful—no cause to be tearful,
 Let us think of the children of Sorrow and Wrong,
And give from our treasure, with no stinted measure,
 Of the good gifts of Heaven to help them along.

UNCLE TOM'S LOG CABIN.

This book has been the most fortunate of any publication for a long period. Already 130,000 copies have been published in the United States, for which Mrs. Stowe, the talented authoress, has received twenty five cents per copy, and thus realised a handsome competence by this single work.

In Canada, a cheap edition has been published by a bookseller of Toronto, of which many thousands have already been sold. In England, the work has had an almost unprecedented sale. The London correspondent of the Boston Post says:—

Uncle Tom's Cabin is meeting with a run of favor wholly unprecedented in an American book on this side of the Atlantic and indeed in any English book. It has been republished by no less than five different houses, its history with one of which is a fair specimen of the whole. Messrs. Clarke & Co., of Fleet street, struck off an edition of 5000 in April. It made no stir until the middle of June, although it was advertised very extensively. From then it began to make way, and sold at the rate of 1000 per week through July. In August the demand become very great, which went on increasing until the 20th, at which time it became perfectly overwhelming. They have now above 400 people employed in some way or other about the book, and seventeen printing machines in motion.—The following is a correct statement of their sales, viz:—Illustrated edition. 7s 6d, fifth thousand; original edition, 2s 6d, thirtieth thousand; railway edition, 1s, ninety-fifth thousand; people's penny edition, thirty thousand weekly.

The disgusting features of negro slavery, and its demoralising influence upon all classes, are well pourtrayed in "Uncle Tom's Log Cabin," without exaggeration or romance, and the work is calculated to have an immense effect upon the future of slavery in the United States. This book seals its fate.

MAKE YOURSELF INDISPENSABLE TO YOUR EMPLOYERS.—Make yourself indispensable to your employers; that is the golden path to success. Be so industrious, so prompt, so careful, that if you are absent one hour out of the usual time, you will be missed, and he in whose service you are, shall say, 'I did not dream L—— was so useful.' Make your employer your friend, by performing with minuteness, whatever task he sets before you; and above all, be not too nice to lend a hand at dirty work, no matter how repugnant to your sense of neatness it may be. The success of your business in after years depends upon how you deport yourself now. If you are really good for anything, you are good for a great deal. Be energetic, put your manners into your business; look as well as act with alacrity; appear to feel an interest; make your master's success your own, if you have an honest one. Let your eye light up at his request, and your feet be nimble; there are some who look so dull and heavy, and go with so slow and lazy a pace, that it is irksome to ask what it is your right to demand of them; be not like these.

Be the arch upon which your employer may rest with safety; let him feel that he may entrust you with uncounted gold.

If you do an errand lightly, you begin to lose his confidence; if you forget twice some important request, you cannot be trusted. If you accustom yourself to loose and untidy habits, you will gain no respect, but rather contempt. Avoid theatres, cardrooms, billiard saloons, as you would the pestilence; little faults are like so many loop-holes in your character, through which all that is valuable sifts out, and all that is precious sifts in to fill up the empty places.

Do you say you want some pleasure? make your work a pleasure. There are two ways of seeing the sun rise—one with a dull, complaining spirit, that, if it could, would blot out the great luminary, with its wishy-washy flood of eternal complaints, the other with a joyous, lark-like pleasure, soaring out and upwards, and seeing all along the western path, gates of gold and palaces of ivory. So there are two ways of doing work; one that depresses the soul by its listless, formal, fretful participations, the other that makes labor a boon and a blessing, and pursues it not only for gain, but the highest exaltation of the mental and moral being —Olive Branch.

PECULIAR HABITS.—A man may have virtue, capacity, and good conduct, and yet be insupportable. The air and manner which we neglect as little things, are frequently what the world judges us by, and makes them for or against us. There are many little matters of personal bearing and conduct, which must be managed discreetly, if we wish to be at all agreeable to our fellow-creatures. It is in vain to say that such a man, though dirty as a pig, is a good and able man, and ought therefore to be delighted in. His goodness and his ability are very well in their own way; but 'twere as possible to hold a firebrand in one's hand by thinking on the frosty Caucasus, as to endure the personal juxtaposition of such a man upon a mere consideration of such abstract properties. For all the personal intercourse, the personal qualifications are the prime considerations. Not that it is necessary, that every man should be externally elegant, or an adept in the rules which constitute good breeding. The want of positively good qualities is of less consequence than the presence of positively bad ones. The most fastidious will find no difficulty in enduring a man who is little skilled in the nice formalities of the drawing-room and dinner table. If such a man is unobtrusive, he will pass very well, though it is certainly desirable, that all should be to a certain extent prepared to act according to those laws which the mass of refined society have found to be conducive to their happiness. But no man can expect to be much liked, who is addicted to certain habits of a conspicuous kind, the direct tendency of which is to inspire painful feelings in those around him.

SENSIBLE.—Professor Fairchild, of Oberlin, read a paper before the Teachers' Convention, on the education of boys and girls in the same school. He contended that they should not be divorced while obtaining an education. They were bred together in the family—Nature has never separated them—and the establishment of separate schools for the sexes is productive of great evils. The family is the first form of society, and all other forms are perfect in proportion as they conform to the order of the family. The union of the sexes would promote order in the school, and stimulate exertion, for the respect of the sexes for each other would impose beautiful moral restraints, and incite to excellence. He attributed many of the hasty and unhappy marriages to the divorce of the sexes in school; for their union would moderate the inconsiderate passion which is often enkindled by that distance which lends enchantment.—Home Journal.

SINGULAR DEATH FROM LIGHTNING IN FRANCE.—At Sienrac, last week, during a thunder-storm, the wife of the bell-ringer thought fit to ring the bell, under the impression that the sound would charm away the lightning. The electric fluid, however, being attracted by the movement of the air, caused to the sound of the bell, killed the woman, and cast the tower to the ground, besides doing other damage.

Superfluity creates necessity, and necessity superfluity. Take care to be an economist in prosperity: there is no fear of your being one in adversity.—Zimmerman.

PATENT ARTIFICIAL SLATE,

And Unchangeable Metallic Paints:

PROOF AGAINST FIRE & WATR!E

Manufactured by the Patentee, in Colchester, Nova Scotia.

THE ARTIFICIAL SLATE is the product of a mixture of mineral substances known to be the best non-conductors of heat as well as the most indestructible; the Chemical affinity of which converts the surface of materials covered, into a Coating of Actua Slate—Proof against FIRE and WATER. Thus the laws of nature are made to accomplish results as surprising as they are useful, by rendering Wooden fabrics as durable as brick or Stone, and less pervious to moisture, and consequently preventing decay and destruction from corroding influences hitherto supposed unattainable.

The principal ingredients are Alumina, Silica and the Oxides of Iron. The adhesive quality of the latter not only binds and attracts the particles together, but the substance covered also. The longer exposed to the weather the more powerful the attraction, and consequently the harder the Slate. As various shades of colour are obtained, Brick buildings may be made impervious to moisture, and the fashionable colours of either Free Stone or Granite. The oil must be evaporated by the action of the weather before it is Fire proof, which will take from nine to twelve months.

The METALLIC PAINTS, Purple and Red, are offered as Weather and Water Proof solely. Their base being Iron, secures them from Galvanic action so fatal to lead and other Paints on Iron work—and their chemical combination makes it impossible, that any change should take place from atmospheric influence or the action of Salt Water and Sulphureted hydrogen so prevalent in Sea Ports and Tidal Harbours. They surpass all Paints yet discovered in Cheapness and Durability, which render them pre-eminently adapted to the covering of all kinds of Iron work, such as Shipping, Mills, Bridges, Steam Machinery, Railway Cars, and Iron Railing. The METALLIC PAINTS have been analysed by Professor Hays of Boston. The following is an extract from his Certificate:—"As a permanent pigment, this mineral must rank with the most indestructible and unchangeable bases. For covering Metallic Ware, its composition shows that it is eminently fitted.

(Signed) AUGT. A. HAYS, State Assayer."

Directions.—Artificial Slate. Mix the powder with pure Boiled Linseed Oil and a little Spirits Turpentine to the consistency of very thick Paint, and apply with a common Brush, being careful to keep the mixture well stirred while putting it on. One pound will cover ten square feet with two Coats.

If Shingles have been on for years, it will be necessary to sweep off the moss and lint with a stiff broom; two or three coats of this material will make a perfect Slate Roof, proof against Fire and Water.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 13, 1850.

Mr. J. W. IRISH.

DEAR SIR,—Please send us two more barrels of your Artificial Slate. We have seen some of the good effects of it at the last fire. Some of the Roofs covered with it did not catch at all, and when the walls were burnt some of the roofs came down in one piece, and others were the means of saving the building, especially one roof alongside of the Bank B. N. A., which also was one means of saving the Bank.

Please see that it is on board of the first boat, as it might be neglected and stored.

Your obedient Servants,
STEWART & NEILL.

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 20, 1850.

JOHN ROSS, Esq., Patentee of the Purple Metallic Iron Paint.

SIR,—I have just painted a new Ship with your Metallic Iron Paint, and I have much pleasure in stating that I never painted a Ship with so small a quantity of Paint and Oil, and look so well. From its adhesive qualities and the manner it covers the wood, I have no doubt but it will be more durable and much cheaper than any other paint used for such purposes, and would recommend it to the public generally.

Yours, &c.
ROBERT G. MORAN.

ROSS' METALLIC PAINTS.—We have already called public attention to the high estimation in which the Metallic Paints, manufactured by John Ross, Esq., Truro, are held by those who have had occasion to use them. Certificates of a highly satisfactory character in praise of these articles of Provincial manufacture appear elsewhere, in this issue, and from information afforded by parties who have similarly applied them, we can safely endorse the opinions therein contained.—Halifax Sun.

☞ The METALLIC PAINTS are mixed and put on like an ordinary paint.

HERE IS YOUR REMEDY!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A MOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF BAD LEGS, AFTER 43 YEARS' SUFFERING.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. William Galpin, of 70, Saint Mary's Street, Weymouth, dated May 15, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—At the age of 18 my wife (who is now 61) caught a violent cold, which settled in her legs, and ever since that time they have been more or less sore, and greatly inflamed. Her agonies were distracting, and for months together she was deprived entirely of rest and sleep. Every remedy that medical men advised was tried, but without effect; her health suffered severely, and the state of her legs was terrible. I had often read your Advertisements, and advised her to try your Pills and Ointment; and, as a last resource, after every other remedy had proved useless, she consented to do so. She commenced six weeks ago, and, strange to relate, is now in good health. Her legs are painless, without seam or scar, and her sleep sound and undisturbed. Could you have witnessed the sufferings of my wife during the last 43 years, and contrast them with her present enjoyment of health, you would indeed feel delighted in having been the means of so greatly aleviating the sufferings of a fellow creature.

(Signed) WILLIAM GALPIN.

A PERSON 70 YEARS OF AGE CURED OF A BAD LEG, OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Wm. Abbs, Builder of Gas Ovens, of Rushcliffe, near Huddersfield, dated May 31, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—I suffered for a period of thirty years from a bad leg, the result of two or three different accidents at Gas Works; accompanied by scorbutic symptoms. I had recourse to a variety of medical advice, without deriving any benefit, and was even told that the leg must be amputated; yet, in opposition to that opinion, your Pills and Ointment have effected a complete cure in so short a time, that few who had not witnessed it would credit the fact.

(Signed) WILLIAM ABBS.

The truth of this statement can be verified by Mr. W. P. England Chemist, 13, Market Street, Huddersfield.

A DREADFUL BAD BREAST CURED IN ONE MONTH.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. Frederick Turner, of Penshurst, Kent, dated December 13, 1850.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR,—My wife had suffered from Bad Breasts for more than six months, and during the whole period had the best medical attendance, but all to no use. Having before healed an awful wound in my own leg by your unrivalled medicine, I determined again to use your Pills and Ointment, and therefore gave them a trial in her case, and fortunate it was, I did so, for in less than a month a perfect cure was effected, and the benefit that various other branches of my family have derived from their use is really astonishing. I now strongly recommend them to all my friends.

(Signed) FREDRICK TURNER.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF A DANGEROUS SWELLING OF THE KNEE.

Copy of a letter from John Forfar, an Agriculturist, residing at Newborough, near Hexham, dated May 15, 1850.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—I was afflicted with a swelling on each side of the leg, rather above the knee, for nearly two years, which increased to a great size. I had the advice of three eminent Surgeons here, and was an inmate of the Newcastle infimary for four weeks. After various modes of treatment had been tried, I was discharged as incurable. Having heard so much of your Pills and Ointment, I determined to try them, and in less than a month, I was completely cured. What is more remarkable I was engaged twelve hours a day in the Hay Harvest, and although I have followed my laborious occupation throughout the winter, I have had no return whatever of my complaint.

(Signed) JOHN FORFAR.

AN INFLAMMATION IN THE SIDE PERFECTLY CURED.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Francis Arnot, of Breahouse, Lothian Road, Edinbro', dated April 29th, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—For more than twenty years my wife has been subject, from time to time, to attacks of inflammation in the side, for which she was bled and blistered to a great extent; still the pain could not be removed. About four years ago, she saw in the papers, the wonderful cures effected by your Pills and Ointment, and thought she would give them a trial. To her great astonishment and delight, she got immediate relief from their use, and after persevering for three weeks, the pain in her side was completely cured, and she has enjoyed the best of health for the last four years.

(Signed) FRANCIS ARNOT.

REVIEWS OF THE WORK.

"MANHOOD, by J. L. CURTIS—We agree with the Author, that so far from works of this class being objectionable in the hands of youth, or difficulties being opposed, every facility should be given to their circulation; and to strengthen our opinion, we need but refer to the recent distressing events at our Military and Scholastic Academies at Carshalton and Woolwich."—Naval and Military Gazette, Feb. 1, 1851.

"We feel no hesitation in saying, that there is no member of society by whom the book will not be found useful—whether such person hold the relation of a parent, preceptor, or a clergyman.—Sun, Evening Paper.

"CURTIS ON MANHOOD.—Fortunate for a country would it be, did its youth put into practice, the philanthropic and scientific maxims here laid down—one cause of matrimonial misery might then be banished from our land, and the race of the enervate, be succeeded by a renewal of the hardy, vigorous spirits of the olden time."—Chronicle.

Published by the AUTHOR; who begs to inform patients in the East and West Indies, the Mediterranean and the British Colonies, that their cases can be successfully treated by correspondence only, if the usual fee be enclosed, and the most inviolable secrecy may be relied on.
