BREAKFAST—SUPPER.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified by pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

HUNTING JACK-RABBITS.

The Methods of the Sport and Its Excitement.

The methods adopted to pursue and capture jack-rabbits by professional hunters is with greyhounds and fast horses. The jack rabbit is too cunning to be captured in the box-trap so much used by the trappers of his smaller brethren—the common gray rabbit or cotton-tail.

Three or four men start out in the early morning, well mounted and provided with spades and sacks. Usually three or four well-trained, speedy greyhounds, sometimes more, are turned loose on the prairie where the jack spends its days among the tall grass. It doesn't take long to start the game, and, when once under way, with hounds and horsemen in pursuit, the race is a beautiful one. A fox chase is extremely tame compared with a dash across the level prairies in pursuit of a jack-rabbit. Sometimes a mile is run before the dogs press their prey to cover, while at others, when the dogs are extra fast, the rabbit is holed inside of 200 or 300 yards, but that is seldom the case. Often the jack is too swift for the hounds, and after he once finds out that he can keep away from them when he puts on his best spurts of speed, he plays with his pursuers, running like a deer for 300 or 400 yards, then squatting down and waiting until the panting hounds are close upon him once more, when the throttle is again thrown open, a full head of steam put on and away he goes until he thinks a safe resting distance has been reached. By these tactics the jack-rabbit will soon tire out an inexperienced, not overspeedy hound, and seems to enjoy the sport.

It is quite different when the well-trained professional rabbit catcher's pack of long-legged flyers are on the trail. There is no resting-place for the jack-rabbit above the surface then, and no sooner does he realize that the dogs can run faster than he, then he dodges into a badger hole and would be happy to pull the hole in after him, but he doesn't have time. The dogs are right after him, and their long noses poked into the burrow. Then the horsemen come up with a rush, dismount, and but a few moments elapse before their spades have uncovered the hiding place of the jack; with heavily-gloved hands he is pulled out and thrown into a sack, when the dogs again start off for a fresh trail.—Buffalo Express.

The Mexican-Puncher.

The Mexican "punchers" all use the "ring bit," and it is a fearful contrivance. Their saddle-trees are very short, and as straight and quite as shapeless as a "sawbuck pack-saddle." The horn is as big as a dinner plate, and taken altogether it is inferior to the California tree. It is very hard on horses' backs, and not at all comfortable for a rider who is not accustomed to it.

They all use hemp ropes which are imported from some of the southern States of the Republic, and carry a lariat of hair which they make themselves. They work for from eight to twelve dollars a month in Mexican coin, and live on the most simple diet imaginable. They are mostly peoned, or in hopeless debt to their patrons, who go after any man who deserts the range and bring him back by force. A "puncher" buys nothing but his gorgeous buckskin clothes, and his big silver-mounted straw hat, his spurs, his riata, and his cincha rings. He makes his teguas or buckskin boots, his heavy leggings, his saddle, and the patron furnishes his arms. On the round-up, which lasts about half of the year, he is furnished beef, and also kills game. The balance of the year he is kept in an outlying camp to turn stock back on the range. These camps are often the most simple things, consisting of a pack containing his "grub," his saddle, and serape, all lying under a tree, which does duty as a house.—Frederic Remington in Harper's Magazine.

She Recovered the Pin.

"It was the queerest thing," said the girl at the jewelry counter during the lull. "When I was in the other store uptown the floorwalker came around and told us all to look out for these people that go around and steal because they can't help it. I was kind of green then, and I almost put my eyes out looking for them. One day a woman came to the counter and I didn't pay much attention to her. After I was through with the party I was waiting on, I happened to look at her and saw her take a gold headed hairpin from the tray. I didn't say a word, but I found out who she was. That night I went right over to her house and told her what I had seen. She tried to brazen it out, but I was too much for her, and finally she owned up that she had taken the pin."

"Did you have her arrested?" asked the other girl.

"No," said the first girl, "but I made her give me the pin." Then she turned her queenly head, pointed to something glittering in her hair, and asked proudly: "Ain't it a bute?"

When Bones Are Broken.

A broken bone need not be set immediately. This knowledge saves much unnecessary anxiety when the doctor cannot be procured at once.

The parts must be put in as comfortable a position as possible, and most nearly corresponding to the natural one. It is necessary to give support above and below the break.

Handle the injured part very carefully, not to force the rough ends of bone through the skin.

Improvise splints of some kind—two strips of wood, a couple of stout book covers, or pieces of pasteboard. Place one on each side, when it is a limb that is injured, and bind them in place with handkerchiefs. A long pillow firmly tied will answer the purpose, or in case of injury to a leg it may be fastened to its fellow if nothing better can be done, remembering to tie it above and below the injury.—Philadelphia Record.

All About Gems.

The black diamond is so hard that it cannot be polished.

The best coals are obtained from Hungary and Honduras.

Black, pink and golden pearls are more valuable than white.

Emerald is now one of the rarest of precious stones.

The emerald has long been regarded as a specific for sore eyes.

The play of color in the opal is due to minute fissures in the stone.

Diamonds are so small that 1,500 go to the carat that have been cut in Holland.

An uncut diamond looks very much like a bit of the best gum arabic.

The best pearls are found on the Ceylon coast and in the Persian Gulf.

The diamond in a sufficient heat will burn like a piece of charcoal.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osgood, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kincheloe, Conway, Ar

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

J. H. BRICKWOOD'S CASE

A Government Official and his Rheumatism Cured by 12 boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills—Sets all the people asking Questions of the Druggists.

Kingston March, 12.—The fact that rheumatism is caused by diseased Kidney's, has been conclusively proved by the case of Mr. J. H. Brickwood, fishery inspector for this district. He suffered from rheumatism for fifteen years and found no cure in the prescriptions of doctors or in patent medicines. Finally, he used Dodd's Kidney Pills, 12 boxes of which cured him. Harry Wade, the well known druggist here, who said Mr. Brickwood the pills, says he is overrun with inquiries as the genuineness of Mr. Brickwood's story, of which he is able to satisfy everyone. He also reports large sales of the pills with most satisfactory results in every case.

Trotting horsemen representing nearly all the county and district agricultural associations of California and several associations of other Pacific states, met at San Francisco a few days ago, and formally decided to break away from the National Association. The final result was the organization of the Pacific Coast Trotting and Pacing Association and the election of officers and directors.

The World's Columbian Exposition.

1. The whole civilized world has been interested in the Great Celebration. The crowned heads of Europe, the governments of all the famous nations of the globe, the lands of the Orient and the islands of the sea have all been co-operating to render the Exhibition worthy of the greatest event of modern times. Its magnitude and marvelous character can only be described by saying that it has comprised all the rarest products of land and sea, the most dazzling wonders of nature and the grandest productions of human genius.

2. The Great Fair which celebrates the discovery of America by Columbus has never been equalled. It was larger and more magnificent than any similar exhibition ever held. Over twenty million dollars was expended in its grand spacious buildings, and the result was the most attractive Exhibition the world ever saw.

3. This gorgeous display is vividly portrayed in our PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION. This captivating volume is a brilliant panorama of the Great Fair which has awakened such a world-wide interest.

This wonderful work is a royal octavo volume of over 800 large double-column pages, 10½ inches long by 7½ inches wide. It contains nearly twice the amount of matter in an ordinary quarto book, and is therefore equal to a large volume of 1600 pages.

It contains a complete history of the World-renowned Exposition at Chicago; captivating descriptions of the magnificent Buildings and marvellous Exhibits, such as Works of Art, Textile Fabrics, Machinery, Natural Products, Latest Inventions, Discoveries, etc., with a full description of Chicago, its wonderful Buildings, Parks, etc., by ex-Governor Wm. E. Cameron, of the World's Columbian Exposition History Co., with an introduction by Hon. Thomas W. Palmer, ex-U. S. Senator and ex-Minister to Spain, including a chapter on the Women's Department by Frances E. Willard, President of the World's and National Woman's Christian Temperance Unions.

CONDITIONS.—It is printed from clear, new type, on fine calendered paper, and is embellished with a large number of BEAUTIFUL ENGRAVINGS, which charm everyone who sees them.

This grand work surpasses anything that has yet appeared in this line, and will be sold by subscription only. Wait for it; take no other.
