

and prohibitions are that the license must be conspicuously exposed under a penalty of $5; that the words "Licensed to sell spirituous or fermented liquors," are to be exhibited in large letters over the door; that every hotel keeper, being a licensee, shall keep a lamp over the door, lighted every night; that only one bar shall be kept in any licensed premises; that no liquors are to be sold in any licensed place from seven o'clock on Saturday morning till six o'clock on Monday night; nor from 11 p. m. until 6 a. m. in every other night, provided always, that in hotels liquors may be sold on Sundays to the guests, bona fide, reading or boarding in such houses, during meals between one and three p. m. and five and seven p. m., to be drunk or used at meals at the table. Stringent regulations are provided against the sale of liquors on election day; against receiving pledges or pawns in payment or payment in advance; against permitting drunkenness or disorderly conduct, or suffering drunken persons to consume intoxicants on the premises. And power is given any licensee to refuse admission to any person intoxicated; against the sale of intoxicants to minors under the age of 16 years; against the sale of liquors in any store or place where groceries or other merchandise are sold, provided that this shall not apply to any licensee in towns and cities having a license at the time of the passing of the Act, prior to 1st May, 1890, and elsewhere prior to 1st May, 1887; against treating by a licensee; against vessels selling liquor while moored or at a wharf.

Heavy penalties are to be imposed for adulteration. The penalties inflicted for offences selling contrary to the law are, for first offence, $20 with costs; second offence, $50 with costs, and in default of payment in case of first conviction 15 days imprisonment with hard labor, and in case of second conviction one month's imprisonment with hard labor.

Licenses may be interdicted from being given to any drunkard, notice to be given by the chief inspector on demand of a husband or wife or other interested person, the penalty for disobedience being suspension of license for six months for first offence, and liability to forfeiture for second.

If a person falsely represents himself to be a lodger in order to obtain liquor at any premises during the period such premises are required to be closed as to the sale of liquors, he makes himself liable to a penalty not to exceed $20.

On the trial of any information or complaint against the provisions of this Act the person charged or husband of such person is a competent and compellable witness. Until the 1st of May, 1884, all the laws of Provincial Legislatures of the Dominion passed for regulating or restraining the traffic in liquors are made as valid and effective to all intents and purposes as if enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

THE DAILY EXAMINER.
JUNE 2, 1883.

Notes of the Week.
—Her loving subjects here and the world over were alarmed during the week by a report that the Queen was seriously ill; but the latest reports are reassuring. Her Majesty is very well—though still a little lame.

—The Local Government of Manitoba has been sustained. We are pleased to learn that Mr. Norquay's majority is very large—18 against 8. At this juncture, Manitoba needs a strong, patriotic, careful, farsighted administration.

—It is announced that the Imperial Government has conceded the principle, in all its mutual agreements for either partial or absolute free trade among themselves or with the Mother Country, discriminating against other countries in their tariffs. We agree with the Montreal Herald that this is a most important concession, and with no doubt, lead to an extension of trade with the British West Indies and other portions of the Empire. The conduct of the Government of Canada, with respect to this matter cannot be too highly commended.

—At a meeting of the Liberal Party, held in the early part of the week, Mr. Gladstone announced that it would be necessary to drop for the present session the Government's bill for remodelling the corporation of London. We suggest that a bill for remodelling the corporation of Charlottetown be next ready to submit to our Legislature next session. It would be according to the eternal fitness of things if both corporations were remodelled in the same year; and we are very sure that the corporation of Charlottetown needs remodelling at least as much as that of London.

—The Chinese have surprised the people of England with their contribution to the International Fisheries Exhibition. The Pall Mall Gazette says that in its every aspect there is novelty. The decorations and embellishments are unique; and the exhibits in the fullest sense curious and rare. The decorations of the section merits a chapter in itself. The court is Chinese in design, and colour, and contents. As regards decoration, the object was to give an aspect of height and breadth, light and brilliancy to the court—to make the collection, in fact, look like a piece of Chinese cloisonne enamel or porcelain, and assuredly in this the designers have succeeded.

—The Chinese have also surprised the people of France by dispatching the French Commander at Hanoi and fifteen of his soldiers in orthodox oriental fashion. Truly they are a surprising people. The war will now begin in earnest.

—If a single, lingering, latest doubt remained as to the propriety of exposing the shady tricks of Mr. Theophilus L. Chappelle, it has been dispelled by the condemnation of the exposure by the Patriot. This evidence that the organ of the Organized Hypocrisy deems it quite right to mislead the public, is of a piece with that of its refusal to publish the Hon. William Campbell's letter in correction of its own erroneous statements. The editor of the Patriot is the last man who should condemn another's treatment of correspondents. THE EXAMINER did Mr. Chappelle the justice to publish to the people of Charlottetown all he had to say in his own defence—just as, in the dock, the convicted prisoner is allowed to say what he pleases before the sentence of the Court is passed. Those few who believe Mr. Chappelle's statement will, of course, think Mr. Chappelle they think, and THE EXAMINER may do as it pleases. As for THE EXAMINER we are determined that it shall not be made the tool of cheeky and unscrupulous misleaders of the public—not if we know it.

—So the Czar and his wife are fairly crowned at last. More than that they have actually driven through the streets of Moscow in peace and safety. The Nihilists are evidently nonplussed. Their manifesto was ill-timed. While the multitudinous shouts of his loyal subjects were sounding in his ears, it was really too utterly ridiculous to expect the Autocrat of all the Russias to listen to such demands as follow:—

A general amnesty for all past political offenders, since they have committed no crimes; but, on the contrary, have only performed their duties as citizens.

An assembly of representatives from the whole nation, to discuss the forms of social and political life best adapted to the needs and wishes of the people.

In elections, and the duties to be nominated by all classes and social ranks, without distinction, and their number to be as in proportion to the population.

The right to be an elector or deputy to be subjected to no restriction.

As the elections should be perfectly free, the government, during the time which may elapse before the gathering of the popular assemblies, shall grant the following temporary measures:—

Absolute liberty of the press;
Absolute liberty of speech;
Absolute liberty of assembly;
Absolute liberty in electoral tickets.

It is not, indeed, unlikely that these demands were the cause of His Majesty's silence as to intended reforms. The Czar's manifesto clearly means that the political state of the Empire is to be unchanged. This policy, if persisted in will be unfortunate as well for His Majesty as for his obedient servants. The world is progressing, and must progress. Woe to the man, be he Czar or be he serf, who stands in the way.

Provincial Exhibition, 1883.
The Board of Commissioners appointed by the local government for managing this Exhibition held their first meeting this forenoon at the Law Courts Building. Present, His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Hayland, Patron; Hon. Judge Hensley, Chairman; Hon. Senator Haythorne, Hon. D. Ferguson, Hon. Stewart Burns, Hon. John Lefurgey, Hon. John Balderston, Henry Longworth, Charles C. Gardiner, P. Blake, Wm. Haslem, Owen Connolly, Wm. Match, Hon. Jenkins, Albert Boswell, Geo. Mason, Geo. Sinclair, Wm. Ramsay, Wm. Murphy, F. T. Newbery, D. McKay, E. Bayfield, F. Boyver, Alex. Scott, Thomas Vessey, Edward Ryan, Charles Reardon, Wm. McGrath, Esquires.

After some discussion as to the best time and most convenient days for holding the Provincial Exhibition, in order that the County Exhibitions may be held previously to it, on motion it was—

Resolved, That the Provincial Exhibition, 1883, take place on Wednesday and Thursday, October 10th and 11th.

The Prize List for last year was then reviewed, and a few changes in some of the classes were suggested. The following gentlemen were appointed a Committee to prepare the Prize List for this year, viz:—Dr. Jenkins, Senator Haythorne, H. Longworth, P. Blake, Chas. C. Gardiner, E. Bayfield and Capt. McLeod.

Ordered that said Committee submit their Report to be held on Thursday next, June 5th, at 11 o'clock, in the Law Courts Building.

Several gentlemen spoke of the necessity of providing shelter for sheep on the Show Grounds; and it was moved by P. Blake, Esq., seconded by H. Longworth, Esq., and carried unanimously:—

That the Government be requested to place a small sum at the disposal of this Board for the purpose of erecting a suitable sheep shed.

The following Committees were then appointed, viz:—

Buildings and Grounds—Chas. C. Gardiner, Hon. D. Ferguson, H. Longworth, D. McKinnon and J. Newson.
To superintend the proper placing of Live Stock and other exhibits on the grounds and in the buildings,— Horses—Chas. C. Gardiner, Esq.
Cattle—H. Longworth, Esq.
Sheep—Hon. D. Ferguson.
Pigs—George Mason, Esq.
Poultry—F. Boyver, Esq.
Butter and Cheese—Capt. M. McLeod.
Farm Implements and Carriages—D. McKinnon, Esq.
Grain—W. Haslem, Esq.
Roots and Vegetables—Edward Bayfield, Esq.
Floriculture and Fruit—William Murphy, Esq.
Miscellaneous—Dr. Jenkins.
Hon. D. Ferguson, P. Blake and Charles C. Gardiner were appointed a committee to make arrangements with Railway Department and Steam Navigation Company for reduced fares and rates, also to request the latter to cause a special trip of steamer from Picton on the Tuesday previous to the opening of the Exhibition.

Invincible Hanlan.

(Special to the St. John Sun.)
POINT OF PINES, MASS., May 31.—All day long, it looked as if another postponement of the Hanlan-Kennedy race was inevitable and landlords and guests looked blue at the prospect. Throughout the day a stiff gale from the south-east blew over the bay, curling up the surf in long rollers over the beach and making a sea in which no racing shell could live a minute. Just before five o'clock heavy black clouds came up from the south-west, and it was evident that a storm was coming. This made the necessity for a postponement seem more probable than ever, but it proved instead to be an omen of good luck, for the clouds brought only a heavy thunder storm and brisk rain, which quickly beat down the white caps and cleared the air, so that both water and weather were as favorable as could be. Then a slight breeze sprung up from the south-west making a choppy sea and again causing fears that the water would be too rough after all. The referee, however, proceeded over the course in his boat and saw that the buoys and turning boats were all in place. The contestants were then ordered to their stations and when they came to the starting line at 6.35 the water was in excellent condition. No time was lost.

THE SIGNAL
was promptly given and Kennedy at once dashed to the front, leading by a quarter of a length and pulling 38 strokes to the minute, while Hanlan was pulling 36 strokes and rolling in his boat in a manner that seemed very uncomfortable. At the first quarter mile, Kennedy still led by the same distance and was rowing 39 strokes to Hanlan's 34—time 1.25. At the half mile, the boats were even, Hanlan rowing 36 and Kennedy 38—time, 2.52. At the three-quarter mile buoy, Hanlan was leading by three-quarters of a length, pulling 33 strokes to Kennedy's 36—time 4.20. Hanlan's right shoulder was at this time going up in a suspicious manner, but he very quickly settled down to his work, and at the mile buoy he was two lengths ahead and rowing 32 strokes to Kennedy's 35—time, 5.58. At the mile and a quarter, Hanlan led by four lengths, rowing 31 to Kennedy's 33—time, 7.51. Both men now steered very wildly. At the turn Hanlan led by twelve lengths; he was rowing 32 strokes and his time was 9.29. Kennedy was pulling 33 strokes per minute and his time was 9.48. At the mile and three-quarters, Hanlan was a long way in front, rowing 28 strokes—time 11.21. At two miles, Hanlan led by 15 lengths, rowing 28 strokes to his opponent's 31—time, 12.26. At 2½ miles, Hanlan was rowing easily at a 30 gait, with Kennedy pulling heavily at the rate of 32 to the minute—time, 14.11. Hanlan passed the 2½ mile buoy in 15.37, pulling 29 strokes, while Kennedy was putting in good efforts to the tune of one in two seconds. At 2¾ miles, the same distance divided the boats and both men had slightly quickened their pace, Hanlan rowing 30 and Kennedy 32—time, 16.44. Just before the finish, Hanlan spurred at 32 per minute, while Kennedy, although a long way behind, hit her up again and went over the line in good style. The winner's time was 19 min. 4 sec., which is the fastest time on record for a three mile race with a turn, but the accuracy of the measurement of the course is doubted by some. Kennedy's time was 19.52.

THE OFFICIAL TIME.
Hanlan wins by 20 lengths.
Official time, 19m. 4s.; Kennedy, 19m. 52s.

Vice-Regal Rafting.
HIS EXCELLENCY AND HER ROYAL HIGHNESS GO DOWN THE SLIDES—A NOVEL EXPERIENCE.

(From the Ottawa Citizen, 29th ult.)
Yesterday the first cribs of the season began to come down the slides, and His Excellency the Governor-General and Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise (Marchioness of Lorne) having expressed a desire to "RUN THE SLIDES," special arrangements were made for their recreation.

About five o'clock in the afternoon His Excellency and Her Royal Highness, attended by a numerous suite drove to the head of the slides at the Chandlere. Here a raft constructed with unusual care, of timber belonging to the Messrs. White, and fitted with rough but secure seats for the accommodation of Her Royal Highness and the ladies in waiting, was lying in readiness. Having boarded the frail looking craft, W. A. Humphrey, who acted as pilot, took charge of the raft, and the anchor being (metaphorically) weighed, the voyage commenced.

Some half dozen raftsmen, carefully selected for their experience and trustworthiness, formed the crew, and under the watchful eye of Mr. Humphrey, the raft with its distinguished passengers passed through the DANGERS OF THE SLIDES without accident or mishap of any description.

About six o'clock it shot out into the broad expanse of the river opposite the parliamentary grounds, where the steamer which plies between Hull and the Ontario shore, ran out to meet it, and took the Vice-Regal party ashore.

His Excellency and Her Royal Highness expressed themselves as being delighted with the SUCCESS OF THE TRIP, and paid many well-merited compliments to Mr. Humphrey and the raftsmen.

Amongst the Vice-Regal party was Mr. Samuel L. Clemens ("Mark Twain"), who will now have another chapter to add to his rafting experience. It may be safely inferred that either Mr. "Twain" took no prominent part in the guidance of the raft, or that he has wonderfully advanced in the science of raft navigation since his late memorable and disastrous voyage down the River Neckar.
