

Happenings of the Week

On Monday morning delegates of the Associated Country Women of the World who were visiting Prince Edward Island, and members of the Women's Institutes of the Province were guests at a delightful coffee party at Government House, which was lovely with a profusion of summer flowers from the gardens.

Miss Agnes MacQuaid entertained at dinner at Stanhope Beach Inn this week honouring Mrs. Agnes Ellis and Miss Maude Collins of Boston, who left Thursday after a holiday in the Province.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wood is leaving on return to her home in Montreal this morning after a pleasant visit with her many relatives and friends on the island.

Members of the Charlottetown Ladies' Curling Club held a most enjoyable beach party Tuesday evening at the summer home of Mrs. W. R. MacNeill at Brighton Shore when the guest of honour was Mrs. James P. Campbell, who with Mr. Campbell is leaving to take up residence in London, Ont.

Mrs. R. G. Loughlin has returned to her home in Fredericton, after spending the summer at Stanhope Beach. She was accompanied by her cousin Miss Dorothy Green, formerly of Trinidad, who has accepted a teaching position in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Campbell are the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacIsaac at Keppoch.

Mrs. F. H. MacLeod and her daughters left Thursday morning on return to their home in Brockville, Ont., after spending several weeks with Mrs. MacLeod's parents, His Honour Lieutenant Governor, T. W. L. Frowse and Mrs. Frowse.

Members of the Provincial Government were hosts at dinner at the Charlottetown Hotel Sunday evening to the sixty delegates of the Associated Country Women of the World who visited the Island over the week-end.

Mrs. J. P. Millar entertained at tea Monday afternoon at Inkerman in honour of Miss Bessie Conrad, whose marriage to Mr. Robert McGillivray takes place today. Mrs. Stewart Jones presided over the tea table, which was tastefully arranged with a bouquet of roses, sweet peas and baby breath.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hastie of Toronto left Wednesday for their home after visiting friends in the Province. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. A. Lawson Jr. who is spending a few days visiting with friends in Rothsay, N. B.

Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Barrett of Halifax spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Hon. B. Earle MacDonald and Mrs. MacDonald, North River Road. During their stay this week at Celtic Lodge, Cape Breton, where Dr. Barrett is attending the Maritime Dental Convention, their son, Brian is visiting his grandparents.

Mrs. C. W. Burns, wife of the president of the Canadian Medical Association, and Mrs. F. H. T. Thorlaxson, were guests of honour at an afternoon tea Monday at the Villa Waters attended by the wives of members of the Prince Edward Island Medical Society. Mrs. J. A. MacMillan and Mrs. J. H. Shaw received with the guests of honour, while Mrs. E. M. Found ushered the guests to the dining room and Mrs. W. P. MacMillan presided over the tea table, attractively arranged with a lace cloth and bouquet of summer flowers.

Mrs. James Laidlaw of Saint John, who spent a few days visiting with her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Laidlaw, returned to her home on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Olive Currie entertained at their summer home at Keppoch on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Schurman and Mrs. Joyce Schurman of Dartmouth, N. S., are guests at the Charlottetown Hotel.

Miss Joyce Coffin entertained friends at luncheon at the Charlottetown Hotel Wednesday in honour of Miss Bessie Conrad.

Dr. and Mrs. Alan Fulton and their two children left this week on return to their home in Oshawa, Ont., after spending the holidays at Keppoch.

Miss Edith Bernard of Tienish spent the week in the City, a guest at the Charlottetown Hotel.

Mrs. Donald Campbell entertained at tea yesterday afternoon when the guest of honour was Miss Bessie Conrad. Mrs. F. M. Nash poured, while those assisting in serving were Mrs. Myron Bell, Miss Heather Lantz and Miss Joyce Coffin. Miss Elizabeth Campbell attended the door.

At the Yacht Club social Wednesday evening, which took the form of a corn ball at the club house, the hostesses were Mrs. Alfred McNeill, Mrs. Myron Bell and Mrs. Ronald Smith.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Shaw entertained the members of the Prince Edward Island Medical Society, visiting members of the Canadian Medical Association, and their wives at an enjoyable barbecue and square dancing party at their summer home at Stanhope Monday evening.

Miss Joyce Coffin, Mrs. W. R. Stewart and Mrs. Walter LePage entertained at a corn ball at Brighton Shore Thursday evening in honour of Miss Bessie Conrad and Mr. Robert McGillivray, when Miss Conrad was showered with lovely gifts by her friends.

The annual President's Ball was held by the Prince Edward Island Medical Society at Dalvay-by-the-Sea Tuesday evening, in honour of Dr. C. W. Burns, president of the Canadian Medical Association, and Mrs. Burns. Receiving the guests were included members of the medical profession, their wives and friends, were Dr. and Mrs. Burns and Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rogers Jr. are observing their silver wedding anniversary today, and will be at home to friends at their summer cottage, Keppoch.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McGuire and daughter, Margo left Monday for their home in Amherst, N. S.

At the Charlottetown Tennis Club this afternoon the tea hostesses will be Miss Evelyn Goffrey and Miss Margaret MacTavish.

Mrs. S. W. Leard recently entertained the Friendship Group of the Willing Circle, King's Daughters, at an afternoon tea and garden party in honour of Mrs. Elizabeth Wood of Montreal, a former member. Mrs. Ira Brown, president, poured, while Miss Dorothy Leard R. N. and Mrs. Evelyn Goffrey, the honour guest and presiding, were presented with beautiful corsages by the hostess. The tea table was covered with a hand crocheted cloth, and centred with a bouquet of mauve asters and carnations in a silver basket, and matching candlesticks.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. R. G. Mitchell entertained at her home on School Street in honour of Miss Marjorie Mitchell whose marriage to Dr. Francis O'Keefe, McAdam, N. B., takes place this month. A dainty supper was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. D. W. McAllister and Miss Marlon Mitchell after which an attractive gift of china was presented to the bride-to-be by the hostess. On Thursday evening, Miss Mitchell was the guest of Miss Dorothy McInnes at a delightful dinner at the Queen Hotel at which time the bride elect was recipient of a lovely gift of silver from her hostess.

Mrs. F. B. Conrad entertained at a trossoupe tea on Tuesday afternoon in honour of her daughter, Bessie Catherine, whose marriage takes place today. The tea table was centred with beautiful bouquets of varicoloured roses and white taper, while the floral decorations in the living rooms were baskets of gladioli. Mrs. J. P. Lantz poured tea and those assisting in serving were Mrs. F. M. Nash, Mrs. Donald Campbell, Mrs. R. R. Hurst and Miss Rebecca Nash.

Miss Catherine MacLeod of Boston, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Bentley and Mr. Bentley, leaves for her home this morning.

Mrs. B. C. Prowse and Mrs. F. C. Harper have as their welcome guests their nieces and nephews, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Reid, Rhode Islands, Conn., and Mrs. Lee Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. John Winslow, Saint John, N. B.

Mr. George Smallwood of Florida has returned home after a pleasant visit with relatives and friends in Charlottetown.

Miss Dorothy Keefe returned home this week from a visit with relatives and friends in Attleboro, Mass., and Cape Cod.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gallant leave for Ottawa today to visit Mr. Gallant's sister, Mrs. Brenda Edgar.

McKenna-Clarkin Wedding

Marriage vows were exchanged in St. Ann's Church, Lot 65 on July 7, by Mary Geraldine Clarkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Clarkin of New Wiltshire, and Kevin John McKenna, son of Mr. John W. McKenna and the late Mrs. McKenna of Kelly's Cross. From left to right are Mr. Desmond Clarkin, groomsmen; Mr. and Mrs. McKenna; and Miss Patricia Richard, bridesmaid.

Miss Ruth Milton of Montreal leaves this morning after spending her holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Milton, Brighton Shore.

The Misses Alma and Helen Yeas have returned from a motor trip to Montreal and Metis. They were accompanied on return by their sister, Mrs. McVey of Montreal who will be their guest for a short holiday.

Miss Shirley Nicholson is spending her holidays in Toronto with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Roy Cudmore left yesterday morning on a two week motor trip to Montreal, Toronto and New York.

Miss Dorothy Leard, R. N., of Ottawa is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Leard, East Royalty.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cromwell have returned to their home in Glen Rock, N. J., after a pleasant vacation at their summer cottage, York Point. They were accompanied on the return trip by Mrs. Fulton Sanderson, York Point, who will visit with them for some time. Before returning home Mrs. Sanderson will visit her aunt, Mrs. Mary Hardy, and her cousin, Mrs. Raymond Cooper, River Road, Andover, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Meek are leaving their home in Kelowna, B. C., for Vancouver where Mr. Meek has been transferred following his promotion in the Bank of Nova Scotia. Mrs. Meek is the former Bell Agnew of Charlottetown. They have one son, Agnew.

Miss Judith Anne Murchison of Murchcroft, Point Prim and Ottawa, is a guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Murchison at their summer cottage at Stanhope Beach.

Mrs. Robert Smith and her three children have returned to their home in Gander, Nfld., having spent the summer on the island.

Mrs. Hume Keefe and son Ronnie, Dartmouth, N. S., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Keefe, Richmond St.

The Rev. and Mrs. Harold A. Kennedy and little daughter, Dorothy Ann, are spending a holiday with Mrs. Kennedy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Saunders.

Miss Isabelle MacLeod of New York leaves this morning for home, accompanied by her niece, Miss Marjorie MacLeod of Regina, Sask. While here they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bentley.

Mrs. Percy Cameron, Fitzroy St., has returned home after a pleasant holiday with her son, Mr. Ian Cameron of Ottawa. She also visited her sister, Mrs. George White in Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Roothe of Toronto.

Mrs. Everett MacKenzie, the Misses Anne Jenkins and Florence MacLean entertained Thursday evening at the former's apartment at a miscellaneous shower in honour of Miss Edna Nicholson, R. N., whose marriage is to take place in the near future.

Lieut. R. J. LeClair and Mrs. LeClair and daughter Patricia Ann left last week for Quebec City, where Lieut. LeClair is stationed, at H. M. C. S. D'Arville. Before leaving Charlottetown, they were the guests of honour at several parties given by their friends.

Mr. W. J. Kelly, Mr. George Varney and Mr. Thomas McLaughlin have arrived from Roxbury, Mass., to spend the holiday weekend as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Conway, Richmond St. Mrs. Mae Kelly of Roxbury will accompany them on the return trip.

Among those who have entertained in honour of Miss Florence Matheson, whose marriage is taking place shortly, are Mrs. Ambrose Weatherbie, Mrs. Norman Saunders and Mrs. John MacPherson, who were joint hostesses recently at the former's summer cottage, Brighton Shore, at a miscellaneous shower. Miss Matheson was also the guest of honour at a beach party and wicker fry held by Miss Margaret Mallett at Stanhope when she was presented with a lovely gift.

Miss Dorothy Keefe returned home this week from a visit with relatives and friends in Attleboro, Mass., and Cape Cod.

That Body Of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

ANEMIA—THIN BLOOD—CAUSES TIREDNESS AND IRRITABILITY

One of the routine tests made by physicians is measuring the amount of iron (and other minerals such as calcium and phosphorus) in the blood. Patients consult their physicians because they seem to be tired all the time, despite the fact that they get plenty of rest and have a good appetite. An examination of their blood shows that the blood is low in iron and other minerals.

In "Life and Health," Dr. J. De Witt Fox in an article entitled "Are You Anemic?" tells us that most common cause of anemia (thin blood) is poor nutrition. Anemia often occurs in people who neglect eating green vegetables, fruits, milk, eggs and cheese—and who prefer to eat palate-tempting fat and starch foods such as French fried potatoes, pastries and gravies.

In addition to the continuous tiredness mentioned above, anemic persons have shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, numb fingers and toes, various aches and pains, listlessness with no desire to do any mental or physical work. While foods rich in proteins (meat, eggs, fish) together with green vegetables and fruits give excellent results, physicians today are aiming for quicker results by injections into the muscles or given by mouth. All vitamin B preparations are being given; the latest and most effective of these is vitamin B 12, heretofore given only by injection into the muscles, but now given by mouth with excellent results because of a substance in the preparation which prevents the stomach from interfering with the full action of vitamin B 12. Thus we read, "treatment for anemia should include an iron-rich diet, supplemented by iron and liver capsules. Occasionally a short course of vitamin, liver and iron injections is needed for rapid restoration of normal blood levels."

As so many of these anemic patients, because they are easily, are nervous and irritable, the combination of iron, liver and vitamin B12 is especially helpful. It has been found that while folic acid is a good blood builder, raising the iron content of the blood almost as well as iron and liver preparations, it does not strengthen the nerves against the emotional symptoms which are very trying in themselves.

"Nervousness and irritability respond especially well to a regimen which corrects nutritional anemia because nerve cells are acutely irritated by any anemia which deprives them of their normal oxygen supply."

When you find yourself tiring easily and becoming readily irritated, ask your physician to test your blood. Anemia is the commonest cause although infection—teeth, tonsils, gall bladder, gums—is also a common cause.

Household Scrapbook

By Roberta Lee

Cracks in Floor

For filling cracks in the floor, soak old newspapers in strong alum water until they form a soft pulp, and press hard into the cracks. This method is more successful than using putty, and when the hardened pulp is covered with paint, will hardly show.

Linoleum

A little kerosene added to the water when wiping up the kitchen linoleum will loosen the dirt, and result in a better job.

CONVENIENT! MORSE'S selected ORANGE PEKOE TEA IN BAGS!

ELLEN'S DIARY

By An Island Farmer's Wife

My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: We are three women whose husbands work for an organization employing about 200 people, three-fourths of them women. About half the women and just about all the men are married. Our problem is this: the management plans parties and picnics for the employees, always held in the evening and breaking up late. Dancing and drinking are included, and no guests permitted. We feel this is not proper and that the policy of other large companies should be adopted—either hold the parties in the afternoon, or allow employees to bring guests.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DOROTHY DIX'S COLUMN-

Letter From Three Wives

Complain About Husbands' Employer's Office Parties—No Guests Allowed

DEAR MISS DIX: We are three women whose husbands work for an organization employing about 200 people, three-fourths of them women. About half the women and just about all the men are married. Our problem is this: the management plans parties and picnics for the employees, always held in the evening and breaking up late. Dancing and drinking are included, and no guests permitted. We feel this is not proper and that the policy of other large companies should be adopted—either hold the parties in the afternoon, or allow employees to bring guests.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem concerns contributions to charity. My husband is in business and gives to most causes through the firm. Then when canvassers come representing the same organizations, I am obliged to refuse them. Their comments are not very pleasant. We can't afford to duplicate our donations, but I hate to be considered a tightwad.

The Stars Say - -

By Genevieve Kemble

SUNDAY'S horoscope indicates a great measure of happiness if you will plan to share your moments of leisure and relaxation with members of the family and close friends. Hospitality shared in your home or outside of it will be doubly appreciated on this most harmonious day and a short trip to visit relatives or acquaintances could be exceptionally pleasurable.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the period ahead a propitious one in which to undertake enterprises requiring courage, energy or initiative. The next three months engender a positive attitude and favor the completion of long-standing affairs and benefit through the friendship of elders.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the period ahead a propitious one in which to undertake enterprises requiring courage, energy or initiative. The next three months engender a positive attitude and favor the completion of long-standing affairs and benefit through the friendship of elders.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the period ahead a propitious one in which to undertake enterprises requiring courage, energy or initiative. The next three months engender a positive attitude and favor the completion of long-standing affairs and benefit through the friendship of elders.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the period ahead a propitious one in which to undertake enterprises requiring courage, energy or initiative. The next three months engender a positive attitude and favor the completion of long-standing affairs and benefit through the friendship of elders.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the period ahead a propitious one in which to undertake enterprises requiring courage, energy or initiative. The next three months engender a positive attitude and favor the completion of long-standing affairs and benefit through the friendship of elders.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the period ahead a propitious one in which to undertake enterprises requiring courage, energy or initiative. The next three months engender a positive attitude and favor the completion of long-standing affairs and benefit through the friendship of elders.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the period ahead a propitious one in which to undertake enterprises requiring courage, energy or initiative. The next three months engender a positive attitude and favor the completion of long-standing affairs and benefit through the friendship of elders.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the period ahead a propitious one in which to undertake enterprises requiring courage, energy or initiative. The next three months engender a positive attitude and favor the completion of long-standing affairs and benefit through the friendship of elders.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the period ahead a propitious one in which to undertake enterprises requiring courage, energy or initiative. The next three months engender a positive attitude and favor the completion of long-standing affairs and benefit through the friendship of elders.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the period ahead a propitious one in which to undertake enterprises requiring courage, energy or initiative. The next three months engender a positive attitude and favor the completion of long-standing affairs and benefit through the friendship of elders.

Cook's Corner

BANANA PIE

1 1/2 cups of milk (put on stove to scald)

1/4 cup of white sugar

2 teaspoons of flour

2 teaspoons of corn starch

Mix with 1/2 cup of milk

Add this mixture to scalded milk

Cook until thick, then add 2 egg yolks, cook 2 minutes more.

Cool—add 1 teaspoon vanilla, then put a layer of bananas in pie shell and a layer of filling alternately ending with filling on top of bananas.

—Wanda Rayner North St. Eleanor's W. I.

NO TEETH