

Greenfield Man Dies Suddenly In Hamilton

The death occurred suddenly at Hamilton, Ontario, on Sunday, January 19, of Frederick Troy, formerly of Greenfield. The deceased, age 47 years, was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Troy of Greenfield. Following his father's death four years ago, the deceased operated the farm at Greenfield. In June 1956 he went to Hamilton where he resided with his sister. He was unmarried. He leaves to mourn two sisters, Emma (Mrs. Daniel O'Donnell) Avondale; Florence (Mrs. Frank Hynes) Hamilton, Ontario, and one brother, Frank, of Boston, Mass. The funeral will be held on Friday morning at St. Mary's Church, Montague, at 9:30 a.m. Interment will be in the Church Cemetery.

passing in Western Canada of Mr. Welsh Stewart of Belle River. He has a brother Mr. Simon Stewart of Belle River. He also has a sister married to Rev. Mr. Evans of Charlottetown. Another brother resides in the West. To all the sorrowing, kind sympathy is extended.

Kind and sincere sympathy is also extended to Rev. W. A. Patterson of Georgetown and Sturgeon United Church in the recent passing of Mrs. Patterson.

Relatives here of Mr. William Gillis regret to hear of his death in British Columbia, caused by a car accident. His funeral was from Mr. Ernest Shaw's Ligg last week. His parents reside in Kinross. To all the bereaved sincere sympathy is extended.

A large flock of wild geese were seen flying over the shore road here and wending their way towards the North-West on January 14.

Once again sympathy is extended to the relatives of Mrs. Ernest Penny of Beach Point whose death occurred recently.

Mrs. Ronnie Saunders of Murray River was taken to the Kings County Memorial Hospital, Montague on Saturday, where an appendicitis operation was performed on Ronnie Sunday morning. We are glad to hear that he is making good recovery. He has an aunt, Mrs. Chas. Stewart in Little Sands and his Mother was formerly Kathleen MacLean, formerly of Little Sands. Best wishes go out to the little chap for a complete recovery soon.

On January 15, a steamer was seen passing in the Strait. There is no ice and the lights on Pictou Island and at Caribou are still seen flashing their nightly signals across the Strait. We still have very little snow—just a sprinkling. The snow storms which have been forecasted for here so many times, have so far this year passed us by.

Truck loads of gravel are being hauled Westward to Charlottetown these days from the shore of Mr. Peter Richards, Little Sands. This is rather unusual at this time of year. Usually we have lots of snow by January 15.

We were sorry to hear of the passing in New York of Mrs. Snellen who was formerly Anna Stewart of Caledonia. Her nephew resides in Little Sands. To those who mourn her passing kind sympathy is extended. Mrs. Snellen often visited friends and relatives in Little Sands in the summer.

We regret to hear of the passing of Mrs. J.H. Mahon of Montague recently. Sympathy is also extended to the family.

The remains of Mrs. Kenneth MacKinnon of Montague were laid to rest in the Little Sands Cemetery on January 4. Many of her friends remember her as Ms. Dan Munroe of High Bank. Sincere sympathy goes out to all the bereaved.

We were sorry to hear of the passing of Mrs. R.C. MacLeod in Kinross on January 3. We are glad to hear Mrs. MacLeod is improving.

Safety Plaques Presented To Parkdale, Sp. Park Schools

Yesterday morning the Charlottetown Junior Board of Trade presented Elmer Safety plaques to both Parkdale and Spring Park schools, thereby uniting the six city schools with those in the two major townships adjoining, a goal long sought by the local Jaycees.

Along with the plaque, the familiar Elmer Pennant was presented and will fly from the school flagpoles. Elmer Safety rules in pamphlet form were issued to all pupils from Grade one to six with instruction given by chairman John H. Morris and co-chairman George Scantlebury.

The chairman announced that a strict and thorough watch will be made for infractions of the five Elmer safety rules, especially to children between the ages of 5 to 14. Statistics show that the accident rate in this age group is higher than from the nine major diseases.

Mr. Morris also stressed that the parents give more thought to safety rules, especially at busy business intersections where it is noticed parents are leading children across the street against a red traffic light without regard for traffic or the child's mention of the infraction.

Plan To Recruit Hungarian Refugees For Mines Fails

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Quietly, almost apologetically, Britain's national coal board is winding up its stalemated program to recruit Hungarian refugees for the country's collieries.

It is just a year since the board set up training schools in the coalfields of Durham, Yorkshire, Lancashire and Wales for 3,000 Hungarian miners recruited in late 1956 from refugee camps in Austria following the ill-fated uprising against Hungary's Communist rulers.

With some 9,000 vacancies in the country's 850 nationalized pits, the board envisaged the plan not only as a humanitarian gesture but as a means of overcoming a long-standing manpower shortage. The board hoped eventually to recruit 3,000 Hungarians.

OPPOSED BY MINERS

But the program failed to take into account the opposition of British miners to employment of foreign labor. Miners, who only a few weeks before had made generous donations to funds in aid of the refugees, unexpectedly voted to keep the Hungarians out of the pits.

And they have remained adamant in their decisions to maintain the boycott despite pleas from government officials and their own leaders.

Of the 3,000 Hungarians who completed English-language and mining-technique courses at the coal board schools, fewer than 600 have been accepted in the pits. The board hopes that the 700,000 British miners will be persuaded to accept another 300. The remainder have been advised to look for jobs in other industries.

OBJECTED ONCE BEFORE

Among the pits which rejected the Hungarians was the Bullcroft Colliery, which employs 1,600 miners. The Bullcroft miners brought about the downfall of a similar plan to recruit 1,100 Italian miners in 1952.

They went on strike in protest against working with 31 Italians and other pits joined in support. The board finally dropped the plan and the Italians, recruited at a cost of £200,000, were either repatriated or sent to Belgian mines. The Hungarian boycott has been more costly. The coal board is estimated to have spent about £1,500,000 in recruiting and training the Hungarians.

PRESIDENT OF DALHOUSIE, DR. A. E. KERR, ADMIRES DESK

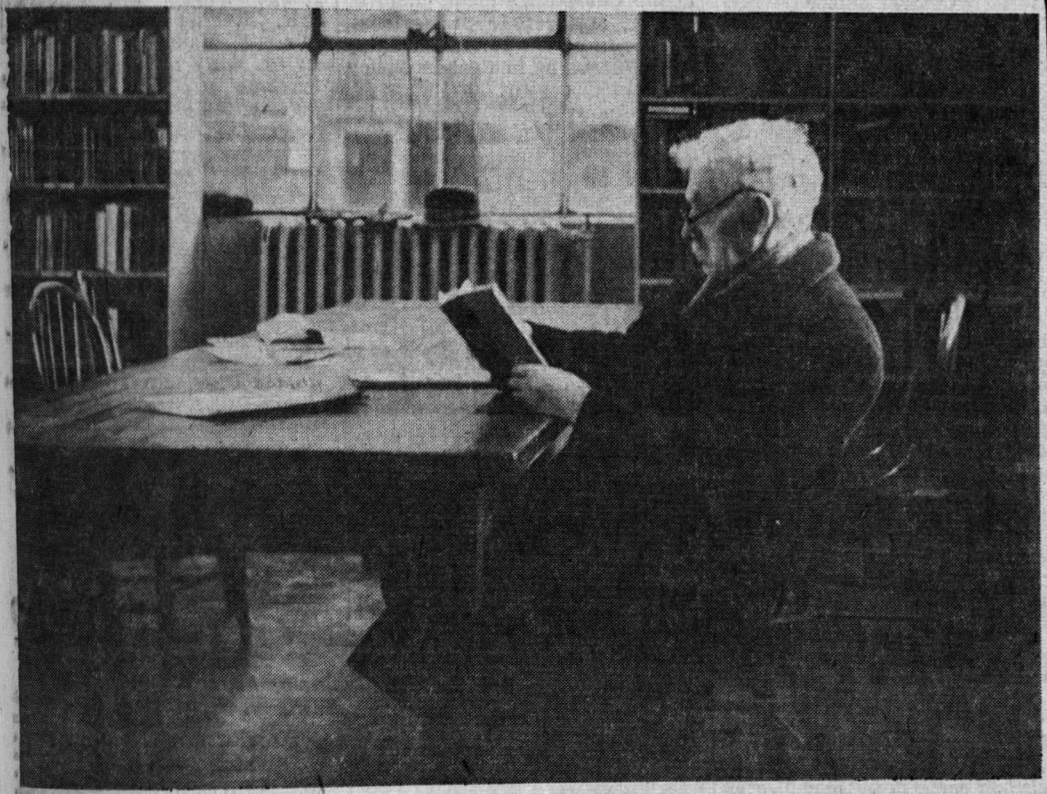

Personal Possessions Of Sir James Dunn Donated

While public attention from coast to coast has been caught by the magnificent gift of $1,750,000 to Dalhousie by the Sir James Dunn Foundation, set up by Lady Dunn, of the new Science building soon to rise on the Studley campus, Dalhousians will deeply appreciate a further second gift by Lady Dunn a gift of such nature that it will, perhaps, even more intimately associate Sir James with his alma mater.

Should a visitor go to Charlottetown, there, in the cradle of Confederation, he will proudly be shown the chair in which Sir John A. MacDonald sat at the momentous time; and in future years the visitor will be proudly shown the desk at which Sir James used to sit, the bookcase in which he kept his records, and the wardrobe in which he hung his hat and coat. Lady Dunn has given to his alma mater the specially made suite of furniture which originally stood in Sir James' London office, and later in his office in the Sun Life Building, Montreal.

The suite consists of seven massive mahogany pieces which now adorn the offices of Dalhousie's president. These seven pieces are made up of two breakfast bookcases with cupboards beneath in mahogany, each eight feet three inches wide, two feet two inches deep, and seven feet nine inches high; two small glass and mahogany bookcases, each five feet five inches wide, twelve inches deep, and seven feet five inches high; two desks in mahogany and blue morocco, each six feet by four feet, and two feet seven inches high; and one small mahogany double-door wardrobe, three feet seven inches wide, one foot seven inches deep, and six feet five and one half inches high. While their intrinsic value is very considerable, their chief value in the eyes of Dalhousians will be because of their association with the man who used them.
