West Royalty Man Receives Doctorate From Cornell Univ.

J.W.G. Nicholson of West Royalty animal nutritionist at the Experimental Farm, recently received his degree of doctor of philosophy from Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

Dr. Nicholson's major field of study was animal nutrition and his minor courses were in psychology and animal breeding.

Born in Crapaud, the son of Mrs. and the late John L. Nicholson, Dr. Nicholson received his early education at Crapaud and Prince of Wales College before graduating from MacDonald College, Montreal, with a bachelor of science degree in agriculture in 1951.

Since that time he has been employed with the Experimental Farm. He received a leave of absence from the farm to receive his master's degree from Cornell in 1956.

During his work towards his doctorate Dr. Nicholson has won numerous prizes, awards, and scholarships. While at PWC he won the Anderson Prize and Hon. John Richards Prize and held the Eliza M. Jones Scholarships while at MacDonald College. During his years at Cornell he received the Agricultural Institute of Canada postgraduate scholarship and the Henry

DR. NICHOLSON Strong Denison Fellowship in agriculture.

Dr. Nicholson is married to the former Betty Nisbit of Tyn Valley. The couple has a son and daughter and they reside at West Royalty.

Canada has had no reported cases of cholera, plague, typhus fever or yellow fever since 1931.

Y's Men's Club Hears Report

Lorne McLellan was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Centennial Y's Men's Club last night at the YMCA.

Reporting to the club on the Y's Men's International Convention held recently at Green Lake, Wisconsin, the speaker gave an interesting account of the activities and illustrated his talk with colored slides. Mr. McLellan mentioned the various discussion groups attended by members of this world wide organization from 21 countries, and in closing spoke of the general high standards set for the organization by all delegates to the convention.

Brian Cudmore, chairman for the evening, introduced the speaker. He was thanked at the conclusion of his talk by Alan Forsythe.

A sing-song was led by John Sterns and Clarence McInnis was fines' master.

Special guest Bob Smith, a YMCA worker throughout the Atlantic Provinces, was introduced. Mr. Smith was thanked by the members for his current visit to the Charlottetown 'Y' where he is conducting a leadership course for Hi-Y Club leaders.

Magistrate Disqualifies Self From Hearing Assault Case

Magistrate K.M. Martin, QC, yesterday disqualified himself from hearing an assault case against Daniel Tweel and the case was set over until this morning.

Tweel is charged that he did unlawfully assault Archibald

Murchison of Point Prim, by striking him on the face with his fist. The incident took place in Tweel's Restaurant located at the corner of Great George and Kent Streets on Thursday night of last week.

A Wellington man and one from West Royalty found that it doesn't pay to speed on Elm Avenue. They were each fined $40 and costs or 30 days in jail. The former is reported to have been travelling at 55 miles per hour, and the latter at 45 m.p.h. on the main thoroughfare.

Failure to stop for a red traffic light costs a Charlottetown motorist a fine of $10 and costs or five days. A fine of $20 and costs or 10 days was imposed upon a Kelly's Cross resident following his conviction on the charge of being drunk and incapable.

Sale of Skates Is Announced

A sale of second-hand skates as a fund raising measure was announced at a meeting of the Holy Redeemer Auxiliary of Scouts and Cubs Monday night.

The sale will be held in November. The date will be announced later.

Ways and means chairman Mrs. Wilfred Duffy also reviewed the money raising projects held since the last meeting.

Mrs. T. Claybourne, chairman of the sewing committee, reported several neckerchiefs had been made and given to Scouts and Cubs, but that more were needed and would be made by her committee.

A sum of money was donated toward the leaders' banquet to be held at the Queen Hotel.

Mrs. Jack Duffy, president of the group, presided. Reports were heard from the secretary Mrs. Brighton MacDougall and the treasurer Mrs. Jack MacEachern.

West Kent Enjoys Panel Discussion

The West Kent Home and School held its regular meeting Wednesday evening in the school auditorium.

A short business meeting, with the president, Dr. Gerald Barrett in the chair, preceded a panel discussion on the general theme "Understanding the School and its Work".

The panel was chaired by Arthur Hogan, Lt. Col. Keith Johnston represented the school board; the teachers were represented by Mrs. Anna Patterson.

The discussion brought out problems which are met daily by the school and how they are most effectively dealt with by both the teachers and the parents. The most interesting program was greatly appreciated by the well attended meeting.

The panelists were thanked by the president. The meeting closed with refreshments served by the committee.

Lions Clubs Plan Meeting

Reports on the forthcoming "Mass Charter Night" headlined the meeting of the local Lion's Club last night at the Charlottetown Hotel. The well-attended meeting was given a report by the committee chairman, Bob Youngker, who stated that a large number is expected to attend the affair slated for Nov. 4th.

In attendance will be members all Lion's clubs on Prince Edward Island, with the local club acting as host.

Phil Bower, reporting on the CNIB fund raising campaign said that with still a few members to be heard from, it looks as though it will be a big success.

The dinner meeting was attended by Francis McQuarrie of the Summerside Lion's Club, Jack Rawick and Russell Driscoll both of Charlottetown, were also in attendance.

The club was entertained by recitals from Frank Gaudet, who is famous for such entertainment among club members. Charlie Boudreau filled in for Jack Doyle at the piano and throughout the meeting everyone joined in singing.

RAILWAY UNIONS' BRIEF PREPARED

For the past three days national and local representatives of several railway unions have been holding a series of meetings to prepare material for the annual brief to the local legislature. American Fined, Loses Car, 'Cigs'

A fine of $300 and costs or in default of payment three months in the Queens County Jail was meted out Wednesday to Arthur Emmerson Ladner of Lynn, Mass., following the acceptance of his plea of guilty for an offence under the Customs Act.

Ladner was charged before Magistrate James B. Johnston, with having in his possession 128 cartons of American cigarettes on which the import duty had not been paid.

In addition to the fine imposed, the accused loses the cigarettes by way of seizure along with his automobile. The vehicle may or may not be returned pending the decision of the federal department concerned in the matter.

The case of the crown against Clarence William Dunn of Charlottetown, charged with the unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor not purchased on his own individual permit, was completed for the crown by the hearing of the final witness. The defence offered no evidence.

The witness, Brian Lewis, clerk in the local retail vendors store, identified the three purchase slips which were produced by the crown, along with the three permit books on which the accused is alleged to have made the purchases.

Canada's Logging Industry Is Seeking Income Tax Relief

OTTAWA (CP)—Should Canada's vast logging industry be allowed to deduct certain depletion allowances from taxable income as petroleum and mining companies are permitted under the federal income tax act?

This is one of the several questions left over for federal officials to consider from the conference of provincial treasurers with Finance Minister Fleming here last week.

British Columbia and Ontario raised the issue, but its implications are of direct interest to every province.

The joint brief of B.C. and Ontario — the provinces with the highest per capita tax yields — said that unlike the resource-based industries engaged in mineral, oil or natural gas operations, logging companies aren't entitled to deduct depletion allowances from taxable income.

EXEMPTION URGED The brief said there is no argument with the allowances granted these other industries, but it contended that logging companies also should be extended a special tax exemption.

"Indeed, as logging income represents the profits derived from the harvesting of a provincial resource, the special allowance should be made equal to the total profits attributable to logging operations—that is, logging income should be exempted from federal corporation income tax and reserved exclusively for the provinces to tax as they deem necessary to support their forest expenditures."

The brief anticipated the argument that whether the logging industry were completely exempted from federal income tax or only permitted to deduct depletion allowances on the same basis as petroleum and mining companies, the tax yield from Ontario and B.C. would be reduced by some degree.

REDUCE PAYMENTS This in turn would reduce the amount of equalization paid to the provinces, particularly those which have no forest industries.

The brief said it should be pointed out, however, that by granting special tax allowances to mining and petroleum operators as is now done, the tax yield from provinces with these industries also is reduced. These provinces were thus provided with "more generous equalization payments from the government of Canada than would otherwise be made."

Furthermore, extension of a special tax allowance to forest-based industries would enable provinces not now taxing logging companies to move into this field of revenue.

One argument the brief made in favor of a change in the present tax position of the forest industry was that it costs a provincial government more to keep its forests healthy and renewed than it collects in revenues from the industry.

Good Price

Availability of considerable frost-proof storage plus the fact that many were still busily digging were seen as the chief reasons for the unusually light movement.

One central informant said that many farmers were convinced that they had nothing to lose by holding out for higher prices and consequently were going ahead with other work and paying little attention to potato sales.

Summerside dealers were paying $1.70 Tuesday for a 75-pound bag. An authoritative informant in the Prince capital asserted that movement was normal for this time of year. He said the outlook was for a strong market this year.

RUMORS SCOTCHED Rumors of dissatisfaction with Island shipments to Sydney Monday were quickly scotched by the chief federal inspection station at the Cape Breton centre.

Contracted by Bayfield Ellis, the district inspector at Charlottetown he said that investigation revealed that only 60 15-pound bags were involved in the complaint originating with the Sydney Board of Trade last week.

Generally speaking the quality of Island potatoes arriving on the Sydney market was good, he added.

Last week Island inspectors were charged with irresponsibility in a letter to the federal department of agriculture. Copies of the letter were forwarded to leading dailies in Sydney, Halifax and Charlottetown.

Prisoner Moved To Penitentiary

Willard Pius Finnan, Freetown, who last week was sentenced in both Charlottetown and Summerside Magistrates' Courts to two year terms in Dorchester Penitentiary, both sentences to run concurrently, was moved from Queens County Jail to Dorchester Tuesday. He was accompanied by an escort of RCMP and the Queens County Sheriff.

William Wendell Larkin, Charlottetown, sentenced at the same time to two terms totalling five years in Dorchester, was transferred to Prince County Jail, Summerside, where he is being held pending a decision to appeal his conviction.

dustry was that it costs a provincial government more to keep its forests healthy and renewed than it collects in revenues from the industry.

Branch Opens Season Meets

The first meeting of the P.E.I. branch of the Agricultural Institute of Canada for the current season was held Wednesday at the Rendezvous restaurant.

Twenty-one members were present for the dinner meeting. Guests were Dr. Harry Cox of Cyanamide of Canada, Ltd., Truro, N.S. David Ward of the P.E.I. department of agriculture, and Dick Sherwood of Canada Packers Ltd., Summerside.

The president, J. Edmund Arsenault, presided over the business meeting which followed the dinner. Among matters discussed was the appointment of committees for the coming year.

The chairman of the various committees are as follows: Program, R.D. Crawford, membership, L.C. Callbeck, telephone, D.C. Munro, catering and entertainment; G.W. Avers, publicity, Dr. J.W.G. Nicholson.

A committee was also appointed to prepare an act for the professionalization of technical agriculturalists in P.E.I. This committee was given authority to draw the necessary funds for carrying out their duties and to secure legal council.

Fur Fashion Show Planned By Aid

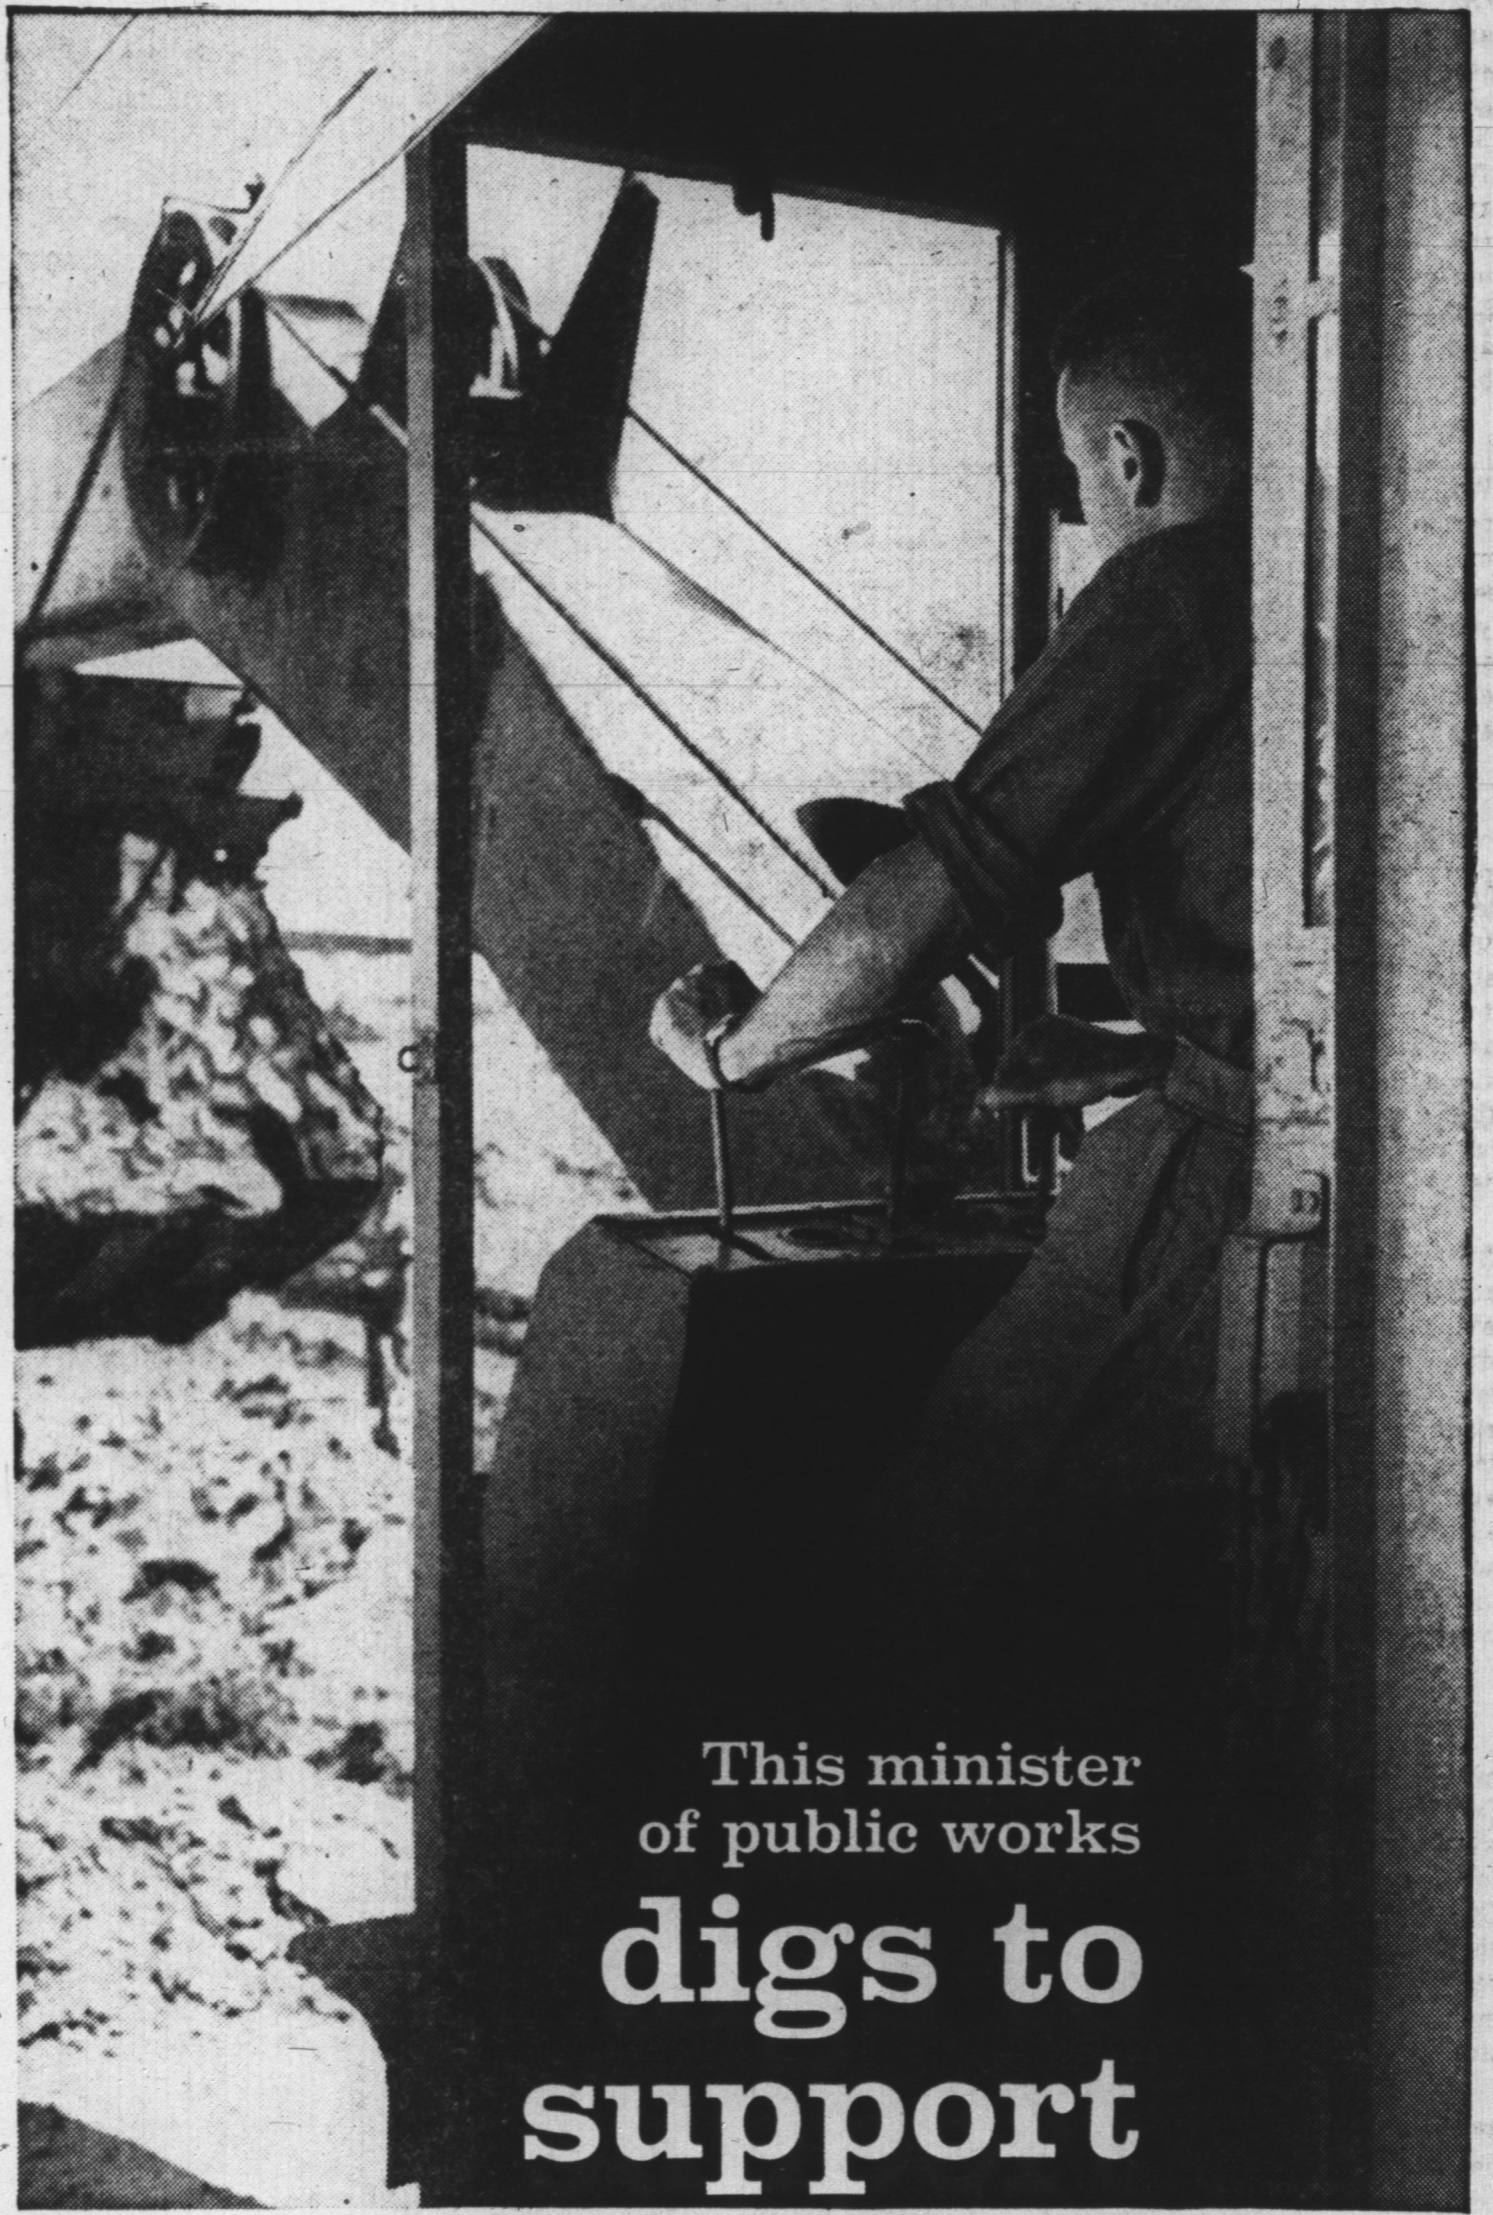

The regular monthly meeting of the Junior Ladies Aid, Prince Edward Island Hospital, was held Monday evening at the Cundall Home with the president, Mrs. George Fisher presiding.

The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer, followed by the minutes of the last meeting.

Mrs. Carl Burke reported that the League of Mercy Tea and Display was most successful and a great many useful gifts received for the hospital.

On a request from the Fur Breeders Association of P.E.I. the show will sponsor a fur fashion show and buffet supper to be held at the Charlottetown Hotel on Nov. 5th.

Following adjournment of the meeting, tea was served by Mrs. J. N. MacLeod, Mrs. M. Putnam, Mrs. Lorne Ramsay, Mrs. F. Richardson and Mrs. Sydney Stead.

This minister of public works digs to support

2 families!

One family he digs for will live in a unit of a housing project for which he is excavating the foundation. The other family is his own — and includes four children. He is a good "digger" for dollars and his wife manages them well. So their family expenditures are kept in line with the family pay cheque.

Public works cover a lot of ground. The budget of the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa is in the millions of dollars . . . and his department is only one of many.

Money for all departments of government comes through the Minister of Finance who gets it largely in taxes from Canadians such as you. When more money is spent than is collected in taxes, government must borrow from you . . . or else create new money. The creation of new money is one factor that leads to inflation . . . which means your dollar buys less and less.

The government has been spending more than you have been paying in taxes. To narrow the gap between income and expenditures, new taxes have been imposed.

The next step should be to reduce expenditures, or at least hold the line. Undertaking new commitments — adding new welfare or other services — will only make it that much more difficult to pay our way. Tell your M.P. at Ottawa that since you are trying to save, you expect government to do the same.

You also help when you save more by means of life insurance, savings deposits, and the purchase of government bonds. Your savings help to create a SOUND dollar; and this, in turn, helps to create job security for you and more jobs for other Canadians.

A SOUND DOLLAR MEANS A BETTER LIFE FOR YOU
