ADVERTISING RATES

For small advertisements which are ordered for only one or two weeks the charge is 8 cents per inch for the first insertion, and 2 cents for each continuation. Rate cards are furnished on application at the office. Special contract prices at a reduced rate are quoted for advertisements four inches in size or larger, which are to run for three months or longer.

No special notices inserted unless paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line, and under no circumstances will such paid notices appear in the local column.

Special discounts made on all advertisements connected with Church Fairs, Bazaars, Picnics, etc. No notices will be inserted with the same unless the regular rate of 10 cents per line is paid.

That THE EXAMINER is considered by our Merchants and Manufacturers to be the leading newspaper in P. E. Island, and consequently the most valuable advertising medium through which to make their announcements public, is abundantly proved by the fact that in order to accommodate our advertisers we have been compelled to enlarge the paper to its present size.

THE DAILY EXAMINER is for sale by the following agents :—

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—There is a good deal of feeling in Montreal over the outrageous attack of a mob in Quebec upon several defenceless French Baptist missionaries, and Le Monde publishes an eloquent protest. Says that paper: "It will be said, in order to belittle ye terday's acts of violence, that they were directed against former Catholics who have become Protestants. But then that would be giving Protestants the right to illuse and maltreat those of their people who have become Catholics. Were not Manning and Newman formerly Protestants? Were they, after their conversion, hunted through the streets? Were their houses ransacked? Quite the contrary took place."

—The St. John N.B. Record has the following: An interesting story comes from Moncton about the Governor-General and his estimable wife. It seems that His Excellency had arranged matters so as to meet his wife at Moncton and the two to proceed together to Halifax. Lord Aberdeen was on hand waiting anxiously to greet his wife when the train bearing Lady Aberdeen moved into the station. It had been a long time since they had met and being a loving and devoted husband, His Excellency, as soon as the train stopped, rushed into the car, pulling his little daughter after him. The great crowd of spectators on the platform strained their eyes and all watched to see how His Lordship would embrace his spouse. It was an exciting moment. Aberdeen went boldly forward, then stopped, looked out of the window, then advanced quietly, pulled down the blind, and that was the last the people of Moncton saw of the Aberdeens.

—Moncton Times: The tremendous shrinkage in the foreign trade of great Britain is shown by the following comparative half-yearly statement of the exports:

Ending June	1891	$992,000,000
" "	1892	894,000,000
" "	1893	861,750,000
" "	1894	854,000,000

The decrease in the exports alone for the full year, 1893-4, approaches three hundred million dollars, and while the import trade holds up better the figures given are sufficient to show that the prevailing depression is deeply felt in Britain.

The foreign trade of the United States has fallen off by over two hundred millions in the last year, and from almost every country comes the story of declining trade. In view of these facts the record of Canadian trade in the past five years is interesting. It is given below:

	Exports.	Imports.
1889 90	$ 96,749,000	$121,858,000
1890-1	98,417,000	119,400,000
1891-2	113,963,000	127,406,000
1892-3	118,664,000	129,074,000
1893-4	119,000,000	123,000,000

This is a record of which the people of Canada may well be proud; it is a record which no other country under the sun can show; a record of increasing trade in the face of falling values and world wide depression.

WOMAN AND TEMPERANCE.

(Contributed by the Y. W. C. T. U.)

An American orator, speaking on the temperance question in Canada some time ago, stated that "the struggle in this country is, and always has been, between license and prohibition. That was the case in the Garden of Eden, and it is so still. The devil said "Eat;" God said "Thou shalt not." Adam and Eve both obeyed the former, but things are better now. Some of the men and all of the women are for prohibition. And why should not women be active in this cause? They have taken a lively interest in it, and have nobly done their share in promoting its advancement.

"This good teetotal wagon was running rather slow,
Until the ladies lent a hand, and then it had to go;
For when they fight for God and right, it isn't worth denying They'll have their way and win the day, or else they'll die a-trying."

"In a better day than ours," says Joseph Cook, "women's temperance vote shall be to the whiskey rings what lightning is to the oak." In the meantime they work and pray, and, as appears from the following, would seek to persuade men to vote in favor of this righteous measure:

Josiah, put your slippers on,
And cease your needless chatter;
I want to have a word with you
About a little matter.

Josiah, look me in the face;
You know this world's condition,
Yet you have never cast a vote
Right out for prohibition,

I heard you on your knees last night
Ask help to keep from straying;
And now I want to know if you
Will vote as you've been praying?

You've prayed as loud as any man

While with the tide a-floatin';
Josiah, you must stop such work
And do some better votin'.

We women pray for better times
And work right hard to get 'em;
You men vote liquor with its crimes,
And we just have to take 'em.

How long, Josiah, must this be?
We look and pray 'gainst evil;
You pray all right, for what I see,
But vote just for the Devil!

There now! I've said my say, and you
Just save your ammunition,
And vote the way you've always prayed—
For total prohibition!

THE STRONG POINT about the cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla is that they are permanent. They start from the solid foundation—Pure Blood.

In the combustion of fuel for boilers it is demonstrated, though not in accordance with common supposition, that coke is better than coal, the charcoal better still for producing intense heat, because the larger percentage of carbon they contain.

American anglers on the St. Lawrence River are being compelled to pay $5 a fishing pole when used in Canadian waters. This imposition is made possible under the old Dominion law long dormant, but now resurrected.

The switchman looms up in the Chicago strike as the most dangerous factor that the railroads have to contend with in such a crisis. As the Chicago Herald says: "One efficient switchman can do more mischief to the square inch in any yard, than a mob of a hundred disorganized men, so far as stopping traffic is concerned. The switchman's duties are not learned in a day, or a month, or a year, for that matter. His labor must be classed as skilled labor. In Chicago there are several schools for the instruction of switchmen, and if an applicant for employment on a railroad cannot pass the examinations of these schools, his chances of being engaged are slight. Some of the men highest in railroad councils to-day began as switchmen. One for instance, is Marvin Hughitt, President of the Northwestern. 'A man of ordinary intelligence never learns to be a good switchman,' said one of the fraternity, 'he's got to have a head made for it.'"

The new German method of coating aluminium with other metals is regarded as of decided mechanical and industrial value. The process consists simply in dipping the aluminium in a solution of caustic potash or soda, or of hydrochloric acid, until bubbles of gas make their appearance on its surface, at which stage it is dipped in a solution of corrosive sublimate to amalgamate its surface. After a second dipping into caustic potash until bubbles of gas are evolved, the metal is placed in a solution of a salt of the desired metal; a film of the latter is rapidly formed, and is so firmly adherent that, in the case of silver, gold or copper, the plate can be rolled out or polished, the appearance being of a most satisfactory character. When coating with gold or copper, it is an advantage first to apply a layer of silver, and, thus treated, the aluminium may be soldered with ordinary zinc solder,

A pronounced feature of recent railway projects and construction in the South is the large number of small lines placed under way. Short lines developing coal and timber sections or bringing rich agricultural territory into connection with the city markets are being started on all sides. Many of these lines are intended as feeders to larger roads, while others are built with a view to gradual extension.—Manufacturer's Record.
