Earl Of Athlone Buried Saturday

WINDSOR, England (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth and 24 other members of the Royal Family attended the military funeral here Saturday of the Earl of Athlone. The earl, great uncle of the Queen and a former governor-general of Canada and South Africa, was buried in St. George's Chapel, within the precincts of Windsor Castle. Representatives of Commonwealth governments and foreign royalty were among the many mourners. The coffin was brought by special train from London to Windsor and given a military guard of honor through the streets of the town. As a gun carriage bearing the earl's coffin moved up Castle Hill a 15-gun salute boomed out from Windsor Castle of which he had been constable and governor. On the coffin rested one wreath from his widow Princess Alice, and the earl's helmet. Windsor's streets were crowded with people paying their last respects to the revered soldier and administrator, who died Wednesday at the age of 82.

Mark Eisenhower Inauguration With Pomp, Ceremony Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the formal elegance of the White House East Room, Dwight D. Eisenhower took the presidential oath Sunday and embarked on the second term of an administration beset by troubled peace but blessed with prosperity. He was sworn into office for another four years by Chief Justice Earl Warren, immediately preceding him, in the same place, Vice-President Nixon took the oath from Senate Republican Leader William Knowland in California. By tradition, the vice-president is sworn in first. The three-minute ceremony, held in the privacy of the White House because inauguration day fell on Sunday, was over by 10:29 a.m. EST (8:29 a.m. MST) well in advance of the noon expiration of Eisenhower's first term. Today there will be a re-act in front of the United States Capitol, in person, and millions peering over their shoulder through the eyes of television. This second run may be anticlimatic, after a fashion. But it will be bigger, more colossal by far than Sunday's ceremony. For today's event will be splashed with all the pomp and pageantry that normally accompany a presidential inauguration. Executive members elected were: R. F. Bask, Oshawa; F. W. Arnold, Campbellford; Ont., J. B. Lemoine, Montreal, and S. G. Lowmy, Almonte, Ont.

AEC Reveals New Russian Nuclear Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission Sunday announced a new Russian nuclear weapons test. The agency said this resumes a testing program which the Russians began last August. Chairman Lewis L. Strauss issued this statement: "The Soviet yesterday conducted another nuclear weapons test in their current series which has resumed since the announcement of a Soviet test was made by the United States on Nov. 17, 1956." On Nov. 17 the AEC said it had detected an explosion in Soviet territory within the range of their previous nuclear detonations. "The commission had said earlier that a Soviet test in August involved a device 'with a yield of less than one megaton.' A megaton is the equivalent of the explosive force of 1,000,000 tons of TNT. Sunday's announcement was the 16th by the United States of a Soviet atomic test. It was the fourth announcement since Aug. 26 when the start of the current Russian test series two days earlier was reported. In one of these announcements, President Eisenhower told a press conference on Aug. 31 that he had a 'memorandum that there was another large test' a day earlier.

British Aid To Jordan Is Replaced By Arab Nations

CAIRO (Reuters)—Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria Saturday agreed to supply Jordan with £12,500,000 Egyptian ($35,875,000) a year for 10 years to replace her annual subsidy from Britain. "Our next step," said Jordanian premier Suleiman Nabulsi, "is to approach Britain for negotiations and discussions to terminate the Anglo-Jordanian treaty. We are going to do this as soon as possible." By terms of the treaty, Britain gives Jordan a subsidy in exchange for the use of military bases in Jordan. Nabulsi made it clear Jordan had no intention of accepting a subsidy from the United States as a substitute. "It is not a question of replacing a subsidy by a subsidy," he said. "We do not want it from a foreign source. It would then be a question of exchanging one master for another." The agreement to take over the subsidy from Britain followed two days of talks among Egyptian President Nasser, King Saud of Saudi Arabia, King Hussein of Jordan, Syrian Premier Sabri El Assali and other officials from the four countries concerned. Egypt and Saudi Arabia each agreed to supply £5,000,000 of the amount, and Syria the remaining £2,500,000. They said the agreement would stand for 10 years, after which it will be automatically renewed unless one of the four signatories gave one year's notice that it wished to terminate the pact. The aid will be made available to Jordan as of next March when the new Jordanian budget is drawn up.

VOTERS FOLLOW RED ORDERS

Polish Gov't Re-elected

WARSAW (AP) — Polish voters soberly endorsed Wladyslaw Gomulka's policy of "Communism without tyranny" in an apparently overwhelming margin Sunday. The endorsement came in the election of a new 459-member Parliament which assures him continued control. A warning from Gomulka that a Communist defeat would mean "crossing Poland off the map of Europe," got-out-the-vote appeals from the Roman Catholic church and fear of Soviet intervention in the third Polish election since the war. It was just three months ago that a wave of unrest ousted Stalins from Poland's Politburo and put Gomulka's independence minded Reds in the driver's seat. Independent reports from across the county showed a great majority of the 17,500,000 eligibles turned out and that most "voted the list," filling the National Front's single ticket of Communists and boxes without alteration. That meant Gomulka's United Workers party, which controls 273 of the 425 seats in the present parliament, will continue to run things. Among the total of 722 candidates — Communists, Democrats and United Peasants — the Communists will come out with the lion's share. Final official results are expected by Tuesday. REDS TOP LIST The list in each district was topped by Communists. Their

SAUD GOES TO U. S.

After the agreement was signed King Saud left by air for Naples, to board the liner Constitution for a state visit to the United States. In Naples, King Saud told reporters he was going to the U. S. "to have an exchange of ideas on every subject which might help to strengthen peace in the world." "Among my objects," he said, "is also that of expressing the desires and feelings of all Arabs and of discussing their affairs and problems, so that the American people can have understanding and knowledge of them." Nabulsi, asked if King Saud would represent the Arab viewpoint in his talks with President Eisenhower, explained: "King Saud will be asked his viewpoint. During the discussion, he heard our viewpoint and if asked he will be in a position to represent it." Poznan, centre of the June freedom riots which sped the end of Stalinism in Poland, voted calmly. A check in one station showed six out of 10 persons used the booth to choose six candidates from a 10-man list. Here, however, there apparently was no threat to Communist leadership. The leading candidates were Defence Minister Marian Spychalski and Education Minister Wladyslaw Bienkowski. Both spent years in jail with Gomulka.

Plan United Nations Troops To Take Over In Gaza Strip

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (CP) The United Nations General Assembly called on Israel Saturday to pull out of Egypt and gave Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold five days to work out arrangements for the withdrawal. The delegates emphatically stated in numerous speeches they meant for Israel to withdraw from the hot spots of the Gaza Strip and the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba. But they also made it clear they believed Hammarskjold should deploy units of the UN Emergency Force in those areas until a permanent settlement can be worked out. The assembly concluded three days of debate by voting 74 to 2 for an Asia-African bloc resolution supported by the United States, Canada and Britain. France broke away from Britain, its partner in the invasion of Egypt, and stood alone with Israel against the resolution. Cuba and Costa Rica abstained. Hungary and South Africa, boycotting the assembly, were absent.

REGRET AND CONCERN

The resolution noted with "regret and concern" that Israel had not complied with four previous assembly resolutions to withdraw from Egypt. It requested the secretary-general to continue his efforts to obtain this withdrawal and report within five days. Delegates said later they construed this provision to mean that Hammarskjold should try to get Israel out of Egypt by Thursday midnight. Israel's delegate, Abba Eban, complained to the assembly in the debate that this time limit would not permit a final clarification of the situation. He reiterated Israel's views that the Gaza Strip and the Sharm El Sheikh entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba must be held until a definite and permanent solution is found so that Egypt would not threaten Israel again.

THREE MAIN POINTS

Hammarskjold arranged with Eban for a conference Sunday afternoon to go into the situation. Israeli sources said the talks would hinge around these three points, all listed by Eban in his speech to the assembly: 1. A discussion of the Security Council resolution of 1951 calling on Egypt to keep the Suez Canal open to all countries. Egypt refused to obey the resolution on the grounds she is at war with Israel but Israel demanded Saturday that Egypt must comply with such resolutions if Egypt expects Israel to comply with UN decisions. 2. Reciprocal duties of Israel and Egypt—in other words, each country carry out what it expects the other country to do. 3. A definite role for the UN Emergency Force — how long would it stay on the armistice line between Egypt and Israel as well as in the key points of Gaza and Sharm El Sheikh if indeed it is deployed there.

ISRAEL POSITION

Eban wound up Israel's case with the statement to the assembly that there is nothing complicated about it. He said Israel must have guarantees and said that delegates of France, Belgium, Costa Rica and the Republic of Ireland appeared to share the view there must not be unilateral action. He said Israel will have evacuated 30,000 square miles of Egyptian territory by next Tuesday if the committee in the resolution that Israel has failed to comply with assembly resolutions. He said if the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba had been evacuated and Egypt had gone back in, there would have been a renewal of the blockade by Egyptian ships and this would lead to war. On the Gaza Strip, he reiterated the Israeli stand that its future must be discussed and a withdrawal of Israeli forces could be part of a settlement.

EGYPTIAN POSITION

Mahmoud Fawzi, foreign minister of Egypt, whose request for an assembly debate on the withdrawal of Israel precipitated the latest round of talk, said the issue before the assembly is clear—Israel must withdraw from territory "it took by aggression." Guilleumes Georges — Plect of France called unjust and unfair any demand that Israel withdraw completely from Egypt without assurance that Egypt will comply with UN resolutions. He referred to the Suez Canal and said Egypt had blocked it with wreckage and refused permission for clearance until the British and French withdrew. He joined Eban in asking for compliance with the 1951 Security Council resolution. Fawzi replied that Georges-Plect was "shedding crocodile tears" about the Suez Canal and asked whether the French delegates had fought for the canal was destroyed by what Fawzi said was the "aggression of Britain, France and Israel."

12 German Fliers Arrive To Study Latest Jet Techniques

MONTREAL (CP) — Twelve German fliers who fought the Allies during the Second World War arrived in Canada Saturday to be brought up to date on the latest Canadian jet techniques. The German officers will spend at least six months in Canada learning to fly Canadian-made Sabre-6 jet planes. The recently formed German air command is buying 225 of the jets. Their Canadian training program will take the fliers first to London, Ont., and from there to Portage La Prairie, Man., and Centralia, Ont., or Moose Jaw, Sask. Three more officers will begin training in two weeks and 345 German cadets will arrive in the fall. After training, they will form the nucleus of the new German air force. The oldest member of the advance group is Capt. Carl-Heinz Koch, 41, who spent 5 1/2 years in Canada as a prisoner during the Second World War. "I'm sure I'll enjoy this stay more than the last one," he smilingly told reporters at a press conference.

EDMONTON (CP) — Hon. George Frudham, minister of mines and technical surveys and the only Alberta member of the federal cabinet, announced Saturday he will not be a candidate in the next general election. Andre M. The nominating convention will be held Feb. 19. Mr. Frudham said he will continue as a member of the federal cabinet until the end of the present Parliament. First Bodies Are Brought Out Of No. 4 Mine At Springhill

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (CP) — Sweating coal miners Sunday began the tortuous work of carrying 26 dead comrades from their 11-week-old tomb in the Cumberland Coal Company's No. 4 mine. The body of Avard Glennie was the first to be taken from the mine in which he and 35 others died following a Nov. 1 explosion. The bodies of Victor Millard, Logan Milton and William Tower were close behind. "It's difficult to say how long it will take to bring all 26 up," mine superintendent William Campbell said. Corpses were removed from the steep, rubble-filled mine slopes, identified, sealed in steel caskets, and taken to the Springhill armories where rows of pale wooden coffins waited. "We're particularly interested in finding the hot spots that may remain," he said. Fresh air could fan a live spark into a new fire. WILL REOPEN Stellarton draegercrews said No. 4 is cool and comparatively free of smoke and gas although undetectable carbon monoxide and methane gases had to be forced from the shaft before hauled miners and company and government officials could enter. "There is air on the main slope but some side passages haven't been cleared yet," Mr. Campbell said. "Doctors and miners went to the 570-foot level early today. The air is pretty good and the temperature about 70 degrees." Over the weekend, army trucks lugged off sined, rotted and foul-smelling blankets, stretchers and canvas-covered oxygen tanks left in the mine as the last men were rescued in November. Superintendent Campbell, Mr. Gordon and others worked shifts up to 18 hours long, surveying blasted sections and insuring the safety of miners going in to bring out bodies. Mr. Delaney said Sunday the explosion's wracked mine will be "definitely re-opened" for production after it is cleared and aired and a royal commission inquiry opens Feb. 11 is completed. Certain safety recommendations will be made at the inquiry after we examine the mine but it will be re-opened," he said. Mr. Brown said eighteen inches
