Presentation To Doctor And Wife At New Glasgow

A most pleasant function was held on Friday night, September 23rd at the New Glasgow Christian Church parsonage when the people of New Glasgow were hosts to a newly married couple, Dr. and Mrs. Ian MacMillan, who recently established themselves in this district. The chairman was Mr. Herbert Stevenson who also acted as master of ceremonies. After explaining the purpose of the gift, he presented a few well-chosen words, he called upon the resident minister, Reverend Mr. Briar Jones, to read an address of welcome to the newlyweds. During the reading of the address, a presentation of a gift of money from the community of New Glasgow was made by Mrs. Morton Larkin.
Dr. and Mrs. MacMillan expressed their deep appreciation of the hospitality accorded to them by the fine people of New Glasgow since their arrival in the district, and graciously thanked them for their many acts of kindness. Both expressed their sincere appreciation and thanks for the generous gift presented to them by the community and assured them that they were greatly benefited by the gift. All then joined in singing "For they are jolly good fellows".
The chairman next called upon members of the gathering for a few remarks. Those expressing their pleasure at having a doctor and his wife settled in their midst were Messrs. J.S. Edwards, C.S. Dingwell, George Dickieson, and Mrs. Blair Andrew.
With Mrs. George Dickieson capably presiding at the piano an enjoyable singing followed and the evening was brought to a close by Rev. Herbert Stevenson and by the doctor's wife. At the conclusion of the entertainment, delicious refreshments served by the ladies were enjoyed by all.
Guests present from Charlottetown for the occasion were the doctor's parents, Professor and Mrs. J. MacMillan, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McCall.
The following is the address so graciously read to the doctor and his wife by Reverend Mr. Jones: "Dear Dr. and Mrs. MacMillan: A few months ago, people of New Glasgow and surrounding communities met at Cavendish to welcome the 'new' doctor. Once again we are assembled, but this time it is to welcome you both to New Glasgow where you have taken up residence.
Since we have the good fortune of having you in our midst, we should like to be the first district to extend to you our sincere good wishes for your future happiness, and to express the hope that you will live among us for many enjoyable years.
Because you are an 'Island' boy, Dr. Ian, and because your father has taught many of the sons and daughters of this community at Prince of Wales College for some years past, we feel that we know you from the beginning. Your lovely wife, although somewhat a stranger at first, has quickly become the new wife we've endeared herself to us. We assure you too, Barbara, of a warm place in our hearts.
Although we have no intention of becoming ill, we know that if we should, we shall receive the best medical care possible, for we are convinced that you are both well trained and qualified to serve us in this regard.
At this time, Dr. and Mrs. MacMillan, we ask you to accept this gift. It is only a token of our esteem for you both, and we offer it to you as a tangible expression of the sincere and cordial welcome we wish to accord you. With this gift of money you may purchase some desired article as a memento from the New Glasgow people. It is signed on behalf of the New Glasgow citizens.

In Memoriam

MRS. STEWART G. INMAN
The residents of Victoria and surrounding districts let a tear with regret of the sudden and unexpected passing at the Prince Edward Island Hospital of Annie Matilda, wife of Stewart G. Inman, Victoria, on Tuesday morning, September 20th, 1955, after an illness of only ten days.
The late Mrs. Inman was born at Nine Mile Creek on June 13, 1890, the eldest daughter of the late Allan and Sarah MacDougall. She was married on September 5, 1923 and had celebrated their Silver Wedding Anniversary in 1948. She had a host of friends both at home and abroad who cherish her memory for the many charitable deeds and proverbial hospitality and goodwill to all.
She is survived by her husband, two sisters, Mrs. John J. MacLeod, Breadalbane and Mrs. Dan Matheson, Emerald, also one brother, Edmund MacDougall, Inkerman. Another brother, Herbert, predeceased her several years ago.
She was a faithful member of DeSable Church of Scotland and took an active part in church and community work and through the years gave a real home to two orphan children. Her good works live after her.
The funeral which was very largely attended took place from her late residence on September 22nd. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Reverend J. H. Bishop, assisted by Rev. C. Graham and Rev. R. H. Baxter. The L.O.B.A. service was conducted by Mrs. William Callbeck, assisted by members of other lodges in the district. Hymns sung were "The Lord's My Shepherd" and "O God of Bethel". Interment was in the family plot in New Dominion Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Keith Boswell, Frank Myers, Fred Inman, Emmerson MacDonald, John D. MacPhail and James Campbell. The beautiful floral tributes were borne by Messrs. Elmer Inman, Stirling Inman, Bruce MacDougall, John Matheson, Alexander Morrison, Milford Buchanan, Donald Matheson and George MacLeod.

Health Department Plans For Immunization Week

During this week when the Health League of Canada is holding its 13th National Immunization Week in co-operation with Departments of Health throughout Canada, every effort is being made to point out to parents how the communicable diseases which maimed and killed thousands of children in the past, may be prevented.
Although the Department of Health of Prince Edward Island is not planning on conducting any large scale immunization programme throughout the province until next Spring, it urges parents with young children who haven't been protected against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus, to have the inoculations started this week by the family doctor. Because of the high mortality from whooping cough in the first six months of life, inoculations would commence at three months of age. Furthermore, the Health Department recommends that four inoculations be given in the initial series - the first three inoculations one month apart and the fourth about 3-6 months later. It also advises that it is important to have these followed by a re-inforcing dose every year until school age to keep up immunity.
Last year there were hundreds of cases of whooping cough in our Province and four deaths. If parents would conscientiously see that their young children are protected early in life and receive regular booster doses, the hazards of whooping cough would be greatly reduced.
At the Health Centres in Charlottetown and Summerside this week, immunization clinics will be held on Friday afternoon. Next month there will be a few rural clinics conducted. These will be only for a 4th dose for the youngsters who started their triple protection this Spring and for those due for a re-inforcing dose after a year. The parents concerned will be notified by postcard.

Condition Of

reported among those in the president's family opposed to him running again, today moved into a room across the hall from the president's sick bed at the army hospital.
NIXON IN CHARGE
Dr. Paul Dudley White, eminent heart specialist, from the Massachusetts General Hospital, flew here by plane from Boston to join the growing team of physicians in attendance.
Others attending the president include Maj.-Gen. Howard M. Snyder, Eisenhower's personal physician, and Col. George M. Powell, chief of the medical department at Fitzsimons Hospital.
Vice-president Richard Nixon, who would succeed to the presidency in the event of Eisenhower's death in office, remained in Washington where he was kept fully informed of the president's condition.
Messages of sympathy came from many countries. Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother, sent her "warmest good wishes" for the president's "speedy recovery" and Prime Minister Eden said he was "most deeply distressed."
The Pope said a prayer for Eisenhower at his summer residence in Castel Gandolfo, Italy.
All Eisenhower's appointments this week were cancelled. But in Washington Vice President Nixon said Sunday "the business of government will go on as usual without any delay because of President Eisenhower's temporary absence."
He explained to newspaper men that "the president has set up what he called the 'Dodge' cabinet" and his policies, which are well defined, will be carried out during his absence.
Eisenhower's press secretary, James Hagerty, said the president's diet has consisted almost entirely of fruit juices since his heart attack which occurred about 2:45 a.m. Saturday.
He has been in an oxygen tent constantly, Hagerty said, however, that physicians assured him that his condition was "routine" in the treatment of heart attacks and was intended to permit him to rest fully by making his breathing as easy as possible.
The president was "awake several times during the night," Hagerty said. He said he did not know whether Eisenhower was "in any pain."

Shower At Marshfield

On August 29th a bridal shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Gibson, Marshfield, when about 75 guests from the surrounding communities gathered to honour their daughter June, whose marriage has since taken place.
The bride entered the nicely decorated living room accompanied by her friend Mrs. Winston Stewart and the music of the Bridal March played by Miss Betty Foster.
The Misses Iris Frizzell, Lona Scott, Jo Ann Lilly, Jane Wood and Irene Dennis opened the many beautiful gifts while Miss Betty Foster read the accompanying verses.
After "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow", June thanked all for their gifts and good wishes. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and friendly conversation. The ladies served lunch and brought a pleasant evening to a close.
All the guests left the shower wishing June a long and happy married life.

Expect Sinclair

He said 16 Russian doctors and specialists in neuro-pathology, who attended Mr. Sinclair, said there is a good chance he will completely recover, but it will take some time.
WORN AND TIRED
Mr. Sinclair, worn and tired after a long flight from Tokyo to Vancouver, did not attend the press conference, held Sunday morning.
He stumbled and almost fell as he stepped out of the Canadian Pacific Airlines plane. But, clutching a cane and limping badly, he made his way down the ramp stairs. He was whisked away to his home.
Mr. Fraser said the accident in Petropavlosk occurred during an inspection tour of a drydock. The touring party of eight were standing on a platform leading from a scaffolding to a trawler when it collapsed dropping them 18 feet to the ground.
Mr. Sinclair was the most severely injured. He landed on his heels and jarred his spine. He was also hit by falling debris.
"The Russians flew specialists 7,000 miles from Moscow to treat the 'inlist', he said. "We were overwhelmed by the generosity and kindness of the Russians."
POOR COMMUNICATIONS
However, communications between the city of 50,000 population, isolated on Siberia's Kamchatka peninsula and the outside world, was almost impossible.

NEW HAVEN B. I.

The September meeting of the New Haven B. I. was held with Mrs. Alton Newman as hostess. The meeting opened with the Institute Ode and repeating the creed. Roll call was responded to by 14 members with a dime and amounted to $1.30.
The minutes of the last meeting were read and new business was discussed. It was moved and seconded that we have someone to complete the painting of the inside of the school.
Reports of the committees were then heard. Sick committee reported one treat sent. School reported toilet paper had been bought at the store. Appointment of new committees: School, Mrs. Louis Darrach and Mrs. Stanley Newman. Correspondence was read and included a letter of appreciation from Miss Robin.
A letter from B. J. O'Meara regarding defraying expenses of each child's dental care. It was decided that each child pay his or her own expenses. It was decided to get four bottles of capsules. It was moved and seconded that Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald see about getting the sign ready for the school, also to get a flag pole.
The next meeting is at the home of Mrs. Brewer Boyle. Roll call to be answered with a white elephant sale to the value of 25 cents. Collection for evening amounted to $1.25.
The meeting closed after which a social evening was spent with several piano selections by Mrs. Stanley Newman. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Best Milk Consumption Record Held By Windsor

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) - Residents of this busy motor city, claimed to have the warmest climate east of the Prairies, have become Canada's biggest milk drinkers.
Average milk consumption here during the first six months of 1955 was 65 quarts a head, according to a survey by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. In Winnipeg the figure was 60 quarts, and in Montreal less than 50 quarts.
Local dairies say the healthy thirst of hard-working factory employees is by no means the biggest factor in this development. They say the city's lactic record is due primarily to Windsor's co-operative school milk system.
SMALLER BOTTLES
Under this plan, worked out by all city milk companies, local deliverymen sell tickets at four and a quarter cents each on their home routes, redeemable at schools for seven-ounce bottles of milk. They are accepted by whichever dairy serves the school concerned.
The program, now in operation 15 years, covers most schools in the city. Schools which do not participate can get only the standard half-pint bottles, considered too large for many children.
In addition to tickets purchased by parents, 23,000 tickets are issued each year by the Windsor Nutrition Council. Last year 350 pupils received milk on these tickets.
These represent only a fraction of the 6,000 children now supplied on the school ticket system. More than 170,000 tickets, representing $31,000 worth of milk, were used during last year.

West Germany

ing markets and not merely wait for prospects in traditional markets to improve.
TRADE PATTERN CHANGES
From 1950 to last March, Britain's share in world exports of manufactured products fell six per cent while the West German share rose eight per cent. These were the two big changes in the pattern of trade and the rising West German share was much more at Britain's expense than that of the United States, the report said.
West Germany's biggest gain was in exports to western Europe. But to all other main areas—even to the rest of the sterling area—her increase was larger than Britain's.
Vacationers Honored
On Friday September 16 a very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walker, Sherwood, in honour of Miss Marjorie Walker and Miss Mary Myers, who are home on vacation from Toronto.
The evening was spent in dancing and watching T.V. The music was supplied by Preston Walker and Mr. O'Shea.
Lunch was served by Mrs. E. Walker, Mrs. E. Chandler and Mrs. Sheldon Walker.

Mr. Fraser said the minister's visit to Red China was only an expedient to getting back to Canada via a shorter route.
Mr. Sinclair was scheduled to leave Vancouver Sunday night for Ottawa by train where he will report to Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Green Crab Invasion Worries N.S. Fishermen

HALIFAX (CP) - An invasion of Nova Scotia is causing the fisheries research board of Canada grave concern.
The enemy is the green crab which is menacing the clam population of this province. "Carcinus maenas" is moving in and scientists of the Atlantic biological station at St. Andrews, N. B., appealed today to fishermen and others to report any sightings.
The latest communique from the station says the crab now "occupies both the Nova Scotia and the New Brunswick side of the Bay of Fundy and last year there was evidence from Wedgeport that it is rounding the southwestern tip of Nova Scotia and spreading eastward along the outer coast."
"It is increasing rapidly in this area and young molluscan shellfish are its favorite food. Wherever it has appeared it has attacked clam stocks and in some cases practically wiped them out."
SEEK CONTROL METHOD
While searching for some means of control, the fisheries research board is trying to keep up to date on its spread. Little is known about its food habits or what the results would be if it pushed its way into other clam areas or into oyster areas like the Bras d'Or lakes and the southern Gulf of St. Lawrence.
The green crab usually measures two to three inches across the shell and on first sight is often mistaken for one of the two species of rock crabs commonly seen along our shores and taken in lobster traps. But rock crabs ordinarily grow to five to six inches across the shell.

Home Building Seen On Way To New Record

MONTREAL, (CP) - Housing construction in Canada is on the way to another record that is putting money into the pockets of an ever-increasing number of Canadians, says the Bank of Montreal in its current business review.
There is a "remarkable increase" of 20 per cent in housing units started in the first half of 1955 says the review. There were 58,000 homes started in the first six months and this figure was "well ahead" of the corresponding period of 1954, itself a record.
"On the basis of this performance it would not be surprising if housing starts for the year as a whole were to reach or even exceed the unprecedented figure of 120,000."
The Review described the housing boom as "a prime stimulus to the Canadian economy."
It attributed the demand for housing since the war to the high rate of marriages and a backlog of residential requirements that accumulated during the war.
The total value of non-arm residential mortgage credit outstanding has risen to about $4,000,000,000 from $700,000,000 between 1945 and 1954, the review said.
There is little evidence to indicate that borrowers have over-extended themselves in their commitments.
"An analysis by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation shows the average income of home-owners borrowing under the National Housing Act in 1954 was $5,464, while the combined monthly payment of mortgage principal and interest and municipal taxes has remained less than 20 per cent of earnings."

Best Milk Consumption Record Held By Windsor

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) - Residents of this busy motor city, claimed to have the warmest climate east of the Prairies, have become Canada's biggest milk drinkers.
Average milk consumption here during the first six months of 1955 was 65 quarts a head, according to a survey by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. In Winnipeg the figure was 60 quarts, and in Montreal less than 50 quarts.
Local dairies say the healthy thirst of hard-working factory employees is by no means the biggest factor in this development. They say the city's lactic record is due primarily to Windsor's co-operative school milk system.
SMALLER BOTTLES
Under this plan, worked out by all city milk companies, local deliverymen sell tickets at four and a quarter cents each on their home routes, redeemable at schools for seven-ounce bottles of milk. They are accepted by whichever dairy serves the school concerned.
The program, now in operation 15 years, covers most schools in the city. Schools which do not participate can get only the standard half-pint bottles, considered too large for many children.
In addition to tickets purchased by parents, 23,000 tickets are issued each year by the Windsor Nutrition Council. Last year 350 pupils received milk on these tickets.
These represent only a fraction of the 6,000 children now supplied on the school ticket system. More than 170,000 tickets, representing $31,000 worth of milk, were used during last year.

West Germany

ing markets and not merely wait for prospects in traditional markets to improve.
TRADE PATTERN CHANGES
From 1950 to last March, Britain's share in world exports of manufactured products fell six per cent while the West German share rose eight per cent. These were the two big changes in the pattern of trade and the rising West German share was much more at Britain's expense than that of the United States, the report said.
West Germany's biggest gain was in exports to western Europe. But to all other main areas—even to the rest of the sterling area—her increase was larger than Britain's.
Vacationers Honored
On Friday September 16 a very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walker, Sherwood, in honour of Miss Marjorie Walker and Miss Mary Myers, who are home on vacation from Toronto.
The evening was spent in dancing and watching T.V. The music was supplied by Preston Walker and Mr. O'Shea.
