

Better English

By D. C. Williams

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "You act as if I was your wemy, when really both I and my wrother are your friends."

2. What is the correct pronunciation of "ghoul"?

3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Dormitory, dizziness, lissertation, disencumber.

4. What does the word "counter-act" mean?

5. What is a word beginning with sol that means "full of desire"?

ANSWERS

1. Say, "You act as if I were your enemy, when really both my brother and I are your friends." Pronounce as you would say "wemy." 2. To frustrate by contrary agency. "The effect of the narcotic was counteracted by forced exercise." 3. Sollicitous.

Cook's Corner

TENDER BISCUITS

2 cups sifted flour, 3 tablespoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, 2 1/2 to 3 cup milk.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Add milk to make soft dough. Turn out on floured board and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out to 1/2-inch thickness. Cut with floured biscuit cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450 degrees F) 10 to 12 minutes. Yield: About 1 dozen biscuits.

Honey Buns—Prepare biscuit dough according to above recipe. Roll in oblong and spread with honey. Sprinkle with chopped nuts and with cinnamon if desired. Roll lengthwise and slice with wet sharp knife. Arrange slices close together in well greased pie pan, and bake in hot oven (450 degrees F) about 15 minutes. Turn out of pan at once.

Coronation Pageant

REGALIA BEARER

He carries the sceptre with the dove, "the rod of equality and mercy." The Queen takes it in her left hand just before the crowning. Colors: Robe—crimson with ermine edge. Jacket—red. Trousers—blue.

ELLEN'S DIARY

By An Island Farmer's Wife

Where, these days, we sometimes wonder, is the former sunny blue of Maytime skies? It is of course, "right behind the gray." Nevertheless, after a continued spell of damp and sunless weather we become impatient and long for its return. This morning, we turned to the calendar, hoping to find some assurance in the changes of moon which might point us to a sign of clearing.

"Ellen," a visitor at the time chuckled, "you might as well look under that stove! You know as well as I do that this time of year or any time for that matter, if we're in for a spell of dampness, well, moon or stars or winds or anything else is going to stop it." I do wish, he sighed, "I had that field sowed; it was all ready, and now the land will need another harrowing."

"But never mind, Ellen," he smiled, "the weather'll clear one of these times, and we'll forget that it has been backward." In August the chances are we'll be down on our knees begging for just such moisture as we've been getting these days, and hoping would cease. It's a good thing, Ellen," he offered, "such things are left in the Hands of Providence and not to the like of you or me!"

Quietly over-hung is this night. And James, whom the twilight returned to us and now abed with his thoughts in a room across the hall calls: "Did you happen to hear tonight's weather forecast, Ellen? We should soon get a spell of clearing." I'm thinking, "he offers, "it will be a fairly cool bed outdoors for the cattle we let to pasture today; I guess we should have stabled them a few days more." This, he meant—some young stock—the cows-to-be and the feeders, that now make a pretty pastoral, as do all pasturing herds and flocks against the new green of their meadows.

On his arrival, James took note of our current interest—a piece of needlework.

"Making a dress for yourself, Ellen?" he queried.

"Only turning a hem," we replied, watching our stitches. He shook his head.

"I wouldn't say there'd be much time now to give to such frivolities," he observed, hanging up jacket and cap and coming to the comfort of the armchair.

"No," he continued, "not 'the way things are at present. I don't see how you'd have the heart for it—decorating yourself as it were, and we with not one seed in the ground!" He sighed, "I'm afraid at the pace we're setting we won't have the crop in by midsummer!" All day the clouds rested darkly on the hilltops, misting damply the fields . . . all day, and still shadowed are the skies of tonight. Remindful, we think, of the sorrows and concerns that fall to weigh heavily on the spirits of humans sometimes, to torment and distress. And yet we remember that no matter how dreary and dark is our spell of shadows, at length heralded by a star of morning a new dawn of promise will break . . . to put "a new song" on folks' lips, to rekindle dying embers of hope on the hearthstone of heart.

Ah "I'm thinking, Ellen," a voice breaks our silence, "you won't be so bright in the morning!" Until tomorrow . . . Diary . . . Good-night . . .

The fan-tracered roof of the Henry VII Chapel in Westminster Abbey is one of the world's architectural gems.

Canadian Garden Service

By Gordon Lindsay Smith

Tender and Crisp—There's just one little secret about how to get tender, crisp vegetables—grow them fast. The quicker we can get them to eating size or maturity, the tenderer they will be and the sooner they go on the table or in the pot after that, so much the better. With certain things like green peas, garden corn, baby carrots and beets, there is all the difference in the world if they are really fresh.

But the main thing is quick growth, especially for those vegetables of which the roots or tops are eaten. Any check in growth, is bound to produce a certain woodiness or at least toughness. The expert gardener makes sure there is no check whatever by keeping the soil cultivated, enriched with the necessary fertilizer, and watering in dry spells if he can possibly manage it. He will also thin properly when the plants are small so there is no crowding and twisting in the rows. Finally he will use those vegetables when they are at the very peak of their flavour, and by successive sowings, say two to three weeks apart he will make sure that there is always a fresh batch coming on. Once past their maturity most vegetables lose flavour and become tougher.

Easy When It's Hot—There is probably no danger for a while yet but when the real summer heat commences one should make a few changes in the regular lawn care. Grass is a cool and moist loving plant and in most parts of Canada it is not likely to get that sort of weather in July and August. It won't make much growth when the thermometer goes much above 75. In consequence one should cut less often in hot weather and also set the mower higher. And even if we remove the clippings earlier in the spring it is a good plan to let them lie where they fall in the summer. They will make a mulch which with the longer grass will protect the roots from the burning sun. Early summer when the nights get fairly warm is the best time to apply the chemical weed killers. Used with reasonable care it is amazing how they will wipe out most broad leaved weeds. One should cover the whole lawn but one must be careful to miss any flowers or shrubbery because these sprays will seriously damage if not kill them. For a real job one should always repeat the spraying in about three weeks to a month's time. This second application will catch those weeds which have sprouted from seed since the first treatment. It is best to keep one sprayer for this weed killing business only, otherwise one must be most careful to wash machine and nozzle thoroughly before using for any other purpose.

Watering—Watering will probably be necessary in July and August. Here a lot of mistakes are made by those unfamiliar with the likes and dislikes of grass and other plants. One thorough soaking, that will take the moisture down a couple of inches is worth a dozen sprinklings and it will last for some time. Sprinkling never gets the moisture down more than a fraction of an inch and the roots must come up to the surface to get it, thus exposing themselves more and more to drying and killing by heat and sun. Heavy soaking, however, does not mean turning the nozzles on full blast. The nearer we get to a fine mist the better.

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. What is the proper way to eat spaghetti or macaroni when it is served Italian style?

A. It is probably better to avoid embarrassment or mishap by breaking it with the fork, unless you are very dexterous and thoroughly experienced in the Italian manner of eating.

Q. If a girl who is going to be married does not have a father or a brother to give her away, whom can she choose to perform this rite?

A. If she has no other close male relative, then she may choose a male friend of the family.

Q. What should a girl do or say when she has completed a dance with a young man and he thanks her?

A. A nod, accompanied by a smile, is sufficient.

Riviere du Loup was so named because of the many timber wolves there in earlier days.

The first highway in Canada was built between Quebec and Montreal early in the 18th century.

Gold Stripe NYLONS

For Tomorrow

ALTHOUGH you may not like the idea, sidereal influences still favor the routine so, no matter how bored you are, keep on with the job at hand and resist all impulses to break away from responsibility. Resist, especially, giving vent to emotional outbursts, since they hinder progress. It is an excellent day, however, for making plans so you might work out a more efficient program for disposing of pending problems, thereby hastening the day of relaxation and fun.

The evening hours favor social affairs, so plan something special—not only for pleasurable enjoyment, but also to relieve the present monotony in business and domestic affairs.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you may, at present, find yourself disappointed because your rate of progress seems a slow one. But there is no need for pessimism. In about a month new and stimulating ideas should help to improve the situation, and by mid-summer you should be going full speed ahead. Encouragement will be given by superiors which will increase an

Roberts - Brookins Wedding In Kensington

Featured above centre are Ella United Church. Standing right is Claire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miss Elizabeth Brookins who was George Brookins, Kensington, and maid of honor for her sister. Left Emerson Bruce Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Brook, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Roberts, Corner John Roberts, Corner Brook, Brook, Nfld., whose marriage took place May 16th, at Kensington Moncton, N. B. (Photo by Sears).

How Can I!!!

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make an old ivory finish for a woodwork or furniture?

A. An old ivory tint can be obtained by tinting light ivory paint with raw sienna and burnt umber. After this, apply a glaze coat of raw sienna mixed with burnt umber, and then wipe lightly.

Q. How can I relieve the burning of feet?

A. A little powdered tannin or powdered borax shaken into the stockings will work wonders if you suffer from burning feet. Either of these remedies is very soothing.

Q. How can I make a good salad with cottage cheese?

A. Make a chive-seasoned mound of cottage cheese on crisp lettuce, surrounded by pineapple sections, and top with mayonnaise.

That Body Of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

OPERATION FOR CURING CASES OF SOME CRIMINALLY INSANE.

Several years ago when Drs. Freeman and Watts first reported the results of the operation known as frontal lobotomy; this cutting of the nerves supplying the front lobes of the brain was done to give patients relief from terrible grief and depression. These patients were their families, when they were freed from this intense suffering. As all other forms of treatment had failed, the fact that the operation left these patients like irresponsible children was not considered as important as losing their symptoms of grief and depression.

When other surgeons, and also Drs. Freeman and Watts, again performed this operation, frontal lobotomy, it was found that some of the patients not only were free

DOROTHY DIX'S COLUMN-

Won't Budget Income

Girl Should Be Advised That Man Is Nonchalantly Piling Up Debts

DEAR MISS DIX: We have a fine son, 35 years old, who has one serious fault—he has never learned to budget his income. He has always spent more than he earned. Now, he is going with a girl, and although he has a good job, he seems to me a precarious matrimonial risk. The girl doesn't know he has borrowed money, doesn't know he is in debt elsewhere, and believes he earns more than he does. We expect trouble, when after they are married, the girl learns he owes money. Do you think the girl should be told now the true facts? W. W.

RELIES ON PLEASURE

ANSWER: The young lady certainly should be informed of her fiancé's money difficulties, but I doubt if you'll get any thanks for your interest. She is apparently concerned chiefly with marriage with good time, and not going to be a round of pleasure, and your son is not going to be a round of pleasure, and your son is not going to be a round of pleasure, and your son is not going to be a round of pleasure.

The ability to accept financial responsibility is a "must" in the making of a good marriage. Though lack of it in one partner may be made up by exceptional financial acumen in the other, lack of it in both partners is trouble.

When deceit is added as a further complication, there is no chance that either your son or his fiancée would be happy after marriage.

DEAR MISS DIX: Although I am considered attractive, I rarely have dates. I'm a high-school junior, and feel very unhappy when my girl friends discuss their beaux and I have nothing to contribute to the conversation. Can you give me any advice? LYNNE W.

ANSWER: Some girls just take a little longer to impress their personalities upon eligible young men, but looking hopefully into the future is cold comfort when one wants dates now. I can suggest some inexpensive pamphlets to speed up your dating quotient. A self-addressed, stamped envelope will bring the list to you, together with my own leaflet, "The Way To A Boy's Heart."

DEAR MISS DIX: I am much interested in art and would like to know how to contact a group with the same hobby.

ANSWER: Many city high schools now have evening classes open to all. Why not enroll in one? You will also find fellow hobbyists at the Y. W. C. A., or similar organizations in your town.

DEAR MISS DIX: After wearing my class ring for several months, my friend, Vincent, gave it back to me the other night with no word of explanation. I love him, and was sure he felt the same way about me, but now I have my doubts. I'm 15 and he's two years older.

JILL D.

ANSWER: Vincent's action was certainly very rude, but you must realize that, at 17, most boys don't learned how to handle their emotions' problems. You are entitled to an explanation and should ask him for one. Don't be belligerent about it; make the approach as tactfully as possible.

DEAR MISS DIX: The boy I like just broke up with his girl friend because she went to the movies with someone else. Do you think I have a chance to get him? CARRIE ANSWER: Don't be too eager to move into another girl's territory. This was probably just a lover's quarrel. If you attempt to take over at this point, the boy may date you for awhile, then go back to the other girl, leaving you desolate. Better find an unattached boy.

Miss Nissen cannot reply personally to readers but will answer problems of general interest through this column.

The Stars Say - -

By Genevieve Kemble

For Tomorrow

ALTHOUGH you may not like the idea, sidereal influences still favor the routine so, no matter how bored you are, keep on with the job at hand and resist all impulses to break away from responsibility. Resist, especially, giving vent to emotional outbursts, since they hinder progress. It is an excellent day, however, for making plans so you might work out a more efficient program for disposing of pending problems, thereby hastening the day of relaxation and fun.

The evening hours favor social affairs, so plan something special—not only for pleasurable enjoyment, but also to relieve the present monotony in business and domestic affairs.

For the Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, you may, at present, find yourself disappointed because your rate of progress seems a slow one. But there is no need for pessimism. In about a month new and stimulating ideas should help to improve the situation, and by mid-summer you should be going full speed ahead. Encouragement will be given by superiors which will increase an

Morning Smile

Rush

A shop assistant was in the act of proposing.

"Remember," he said, "this is the last day of this astounding offer."

Sure Bet

A broken down saddle horse was being offered to the highest bidder at a Saturday auction. A farmer watched as a young man, dapperly dressed in riding breeches, bid for the animal.

When the sale was completed and the horse had gone to the young man, the farmer turned to him and asked: "What on earth are you going to do with that old nag?"

"I'm going to race him," the man proudly replied.

"Well," the farmer replied, wisely, "You'll win."

active delight in what you are doing.

There may be a slight tension in domestic affairs during October, but the situation is a temporary one, cleared up eventually by your own insight and understanding. Romance, travel and creative enterprises are especially favored during the last six months of the year.

A child born on this day will be versatile, emotional and fond of travel.

Household Scrapbook

By Roberta Lee

Damp Rooms

Place pieces of camphor in all corners, and on the shelves of closets in the rooms that are damp. Replace them when they evaporate and they will soon take away all dampness.

Hiccoughs

Take a small sup of hot water, to stop hiccoughs, and hold it in the mouth until it is felt that the hiccoughs is approaching, then swallow quickly.

Lemons

To freshen lemons which have become hardened from long standing, cover them for a few moments with boiling water.

from grief and depression but were restored to being mentally normal. One of the great problems in mental ailments is that of the criminally insane. It is then of great interest to the community to find that some of these insane criminals are being helped by this prefrontal lobotomy operation. In Nordick Medicine, Stockholm.

Continued on page 7

After each shampoo or home permanent

LOVALON

your hair

added fresh color makes the lustrous difference!

- Leaves hair soft, easy to manage
- Blends in yellow, grey streaks
- 12 flattering shades • Removes shampoo film • Gives sparkling highlights the modern hair beauty rinse

More milk nourishment AT HALF THE COST!

1 LB. MAKES 4 QTS. OF NUTRITIOUS SKIM MILK!

No more need to let milk prices deprive your family of necessary milk nourishment! Borden's Starlac is here!

Borden's Starlac is milk . . . with all the vitamins, minerals and proteins of fresh milk. Only the water and fat are removed. You just add back the water to get delicious milk for drinking, cooking!

Starlac is very easy to use, and keeps indefinitely without refrigeration. Buy it in 1-lb. or money-saving 5-lb. cans. And if you're diet-conscious, ask your doctor about Starlac!

Lemon Pie that's Fun to Make!

THE FLAVOR IS ENTIRELY PURE FRUIT FROM REAL LEMONS

Here's lemon pie filling the way you've always dreamed of making it—smooth, tangy, "just right" in consistency. Yet it's made in minutes—using only a pan, a cup and a spoon.

Make wonderful old-fashioned lemon pie this easier, quicker, more delicious way. Use Jell-O Lemon Pie Filling. No double boiler needed. Not a lemon jelly.

Keep Jell-O Lemon Pie Filling always on hand. Your grocer has it. (Jell-O is a registered trade-mark, owned in Canada by General Foods, Limited.)

JELL-O BRAND Lemon PIE FILLING

MAKES DELICIOUS FILLING FOR TARTS, CAKES, CREAM PUFFS, JELLY ROLL TEMPTING AS PUDDING, TOO

— I love it

every loaf "ENRICHED"

Eastern Bakers' BUTTER-NUT BREAD

Gold Stripe NYLONS

BY BETTER STYLES

GOTHAM GOLD STRIPE