Kennedy Fined By N.H.L. Head

MONTREAL (CP) — Forbes Kennedy of Detroit Red Wings was fined $100 Monday by President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League for Kennedy's action in a game here last Thursday when he struck one of the linesmen. The $100 includes automatic fines of $25 and $50 incurred through misconduct and game misconduct penalties imposed upon Kennedy at the time. Kennedy was warned that any repetition will bring a more severe penalty. The fine was announced after Campbell had reviewed the case and talked with officials. The investigation disclosed that Kennedy injected himself into a scrap between Andre Pronovost of Montreal Canadiens and Warren Godfrey of Detroit, Kennedy, with his fist, struck linesman Matt Pavelich on the arm in an effort to get Pavelich out of the way so Kennedy could get at Pronovost. Referee Red Storey first gave Kennedy a misconduct penalty, then added the game misconduct penalty when Kennedy addressed foul remarks at Pavelich. In imposing the fine, Campbell said he took into account the strain Kennedy has been under because of the illness of Kennedy's brother at his home in the Maritimes.

Clarke of Moncton, was secretary for the meeting. He has held the post for several years. Films of the Hambletonian, richest trotting stake in the world, and the Little Brown Jug, richest pacing stake, were shown at the conclusion of the meeting held in the Brunswick Hotel.

New Glasgow Rangers To Meet Royals Here Tonight

The powerful New Glasgow Rangers, one of the strongest teams in Nova Scotia this season, will appear at the Sports Arena tonight in an exhibition game against the Charlottetown Royals. The game will get underway at 8:15, the usual hour. The Rangers, who will be making the trip to Charlottetown by car, have assured local officials that they will be at full strength for tonight's game. Some of the better known names on the team roster include: Leo Fahey, Billy Billick, Bert Dolan, Nelson Wilson, Ed Swartzack, Stan MacDougall and Geno Scatolone. The New Glasgow club has been piling up impressive scores in games this season. They clobbered the formidable North Sydney Combines of the Cape Breton League in an exhibition outing two weeks ago, and they own at least one win over Halifax Wolverines. The team is so confident of sweeping Maritime laurels this season, that they have elected to jump into play for the Allan Cup. DOWLING MISSING? Playing-Coach Buck Whitlock of the Royals reported last night that his team will be without defenceman Stu McLure and left winger Cecil Dowling. "Bobby" is still nursing a foot injury, but big Jack Ready will be on hand to fill the vacancy. This will be the second home exhibition game for the Royals this season. In their first, played here about a month ago, the local squad earned a close verdict over Halifax Wolverines in a real sizzler. The Rangers, it is expected, will provide the Royals with an even stiffer test, so fans should be treated to some high-class hockey in this one. Starting time again will be at 8:15.

Would Use Polo Ground's For Dog Racing Track

NEW YORK (AP) — The Polo Grounds, once the hallowed home of the New York baseball Giants, will go to the dogs—if a Phoenix, Ariz., race track operator has his way. David Funk, who heads the Western Racing Inc., disclosed plans Monday for converting the now idle baseball stadium into a $15,000,000 enclosed track for greyhound racing. But the project is loaded with contingencies. First the state legislature must pass a bill approving dog racing in New York. Then voters must approve it in referendum. And Funk must complete a deal for rental or purchase of the park. "My target date is December, 1959," Funk said in a press conference. "Naturally we will not start our building plans until the bill is approved. But we are very optimistic."

International Bonspiel Gets Away To Slow Start

By GERRY La FONTAINE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
QUEBEC (CP) — George von Zuban, a major trophy winner last year, Monday tripped Bob Kirouack's Quebec Jacques Cartier rink 13-4 in opening round play for the Omega Trophy in the Quebec International bonspiel. Von Zuban from Sudbury, Ont., Granlie, last year won the Holt-Remrow Trophy and this year is shooting for bigger things. His victory placed him and several Quebec City rinks among clubs that could pick up major silverware. Late cancellations dropped the entry list in the 45th bonspiel to 112 entries as week-long play for 15 major trophies and awards got underway. Last year the Campbell rink of Avonlea, Sask., swept to an unprecedented 11 consecutive victories but this year there is no outstanding favorite. Olivier Samson of Quebec Jacques Cartier led his rink to a 7-6 victory over Burt Fowlie's Newcastle, N.B., rink in the second round of Omega Trophy play. In the same round Al Hunter's Sudbury crew tripped C. E. Marchand's Quebec Jacques Cartier 10-9.

NOVA SCOTIA WINS
In second-round play for the Chateau Trophy B. M. Love's New Glasgow, N.S., rink defeated Dr. Jim Elliott's Quebec Victoria 9-8. Among curlers who finished high in previous years are Gaston Amyot of Quebec Cartier, who tripped A. C. Dickie's Sudbury, Ont., rink 12-7 in opening round play Monday for the Chateau Trophy. Dr. P. A. Perrier of Hawkesbury, Ont., rode roughshod over George Bunclark's Opemiska, Que., quartet 18-8 in another Chateau game. In the same competition Gavin MacWilliams led his Quebec Winter Club rink to a 12-4 win over H. Portelance's Noranda, Que., crew. In the Omega competition Olivier Samson's Quebec Jacques Cartier

Royals Position Can Be Blamed On Hockey Fans

What has happened to the once proud hockey club that started of the season in great style? We are not talking about the lowly Summerside Aces who have been at the bottom of the league most of the season, or are we talking about the league-leading Amherst Ramblers. We are referring to the Charlottetown Royals. The Royals for the most part of the early weeks in the season were rolling along at the top of the Maritime Senior Hockey League when suddenly they started to drop slowly behind the on-swinging Ramblers, until now they are three points behind the league-leaders. Now there is talk around that the Charlottetown entry is about ready to fold. Are we going to stand around and let Charlottetown's only hope of winning a league title vanish from the face of the earth. Come on you hockey fans, even though the price of a hockey game is a little high for the average man to spend twice a week, the least we can do is go and see one game a week. Is this asking too much? How about responding to this article and attending the game between the Royals and the New Glasgow Rangers tonight, this contest will be well worth the effort it takes to get on your coat and walk a few blocks. Take your children with you if getti a baby sitter is your trouble, they will enjoy the game as much as you will, and it will give them a chance to see Canada's national game, not at its best but near the top. We note that Gerry Boss, the strengthened his hold on first place Amherst scoring terror has in the points race. Before last nights game in Amherst, Boss had a total of 50 goals and 22 assists for the large total of 72 points. Buck Whitlock has fallen slightly behind but is still in second place with 64 points, on 32 goals and 32 assists. Gaudet of Amherst remains third with only a small amount of people turning out. The game on Thursday which produced the best hockey of the season was witnessed by only three or four hundred fans. No team can be expected to do their best when their home town fans pay little or no attention to them. During the last few games in the city the stands have been almost vacant with only a small amount of people turning out. The game on Thursday which produced the best hockey of the season was witnessed by only three or four hundred fans.

A few minutes earlier he had seen his wife for the first time since his operation last Tuesday for a bowel rupture.
