Bear runs amok eats five kids

A stuffed brown baby bear killed five infants and injured three others when it went on a wild rampage in the University of Prince Edward Island's Day Care Centre in the Barn early today.

The Nursery was evacuated minutes after the bear first attacked but five babies sleeping in a play pen were seized and held as hostages. They were subsequently eaten.

The three injured children escaped through the bathroom into the recently completed sewer system. "We never thought it would be used for this" said one distraught mother whose child had been eaten.

The five children seized as hostages were devoured when Day Care officials refused to meet the teddy bear's request for a mate.

"We can't bow down to obsene requests of that nature", said Harrison Robbins, a spokesman for the Day Care Center.

"We can't have our children's teddy bears behaving like animals in front of our children", said Mary Jane Green,another day care official.

At press time the teddy bear, identified only as "Teddy" by the mother of the owner, was occupying the ground floor nursery and had refused offers of new stuffing and bright red buttons for its eyes in exchange for the Flush-a - byes stored in the nursery.
