BROTHERS REUNITED AFTER 38 YEARS

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, June 13—Story of the reunion of two middle-aged brothers, each of whom gave the other up as dead 38 years ago, was told in a letter received here today from Gilbert Plains, Man., by C. W. Buchanan of Toronto, a friend of a travelling salesman whose memory for faces brought about the reunion.

Charles F. Davies of Gilbert Plains and George Davies of Musselman's Lake, 30 miles north of Toronto, are brothers. Until recently they hadn't heard from one another for 38 years. Now they have convinced one another by a long series of letter exchanges that they are brothers.

A travelling salesman named Irwin linked the brothers. On a visit to Ontario last month he saw a man who resembled a man he knew as Charles F. Davies of Gilbert Plains. Irwin started investigations through E. P. Brown, editor of the Maple Leaf Press, Gilbert Plains weekly newspaper who knew Buchanan in Toronto.

Buchanan got in touch with Davies at Musselman's Lake and Davies wrote to the man in Gilbert Plains. They told each other family history in their letters and were convinced of their relationship.

The story will be climaxed in September when George goes west to meet Charles.

Timely Tips For The 14th:

On Euston Street from Longworth Avenue to the end of Brighton Road there will be one-way traffic to the west only from early morning till after 5 p. m Weymouth will also be a one way street, traffic will be from Grafton to Longworth Avenue thence to Euston Street and Victoria Park for cars going that way.

The main parking places will be Victoria Park, the Kensington Rifle Range which is to the right of the Grafton Street approach for cars coming over the Hillsboro Bridge, and the C. N. R. "Fill In" which is to the left of the Grafton Street approach for cars coming from the same section and the C. A. A. grounds at the end of Prince Street.

The Marine Wharf will be barred entirely to the public except those who are there officially and by passes, which will be obtainable, commencing Saturday, from the R. C. M. P. Superintendent.

No parking will be allowed on North River Road between midnight of the 13th and 14th and midnight of the 14th and 15th. The same regulation applies to Elm Avenue between Spring Park Square and Euston Street, and on Longworth Avenue from the railway tracks to Euston Street.

Barriers will be placed throughout the city one block away from the route of procession, and no cars allowed to pass through barriers except in emergency cases) from 7 a. m. the morning of the 14th

One must have a permit (from R. C. M. P.) to pass through restricted areas.

It is strongly suggested that all cars crossing Hillsboro Bridge park at the Kensington Rifle Range or the C. N. R. "Fill In" as that would enable them to leave on return at any time they may desire.

All cars parking at Victoria Park must remain till after 5 o'clock, but they can enter the Park at any time so long as there is any parking space available, or up to the limit of 3000 cars.

Special constables will be stationed at the various approaches to the city, who will gladly supply information regarding parking immediately upon arrival.

Weekly Livestock Market Report

OTTAWA, JUNE 8,

SUMMARY

Cattle buyers were apparently in need of only moderate supplies this week but, fortunately, offerings were light and served to hold prices generally steady except for a decline of 15c to 50c on cows. Calf prices moved to lower ground, the declines ranging from 50c to 75c at some markets. Hog trading provided the highlight of the week and advances of 15c to 35c were marked up. Lambs were mostly steady, except at Toronto where prices on spring lambs were down 50c.

Eastern Cattle Markets

While cattle trade showed no great activity at Toronto, a good clearance was made on a short supply and prices were unchanged, except for a 15c decline on butcher cows. Weighty steers moved up to $6.60, with some choice heavies at $6.75 and butcher classes were taken between $5.50 and $6.50, with top light steers at $6.50 Trading was very draggy throughout at Montreal with daily carryovers the rule. Good steers brought $6 50 to $7, and good cows up to a high of $5.50.

Western Cattle Markets

With short deliveries, the Winnipeg market was able to make a fairly satisfactory clearance and further price cutting was checked on all classes apart from cows which lost 25c to 50c. There are, apparently, liberal supplies of beef on hand and until these stocks are cleared the trade does not look for any extensive pickup in prices. Well regulated deliveries are needed to keep prices at their present levels. The better end of the killing steers were absorbed at $6 to $6.50, and cows from $4 down. Fairly good kinds of light stocker cattle sold from $4.75 to $5 and there was not sufficient on hand to fill requirements. Other markets throughout the west were generally slow at unchanged prices, Calgary selling good to choice steers at $6 to $6.75, but Edmonton declining 25c to 50c and offering choice light steers up to a top of $6.50. Tops at Moose Jaw were $5.75 to $6, Regina $5.75 to $6.25, Saskatoon $6.50, and Vancouver $7.10.

U. S. Market Slow and Lower

The general market at Buffalo was no better than steady and the bulk of the steers grading medium to good sold between $9 and $10 and tops up to $10.50. The St. Paul market also looked lower with good native steers making $8.50 to $9, heifers $8 to $8.50, good cows $6.50 to $7, and best bulls $6.75. There were no Canadians on hand at either market.

Exports of Canadian cattle to the United States to date this year consists of 87,918 beef cattle, 4,945 dairy, and 38,753 calves. The movement in the same period last year totalled 21,700 beef, 2,027 dairy, and 22,460 calves.

U. K. Market Continues Firm

Fat cattle trade continued firm in the United Kingdom and there was also an active enquiry for store cattle. Glasgow estimated good Canadian feeders to be worth about 8 1-2 per lb. live weight and bulls 6c.

There were 170 dairy cattle in the Montreal yards and one further load en route for export to Great Britain on the S.S. Norwegian to Cardiff on June 10th.

Calf Prices Easier

After a steady opening, the Toronto market dropped 50c on calves with the general top at $8 and a few at $8.50. Montreal was steady on medium to good veals but other grades were 50c to 75c lower. Medium to good calves sold at $7 to $7.50. Winnipeg got good support on export account and sold best handyweight veals at $7 to $7.50. Tops at Calgary were at $7.50, while Edmonton was 50c lower with the practical top at $6.50. The high at Prince Albert was $6, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, and Regina $6.50, and Vancouver $7.50.

Hog Prices Advance

The British bacon market continued unchanged with Canadian Wiltshire sides at 73s to 80s, Danish from 84s to 90s, and Canadian Hams 98s.

Advances were general in the hog market and Toronto marked up a gain of 35c for the week, although the close was slightly easier at a general price of $8.85 for bacons off trucks and only a few selling on a basis of $9. Demand was good at Montreal, with receipts lighter and prices about steady, bacons making $9 to $9.25 fed & watered. Throughout the west, prices moved up from 15c to 25c and Winnipeg closed at $8.75 f - & w. Calgary and Edmonton closed at $8.25 for bacons off trucks, Prince Albert and Saskatoon at $8.50, and Moose Jaw and Regina at $8.60.

Lambs Steady to Lower

Spring lambs were down 50c at Toronto, choice making $12 to $12.50. Montreal had medium to good lambs at $12 to $13 and one carload, averaging around 70 lbs., making a top of $13.50. Winnipeg was unchanged with a high of $10.50, while Calgary sold up to $9.25, Edmonton from $9 to $9.50, Prince Albert $9, Regina $9.50, and Vancouver $11.

CATTLE MARKETS

TORONTO had a moderate run of 4,245 cattle including some 900 head carried over from the previous week. This supply was cleared at steady prices except for a decline of 15c on butcher cows. Weighty steers moved between $5.75 and $6.60, with some choice at $6.75. Butcher steers and heifers were mostly $5 50 to $6.50, with top light steers $6.60. Fed calves sold from $6 50 to $7).50, with some choice reaching $8. Butcher cows sold from $3.75 to $5.25, and canners and cutters $2.50 to $3.50. Bulls ranged from $4 to $5.25. Stocker trade was dull, prices ranging from $5.25 to $6, and up to $6.50 for some western calves A few 900 pound feeding steers sold at $6.25. Good milkers and springers were steady at $65 to $75 each.

MONTREAL was draggy throughout on an offering of 1,592 cattle. There were no straight loads of top steers on offer, but good steers brought $6.50 to $7, mediums $5.75 to $6.50, and common down to $3.50. Heifers made $3 25 to $6.50, good cows $5 to $5.50, mediums $4 to $5, common $3.25 to $4, and canners and cutters $2.25 to $3.25. Bulls ranged from $3 to $4.50.

CALF MARKETS

TORONTO calves opened steady at $8.50 to $9 for choice but dropped to $8 on Tuesday with a few $8.50. Common veals sold down to $5 and thin grassers from $4 to $4.50.

MONTREAL offered mostly common to fair calves at a reduction of 50c to 75c. Medium to good veals were about steady at $7 to $7-50, and others down to $4.50. Drinkers ranged from $3 to $4.50 and sold mostly at $3.50 to $4.

HOG MARKETS

Dominion hog marketings totalled 49,339, compared with 48,278 in the same week last year. Totals to date this year 1,426,864, last year 1,528,417.

TORONTO hogs opened up 15c to 20c and made a further gain to $8.85 to $9. The feeling at the close was slightly easier. Sows were mostly $5.50 off trucks.

Packers prices for direct deliveries mostly closed higher with Hamilton paying $8.40 to $8.75 for bacons off trucks alive, and $11.25 to $11.75 dressed.

SHEEP AND LAMB MARKETS

TORONTO lambs were down 50c at $12 to $12.50 for choice and $8 to $9.50 for culls. Yearlings made $9 to $9.75 and sheep $2 to $4 with tops $4 50.

MONTREAL sold medium to good lambs at $12 to $13 and one load $13.50. Common sold down as low as $10 with common lights not wanted. Sheep were slow at $3 $4.25.

Aim To Curtail Motor Imports

CANBERRA, Australia, June 13—(CP)—The federal government may shortly take action to make Australia independent of imported motor engines and chassis, one-fifth of which now come from Canada.

The proposal has been mooted on and off for some years but not until now has it reached the stage of discussion between government spokesmen and representatives of the motor industry.

Recent investigation and research have shown that Australian production costs of a chassis for a car in the popular low-priced field would be slightly in excess of the imported product. Thus it would be necessary to boost the present duty which opponents of the move declare would raise complications in Empire trade relations. The Mother Country and Canada are the heaviest suppliers of chassis and motor engines to the Commonwealth.

The capital required for the venture would amount to several million pounds. No difficulties, however, are anticipated on that score as those primarily interested in the new project have undertaken to produce the money as soon as government approval is forthcoming.

On a mass production basis, it is estimated the output of the proposed factory would be about 30,000 units a year, giving employment to at least 5,000.

New Guinea Opens Papuan Territory

PORT MORESBY, Papua, June 13—(CP)—Territory in Northern Papua, British New Guinea, first explored in 1935 and ever since a prohibited area, is declared open under a proclamation issued here.

This means the bloodless pacification of Papua is now complete. Government officers are patrolling the area, which has a population of about 20,000.

Discovered by an assistant magistrate, Jack Hides, the territory was the last part of Papua to be explored. Its agricultural prospects are small, and its mineral resources are not known.

Papua, a former German possession, is administered by Australia under a mandate.

Unwed Mothers Get $200 Bonus

(Canadian Press

WATTENSCHEID, Germany, June 13—The Mayor of Wattenscheid has announced a plan to induce unmarried women to bear children to halt the declining birthrate of his Rhineland town—a measure which "Das Schwarze Korps, Nazi newspaper, hopes will spread throughout Germany

Certain conditions are set down, however, before illegitimacy will be countenanced as a "sacrifice for the nation." The women must be 29 years of age or more on the assumption they would have been married under normal circumstances but for the death of 2,000,000 men in the Great War.

Secondly, they must announce to authorities their intention to become mothers. This provision is intended as insurance the father not only healthy but also "racially sound." It further is aimed at forestalling any effort to saddle the community with "irresponsibly conceived children."

In return, the city of Wattenscheid assumes the honorable godfathership over the child, presents each with a sum of 500 marks ($200) upon birth, and cares for the child until he reaches his majority.

The Mayor also offers bonuses to parents of large families as another method of boosting the city's birthrate. Wattenscheid is a community of 18,000 families of which only 1,500 have four or more children under 16 years of age.

Praising the Mayor's announcement, "Das Schwarze Korps" said: "Thereby the reserves of our national strength are mobilized—reserves which previously were unused because of stupidity and imprudence."

Opposes Return To German Rules

UMTATA, South Africa, June 13—(CP)—Hosea Kutako, tribal headsman from Southwest Africa, former German colony, hopes the day will never come when his native country is returned to the Reich.

At a meeting of tribal chiefs here Kutako paid tribute to the manner in which the South Africa Union was carrying out its obligations as a mandatory power and spoke glowingly of what had been done for the natives.

"We are just as loyal as any other people of the British Empire and have no desire to return to German rule," he said. "When the Germans conquered the territory in 1906 they took away our property and cattle. We were all laborers, even our women and children."

Carillon Player Dies At New York

NEW YORK, June 13—Miss Jessie Craig Adam, organist at the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension for more than 25 years, one of the few women carilloneurs in the United States, is dead at the age of 52.

Miss Adam also acted as choirmaster of the church and wrote or arranged all the music played on the carillon. She played on the bells for 15 minutes before the Sunday morning service as the congregation came to church and then turned to the organ to begin the service.

Once, after a visit to England and Holland, Miss Adam compared the attitude of the people toward church bells with that of busy Americans. "In the United States, church bells have not been so closely interwoven with the life of our people as is the case in Europe," she said. "Here we have occasional chimes of a few bells, and we have a few carillons with a range of several octaves.

"But in England, every parish church has its peal of bells and 'ringing the changes' is a labor of love coveted by the young men of the parish. Most of the carillons in Belgium and Holland are more than 300 years old and their tones have been heard through the generations, signalling all important events in their respective localities."

THE POWER OF MUSIC

Good music brings restfulness, and it brings idea; more, it seems to give one wisdom. George Eliot understood that so well. Hear a good deal of music—hear it, if you can, every day; it is better, even, for the imagination, than the noblest verse, because it gives wings to thought, and sets the fancy free, and opens the doors of the unreal world.—W. Besant.

BOULDER CRASHES GERMAN EMBASSY ROOF

(Canadian Press)

CHUNGKING, China, June 13—The roof of the German Embassy in this wartime capital was crushed today by a 1,000-pound boulder loosened by a Japanese bomb in an air raid Sunday night.

At Chengtu, 175 miles northwest of Chungking, Mrs. Sven H. Liljestrand of Jordan, N. Y., was injured slightly when a Japanese bomb destroyed her residence Sunday. Her husband is a physician connected with West China Union University, whose property was damaged.

Luck is defined as fortune, good or bad. Tell me what dependence can be placed on a thing that is just as liable to go as it is to come—Van Amburgh.

The burning of eight cottages furnished the "problem" in a recent demonstration in London of the efficiency of fire-fighters units of the Air Raid Protection organization. Interest in the test's significance brought out the crowd shown in this picture.
