VARIETIES.

How Deacon Smith Courted.—The Decon's waggon stopped one morning before the widow Jones' door, and gave the usual country sign that he wanted somebody in the house, by dropping the reins and sitting double with his elbows on his knees. Out tripped the old widow, as lively as a cricket, with a tremendous black ribbon on her snowy white cap. "Good morning," was said on both sides, and the widow waited for what was further to be said. "Well Ma'am Jones, perhaps you don't want to sell one of your cow now, for nothing, any way, do you?" "Well, there, Mr Smith, you couldn't have spoken my mind better. A poor lone woman like me does not know what to do with so many creatures, and I should be glad to trade, if we fix it." So they adjourned to the meadow. Deacon Smith looked at Roan—then at the widow—at Brindle—then at the widow—at the Downing cow—then at the widow again—and so through the whole forty. The same call was made every day for a week, but the deacon could not decide which cow he wanted. At length, ou Saturday, when the widow was in a hurry to get through her baking for Sunday, and had "ever so much to do in the house," as all farmers wives and widows have on Saturday, she was a little impatient. Deacon Smith was as irresolute as ever. "That 'ere Downing cow is a pretty fair cretur," said he, "but "—he stopped to glance at the widow's face, aud then walked round her—not the widow—but the cow. "That 'ere short horn Durham is not a bad looking beast, but I don't know,'—another look at the widow. "The Downing cow I knew before the late Mr Jones bought her." Here he sighed at the allusion to the late Mr. Jones; she sighed, and both looked at each other. It was a highly interesting moment. "Old Roan is a faithful old milch, and so is the Brindle—but I have known better." A long stare succeeded his speech—the pause was getting rather awkward—and at last Mrs. Jones broke out—"La! Mr. Smith, if I'm the cow you want, do say so!" The intentions of the Deacon and Widow Jones were published next day.

Anecdote of Finn.—Finn was once a witness for the prosecution in a case before the Common Pleas of Boston, and his testimony was so direct and conclusive that a counsel for the defendant thought it necessary to discredit him.

"'Mr. Finn, you live in——street, do you?'

'Yes—I do'

'Have you lived there a great while?'

'Several years.'

'Does not a female live there under your protection?'

'There does.'

'Does she bear your name?'

'She is known in the neighbourhood by the name ef Mrs. Finn.'

'Is she your wife?'

'We were never legally married.'

'That will do, I have nothing more to say.'

'But I have something more to answer, Sir,'—replied Finn, with spirit. 'The Mrs. Finn of whom you have been pleased to speak with such levity is my mother—and I have known but one man base enough to breathe against her. You, sir, can guess who he is. True, she is under my protection. She protected me through my infancy and childhood, and it is paying but small part of the debt I owe her, to do as much for her in her old age."

The baffled counsel had not another word to say.

"Naked Truth."—The late eccentric John Holmes used frequently, in his addresses to different juries to explain the meaning of the phrase, "naked truth," by relating the following fable:

Truth and Falsehood travelling one warm day, met at a river, and both went to bathe at the same place. Falsehood coming first out of the water, took his companion's clothes and left his own vile raiment and then went on his way. Truth coming out of the water, sought in vain for his own proper dress—disdaining to wear the garb of Falsehood. Truth started, all naked, in pursuit of the thief, but not being so swift of foot, has never over taken the fugitive. Ever since he has been known as "naked Truth."

'Speaking of bores,' says a victim to one of the species, 'I can scarcely imagine one capable of inflicting more misery than an intolerable whistler. I can stand a fife, when all the nation is 'armed and equipped' on training days, and a drum with its 'flang g'flan serves to drown its screams; but to listen to a poor air, badly murdered by a poorer puckerer, I prefer death in some easier, if not quicker way. I always think of the French stage-coach driver, who being very much annoyed by such a bore turned upon him with:

'Mine frien', vat you all de times visvel? You loss your dog, eh?'

Why did the lady who purchased the dumb-waiter, return it next day? Because it would not answer.

VETERINARY PRACTICE,

Under the Patronage of His Excellency Sir Alexander Bannerman, Knight.

GEORGE LORD, begs leave respectfully to intimate to his friends and the public in general, that he has resumed his practice in the Veterinary Line, under the patronage of His Excellency Sir Alexande Brannerman, Knight.

After a successful practice of 27 years—14 in England and 13 in America—in the course of which he has been directly instrumental, through his skill, in saving, for their owners, the lives of many valuable Horses and Cows; he hopes that, in now soliciting a renewal of Public Patronage, he may be permitted to say that he considers himself to be as well qualified to prescribe Medicines and preform Operations, in the capacity of a Horse and Cow Doctor, as any individual who has ever practised in that line in this Colony; and he, therefore, presumes that he may confidently look forward to a renewal of that patronage which he formerly enjoyed in this Island.

Residence—Next door to the Victoria Hotel, Water Street, Charlottetown.

AYER'S PILLS,

A NEW and singularly successful remedy for the cure of all Bilious diseases—Costiveness, Indigestion, Jaundice, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fevers, Gout, Humors, Nervousness, Irritability, Inflammations, Headache, Pains in the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female complaints, &c., &c. Indeed, very few are the diseases in which a Purgative Medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more freely used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; besides it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative. This is alike true of Colds, Feverish symptoms, and Billious derangements. They all tend to become or produce the deep seated and formidable distempers which load the hearses all over the land. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Pill has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand. An extensive trial of its virtues by Physicians, Professors, and Patients, has shown results surpassing anything hitherto known of any medicine. Cures have been effected beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.

Among the eminent gentlemen to whom we are allowed to refer for these facts, are Prof. Valentine Mott, the distinguished Surgeon of New York City.

Doct. A. A. Hayes, Practical Chemist of the Port of Boston, and Geologist for the State of Massachusetts.

Ira L. Moore, M. D., an eminent Surgeon and Physician, of the City of Lowell, who has long used them in his extensive practice.

H. C. Southwick, Esq., one of the first merchants in New York City.

C. A. Davis, M. D., Sup't and Surgeon of the United States Marine Hospital, at Chelsea, Mass.

Did space permit, we could give many hundred such names, from all parts where the Pills have been used, but evidence even more convincing than the certificates of these eminent public men is shown in their effects upon trial.

These Pills, the result of long investigation and study, are offered to the public as the best and most complete which the present state of medical science can afford. They are compounded not of the drugs themselves, but of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable remedies, extracted by chemical process, in a state of purity and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results. This system of composition for medicines has been found in the Cherry Pectoral and Pills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than had hitherto been obtained by any process. The reason is perfectly obvious. While by the old mode of composition, every medicine is burdened with more or less of acrimonious and injurious qualities; by this, each individual virtue only that is desired for the curative effect is present. All the inert and obnoxious qualities of each substance employed are left behind, the curative virtues only being retained. Hence it is self-evident the effect should prove as they have proved more purely remedial, and the Pills a surer, more powerful antidote to disease than any other medicine known to the world.

As it is frequently expedient that my medicine should be taken under the counsel of an attending Physician, and as he could not properly judge of a remedy without knowing its composition, I have supplied the accurate Formula by which both my Pectoral and Pills are made to the whole body of Practitioners in the United States and British American Provinces. If however there should be any one who has not received them, they will be promptly forwarded by mail to his address.

Of all the Patent Medicines that are offered, how few would be taken if their composition was known! Their life consists in their mystery. I have no mysteries.

The composition of my preparations is laid open to all men, and all who are competent to judge on the subject, freely acknowledge their convictions of their intrinsic merits. The Cherry Pectoral was pronounced by scientific men to be a wonderful medicine before its effects were known. Many eminent Physicians have declared the same thing of my Pills, and even more confidently, and are willing to certify that their anticipations were more than realized by their effects upon trial.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting wherever they exist such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Being sugar wrapped they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

For minute directions, see the wrapper on the Box.
