THE PINCH OF WAR.

A correspondent writing from London says that in that city the lament which tells of the pinch of war is already heard on every side.

A well-known publisher writes, saying that it is of no use trying to bring out a book just now, as nothing goes, however good.

A well-known dealer in pictures says that he has given up buying because he cannot sell anything.

These are just some of the examples which have come under my notice. It would be easy to give long lists of others who suffer, but, curiously enough, the only people who seem practically to benefit financially by the war are the wives and families of the absent soldiers. Public subscriptions have reached such enormous figures that this class probably has double the amount of money it had before.

It has been stated that never has Aldershot been so crowded with a lot of low class adventurers, who have gone there to prey upon the girl that Tommy Atkins left behind him, for whom Kipling's "Absent-minded Beggar" verses have brought in so much money from all over the country.

COLONIAL LOYALTY APPRECIATED.

The following are the words with which the Queen referred to the loyalty of the colonies in the speech on the opening of Parliament. "The brilliant courage and soldier-like qualities of the colonial forces engaged in South Africa have already earned high admiration, and patriotic offers of assistance which it was not possible to accept have come from many other colonies with populations of various races. I have received from the ruling chiefs of native States of India numerous offers to place their troops and the resources of their States at my disposal for service in South Africa. These proofs of their loyalty to myself and their devotion to the cause of my empire have afforded much gratification.

THE STRATHCONAHORSE.

In a recent interview referring to the "Strathcona Horse," Lieut. Colonel Steele said:—"Our arrangements are getting under way splendidly for the organization of the Strathcona Horse," and I am going West this afternoon. I have every expectation that the last of the recruits will be started east from Calgary on Feb. 12, for Ottawa, where they are to be outfitted As to the prospects of success in the recruiting, I need only give you one instance. We had contemplated taking twenty men from Fort McLeod, but I am informed by wire that there are eighty there waiting my arrival to join. It is the same at other stations, in the West, and I am glad that we are to have a chance of picking from British Columbia, where there are some of the very best of our ex-Mounted Policemen. When we do concentrate here. we will remain about ten days or two weeks and there will be a full mounted parade when the men have received their full outfits."

Two cable messages were received by the Minister of Militia, ing, from Lord Strathcona, in London, in connection with the organization of the contingent. He sanctions the plans of recruiting in British Columbia, and fully confirms the government plan in this connection. Another announces that no nurses or chaplains will be required with the contingent One doctor will be taken aloug as a veterinary surgeon. It should be remembered that in the British army there are depots which supply both nurses and chaplains, so that it is hardly worth while taking them with every unit that is got together here.

The Strathcona contingent will use the Mexican saddle, somewhat lightened to make it a bit easier on the horses for heavy marching. Col Steele would recommend no other. The Mexican saddle destributes the weight over a larger portion of the horse's back, besides being on the whole far more comfortable to sit in it for a long spell than any easy chair that ever was devised. By leaving off some of the extra leather trappings it will be brought down to weigh in the neighborhood at thirty-five pounds.

The uniforms, which are now being turned out by the Sanford Manufacturing Company, of Hamilton, are of the same material, and pattern as those of the Canadian Mounted Rifles.

THE BRITISH PEOPLE DON'T MIND.

The German press rejoices over Buller's reverse. France is exultant over every defeat. Boer meetings, and anti-Boer meetings, are held in the United States. The Irish home rule party boldly announces the intention of seizing the occasionof England's trouble to assist her enemies. But the British soldiers are not the only absent-minded people in the nation. The great body of men and women in the Empire do not take notice of these various utterances. Frenchmen and Germans, shouters from Ireland, clamorous people in America, may go on as they will. It will not be laid up against them. Without resentment, without attention even to all the cries from all the countries, the British people go calmly on with their work. They have not asked for continental help or sympathy. They do not need it, and would not know what to do with it if they had it. Will Britain remember these things when her war is over and some other country is in trouble? Not in the least. She has the poorest memory for unfriendly acts and words of any country in the world.

INJURED BY OUR OWN GUNS.

"I fired" writes Pte. E. Taylor, 2nd Coldstreams, of the Modder River battle, "over 200 rounds out of my rifle in a little over two hours and a half at one part of the action. It made the breech so hot that I could not touch it. My company were laid down about 30 yards in front of our big guns, which were blazing away over our heads at the euemy. Here I witnessed another awful scene. One of the shell from our guns behind us prematurely burst and blew of the of two of my comrades close to me. After this sad affair we were orderee to retir behind the guns and in getting up to do so 10 other men were shot.

SALT RHEUM TORTURES

Die away before the magical effect of

Dr. Chase's Ointment

The tortures of Salt Rheum are almost beyond human endurance, and as the flesh becomes raw, and the itching and burning increase, the suffering is so intense as to almost drive one crazy.

In desperation salves and ointments are applied, only to give rise to further disappointment and despair.

But there is hope. There is assurance that you can be cured just as scores and hundreds of others have been by using Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. John Siron, of Aultsville, Ont., writes: "For seven years I was a sufferer from Salt Rheum, and my hands were so bad I had to wear greased gloves. Nothing seemed to help me, but I was induced to try Dr Chase's Ointment, and one box cured me completely. There is not a trace of the Salt Rheum left."

Grotesque Spelling.

One of the Boston papers calls attention to this woeful example of bad spelling—and in Boston too! It is from the doorway bulletin board of a little restaurant:

BILL OF FAIR.
Open at all Owars.
Bakon-Eggs, 15. Ham-Eggs, 15.
Corned Beef-Cabbags, 10.
Lam Chops, 15. Lam Frie, 15. Stake, 10.
Liver-Baken, 15. Pork-Beas, 10.
Chicken Frize, 15.
Puden and Pie, 5.

This reminds the Tales of the Town man of a sign he saw not long ago in the window of a Broadway saloon: "A ror oster wit evry Drink."

Several months ago there was an announcement laboriously chalked on a St. Clair street sidewalk in front of a beer refectory which read like this: "Fre lunge 11 2 2."

It took the man who saw this some time to figure out that the patron who didn't drop in between 11 o'clock and 2 o'clock would be very apt to miss the free lunch.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

is Uric Acid in the blood. Unhealthy kidneys are the cause of the acid being there.
