FOR THE WOMEN

One Recipe.

The recipe for this pie," said the Busy Woman, as we sat at lunch, why there isn't any recipe. You just make it; any one can see what is in it. Yes, of course, I'll give you full particulars if you really wish it, but wait until the children are gone to school. I can't carry on more than three conversations at once intelligently. I always think it a mercy John and the big boys are not home for lunch. Louise have you got your rubbers on? No I haven't the faintest idea where your book is. Money for pencils, did you not get some yesterday, Jack? Well, here. There is the first bell, all of you. Now, Mary, bring in some hot tea and take baby up for her nap. There now," turning to me, "I feel as if I had come through a whirlwind, but it isn't as bad as at breakfast. About the pie—certainly. You just take flour and a little rising, a good-sized piece of shortening—Quantities! yes to be sure. I don't believe in, the rule of thumb myself—theoretically. Practically, I put in the quantities so often that now I do it mechanically, which is really not the rule of thumb after all. Well, say, to these two round pies in the jelly cake tins you see, three cups of flour, three very small spoons of baking powder, a teaspoon of salt, and about half a cup of lard, or lard and butter mixed. Make that into a soft dough with as little handling as possible—I mix with a knife always—divide it into four equal parts and try to roll out as near the shape and size of the plate as possible so as to have nothing left. The dough is best rather thick. Then take a pound of round steak which has been chopped at the butcher's; season this highly with pepper and salt to taste, and beat it into a stiff sort of batter with water; if you don't put the water the meat cakes very hard and is not juicy, but don't use too much water. Put this between two layers of paste, just as you would apples, wetting the edges to stick them, and be sure your oven is piping hot. I don't see how anyone could help making it good. But I suppose like Leonards and his painting, you must mix your materials with brains. There is something I forgot to tell you about the rising but perhaps it would not make any difference. Instead of beaking I always use soda and cream of tartar. It's cheaper than the good baking powders, you don't need to use as much to the spoonful, and much more wholesome than the cheap ones. Two of cream of tartar and one of soda is the unfailing rule, he soda a trifle scant always. Smooth them together on the board with a little flour; or, if its cake, dissolve the soda in water. There now, don't you feel awfully wise? I hate talking shop but you inveigled me into it. Let's go upstairs and you shall read me something from the last century while I sew." I have not made the pie but somebody else may.—Canadian Home Journal.

Women's Eyes.

An eye fancier writes learnedly of the mysteries:—"It has often been said that a woman with a hazel eye never elopes from her husband, never chats scandal, never sacrifices her husband's comfort for her own, never finds fault, never talks too much or too little, is always an entertaining, agreeable and lovely companion."

"We never knew," says a quill driver, "but one uninteresting and unamiable woman with a hazel eye, and she had a nose which looked like the little end of nothing whittled down to a point." The gray eye is the sign of shrewdness and talent. Great thinkers and captains have it. In women it indicates a better head than heart. The dark hazel eye is noble in its significance as in its beauty. The dark blue eye is admirable, but may be feeble.

The black eye—take care! Look out for the wife with a black eye! Such can be seen at the police-courts generally with a complaint against the husband for assault and battery.—Exchange.

"My brethren," said Swift in a sermon "there are three sorts of pride—pride of birth, of riches, and of talents. I shall not now speak of the latter, none of you being liable to that abominable vice."

"We have not our choice to be rich or poor to be happy or unhappy, to be in health or in sickness; but we have our choice to be worthy or worthless. No antagonist can kill our soul in us; that can perish only from its own suicide."

At Last!

A Remedy has been Discovered that will Permanently Cure Catarrh.

JAPANESE CATARRH CURE CURES.

This is not merely the words of the makers of this remedy, but the assertion is backed up by leading physicians and the honorable testimonials of hundreds of cured ones. And more, there is an absolute guarantee to cure in every package, or money will be refunded. We will also send a two weeks' trial quantity free to any person suffering from this dangerous disease. Japanese Catarrh Cure is a new discovery, being a prescription perfected by one of America's most successful specialists in treating this disease. It is a soothing, penetrating and healing pomade, prepared from stainless compounds of Iodine and Essential oils, to be inserted up the nostrils. The heat of the body melts it, and the very act of breathing carries it to the diseased parts. It reaches soothes and heals every part of the mucous membrane, curing invariably all forms of catarrh of the nose and throat, and all forms of catarrhal deafness. Mr. Joseph Little, the well-known mill owner of Port Esmington, B.C., writes: "Japanese Catarrh Cure completely cured me of catarrh, which had troubled me for 25 years, during which time I had spent over $1,000 on remedies and specialists in Toronto and San Francisco. About two years ago I procured six boxes of Japanese Catarrh Cure, and since completing this treatment have not felt the slightest symptoms of my former trouble. I can highly recommend it. Relief came from the first application. We always keep a supply in the mill for cuts and burns, and consider it superior to any other remedy for healing." Sold by all druggists, 50 cents. Sample free. Enclose 5 cent stamp. Address, The Griffiths & Macpherson Co., 121 Church Street, Toronto. Sold by Geo. E. Hughes.

Chronic Eczema Cured.

One of the most chronic cases of Eczema ever cured is the case of Miss Gracie Ella Aiton, of Hartland, N. B. On a sworn statement Mr. Aiton says: "I hereby certify that my daughter Gracie Ella was cured of Eczema of long standing by using four boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment. William Thistle, druggist, of Hartland also certifies that he sold four boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment which cured Gracie Ella."

According to a Toronto despatch Premier Laurier has notified Mr. Spence of the Dominion Alliance that the vote in favor, of prohibition did not represent such a proportion of the electorate as would justify the introduction by the government of a prohibitory law. The government decision is, it is unnecessary to say, un satisfactory and displeasing to the friends of prohibition.
