TAMARAC

Alderman R. E. Elbeck, Kingston, Ont., says: "Tamarac Elixir" is the best medicine on earth for Coughs and Colds. In my own case it produced rapid and gratifying results. I caught a severe cold which it seemed impossible to break up, but continually became more thoroughly seated. Finally a hacking cough set in which troubled me day and night, causing soreness of the Lungs. Hearing your "Tamarac" highly recommended, I procured a bottle. The first dose eased the cough, and one bottle completely cured me. It is a splendid preparation, pleasant to the taste, and should be kept in every house.

THE PIRATE.

By Sir Walter Scott.

CHAPTER XVII.

The situation in which the enemy's ill fate had placed him was particularly favorable to the enterprise of the islanders. A tide of unusual height had carried the animal over a large bar of sand, into the voe or creek in which he was now lying. So soon as he found the water ebbing, he became sensible of his danger, and had made desperate efforts to get over the shallow water, where the waves broke on the bar, but hitherto he had rather injured than mended his condition, having got himself partly aground, and lying therefore particularly exposed to the meditated attack. At this moment the enemy came down upon him. The front ranks consisted of the young and hardy, armed in the miscellaneous manner we have described; while, to witness and animate their efforts, the young women and the elderly persons of both sexes took their place among the rocks which overhung the scene of action.

As the boats had to double a little headland, ere they opened the mouth of the voe, those who came by land to the shores of the inlet, had time to make the necessary reconnoisances upon the force and situation of the enemy, on whom they were about to commence a simultaneous attack by land and sea.

This duty, the stout-hearted and experienced general, for so the Udaller might be termed, would intrust to no eyes but his own; and, indeed, his external appearance and his sage conduct rendered him alike qualified for the command which he enjoyed. His gold-laced hat was exchanged for a bearskin cap, his suit of blue broadcloth, with its scarlet lining, and loops, and frogs of bullion, had given place to a red flannel jacket, with buttons of black horn, over which he wore a seal-skin shrit curiously seamed and plaited on the bosom, such as are used by the Esquimaux, and sometimes by the Greenland whale-fishers. Sea-boots of a formidable size completed his dress, and in his hand he held a large whaling-knife, which he brandished, as if impatient to employ it in the operation of flinching the huge animal which lay before them,—that is, the act of separating its flesh from its bones. Upon closer examination, however, he was obliged to confess that the sport to which he had conducted his friends, however much it corresponded with the magnificent scale of his hospitality, was likely to be attended with its own peculiar dangers and difficulties.

The animal, upwards of sixty feet in length, was lying perfectly still, in a deep part of the voe into which it had weltered, and where it seemed to await the return of tide, of which it was probably assured by instinct. A council of experienced harpooners was instantly called, and it was agreed that an effort should be made to noose the the tail of this torpid leviathan, by casting a cable around it, to be made fast by anchors to the shore, and thus to secure against his escape, in case the tide should make before they were able to despatch him. Three boats were destined to this delicate piece of service, one of which the Udaller himself proposed to command, while Cleveland and Mertoun were to direct the two others. This being decided, they sat down on the strand, waiting with impatience until the naval part of the force should arrive in the voe. It was during this interval, that Triptolemus Yellowley, after measuring with his eyes the extraordinary size of the whale, observed, that in his poor mind, "A wain with six owsen, or with sixty owsen either, if they were the owsen of the country, could not drag siccan a huge creature from the water, where it was now lying, to the sea-beach."

Trifling as this remark may seem to the reader, it was connected with a subject which always fired the blood of the old Udaller, who, glancing upon Triptolemus a quick and stern look, asked him what the devil it signified, supposing a hundred oxen could not drag the whale upon the beach? Mr. Yellowley, though not much liking the tone with which the question was put, felt that his dignity and his profit compelled him to answer as follows:

"Nay, sir—you know yourself, Master Magnus Troil, and every one knows that knows any thing that whales of siccan as may not be masterfully dragged on shore by the instrumentality of one wain with six owsen, are the right and property of the Admiral, who is at this time the same noble lord who is, moreover, Chamberlain of these isles,"

"And I tell you, Mr. Triptolemus Yellowley," said the Udaller, "as I would tell your master if he were here, that every man who risks his life to bring that fish ashore, shall have an equal share and partition, according to our ancient and loveable Norse custon and wont; nay, if there is so much as a woman looking on, that will but touch the cable, she will be partner with us; ay, and more than all that, if she will but say there is a reason for it, we will assign a portion to the baby that is unborn."

The strict principle of equity, which dictated this last arrangement, occasioned laughter among the men, and slight confusion among the women. The factor, however, thought it shame to be so easily daunted. "Suum cuique tribuito," said he; "I will stand for my lord's right and my own."

"Will you?" replied Magnus; "then, by the Martyr's bones, you shall have no law of partition but that of God and Saint Olave, which we had before either factor, or treasurer, or chamberlain was heard of!—All shall share that lend a hand, and never a one else. So you, Master Factor, shall be busy as well as other folk. Jump into that boat," for the boats had by this time pulled round the headland,) "and you, my lads, make way for the factor in the stern-sheets—he shall be the first man this blessed day that shall strike the fish."

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind mar17 eod & wky

Boston Markets.

BOSTON, Nov. 10.

POTATOES.—Receipts for the past six days, 100,000 bushels; previous six days, 100,000 bush.; for six days ending Nov. 10 last year, 118,000. The market continues overstocked, and sales slow and unsatisfactory. There have been no very marked changes in prices, but it takes fancy stock to bring full quotations. There is a good deal of inferior stock coming that has to be sold for what it will bring. We quote: P. E. Island Rose per bbl., $2.00 to $2.25; P. E. I., N. S. and N. B. per bush: Hebrons, 70c.; Rose, 68c.; White stock, 60 to 65c.; Chenangoes, 55c,

EGGS.—Receipts for the week, 97 boxes, 1,028 bbls., 8,647 cases; last week, 226 boxes, 149 bbls., 8,092 cases. The market is firm for choice fresh stock but not very active. Strictly extra Eastern are very scarce and wanted. Most of the Eastern are more or less mixed, and have to be sold accordingly. Extra marks of P. E. Island are firm at 24c.

FISH.—It is approaching the dull season in the fish trade, and there is now but little doing. The market is liberally supplied with codfish, and they are selling slowly at former prices. Box herring in full supply. Mackerel are firmly held. Stocks are light, and consist almost wholly of 1s. No. 3s are scarce and bring full prices. We quote:—P. E. Island unculled, 14c; extras, 16 to 17c; 1s, 15c; large 2s, 14c; 2s, 12c; canned mackerel, 1 lb. tins, labelled, per dozen, $1.40; canned lobsters, 1 lb. tins, labelled, per dozen, $1.40 to $1.45.

FREE OF CHARGE—if it does not cure. Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination, it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles 35 cents. Trial size 10 cents. dy wy 1w
