

The Two Brothers.

In Palestine, long years ago—
Where Kedron's sparkling waters flow
Across their sands of gold,
And Mount Moriah lifts his head
Above the sunny plain,
Two brothers owned—as one—his said,
A field of golden grain.

And when the autumn days had come,
And all the shocks and sheaves
Stood waiting for the "harvest home"
Among the withering leaves.
The elder brother said on night:
"I'm stronger far than Saul,
My younger brother. 'Tis but right
That I should give him all
These sheaves upon the plain
We own together. So
I put with his my stack of grain,
And he will never know!"

Scarcely had he left the sheaves of wheat
When quietly there came
Across the field with stealthy feet,
To errand just the same,
The younger lad, who said: "I see
My brother Simon's need
Is greater far than mine, for he
Hath wife and child to feed;
And so to him I'll give my sheaves—
It is but right, I know;
And he will never think who leaves
These wheat-stocks on his row!"

Next morning, when the brothers twain
Began to count their store,
Behold! each found his stacks of grain
To number as before!
"Why, how is this?" in great surprise,
Each to himself then said:
"Th' watch tonight, and see who tries
These tricks when I'm abed!"
And so, half way across the plain
They met—each one bent o'er
With shocks and sheaves of golden grain
To swell his brother's store.

Good Saul and Simon! Would today
More brothers might be found,
Who seek each other's good away,
And in kind deeds abound.
—Prairie Farmer.

The Telephone Company
P. E. ISLAND.
PARTIES using the Telephones would find talking much more satisfactory if they would observe the following rules:—
1st. Speak with the mouth about four inches from the transmitter.
2nd. Speak in a moderate tone of voice, not too loud, and distinctly.
3rd. Place the telephone so as to cover the ear. Do not press too hard on the ear.
It is possible to talk and be heard when standing back two or three feet from the transmitter if you shout loud enough, but it is not a pleasant mode of conversation, is entirely unnecessary, and is a useless waste of wind and lungs, besides being very annoying to all within range of your voice.
