Mr. J. L. Boudreault, telegraph linesman with the C.N.R., was a business visitor to the Harbour on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 19th and 20th, where he cleared up some minor difficulties that existed on the lines.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Fraser motored to Wolfville, N.S., on Tuesday, May 19, to attend the closing exercises of Horton Academy, where their daughter Jean had most successful year. Miss Fraser accompanied her parents on their return to Murray Harbour.

The many friends of Mrs. Sellar MacKay will be sorry to learn that she is confined to her home through illness. Mrs. MacKay, who conducts faithfully and well the primary department of Murray Harbour School, will be absent from her duties for several days. Her friends hope for her speedy and complete recovery.

The many friends of little Gerry Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Herring, will be sorry to learn that he is ill at his home. All join in the hope that very soon this pleasing little chap will be returned to a full measure of health.

Fishermen report lobsters as very scarce in this area. Starting off the season some large hauls were made but these gradually fell off and today the fishing in general is poor. Some of those engaged in the business claim that a change in wind might help some to increase the daily catch but others are pessimistic, believing that it will continue as a poor season. Prices are tops, however, the highest in years, and this helps some to offset the dwindling hauls.

The many friends of Mr. Carl Richards will be sorry to learn that he was the victim of a most unfortunate and serious accident a few days ago. Mr. Richards, a well-known carpenter and boat builder, was sawing out some sticks at his workshop when in some unaccountable manner his right hand came in contact with the power saw. The cut was so serious as to necessitate his removal to the King's County Hospital to have the wound treated. Mr. Richards, who had a full summer's work planned which included the building of a residence for a party at Murray Harbour, will be greatly handicapped for the next several weeks. However he has a host of well-wishers who will be in there

The condition of Mr. J. D. Bull is causing some concern to his many friends. This remarkable old gentleman, who is now eighty-four, would by his sprightly step and general activity put to shame many a man twenty years younger. All are joining in the hope that very soon Mr. Bull will regain his former good health.

A regional immunization and smallpox vaccination clinic for infants and young children was held at Murray Harbour School on Wednesday afternoon, May 20th. Dr. Bonnell of Murray River was the physician in charge and he was ably assisted by Miss Beer, R. N., and Miss Tracer, R.N., of the Provincial Department of Public Health. Some twenty children were treated and although this clears up most of the cases the records show that there are still several children who have not received the full treatment prescribed. This is unfortunate but little can be done about it until the parents come to a full realization of the importance from a health safety standpoint of such precautions.

The condition of Mr. Harold Bell, who was injured quite seriously several weeks ago when he fell from the front of a horse-drawn cart, is far from satisfactory. Mr. Bell, at the time of the fall broke his arm in two places, the most serious of which was at the shoulder joint. Mr. Bell still is unable to use the injured arm.

Island Odds And Ends

As more detailed reports of the damage wrought by last week-end's gale comes to light it is evident that the lobster-packing industry has taken a stiff blow. The loss of thousands of traps and gear means that the staffs of many factories will be idle, or on part-time employment perhaps for the remainder of the present open season.

So soon after the disastrous gale, it is not possible to guess what fraction of the lobster fishing equipment escaped the storm, or what make-shift plans can be devised to restore the situation. With prompt assistance from outside sources many fishermen possibly could be rehabilitated, and encouraged to carry on. The neighboring provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick could probably replace much of the lost equipment if financial means were forthcoming. It can be taken for granted that the fishermen themselves are not in position to refit, at their own expense. Too many of them have suffered smaller but like losses in other years to start from scratch after this latest setback.

The closing of factories would set up a chain reaction which would be serious indeed. It would affect office workers, truck drivers and many other people besides those actually engaged in fishing, and the packing of fish. It would seem that the situation is one which calls for legislation to close ranks, and to exhibit that clannishness which "foreigners" sometimes laugh at—and let it be practical and generous.

Victoria, nestled by the sea on the south coast of the Province, is one of the tidiest villages on this or any other Island. Once a busy centre of shipping and trade, changing modes of transportation both by land and sea have seen Victoria by-passed by the patrons of other days, and eclipsed in trade by larger provincial centres. But the village has charm, and appeal, for anyone who appreciates a seaside location, cleanliness, and a good beach. Its people look forward to the day when the short stretch of clay road which separates it from

First Aid Class At St. Peter's Lake

The St. Peter's Lake First Aid class has been completed and the Red Cross certificates will be presented in the near future.

The following members were successful in both the practical and theoretical tests and will receive Standard First Aid Certificates and pins: Mrs. Eddie Deveaux, Mrs. John Gallant, Mrs. Sheldon Gunn, Alex MacAdam, James J. MacDonal, Mrs. Joseph A. MacDonal, Ronald F. MacDonal, Mrs. Elmer MacEwen, Elmer MacEwen, Mrs. Gordon J. MacEwen, Gordon J. MacEwen, Mrs. Gerald Nolan.

The Trans-Canada highway—only a few hundred yards—will be paved. They have also a loftier ambition; the construction of an overseas by-pass to replace the now partly dismantled bridge, which spans a ribbon of salt water reaching well inland. They hope to have this work carried out under the marshlands reclamation scheme. Reclamation say such a project would create an inland lake, with great trout fishing possibilities, and would enhance the natural beauty of Victoria and much of the nearby countryside.

That tantalizing outcome of many a frustrating fishing trip, "the big one that got away," is not being heard so often this spring of 1953; perhaps because it is Coronation year. More often than not some of our more capable fishermen have returned in triumph with trout weighing three or four pounds, and the pardonable boastful words "here are some big or that did not get away." There is some luck about the landing of big fish, but skill plays an even bigger part in the happy ending to these successful sorties to river and stream. If it was all luck some of our anglers would not display such consistency in hooking the big ones that did not get away.
