A Brutal Murder.
THE FATAL QUARREL OF TWO ONTARIO FARMERS.

The quiet little village of Bishop's Mills, about eighteen miles north of Prescott, Ont., has been thrown into the greatest excitement over the murder of Henry Dool, a well-to-do and highly respectable farmer residing in that locality. The man accused of the crime, John Morris, is also a farmer whose farm runs alongside that of Dool's. So far as can be learned the circumstances surrounding the sad affair are as follows:—
"Dool and Morris, for a considerable time past, have been quarreling about a piece of land as to the title to which there is said to be some doubt. Great enmity existed between them. On Friday afternoon last they met and had a few words about a yoke of oxen on which there seems to be a chattel mortgage. A farmer named Straight was present, and Morris asked him to settle the difficulty. "Settle your own troubles," said Straight, at the same time marching away. Scarcely had he turned when he heard a cry, and looking back saw Dool lying on the ground stabbed in the side. Morris, so it is said, then started to the house for an axe, saying: "I will finish him." He, however, did not return. Dool, on being taken to the house, was found to be very weak from loss of blood. The wound was made with a clasp knife, with a blade about six inches in length. It was fully three inches long, and so deep that part of the lung was protruding. It was plain he could not live. Medical aid was summoned, but Dool died the following morning. Morris took flight shortly after committing the crime and has not since been heard of, although the police were soon in pursuit. Morris is about forty-five years of age, while Dool was about fifty-six. Both have large families. Some maintain that Morris is hiding in the bush, and the neighboring farmers are scouring the same for him.

A Chapter of Accidents, &c.

Gertrude Roman (colored), aged 12, was charged at the police court, in Hamilton, Ont., on the 14th., with attempting to poison another with arsenic and carbolic acid, which she put in tea. The smell of acid saved the woman. It is thought the girl is insane.

Ivanhoe Tache, ledger-keeper of the Bank National, of Ottawa, fell backwards from a wharf at Gattineau Point, on the night of the 13th, and was instantly killed by his head coming in contact with the gunwale or a steamship laying alongside.

Adeline Caron was burned to death at Louisville, by an exploding lamp setting fire to her clothing on the night of the 14th.

Three semi-intoxicated young men, while driving furiously along Richmond Street, London, Ont., struck a tree, smashing the buggy and pitching the youths to the roadway. Wm. McNorgan's skull was fractured and he will probably die. The others were unhurt.

At Woodstock, Ont., one night last week arrangements were completed for a marriage, but the groom at the last moment backed out, and failed to put in an appearance. The disappointed bride heroically invited the assembled guests to enjoy themselves as if the little hitch had not occurred, and it is learned that just as good a time was spent as if the marriage had taken place.

In Brief, And to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember: No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Dr. Tommasi Crudeli, an Italian physician of high authority in reference to malaria, has found that a lemon decoction has a decided anti-malarial efficacy, besides being a tonic. He says:—"Take a fresh lemon, cut it in thin slices, rind and all, boil it in three tumblersful of water, in a pot which has not previously been used for culinary purposes; prolong the boiling till the liquid contents of the pot have been reduced to one-third—that is, the contents of one tumbler. Pass the decoction through muslin, squeezing out the residue of the lemon, and let it cool for several hours. Let the whole be taken in the early morning, fasting." The drink is bitter, but is said to agree even with delicate persons.

MESSES. F. W. KINSMAN & Co.—Cents: "I have sold your Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam over my counter for nine years, and I must say that during an experience of twenty-six years in the retail drug business, I have never sold anything for coughs, colds, etc., that has given such universal satisfaction as your Adamson's Botanic Balsam. I recommend it above all others. Yours truly, S. CHICHESTER, 357 Myrtle Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y." Trial bottles 10 cents. dy wy lw

Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, on behalf of the Dominion Government, has expressed himself in favor of an enlarged extradition treaty between Canada and the United States. He attributes the present states of affairs to the action of the American Senate in rejecting the draft submitted by the Imperial government. Mr. Thompson strongly urges that the list of causes increasing the offences against business and commercial honesty should be increased.

GENERAL NEWS.

According to advices from Washington the new postal treaty with Mexico, which went into effect July 1, seems to be working satisfactorily.

The medical gentleman under whom Hon. J. A. Chapleau has placed himself in Paris is Dr. Guyon, one of the leading physicians of the French Capital.

Mrs. Catherine Morrison, wife of John F. Morrison, grocer, Ottawa, gives notice in the Canada Gazette that she will apply for divorce on the grounds of adultery, bigamy, desertion.

Sir Adolphe Caron, in the absence of Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, is acting minister of customs. The other ministers in town are Sir Hector Langevin, Hon. J. H. Pope and Hon. John Costigan.

Government notices are given of the burning of Westhaven's Island lighthouse, Mahone Bay, N. S., and the erection of a temporary light; and also of changes of lights in the Bay of Fundy.

Principal Grant, of Queen's university, Kingston, states that $140,000 out of the required $250,000 for the Jubilee fund for Queen's university was already subscribed, and he has no doubt of getting the balance.

Farmers of Windsor, Ont., are driving ten and twelve miles to fill their water barrels, and there is a constant procession of stock being driven along all the roads leading to the river and lake. One farmer who has a running well, has made more than $100 by selling water.

The centenary service to commemorate the establishment of the first Episcopate in America was given in Westminster Abbey, London, on Friday last. Canon Hartford conducted the service, and prayers were read, which had been specially written by the Archbishop of Canterbury. The sermon was delivered by the Bishop of Iowa, Bishop-elect of Nova Scotia.

Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice and family left Ottawa for Winnipeg last week, en route for British Columbia. Mr. Thompson will be joined at Winnipeg by Hon. Mr. McLellan and they will go west together. Mr. Thompson will inspect the Manitoba and British Columbia penitentiaries, and will, it is understood, be the first Minister of Justice who has done so during his term of office. He expects to return to Ottawa in about three weeks.

General Favrat possessed enormous bodily strength even in his old age. Feeling ill one day he sent for the doctor. As the latter was sitting by the bedside, the old warrior began to lament: "Ah, dear doctor, I am not the man I was; you can't imagine how weak I am getting; look here" and with these words he grasped with his right hand one of the legs of the chair on which the doctor was sitting, and lifted both the chair and its occupant a couple of feet from the ground. "You see it takes quite an effort."

Dr. Franklin was the first American Minister to France. An account of his mission has just been published from original documents. In this work striking instances are given of the diplomatic relations between England and France at the time, and the fact is placed beyond doubt that, without French money and French diplomacy and French soldiers and sailors, the independence of the American colonies could never have been achieved. Laclede wonders if that is the reason why the United States had such overwhelming sympathy for France during the late Franco-German war.

Hon. Mr. Thompson's visit to British Columbia has nothing to do with the Canadian Pacific claim against the Government on account of the Onderdonk sections of the road, as has been erroneously stated by some papers. It has not even been decided yet that there will be an arbitration in the matter, the Government contending that the company has no claim. The penitentiary act of last session involves a good many changes in the mode of administration, and it was thought that these could be most satisfactorily arranged by the Minister of Justice and the Inspector of penitentiaries consulting with the different wardens and this is now being done. Inspector Moylan is at present in British Columbia, where he will await the arrival of the ministers.

The United States Government have just let contracts to build five fast sailing war vessels. Two of these are gun boats, which will have a speed of sixteen knots, and will each carry a dozen high-power steel breech-loading 6-inch rifled guns. The three others are cruisers of 4084 tons displacement, each carrying twelve-inch guns, one of them with a speed of eighteen knots and the other two of nineteen knots. To make sure that the two last will have the very high speed stipulated for, the Government will deduct from the contract price $50,000 for every quarter of a knot below it, while for every quarter of a knot above it the sum of $50,000 shall be added. This seems to be an effective way of getting the speed required.

A naturalization movement is going on among the English and Scottish residents of New England, by which it is expected that thousands of names will be added to the voting lists. The number of un-naturalized Englishmen and Scotchmen in Massachusetts alone is calculated to be at least 27,000. There are said to be 4,000 Englishmen in New Haven, of whom only 500 are citizens. It is said that in the manufacturing city of Meriden some 1500 or 2000 British subjects will soon be naturalized. The movement commenced in Boston, and its leaders propose to appeal to countrymen by circular and in other ways in all parts of the United States. In 1880 there were a million and a half of the natives of England, Scotland, Wales and Canada in the United States and since that time there number has very considerably increased. A very considerable proportion of these have refrained from becoming citizens of the United States. If these change their minds and become naturalized the presidential vote in many places will be considerably modified.
