Remodel Former Hospital As S'side Health Centre

Work was started last week in Summerside in remodelling the building which for a great many years was used as the Prince County Hospital, before the new hospital was put into use in August of last year.

When completed, the end of the building north of the main stairway in "the old hospital" will be used as a public health center. An addition is being built at the north end of the building which will contain the entrance to this health center.

It is understood that the balance of the building will be used to carry on in conjunction with the new hospital.

Plans, when completed, call for the whole building to contain fifty-six beds.

There is considerable remodeling, renovating, and shifting partitions being done. Fireproof partitions are being installed around the stairways.

Much of the plumbing, particularly the fixtures, will be gone over, and some of it will be discarded and new fixtures installed.

The section of the building north of the main stairway, which will be the health center, will contain the entrance to the health center, stairways to the second floor, and the basement, a waiting lobby, a general office, two rooms for the public health nurses, two examination and treatment rooms.

On the second floor of this section will be located two rooms for clinic doctors, a welfare office, clinic workers and social workers room, and an examination room.

The main floor of the south end of the building which will be used in conjunction with the new hospital, will contain an x-ray room, dark room, storage room, utility room, baths and toilets, and will have 4 semi-private rooms, and 2 four-bed wards.

The second floor of this section will contain 5 single bed rooms, 3 semi-private, 2 four-bed wards, and one six-bed ward.

Plans for the third floor, if the plans for this floor are approved, to contain fifteen beds, practically all single rooms.

The estimated cost of remodeling this building is placed between thirty-five and forty thousand dollars, and it is a joint project of the Dominion and Provincial Governments.

The work involved is expected to provide employment for several Summerside workers.

The remodeling of the building is under the direction of Mr. W. R. Maynard, who was building inspector on the new hospital which was opened last year.—S.

Week of Prayer Services In S'side

Large congregations attended the different church services in Summerside during the week of Prayer when Rev. M. D. Dunbar of the Central Christian Church, Charlottetown, the guest speaker, delivered a series of inspiring sermons.

The minister, Rev. W. O. Weale, presided at the Monday evening meeting in the Church of Christ and introduced the guest speaker and took for his theme "Furnished complete, unto every good work" from the text, Timothy 3: 20-21.

On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the Baptist Church with the minister, Rev. W. A. Harper presiding, the topics by the guest speaker were "Christianity cannot be stored," based on Luke 5: 1-12; and "Good news for Displaced Persons," from the text, Philippians 3: 20-21.

Thursday evening's service was held in the Presbyterian Church with Rev. J. Donald MacKay, minister, in charge. A helpful sermon was brought by the visiting speaker upon the thought of effective prayer, the topic being "The Key to Heaven's Door," from Luke 2: 11-13. A male quartet, comprising Messrs. J. C. Mountain, Thomas Hall, William E. Forbes and Earl Schurman effectively rendered "Wandering Child," as a special number.

The concluding meeting on Friday evening was held in Trinity United Church where the minister, Rev. C. Daniel Matheson, was in charge. Mr. Dunbar's message in closing this series was "The Exalted Christ".

The congregational hymns of praise were led by the choirs of the different churches.—S.

HEADMASTER'S VIEW

BATH, England — (CP) — H. M. Porter, local headmaster, says he blames the failure of many boys to reach adult stature for many of the world's troubles. His advice: "Encourage boys to read, do not fuss over trivial ailments, and stop believing that hard work is harmful."

Sport Echoes From Prince County

After getting a poor game out of their systems, the Freetown Royals now look like the class of the South Shore League. They are a band of true never relaxers against the team that opposes them. You get the feeling there must be a good baker's dozen of them on the ice at once. There are at least two of the Sum-hi kids who skate faster than any of them do, but the speedsters on the Summerside line are like shooting stars in the sky. They zoom up the ice and then die. The Royals are more like the brook They go on forever.

The above "echo" should place a double whammy on the Freetown Royals. They'll probably go out in an and play like the cellar team in Hockey League in Sleepy Hollow. It's happened to us all the time this winter. We've boosted to the skies the Cape Traverse Rovers, the Albany St. Pats, the Sum-hi kids, Gillis in the nets, and all and sundry have gone out the very next time and played as if they were trying to prove that we, as a judge of hockey flesh, are in a class by ourselves — in the kindergarten department.

We still think Gillis can be coached into a good goalie. He is a cat with both hands and feet, but gets just a bit too excited when the tide of battle is washing away his door-step. The way he handles the first shot, he is never ready for a rebound. The sloppy clearing his mates demonstrated was enough to give any goaler berserk, however. They laid eggs in front of his goal cease all evening, and the Freetown boys were not slow in hatching them into scores.

The Schurman-coached outfit nudged Garth Gay but not to the extent of an eleven-goal deficit. Gay knits a weak defence and makes it at least run-of-the-mill, but you need a top-notch rearguard to stop those Freetown freebooters. They've got to be jarred off balance when they're swooping in on the net, and the High School bumped them very little.

Robert MacMurdo and Edgar Taylor are two mighty promising young players. MacMurdo is not particularly colorful, but he's working his head off even when the boss ain't looking. He has a killer-diller of a shot and it's on the net a lot of the time. Young Taylor has more oosh than his starchy team-mate. He's a stylist and knows how to fake a goalie out of position. There are lots of good boys on the Freetown line-up but we haven't space to talk about them just now. They're a fine team and should win this league but probably won't now that we've mentioned it.

Claude MacWilliams' nee-wee hockey team from Cape Traverse is expected to play the Summerside pee-wees at the Notre Dame Arena in Summerside on Saturday, January 19th. It will be interesting to see how our pee-wees compare with our Summerside young fry. Not that Summerside is not as much an outpost as any of the smaller places as far as hockey facilities are concerned at present. The "rinkless" town is just another Snake Brook when it comes to a centre for hockey.

Eric Johnston's Rockets are on the march. Johnston, who is quite a sports promoter, has gathered together some of the old intermediate "A" boys and a few other players and are going to barnstorm through the country like the homeless orphans that they are. The Rockets were defeated, but not defeated by the O'Leary Maroons on Wednesday night. Both red lights were burning a pale pink from overwork as the game ended. Nineteen goals were fired in the sandwich session, and that's a lot of rubber to put in one sandwich. The Rockets have had little or no practice during the past month.

Mrs. Hudson Louthier conducted the program from the Study Book: From Lakes to Northern Lights. Our Fellow Canadians in Europe. The slate of officers were installed by Mrs. W. B. Crowe. Meeting closed with Benediction.
