THE DAILY EXAMINER

AUGUST 10, 1900.

LIBERAL OPINION.

In a letter addressed to the Montreal Witness, one of the old-line Liberals expresses his intention to turn in and help in the defeat of the Laurier Government for its treason to the party platform and for its apparently incurable extravagance. Now another writer, Mr. J. R. Cook, of Birtle, Manitoba, sends to the same paper a communication to the same purport. He says: "I think it may be safely assumed that the majority of the Liberal party have supported that party in the past, not because of their success in securing office for themselves, but because it was believed their principles were sound, the affairs of the country would be honestly managed, and there would be no pandering to railway or tariff monopolists. They believed that the charges made by the Liberal press and the Liberal leaders on every platform in the land of the general rascality of the Conservative party were true, and expected that a new leaf would be turned when the Liberals took office. What, then, must be the feeling of honest men among the Liberal party to find that the party which they have supported with so much enthusiasm for the twenty years prior to 1896 have, so far as their representatives in Parliament are concerned, shown themselves to be hopelessly corrupt?" Traversing a number of questions, notably that of the huge railway concessions, Mr Cook says that: "Old Liberals are still in a quandary; in short, the attitude of the Liberal majority is simply this: the other party is just as deep in the mud as we are in the mire, what are you going to do about it? The obvious idea which is likely to cross the mind of the disgruntled Liberal is, it is better to support the open transgressor than to put back into power the hypocrite who breaks his pledges and makes ashamed the people who trusted him." This expression of opinion undoubtedly voices Liberal sentiment throughout Canada. But we cannot admit Mr. Cook's statement that the other party is as deep as the mud as the Liberals are in the mire. The Liberals are deeper by $15,000,000 as to expenditures, deeper by $8,000,000 as to debt; deeper by $12,500,000 as to taxes. The Conservatives never even contemplated such enormous jobs as that of the McKenzie-Mann railway in which a territory three times as large as this Province would have been given to a company of speculators but for the interference of the Senate.

BIG MEN IN SMALL PLACES.

WHILE THE EXAMINER has had the temerity to say that this is a small place—as compared with cities that are three or four times and ten and twenty times as big—we have never denied that it has produced great men and that great men have come among us. Some of these have accomplished much for the community and for the world; some have great ideas, for the development of which this little Island of the Gulf is all too small; and some are great in talk but fail in action. We need not mention names or specify particulars which must be fresh in the minds of all observers. The latter classes, however, are in evidence. Who has not noticed the merchant of small capital doing a small business, but possessing large ideas extending his operations and enlarging his expenditures,—and coming to grief? Who has not heard of the big farmer on the small farm, buying machinery, race-horses, buggies, pianos, organs, etc., in the effort to outdo his neighbors in better circumstances, and ending up by having his farm sold over his head? In some cases a rich relation or friend or perchance the Government comes to the rescue;—if not there is eventually collapse.

The last class of great men is, however, by far the more numerous. We have heard men talk as if they might enjoy in Charlottetown all the modern conveniences on the scale of Montreal; and as if little Prince Edward Island should be in all respects on an equality with big Ontario. Such men are not highly regarded by men of good sense. But they are not without some influence with respect to public affairs; and they even, at times, command newspaper organs which rail at and threaten useful men and institutions not yet quite up to their standard of perfection. These great talkers seem to imagine that reforms must come because they cry out. When they fail, as they usually do, and the people laugh, they get mad and call those who laugh "moss-backs" and other rough names.

A better way is to take conditions and circumstances into consideration, say not too much, decide upon the course to be pursued—and then go ahead and do the best you can. That is the way by which most improvements have been obtained. If, for instance, the Guardian had taken this way, and Sir Louis had persuaded the Government to pay to the telegraph company an infinitesimal part of the enormous sum voted away by Parliament, we should now enjoy the lower rates for which the people plead—and the Guardian might, perhaps, have had the advantage of a night service at the public expense. In view of all the big payments of the Dominion Government to which the people of this Island contribute, Sir Louis might well have obtained for us this little boon. But he preferred, as usual, to be great in talk and insignificant in action.

—It has been remarked the popular vote at the last general election stood thus:

Conservatives	417,685
Liberals	392,108
Independents	55,522
Patrons	30,965

This was the position at a time when the Conservatives were disunited and when Laurier was figuring as a model of rectitude. Out of the minority of the popular vote the new Liberals, aided by the Independent and Patron winners, found a Parliamentary majority. Today, as the Mail and Empire asserts, the Conservatives are united, and the best thought of the country is with them. Independents, Patrons and honest Liberals are not going to vote for another four years of big deals and high taxes.

Eclipse Picnic.

The ladies of Mount Stewart, viewing the necessity of improving the sidewalks in the village, intend holding a mammoth picnic on SATURDAY, 18th Inst.

There will be a well stocked saloon, tea tables, dancing booths, swings, bowling alley and other amusements of a very attractive nature.

Nothing will be left undone to make this picnic the outing of the season. Everything will be provided to please the taste and fancy of an epicure.

The grounds selected for the occasion is but a stones throw from the river, where the speckled beauties abound in profusion. So if picnics are not in your line, arm yourself with a fishing rod and spend a pleasant while angling in the placid waters of the Hillsboro.

Arrangements will be made for a special train or a steamer from Charlottetown on that day (of which due notice will be given) to place excursionists on the spot.

Be sure and make a note of the date, the 18th, as it will be a gala day at Mount Stewart.

Secretary.
