Another Testimonial.

DR. HAYNES,—Dear Sir: I am sorry you have so much to contend with. No doubt it is caused by jealousy. I shall certainly do my best to contradict any false reports I may hear, both for your own sake and my own. I would be very ungrateful should I do otherwise, after having derived so much benefit from your medicine. You promised to cure me in six months from the time I commenced taking your medicine, but I am happy to state that I had not been taking it more than three months when a cure was effected; and after having consulted all the doctors in this vicinity without effect, the only consolation I derived from any of them was that my disease (sick headache, etc.) had become chronic and was incurable. If this statement will be of any benefit to you, you are perfectly welcome to publish it. Yours very truly,

MRS. C. B. POOLE.

PARNELL,
SIRED BY: Abdallah Messenger, 4869, Sire of Bijou, 2.25 1-4, Grandsire of Telephone, 2.25.
DAM: Dolly, by a son of Saladin, Grand dam by Saladin, he by Bay Middleton.
—THE PROPERTY OF—
P. P. GILLIS, CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I.

PARNELL is a rich dark bay in color, with black points. He stands 16 hands high, and weighs 1150 pounds. He is a magnificently built and perfectly proportioned animal, having a finely shaped head and neck, the throat being clearly cut; the chest is broad and deep, giving grand lung power; the shoulders slope well back; the barrel is well rounded and springly ribbed, with strong loins and coupling; the quarters are shapely and heavily muscled; his bone is firm and clean, and his legs and feet all that can be desired. He is a splendidly gaited animal, having a free, open, natural trotting action that is greatly admired by all who have seen him moving in harness. He is good tempered and level headed, and very intelligent looking.

At the Provincial Exhibition, 1892, he showed his license to trot. Being started three lengths behind, and he pole horse, he drove the winner home in 2.40½, which is equal to 2.35 had he got fair play. Parnell has to his credit some of the best looking colts on the Island, and before the snow flies next fall he will have some of the fastest.

In Parnell's veins is mingled the blood of performers and producers—the blood of Black Hawk, of Abdallah I., of Justin Morgan, of Sambo, of Saladin, and of many others that are renowned in the equine history of the United States and of Prince Edward Island. In style, action, speed, courage, energy, pluck and intelligence he is worthy of his breeding, and breeders can make no mistake in selecting their best mares to this handsome Stallion. If you want speed you must breed for it, and in Parnell you have it. If you want fine carriage horses you must breed for them, and in Parnell you have concentrated the strains that have produced hundreds of our best roadsters. His inheritance is such as to justify expectations of the best results.

Parnell will stand at the owner's stables during the season of 1892 at the service fee of $15 00 for a foal. As I expect Parnell to trot below 2.30 this fall, I cannot allow the usual return privileges. Mares from a distance will be kept free of charge for two days.

SKODA'S DISCOVERY is King of Sarsaparillas.

I. M. HARMON.
Physicians and Nervines BOTH FAILED!
NERVOUS PROSTRATION
Of Years' Standing
CURED BY SKODA'S!

GENTS:—Your President, Dr. G. C. Kilgore, will recall the fact that last June when in the City Drug Store in your City, I told him that on account of extreme nervousness I had been unable to attend to business for several years, and that I was then resting from all labor—mental and physical. I was trusting in Nature as a last resort, as Physicians and Nervines had utterly failed in my case.

At that time I was troubled with Nervousness so badly that I could not sleep an hour some nights. I would have a crawling or creeping sensation in my limbs, that was more unendurable than any pain. My Brain would feel THAN tired and confused, if I tried to think upon any subject for ten minutes.

Dr. Kilgore gave me six bottles of SKODA'S DISCOVERY, and three boxes of LITTLE TABLETS, telling me they would greatly help me and he thought would cure me.

I took the medicine according to directions and have seen no symptoms of Nervousness since taking the fourth bottle. I sleep well. COLD Nerves are strong. Eat heartily, and am well. I have told scores what it has done for me. Respy yours,

Portland, Me. I. M. HARMON.

Notes and Comments.

—The barley trade with Great Britain should be carefully cultivated this coming season. Last year the yield in Ontario of six rowed or American barley was 22 bushels per acre, and of two-rowed or British 25 bushels. This would mean a gain of over 2 600,000 bushels of barley on the whole crop area of 701 000 acres in the province, and worth, at 50 cents per bushel, an additional $1,000,000. In England, according to The New York Homestead, the price of malting barley ranges from 90 cents to $1.25 per bushel. And B it in imports more barley at these figures than we can hope to produce for many a year.

—British Columbia's export of coal to the Pacific States is rapidly becoming an important item in the trade of the province. The Island of Vancouver sent last year 517,677 tons, more than half its total output, to San Francisco, and 393,163 tons mined at Puget Sound was sold in the same market. The result of the growing demand has been a proportionate development of the mining industry. In 1874 the output of the island of Vancouver was 81,000 tons. It reached 678,140 tons in 1890, and last year it jumped up to 1,020,097 tons. Despite the duty of seventy-five cents a ton the American demand for the coal is a ready one, and the trade is quite profitable. The Vancouver News remarks that San Francisco will have the coal if they can get it, simply because it is the best to be got. An industry that establishes itself through its intrinsic merit is likely to be a profitable and permanent one.

Will Wonders Ever Cease?

It has been discovered that by means of the circulating blood any organ of an animal can be paralyzed or stimulated into renewed activity if the proper material is administered. Cocaine, which has revolutionized delicate surgical operations, is only one of the results of this discovery. The use of Atropine by occulists is a remarkable example: For it matters not how administered, [even if injected into the big toe] the first effect seen is the enlarging of the pupil of the eye. An other application of this discovery, as practicalas any, was the idea that the great loss suffered by poultry raisers, owing to the fact that hens stop laying during cold weather, when eggs are worth fifty cents per doz., could be overcome, if the ovaries of the hen could be reached and stimulated to egg-producing activity. The experiment was crowned with success, and the chemical compounds deficient in the ovaries of the hens at this season are now very important components of Sheridan's Condition Powder to make hens lay. And with its aid some of our most successful egg-raisers believe it is as easy to obtain plenty of eggs in mid-winter as to raise early vegetables. Last December the poultry Editor of the N. E. Farmer said to a subscriber, "the office of Sheridan's Condition Powder is to animate the ovaries. A hen to lay profitably must be in condition. I use Sheridan's Powder because I believe that hens can be made to lay even in winter by using it, and fully twice as much profit can be made in a year from a flock of fowls where it is used." Is not that good evidence? Then force your hens to laying now, or later you will reflect,

"How wise we are when the chance is gone,
And a glance we backward cast!
We know just the thing we should have done,
When the time for doing it's past.

For 50 cents I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send two 25 cent packs; five packs for $1; or for $1.20, one large 2 1-4 pound can of Sheridan's Powder, postpaid; six cans for $5, express prepaid. The best poultry paper—Farm-Poultry one year, and a can of powder for $1.50. Sample copy of paper 5 cents. s25 dy6t wk11

THE SPREAD OF ENGLISH.—The only foreign language learned by that most exclusive of all races, the Chinese, is a sort of corrupt English—pidgin, or business, English as it is called. But missionaries have done not a little in China, and much elsewhere, to spread our language, and there are few important nations in the world from which there are not some converts to Christianity who can speak it.

Yet with all this we have not yet mentioned the agency which has done and will do the most to make English the universal speech. This agency is of course colonization, and the agents are English speaking colonists.

In a hundred years the United States will probably have as many inhabitants as China, and it is not likely that Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the Cape will fall much short of half their total, especially if England be reckoned with them. Some have, indeed, been found to maintain that English will not be the language of the whole even of the United States, while others point to the vigorous vitality of the French spoken by the French-Canadians, and the recrudescence of Welsh in the British Islands, as hints that languages die hard. But it is impossible to suppose that such considerations can affect the main question. There are already signs that English is becoming the literary language of Europe. Prof. Ambery, the Hungarian, published his autobiography first in an English dress; the Dutch author of the "Sin of Joost Aveling" wrote his novel "An Old Maid" in English, and the author of "The Crustacea of Norway," himself presumably a Norwegian, frankly owns in his advertisement that, to obtain the largest possible circulation for his book, it will be written in the English language.

The Coldness of Lake Superior.

Lake Superior is a capricious monster, demanding skilled seamanship and the use of powerful and staunch boats, the majority of which are comparable with the vessels in our Atlantic coasting trade. The lake is a veritable womb of storms. They develop quickly there, even more speedily the water takes on a furious character. It is always cold, and the atmosphere above and far around it is kept cool all summer. I have been told, but cannot verify the statement, that the temperature of the water in the open lake never rises above 46° Fahrenheit. As a rule the men who sail upon it cannot swim. The lake offers no inducement to learn the art, and alas! those who are expert swimmers cannot keep alive for any great length of time in the icy water. When I was making inquiries upon this point, I found, as one almost always does, some who disputed what the majority agreed upon. I even found an old gentleman, a professional man of beyond seventy years of age, who said that for several years he had visited the lake each summer-time, and that he had made it a practice to bathe in its waters nearly every day. It was chilly, he admitted, and he did not stay in very long. But many sailors, among them some ship and steamship captains, confirmed my belief that few Lake Superior seamen have learned to swim, and that the coldness of the water quickly numbs those who fall into it. I asked one captain how long he supposed a man might battle for life, or cling to a spar in the lake. He answered, very sensibly, it seems to me, that some men could endure the cold longer than others, and that the more flesh and fat a man possessed, the longer he could keep alive. "But," he added, "the only man I ever saw fall overboard went down like a shot before we could get to him. I always supposed he took a cramp."

The bodies of the drowned are said not to rise to the surface. They are refrigerated, and the decomposition which causes the ascent of the human bodies in other waters does not take place. If one interesting contribution to my note is true, and there be depths to which fishes do not descend, it is possible that many a hapless sailor-man and voyager lies as he dies, a century back perhaps, and will ever thus remain, lifelike and natural, under the darkening veil of those emerald depths.—From "Brother to the Sea," by Julian Ralph, in Harper's Magazine for April.

Why Study Latin and Greek?

What are the benefits obtained by a Latin and Greek education? In the first place, it affords an admirable intellectual training; in the second place, it opens up a magnificent literature; in the third place, it contributes very much to the right understanding of a language which is largely indebted to Greek and Latin. The first advantage is not of great importance. A modern language taught systematically may be made useful in much the same way, if not in the same degree. The second advantage is, for the vast majority of students, absolutely non-existent. The average school-boy or university man, when he closes for the last time his Virgil or Sophocles, is no whit the better acquainted with ancient literature than if he had spent a single year upon adequate translations of the famous originals, through which he has blindly blundered for a dozen years or more. The third advantage is one which, for general purposes, might be attained by a very short study in early life scientifically directed to word formation, rather than to the endless mysteries of inflection and syntax.—From "Some Talk About English Public Schools," in Harper's Magazine for April.

Public Schools in Western Cities.

In no city in the West is there a sign that public education will not remain the most costly branch of Government. There are two ways to look at such a condition, but, in my opinion, the two ways are not what they are commonly supposed to be. One way should be to look with envy on the rich, who thus may send their children to school for eight years, while the poor, who must put their little ones to work at tender ages, foot the greater part of the cost. The other way might well be to commiserate the poor who are deceived by sentimental claptrap into inflating the common-school system in such a manner that at last their share in its benefits becomes microscopic.—From Western Modes of City Management, by Julian Ralph, in Harper's Magazine for April.

MAKES FLESH AND BLOOD.—When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat in fact, Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life," and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles 50c. and $1 at Charlottetown drug stores.

The Canadian Pacific Railway company will sell at public auction 150,000 acres of land in Edmonton district on May 3rd, and as $3 per acre is the upset price, with a great demand, it is probable that the sales will reach half a million dollars. One tenth purchase money is all the company required down, the balance to be paid in nine annual instalments, with interest at 6 per cent.
