You Can Pin Your Faith

To any representation we make. The Watches we sell are the best money can buy. And the plain truth is strong enough to sell them. In these days of sham and misrepresentation, take time to think before buying a watch. We have some exceptionally good movements in plain nickel and silver cases. They make good, sensible, everyday watches. If a single one proves less trustworthy than we promise we'll take it back willingly.

WELL DEFINED.—An exchange defines gossip as a female who can make five by putting two and two together.

A DISA TROUS FIRE.—The barn of Raymond Surratt, at Leger's Corner, near Moncton, was destroyed by fire on Thursday morning, together with all its contents including two horses and two cows. Marie Govang, a farmer, who was sleeping off a drunk in the barn, was burned beyond recognition. It is believed that Govang awoke during the night and set fire to the barn while trying to light his pipe.

KLONDIKE MAIL FOUND.—The fact has come to light that a sack containing about 2,000 letters, addressed to all parts of the world and written by men in the Klondike or on the trail, was thrown away near Dyea some time ago by an outgoing miner, who evidently kept the money entrusted to him for the purchase of stamps and his services as volunteer mail carrier. The sack has been recovered and the letters are to be mailed to their respective destinations.

THE WAR CORRESPONDENTS.—The press correspondents with Kitchener's Sudan expedition have a grievance in that they are not permitted where they can see anything. Their lot is a happy one, however, compared with that of the U. S. correspondents with the expedition that has presumably sailed from Key West. They were permitted to see it, but to tell no thing. The British were starved in a desert; they were starved in view of a feast.

Fields For Science.
"There are three fields in which I think hypnotism should be used."
"What are they?"
"Politics, football and bargain rushes."—Chicago Record.

The title of colonel comes from a word almost the same in several languages, signifying a column. The colonel was so called because he led or commanded a column.

The hair on the heads of most of the hundreds of thousands of dolls exhibited in shop windows is made from the hair of the Angora goat.

Those Worrying Piles.

One application of Dr. Agnew's Ointment will give you comfort. Applied every night for three to six nights and a cure is effected in the most stubborn cases of blind, bleeding or itching piles. Dr. Agnew's Ointment cures eczema and all itching and burning diseases. It acts like magic, 35 cents.—Sold by Dr. S. W. Dodd and Geo E Hughes.

The Two Lobes of the Brain.

In the ordinary working of the brain one half is more active than the other and exercises a superiority on its neighbor lobe. This lobe—in ordinary persons the left, of course—is the cerebral master. Heredity, education, or what we will—all the combined influences, in short, which mold human life—have tended, by some process of physiological selection, to place one lobe over the other in point of importance. The other (right) lobe is the servant of the left in a measure. Its education has been neglected, and it requires the control of its better cultured neighbor in order that life may be conducted in a sensible and sane fashion. The most hopeless cases of insanity, Wigan would have held, would be those in which both hemispheres were affected. If one was alone ailing, the other might exert more or less control over it, and the extent of the control would depend on which lobe exhibited the diseased action. All degrees of insanity or mental derangement could thus be accounted for on this supposition of the relative control of one hemisphere by the other. The perfect life is that in which the better and higher half controls the weaker and less responsible.—Andrew Wilson, M. D., in Harper's Magazine.

A man may dress as well as his own good judgment and the assistance of an artistic tailor may elect. He may take his "tubs" but if his digestive organs are out of order, he will have an unwholesome appearance. His complexion and the white of his eyes will have a yellowish cast. His tongue will be coated, appetite poor, his teeth rusty, his breath abominable. He is one big, unmistakable sign of constipation. The quickest, surest, easiest way to cure this trouble is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are made of refined, concentrated vegetable extracts. Nothing in the least harmful enters into their composition. They hunt down all impurities, and "make them move on." They are the product of many years' study and practice. Dr. Pierce cannot afford to put forth a worthless article.

I have been frequently told that "Dry Goodmen" try to persuade buyers from inspecting my goods. It is easy to guess why they do this—and I sincerely hope they will continue in that course, for it only tends to make the shrewd buyer so much eager to know what I am selling at low prices.

I employ no salesmen, sell only to gilt edge buyers, and my only terms are cash. Housekeepers will find it to their advantage to inspect my wrappers and skirts. See the widely known "King Diamond Skirts" at such a low figure. Buyers will save shoe walking and money by trading with me.
