

KNOWS NO DISTINCTION.

Rich and Poor Alike Suffer From Catarrh in This Climate.

Observant physicians have noted the enormous increase in catarrhal diseases in recent years, and the most liberal and enlightened have cheerfully given their approval to the new internal remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets as the most successful and by far the safest remedy for catarrh yet produced.

One well known specialist, as soon as he had made a thorough test of this preparation, discarded inhalers, washes and sprays and now depends entirely upon Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in treating catarrh, whether in the throat, throat or stomach.

Dr. Wisdell says "in patients who had lost the sense of smell entirely and even where the hearing has been affected from catarrh I have had fine results after only a few weeks use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. I can only explain their action on the theory that the cleansing and antiseptic properties of the tablets destroy the catarrhal germs wherever found because I have found the tablets equally valuable in catarrh of the throat and stomach as in nasal catarrh."

Dr. Estabrook says, "Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are especially useful in nasal catarrh and catarrh of the throat, clearing the membranes of mucus and speedily overcoming the hacking, coughing and expectorating."

Any sufferer from catarrh will find Stuart's Catarrh Tablets will give immediate relief and being in tablet form and pleasant to the taste are convenient and always ready for use as they can be carried in the pocket and used at any time as they contain no poisonous drugs, but only the cleansing antiseptic properties of Eucalyptus bark, Guaiacol, blood root and Hydrastin.

All druggists sell the tablets at 50 cents for complete treatment.

An unusually pleasant time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Carver, Hazelbrook, Monday evening, Nov. 19th, when a large number of friends were invited to participate in the celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage. In the midst of games and jollity they were suddenly ushered into the large dining room, where was loaded a table that would satisfy the most fastidious. This was considerably relieved of its immense burden, and another while was spent in music and games. Misses Linda Smith and Winnie Jenkins ably performed as organists. Many useful presents attested to the popularity and high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Carver are held by their friends. After the presentation of these articles, to which Mr. Carver responded in his usual witty manner, the singing of God Save the Queen brought the pleasant evening to a close.

NEW ELDORADO STRUCK.

Dawson, Atlin and Nome Rivalled in Central Alaska.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The Commercial Advertiser publishes the following from a correspondent in the far Northwest:

Confluence of Chestochina and Copper rivers, Alaska, October 14.—There is every indication that the third Eldorado to succeed the Klondyke excitement has been discovered. The history of Alaska and the Far Northwest is contained in three words, Dawson, Atlin, Nome. A handful of men who have passed this camp and shown me their gold, believe a fourth "pay" has been found. Chestochina. It is the name of a river in Central Alaska, south of the Yukon and tributary to Copper river, which rises in the great Alaskan range and the volcanic peaks of the Wrangel Group, and flows south into the Gulf of Alaska about 3,000 miles west of Mount St. Elias.

"You can't predict an Eldorado," they say in the north, "until some one has gone wrong in the top of his head, picking out nuggets." There has been no such luck yet on the China river, but with less work than was expended on Klondyke river and labor done in less time, though under greater difficulties, the new Chestochina country has provided itself better.

In other words, it has produced more gold than was produced in like time on the Klondyke creek. Since the strike, less than three months ago, 35 men, unequipped for practical mining in an unknown and uncharted region, where up to a year ago only the fewest "colors" could be found, have given undeniable evidence of greater general wealth than exists in any other mining district in the north.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR OTTAWA.

Large bridge and structural iron works similar to the Dominion Bridge Company's concern at Lachine are likely to be established in Ottawa during the coming year. It is learned that a party of Montreal and Ottawa capitalists have secured options and are conducting negotiations for the purchase of a large vacant property near the site of the old St. Lawrence and Ottawa depot and intends to establish an industry which will give employment to two or three hundred hands. While there is a great deal of bridge work in Eastern Ontario there is no manufacturing industry of the kind in this part of the province, and very few in Canada, as a whole. The promoters, therefore, consider Ottawa a good field for operations, and think that the establishment of such works would receive a successful patronage. The site in question is well-suited for the purpose, having rail and water communication immediately beside it. If the present plans are carried out the work will commence in the spring, and a large brick structure will be erected.

Britain's Revenge

We in Belgium are railing against Great Britain, but the wicked nation seems to care very little about it. She will continue doubtless to purchase the half of our products and our cures, she will send her pounds and her pounds sterling, and, in a word, will continue to enable us to live. Perhaps, finally, we shall be able to send our products into those two very republics which have suddenly become so dear to us, and this, perhaps, will be the sole revenge which the most splendid empire on earth will wreck on those who are barking at her.—La Metropole Financiere, Brussels.

A DAILY THOUGHT.

When on my day of life the night is falling, And, in the winds from unshined spaces blown, I hear far voices out of darkness calling, My feet to paths unknown; Thou who hast made my home of life so pleasant, Leave not its tenant when its walls decay; O love divine, O Helper ever present, Be Thou my strength and stay. Whittier.
