New Energy Sources Needed Says Banker

TORONTO, Dec. 13 - (CP) - Canadians need more mechanical power in their hands if they are to be as prosperous as Americans, Robert Rae, president of the Dominion Bank, said in effect, today.

Addressing the Bank's annual meeting, he said there is urgent need to create and use new sources of energy for ordinary peace-time purposes from coal, petroleum, rivers or any source whatever.

"We are in the process of doing that now in the western oil fields, at Steep Rock Lake and in Labrador. But we still possess only four-fifths as much mechanical power in all its forms, per head of population, as is possessed by our neighbors in the United States.

"Until we can match, on this basis of comparison, their equipment of energy, the Canadian dream of raising our standards of living and of comfort to the level of theirs will not be realized."

"In order to realize our dreams for this Dominion-to create this equipment, and by means of it, achieve these living standards-we need more and more people. In other lands there are millions of good and energetic folk, disillusioned by the recent course of events in their own countries, eager to start life again elsewhere. These are potential immigrants. We need the best of them, and in substantial numbers.

Mr. Rae said some Canadians, fearing inflation, call for government controls.

Only patrol action occupied ground troops of the U.S. eighth Army in Western Korea, faced with the threat of a Communist assault that could possibly result in evacuation of that Allied force, too.

Huge columns of southward migrating Korean civilians posed a problem for the Allies on both sides of the Korean peninsula.

No Standard For Testing Drunkenness

MONTREAL, Dec. 13 - (CP) - Science cannot determine when a man is drunk, the Montreal section of the Chemical Institute of Canada was told tonight.

Dr. E. Gordon Young of Halifax, for 26 years professor of Biochemistry at Dalhousie University, told the institute's dinner that analysis will show the volume of alcohol in the blood, but no standard exist for "chemically proving drunkenness in a court of law."

He said the idea of "that section of the public that would insist on tests for drunkenness" in legal cases, particularly that of drunken driving, was unsound.

A native of Quebec and recently appointed director of the new Maritime Regional Laboratory of the National Research Council, Dr. Young was a chemist called as an expert witness in legal cases could only testify that a certain volume of alcohol in the blood "produces some degree of inebriation in the majority of people."

He said some people would like to see the laws changed to allow police to take blood tests for alcohol-under the present law, a test would constitute assault.

MALIK SAYS (Continued from page 1) Romulo, speaking slowly and carefully, said if peace collapses and war comes "the responsibility shall fall squarely on the governments such as that represented by Mr. Jakob Malik here, and the dark and evil forces for which they work."

The resolution approved by the committee was sponsored by Afghanistan, Burma, Egypt, India, Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Lebanon, Pakistan, the Philippines, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Yemen. It proposed that President Nasrullah Entezam of the General Assembly and two persons to be named by Entezam determined the basis on which a cease-fire in Korea can be arranged and to make recommendations to the Assembly as soon as possible.

First Hint Malik's statement to the political committee was the first time any Soviet delegate has even hinted that the Communist Chinese would leave Korea. He said several committee members had stated that the Soviet demand for withdrawal of U.N. forces. He said he wanted it stated for the record that Chinese "volunteers" also would leave Korea.

RUSSIAN OPPOSITION TO THE CEASE-FIRE proposal made it doubtful that a truce could be arranged. Malik's explanation indicated that he expected the U. N. forces to withdraw first and this is a condition which Western delegates indicated they would not accept.

Guardian Reader Forwards Copy Of Arctic Newspaper

An edition of the "Arctic" Great Newspaper has been received at this office accompanied by a letter from Mrs. Teresa McDonald, formerly of this Province, now residing in Nome.

The "Mukluk Telegraph" is published twice monthly in Kotzebue, Alaska, and is eight by eleven inches in size, the November issue having twelve pages. Mrs. McDonald states that most of the reporters are Eskimos, and some of the articles make very interesting reading, such as the one concerning activities in the Elephant Point village, which concludes, "We tell some more news next time."

This article tells of three boats which were hunting seals, and of how one party caught seven, another six, and the last one three, in the one-day expedition.

In another section of the newspaper is the following notice which is self explanatory: "The support given the undersigned at the October Territorial Election is greatly appreciated. Without question to be thus upheld by electors is an honor and a privilege. Let me add it also a grave responsibility. To be spokesman representative for others in governmental circles is a serious business. There is no place for half heartedness nor wrong intentions in this game. My pledge is to do my utmost, within my ability, for a progressive, clean and fair legislation. To realize that end-remember you are still the power-I will need your continued interest and backing." Signed Percy Ipalook, Kotzebue, Alaska.

In her letter Mrs. McDonald writes appreciatively of the Guardian, the Saturday edition of which she receives regularly. She continues by saying that "Mukluk" the name of their newspaper, means a boat which is commonly worn by the people of that area, and is made of hide.

Mrs. McDonald concludes her letter by referring to the following recipe which is given in the newspaper, and states that she would like to see the faces of the Island women when they read it.

"Eskimo Ice Cream: Cut up any kind of food, reindeer preferred. Place in wooden container and add seal oil. Stir thoroughly. Add one or two cups luke warm water and stir until mixture takes uniform white color. Add two cups sugar, and berries if desired. Mix thoroughly and set outside to freeze. Serve by placing container in center of room and everybody dive in."

Motor Vessel Aground In Montague River

The 150-ton motor vessel "Freda M" loaded with produce grounded at high tide in the Montague River at noon yesterday, shortly after sailing from Montague. She was en route to her home port, Grand Banks, Nfld. Captain C. Williams is in command.

The vessel appeared to be travelling at considerable speed when she rammed into a shoal at MacEachern's Point. Efforts were made immediately to free her but were unsuccessful. They will be renewed today.

The "Freda M" was loaded by Poole and Thompson of Montague. The cargo includes potatoes, turnips and hay.

Presbyterian W.M.S. Meeting At Montague

The December meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Montague, was held at the home of Mrs. A. C. MacKay Tuesday evening. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. F. N. Young, who read the call to worship. The hymn "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear" was sung, followed by the Scripture lessons, read responsively.

An interesting letter from Rev. Edward Bragg, Presbyterian missionary in British Guiana, was read alternately by the members. Mrs. A. C. MacKay led in prayer and "Holy Night, Peaceful Night" was sung.

Roll call was answered by a verse of Scripture, after which the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. A chapter from the study book "Towards A New Dawn for Japan" was read by Mrs. Byron Stewart. This chapter was of much interest especially as it dealt with the history of the Presbyterian Church in Korea and the work of Rev. W. J. MacKenzie, a native of Cape Breton who went to Korea as the first missionary of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

A number of members reported having visited the sick and shut-in during the month. The meeting closed with the hymn "As With Gladness Men Of Old" and the Mizpah Benediction.

A brief business meeting of the Ladies Aid Society was then held, conducted by the vice-president, Mrs. H. E. Nelson.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by a committee of the ladies.
