

The Throstle.

LORD TENNYSON'S NEW POEM.

"Summer is coming, summer is coming, I know it, I know it, I know it. Light again, leaf again, life again, love again, Yes, my wild little poet."

Sing the New Year in under the blue, Last year you sang it as gladly, "New, new, new, new!" Is it then so new That you should care so madly?

"Love again, song again, nest again, young again!" Never a prophet so crazy! And hardly a daisy as yet, little friend, See, there is hardly a daisy.

"Here again, here, here, here, happy year," O warble, unbidden, unbidden, Summer is coming, is coming, my dear, And all the winters are hidden.

Odds and Ends.

The summer is said to be like pride, because it goeth before a fall.

The man who ruined his constitution drinking soda-water is a fizical wreck.

Soup a la Jay Gould. Take a little stock, six times as much water, and then put in the lamb.

We suspect it is poor poetry which makes Oscar Wilde, and James Whitcomb Riley. Be calm, brethren.

Squeers—"I want a name for my horse. What can you suggest?" Nickleby—"Call him money." "Why?" "Goes fast."

"Miss De Smyth, do you like dates?" "No, Adolphus, but p does. I think about Christmas would please him."

Young Mai—"Does your sister play the piano, Bobby?" Bobby—"Play it! No; but she works about it seven hours a day."

Little Flaxen Hair—"Papa, it's raining." Papa (somewhat annoyed by work in hand)—"Well, let it rain." Little Flaxen Hair (timidly)—"I was going to."

In 1829, by order of the English Government, a number of buffaloes were landed at Port Essington, Australia. After sixty years of uninterrupted increase their numbers are astonishing, vast herds roaming over the plains of the northern territory.

Worse by half than the hen and a half problem is this: A certain family consists of one grandfather, two grandmothers, one father-in-law, two mothers-in-law, three mothers, two fathers, two daughters, one son, one daughter-in-law, one son-in-law, one grand-daughter, and there are only six persons in the family.

Officer (Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children)—"I am hunting for a family who, I am told, are compelling a three-year-old child to learn the Russian language." Resident (Slum Cur)—"I know 'em. They live in room 63."

Officer (wrathfully)—"The brutes! What is their name?" Resident—"Knoiskiwokivitziv. They are Russians."

SUCCESS in life is the result of push and energy. If the blood is impure and sluggish, both body and mind lack vigor. To cleanse and vitalize the blood and impart new life to the system, nothing else has such a marvelous effect as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

An English writer seems to think that conversation as a living art is no more. Society mobs have killed it. The babel of voices, the mere power of lungs, as displayed at afternoon teas are responsible for the decay of conversation. There are no more brilliant listeners, however many talkers, and the would-be conversationalist must be now equipped, not only with a vocal organ of mental quality, but with a vocal organ that "reaches" above the senseless noise of most social gatherings, if he would be heard. Talk is cheap as they say, but conversation is dear.

THERE is comfort for the man with a prematurely grey beard in Buckham's Dye because it never fails to color an even brown or black as may be desired.
