CHRISTIANITY AND AGNOSTICISM.

impassioned love and, and has shown itself capable of acting on all ages, nations, temperaments and conditions; has not only been the highest pattern of virtue, but the highest incentive to its practice, and has exerted so deep an influence that it may be truly said that the single record of three short years of active life has done more to regenerate and to soften mankind, than all the disquisitions of of philosophers, and all the exortations of moralists. "Renan, the great French philologist, writes: "There have been professors of virtue more austere, perhaps firmer, but there never have been like masters in the science of goodness. The joy of the soul is the grand Christian art"; and says Cotter Morrison, one of the ablest of unbelievers: "What needs admitting, or rather proclaiming, by agnostics who would be just, is that the Christian doctrine has a power ot cultivating and developing saintliness which has no equal in any other creed or philosophy. "It strengthens the will, raises the affections, and finally archieves a conquest over the baser self in man."

Yes, "their rock is not our Rock, our enemies themselves being judges." Christianity has acted as a mighty moral and spiritual power for 18 centuries, compared with which that of all others has been weakness. I ask you to consider the profound significance of this fact. Then reflect on those parts of the moral teaching of Christianity which I have set before you weigh them not only separately but conjointly, add to them the solution which it gives to the higher aspirations of man, and say whether we are not in the presence of a moral miracle. To ask us to believe that all this has been the invention of ignorant enthusiasts or credulous fanatics is an outrage on our reason, still less can it have been due to wilful imposture.

But this subject not only suggests a negative, but a positive conclusion. It is an undoubted fact that Jesus and His followers were born and educated among a race of men whose narrow-mindedness and bigotry rendered them the contempt of the ancient world. It is no less certain that they are the authors of the most enlightened system of teaching which has ever been excogitated by the human mind. It is a great philosophic truth that the best of men only succeed in elevating themselves to a moderate degree above the surroundings in which they were educated. The question, therefore, demands solution. Whence, then, had this Man this wisdom? Is there any known law of evolution in accordance with which the elevated wisdom found in The New Testament could have been envolved out of the society in which our Lord and His followers were born and educated, by any natural process of the human mind. If there is not, there is only one other source in which it can have originated—it must have come down from above, and, consequently, Christ must be a divine relation. (Rew.)

FACTS ARE STUBBORN.

And They Tell a Wonderful, Truthful Story.

A Plain Statement of a Plain Case.

The proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla have never made a claim concerning this great medicine which was not backed up by absolute and indisputable proof. They claim that the laboratory in which Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared is the largest building in the world devoted to the proprietary medicine business. Is this statement true? Look at the facts. In Lowell, Massachusetts, situated within a few feet of the great Boston and Maine railroad system, in plain view of thousands of travellers, stands a brick building five stories high, sixty feet wide, and four hundred feet long, and this entire building is devoted to the business of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Has anyone ever expressed a doubt as to the reality of this great laboratory, or has anyone who has been in Lowell ever contradicted a single statement that has ever been made concerning it? Has any traveller ever seen, anywhere upon the face of the earth, the equal of Hood's Sarsaparilla Laboratory? No, it cannot be found. Then what does this fact mean? Simply that the business which has been built up by the demand for Hood's Sarsaparilla is of immense proportions.

The proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla claim that it has the largest sales in the world. The truth of this statement may be verified by any person who will make a fair enquiry of wholesale druggists all over the country.

Again, the proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla claim that Hood's Sarsaparilla cures. Upon the truth of this claim depends the reason for the existence of the mammoth laboratory and the reason for the immense and ever increasing sales Once more let us examine the facts. Any thoughttul person who has given attention to published testimonials must be convinced of the superiority of those published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla. They are from living people, who tell in their own words as nearly as possible what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for them. Based upon solid truth, freely given in earnest gratitude, published without the embellishments of professional writers, these testimonials prove beyond a question that when all other prescriptions and medicines fail, Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures. Another point. The cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla are not in distant states or countries, or among people of whom we never hear except in the newspapers, but they are right here in our midst and often among our own friends.

DON'T DIE BEFORE YOUR TIME.

"Why will you die?" That is the question the scientist now asks the miserable sufferer from consumption or lung trouble The answer naturally is "because I can't help it." But the consumptive can help it. Miller's Emulsion made from Norwegian Cod Liver, and combined with the hypophosphites of lime and soda will cure nine cases out of ten of consumption, and the tenth case can get a reprieve for a year or two. New blood is what the consumptive requires, and Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, when taken produces it. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all lung affections. In Big Bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

This is Concentration.

One pill a dose, one box 25 cents. One pill relieves constipation. One box cures an ordinary case. One pill taken weekly neutralizes formation of uric acid in the blood and prevents Bright's Kidney disease and Diabetes. True only of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

A Comfort Sometimes.

When health is far gone in Consumption, sometime only ease and comfort can be secured from the use of Scott's Emulsion. What is much better is to take this medicine in time to save your health.

"I have spent thousands of dollars and been in the best hospitals of Europe and America under treatment for catarrah." said a gentleman recently, "and have never received so much genuine relief as I have from a twenty-five cent box of Hawker's catarrah cure."

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS

Edited by ALBERT SHAW

IT WAS in April, 1891, that the first number of the American Review of Reviews was printed The new idea of giving the best that was in the other magazines in addition to its own brilliant, original articles, took America by storm, as it had taken England—though the magazine itself was not at all a reprint of the English edition. It deals most largely with American affairs, and is edited with perfect independence, in its own office.

The Review of Reviews is a monthly, timely in illustration and text, and instantly alive to the newest movements of the day, to a degree never before dreamed of Thousands of readers who offer their commendations, among them the greatest names in the world, say that the Review of Reviews gives them exactly what they should know about politics, literature, economics and social progress The most influential men and women of all creeds and all parties have agreed that no family can afford to lose its educational value, while for professional and business men, it is simply indispensable The departments are conducted by careful specialists, instead of mere scissors-wielders, and scores of immediately interesting portraits and pictures are in each number.

All this explains why the Review of Reviews has come to a probably unprecedented success in the first three years of its existence. For 1895 it will be more invaluable than ever.

THE REGULAR DEPARTMENTS

Besides the special articles and character sketches of thrilling interest and timeliness, the Review of Reviews has these regular departments:

The Progress of the World.—An illustrated editorial review of the month's events which thinking men and women should understand in their proper significance and proportions.

Leading Articles of the Month.—This department, and the succeeding one, The Periodicals Reviewed, embody the idea on which the magazine was founded and named. All that is best in the other magazines, American and foreign, is here briefly summarized, reviewed and quoted from.

Current History in Caricature chronicles the month's history through the picturesque means of the successful cartoons that are appearing throughout the world.

Other departments review carefully new books, give lists and indexes of all articles in the world's magazines, and furnish a terse daily record of current events.

HOW TO TREAT A COLD.

Don't stuff a cold, as the old adage advises, if you do you will have a fever to starve. A genuine cold is a shock received by the many million nerves which approach near the surface of the human body, and which control the nearly seven million pores of the skin. This shock closes the pores of the skin, is transmitted to the nerve centre and back to the mucous membranes, forcing a great amount of blood to these membranes, creating more or less irritation and consequent fever, inflammation, dryness, then watery discharge and catarrh. The shock may have its cause from a chill, from improper eating, a nervous fright and various other causes which irritate the nerves of the skin and mucous membranes of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes. Excess of blood in the stomach still more clogs the system and pores of the skin, so that effete matter, which should be carried off by the natural courses is retarded; which is ample reason for not stuffing a cold. Experimenting with a severe cold is a dangerous custom, as most persons try one remedy until some friend suggests another "sure cure." When slight hoarseness or tightening of the nasal membranes warns one of a skin exposure or chill from whatever cause, act promptly, delays are dangerous; with children it may mean croup and strangulation; with adults, catarrh, bronchitis, perhaps pneumonia. Scores of mothers would as soon go to bed without matches in the house as without that old-fashioned remedy, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment near at hand for colds and croupy children. The proprietors, I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send their new illustrated book entitled "Treatment for Diseases," free to any person for the asking. .....

N.B. TRADE MARK THE VARNISHED BOARD ON WHICH THE GOODS ARE WRAPPED.

Priestley's Dress Fabrics

In the long run it is the quality of the material that will determine the success of a lady's costume. Every lady who has at all studied the matter knows this. Priestley's Black Dress Goods are the best that the market affords. That is conceded on all hands. The ladies of Great Britain cordially acknowledge it. The American ladies prefer Priestley's dress fabrics to French. Our Canadian ladies are now asking for them. They wear better than other goods; but their great charm consists in a peculiar richness and softness of appearance, and a flexibility which enables them to drape in the costume with that suggestion of flow and rhythm which it is the dream of all tasteful women to realise.

See that the goods you buy are stamped "every five yards with "Priestley's name." No others are of their manufacture.

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
