Police Chase Ends In Arrest, Conviction

A 65 m.p.h. police chase over more than a mile and a half of streets in the north end of the city at about 11 p.m. Friday, resulted in Sterling Purvey, 54 Guy Avenue, Charlottetown, appearing in city police court before Magistrate A. J. Haslam Saturday, charged with driving with out due care and attention.

The testimony of Const. Douglas Taylor of the city police force revealed that the chase started at the intersection of Easton Street and Elm Avenue, and ended when the accused drove his car into a driveway of a residence on DesBrisay Crescent.

The testimony of Const. Douglas Taylor of the city police force revealed that the chase started at the intersection of Easton Street and Elm Avenue, and ended when the accused drove his car into a driveway of a residence on DesBrisay Crescent.

Following a conviction, the magistrate imposed a fine of $40 and costs on 20 days in jail, and ordered that the driver's licence of the accused be suspended for three months.

THEFT CHARGE
Appearing for sentence on a charge of theft, John Lawless, Charlottetown, was sentenced to 60 days in Queens County Jail. At his arraignment Friday, the accused had pleaded guilty to the theft of one electric steam iron and one clock-radio the property of Marjorie White, Charlottetown, and valued under $50.

Following a conviction, the magistrate imposed a fine of $40 and costs on 20 days in jail, and ordered that the driver's licence of the accused be suspended for three months.

After turning into the driveway, Const. Taylor stated that Purvey jumped out of his car and made off over a number of yards of the chase. The pursuing officer sent in a car for assistance to the police station, and was joined by two other officers. The three continued to search for the car in the area of the district. Later, a call was made to the police station, and was joined by two other officers. The three continued to search for the car in the area of the district. Later, a call

Water Pressure Lack Said Report Feature

BY RALPH CAMERON
Guardian-Parli Staff Writer
It is an old story that we have to fight fire with fire, but most members of the city fire department would prefer to have an adequate supply of water for the job. Only recently local firemen had pointed out to the city council that the water supply in Charlottetown, particularly in the east end where they claim to be the worst, is inadequate for protection.

But the east end of the city is only one of the many sectors, particularly in the older areas of Charlottetown, where there is insufficient water supply... a pressure... to provide needed fire protection. NO GUIDE AVAILABLE

But from that point on conditions are not as favorable as they might be so far as fire fighting is concerned. From Gerald Street the system is based on the square inch mains to carry the supply further into the city. That is, the water supply is based on the square inch mains to carry the supply further into the city. That is, the water supply is based on the square inch mains to carry the supply further into the city.

Known as the Piloter Report, the findings of the New York City supply expert will be discussed by the commissioners with the City Council in an early joint meeting. COUNCIL PROVIDES FUNDS

One of the peculiarities of the local arrangements is that though the Commissioners have absolute authority in their own right, the City Council which has to provide the funds with which the water supply is based on the square inch mains to carry the supply further into the city. That is, the water supply is based on the square inch mains to carry the supply further into the city.

Firemen Busy On Weekend

Four fire alarms, three of them yesterday, kept city firemen hopping over the weekend. Shortly after noon on Saturday firemen were taken to Healey Street by a false alarm.

A malfunctioning sprinkler alarm called firemen to Moore and MacLeod Ld. shortly after one o'clock Sunday morning and an overheated oil stove at 195 Cumberland Street called firemen out about 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

The third Sunday alarm came in at 7:19 p.m. from DeBolis Bros. Ltd., manufacturing the sprinkler system also was the cause of the alarm.

No damage was reported from any of the alarms.

Home Damaged Near Montague

MONTAGUE - The Montague fire department was called late yesterday to extinguish a fire in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCarron, Commercial Cross.

Starting from the oil stove, the fire had gained considerable headway and caused extensive damage to the interior of the home before it was extinguished.

(Continued from page 4) that the members of Council are not worth the amount of money which they are receiving, or the amount which will be discussed or considered as suitable remuneration for them. It does, however, suggest that there are other matters, and have enumerated some of them, which should be considered because these can definitely affect the overall well-being of our City's administration.

Sincerely yours,
FRANK J. STOREY.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES
Sir—Since when has the Family Allowance been stopped when children are unable to attend school on account of sickness? One of my children has been sick, and missed over the period which is provided for them to miss. Can you invent some sickness that would not keep them from school over a day or two? It would have been a bill for $100.

I am, Sir,
MRS. SYLVIA LAMONT,
