THE DUTY ON WINE—THE "SELL" ON THE GOVERNMENT.

We asked the Government organ grinders, last week, a question respecting the importation of certain wines, by which the importer took advantage of a defect in the Revenue Act, thereby saving a considerable sum of money, which he would have had to pay if the Act had been properly framed. The organ-grinders, one and all, have preserved a death-like silence on the subject —thereby confirming our statement that the Act is shamefully defective—that the "Chancellor of the Exchequer" is the officer to blame—and that the Revenue has lost in consequence a very considerable sum of money. We can hardly blame the importer for using his ingenuity and knowledge of our public accounts—(and he had peculiar opportunities for acquiring the latter), by which he has put money in his purse, especially since, as we understand, the Attorney General has declared that the wine importer was right in paying no more than ten per cent. instead of 4s. per gallon on the wine, besides 5 per cent. ad valorem, which the Act contemplated; but the mischief is, that several others are going to follow his example—(and they have a perfect right to do so)—so that wine, for this year, may be imported in £20 pipes, subject to no more duty than is paid on a package of dry goods. Our Government and their supporters frequently boast of the great financial ability they possess. We have an admirable proof of it in this case.

THE "COMMERCE."

The Steamer Commerce left here on her second trip from this port on Wednesday evening last. She had, we understand, a full freight and a very large number of passengers. The enterprise of sending the Commerce on the route between Boston, Halifax, and Charlottetown, which was so unexpected a few months ago, is considered as very successful so far; and it is believed that the owner will put a second Boat upon the route in a short time, if the trade continues to increase. The Commerce will leave Boston on her third trip for Halifax and Charlottetown on Wednesday next.

Destructive Fire at Bridgetown Dundas.—On Sunday last, 5th inst., about 2 p. m. a fire, which had been burning in some piles on Mr. Vickerson's land, on Saturday, near the Dundas Road, was carried by a strong westerly wind through the woods along Dingwell's Road towards Grand River Bridge; and with such fearful rapidity was it driven along, that after the alarm was given, the people had not time to get on their working clothes, or make the least preparation in any way before it was on them. At first Saville's house appeared to be the only one in danger, but in a few minutes it was evident that every building and vessel near the Bridge was likely to fall a prey to the destroyer; for while the fire was yet a half mile distant from it, Mr. McDougall's shipyard took fire, and in less than a minute his large workshop was in flames. The building being full of shavings, made a perfect bonfire, and two men, sleeping in the loft, had scarcely time to escape with their lives. With a rapidity truly terrible the flames communicated to a cook-house occupied by John O'Donald, and from thence to Mr. McDougall's dwelling house, barn and warehouse, and thence to Mr. G. Wise's barn—the whole being in flames in less than fifteen minutes after the first alarm. There being only five men in the yard at the time, very little could be saved by these in so short a space; and very few of the neighbours could go to their assistance, as every one had more than enough to do to protect their own property. Mr. McDougall, finding he could not save his buildings, very wisely directed his attention to his vessels, which he managed with great exertions to save. His loss is very heavy, nearly all his furniture, a large lot of paints, oils, oakum, dry goods, and other material were destroyed, together with all the timber on the north side of the road. He is not the only loser; all the carpenters lost their tools, beds, and some of them their clothes, except what they had on at the time; and some lost sums of money. Some of the chests of tools burnt were worth £30. One man had not even a coat left, as he was in his shirt sleeves at the time. Mr. O'Donell lost heavily, and also Mr. Geo. Wise. Strange as it may appear, Mr. Jenkins's vessels, and all the buildings situate between the fire and Mr. McDougall's yard, escaped. It is a fearful calamity, as many will be sufferers, as it will be some time before Mr. McDougall will be able to proceed with his business in his usual way.—Com.

BARRACK SQUARE.

Mr. Whelan:—

Sir—The Government seem determined to sell the Barrack property, and for what? What became of the petition to Her Majesty, which His Honor the Recorder carried round for signature, requesting Her to withhold Her sanction from the Legislative act "to sell that property?" Could it be possible that petition never reached the British throne? or have we got to so low an ebb in the estimation of Her Majesty, that our petitions are treated as waste paper? It is reported that a plan of the Barrack property was sent with the Act, but as it did not agree with the original plan, another was sent for; but no mention is said to have been made about the petition. How is this? Does nobody know whether that petition ever left Charlottetown. In the meantime, can nothing be done to stem the crazy impetuosity with which the Government seem determined to act about that land? Can there not be a public meeting called and a requisition got up to ascertain the positive fate of that petition; and if it did not leave the Island, petition the Government to stop the sale till another petition be drawn up and sent to Her Majesty.

Surely we are not worse than Hottentots. If they petition Her Majesty, and she does not carry out its prayer for them, they are informed of its safe arrival, and some reason assigned why their request has not been admitted. But nobody here has heard or seen any intimation of the Charlottetown petition having been received by Her Majesty. Why is this? Loyal addresses can be sent from here about the marriage of the Prince of Wales, and about the birth of Her Majesty's grandson, that have been acknowledged, but nothing is said about the petition against selling the Barrack property! Could it not have been loyal in its tone, or respectful in expression, or did Her Majesty's Government advise her to sanction the sale of this property in the face of its prayer? There is something mysterious about this affair which ought to be cleared up before the day of sale. What can be done? Be it remembered the government of this Island are not almighty in this matter, for through the indomitable perseverance of one or two gentlemen, the original design cherished by the Government with respect to the continued enclosure of the streets which terminated with the Barrack premises, has been broken down, and some of these are to be carried through the property; and who can tell what else may be done through immediate and active perseverance?

Yours truly,

One who did not sign the Petition.

GREAT FEDERAL DEFEAT IN GEORGIA.

Bangor, June 9.

The Herald's correspondent says of Sherman's battle near Dallas on the 25th that the Confederates were entrenched behind breast-works throwing out a cavalry squad as a decoy.

Gen. Geary's (Federal) division pressed after them just up to the enemy's works, and was staggered by a withering fire of grape, cannister, and musketry.

Butterfield's division swung round on the left, and William's fell into the line of battle.

A general charge was made along the whole line, which was received with a shower of bullets. The 20th corps was badly pressed, and fell back before the destructive fire.

The 4th corps then came up, but darkness had stopped the combat.

The victory at New Hope (Georgia) 27 was won by the hardest fighting with severe losses.

The Herald's correspondent says of Hunter's advance, that upon assuming command he gave orders for performing its part of Grant's combination, taking only so much as soldiers could carry on their backs. Remainder was sent to the rear. Its business was to march or fight.

FROM GEORGIA.

The Richmond Examiner says:—"General Johnson, by all accounts, has a splendid army. The difficulties which he may experience as to an adequate supply of men and material cannot be greater, if they be not les, than those which attach to the Army of Northern Virginia. Each has his own lines secure, and each has now a chance to break the communications of his adversary. The telegram tells us, indeed, that already Johnston's cavalry has commenced operations on Sherman's trains, and at one blow has captured or destroyed two hundred and fort wagons.

The Atlanta Appeal says that preparations have long been made on the Chattahoochie river to dispute the passage of the enemy. This river is only five miles distant from Atlanta. Should the enemy force a passage over the river, of which we think but little fear need be indulged, then will come the great struggle for possession in the lines around the city. What the defences are every body knows, except the enemy. They have been inspected and approved.

The Nashville Times says:—

The region which General Sherman is now approaching is the great manufacturing region of rebeldom. Years before the rebellion a large amount of Northern capital was invested in iron furnaces and cotton factories, and it has been a windfall to the rebels. The Atlanta rolling mill is said to be the largest in the South. Last summer it was sold to Frazer & Co., the notorious blockade runners, who amassed a vast fortune at Charleston, for $500,000. The capture of these works will be disastrous to rebeldom, for it will be impossible to replace the machinery at other points.

Georgia has been of the first importance to the rebellion on account of her vast superiority in manufacturing facilities.

THE SITUATION.

The Boston Post of the 6th says: "As we write, the decisive battle may be in progress. It is supposed that Grant's force is massed heavily near Mechanicsville. War is a game of mathematics; Grant needs superior numbers to hold his opponent who is behind entrenchments; and in proportion to three times, at least, as many as he has to meet."

The position of the two armies is thus clearly stated by the Army and Navy Journal:—"Grant's position as facing Lee is one in echelon—his left thrown forward to Mechanicsville—his right withdrawn to the White House—his reserve massed on the Chickahominy, in rear of his left between Mechanicsville and Bottom Bridge. Lee occupies the position from which Branch was driven in the battle of Hanover Court House, and from which Jackson advanced to the attack of Ganies's Mill." Grant is on almost the precise ground which McClellan was on two years ago. If Lee, the Army and Navy Journal says, "intends to defend Richmond by remaining outside of it, here will occur the decisive conflict for its possession. It is impossible to suppose that he will repeat the blunder of Pemberton, and permit himself to be shut up within the fortifications of any town. It is equally impossible to believe that Grant will give him time to fortify the position he now occupies. Hence, unless the fertile genius of Grant discovers some shorter cut to victory, it is at this point that the great battle which will determine the fate of Lee's army, of Richmond and Virginia, must take place. Let its value not be underrated, and let no means of ensuring success be neglected. Every soldier not present with the Army of the Potomac in that decisive struggle is wasted. Raids in the Shenandoah Valley, operations in Western Virginia attacks upon Petersburg, guerilla fights near Fairfax, are all matters of entire unimportance compared with this great struggle. Let us hope then that the Government realizes this, as the country does, and all will be well."

Outrages by Federal Troops in Louisiania.—A correspondent of a Houston (Texas) paper gives a lengthy Southern version of the victories won over Gen. Banks, in the course of which he states: "Many stately residences along the route are blackened ruins, the fences destroyed by fire, and a scene of desolation is seen on every side. I wondered what the object was for an army and people who professed to belong to a christian nation to thus devastate the land they profess to come to save—oh shame, where is thy blush? I had formerly believed that many of the stories of the burning of dwellings, robberies of churches, &c., were exaggerated. But after seeing these things with my own eyes I am now satisfied they are true. A Catholic church in the Spanish settlement, near Double Bayou Bridge, was sacked, and the church ornaments carried away; even the window curtains were taken. This cannot be denied. In the knapsack of one of the Nineteenth army corps was found the jewelry of a young lady. Ear-rings, breast-pins, and even her under-clothing was there. I will do the enemy the justice to say that the orders of their generals severly punish outrages of this kind, but many of the inferior officers encourage their men to do these acts, and even share with them in the spoils. These representations are no bombast or misrepresentation. I can vouch for their truth. Well may we say, 'O Union, what atrocities are committed in thy name.'"

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—Preventives of weakness.—Whenever circumstances produce impure blood, or lessen the force of the circulation, stagnation takes place in the lungs, and consumption or other formidable symptoms discover themselves. Let Holloway's remedies be tried on the first feelings of debility, or on the first annoyance from a dry, hacking cough. The Ointment should be well rubbed, twice a day, upon the chest, and between the shoulders, and the Pills should be taken in alterative doses, to purify the blood and cleanse the system, without weakening it, by rousing or aggravating existing nervous irritation. These observations carry additional weight in summer, when decline and general weakness from heat and other causes are more apt to prevail.

An enlarged and improved Edition of A WORK ENTITLED

"Sar obair nam Bard Gaelach,"

—OR—

The Beauties of Gaelic Poetry,

—AND—

LIVES OF THE HIGHLAND BARDS;

—WITH—

Historical and Critical Notes,

—AND—

A Glossary of Provincial Words,

By Norman McDonald, Esquire

A MR. CHISHOLM is now travelling in the Island soliciting subscriptions for the above work, which comprises, in English, Biographical sketches of thirty-five different poets,—and, in Gaelic, selections from the works of each author, with English translations of a few of the best lyrics; the whole interspersed with explanatory and critical notes in both languages, thus rendering the publication a work of surpassing interest to the lover of song and the admirer of true poetic genius, and indeed to every Highlander, or person of Highland descent, who, amid the degeneracy of our times, still retains some partiality for the land designated in song, "Tir nam beann, nan gleann, 'sriam breacan."

The work consists of about 350 pages, printed on good paper, with small clean type and close matter, and is bound in different styles to suit fancy.

Orders for the above work will be received at the "Vindicator" Office. The price varies in accordance with the style of binding, from 9s. to 12s. 6d. and upwards Halifax currency.

Great Attraction!!

Rare opportunity for purchasing Building Sites.

22 LOTS.

THE PUBLIC are respectfully informed that an opportunity now offers such as seldom occurs. That valuable piece of ground heretofore known as the Barrack Square, will be sold on the spot by PUBLIC AUCTION, on Tuesday, 14th June next.

Great care has been taken to lay out the various sites in the most judicious manner, so as to combine the useful with the ornamental. A handsome esplanade, sixty feet wide on the entire sea face, has been reserved as a Promenade and carriage drive for the beauty and fashion of the city, and the spot, which embraces one of the most enchanting and picturesque panoramas, bids fair to become this favorite resort of all.

Now that a noble line of steamers connects our city with the neighboring continent, the time has arrived when an HOTEL must be built;—here then is the spot upon which to raise a building suitable to the requirements of the numerous visitors who visit our shores in pursuit of health, business and recreation.

STEAMERS FOR HILLSBOROUGH AND ELLIOT RIVERS.

Colonial Secretary's Office,
May 24th, 1864.

NOTICE is hereby given that in pursuance of the Act of the General Assembly of this Island passed in the 27th year of Her present Majesty's Reign, intituled "An Act relating to Steam Communication between Charlottetown and certain parts of the Hillsborough and Elliot Rivers, and to repeal a certain Act therein mentioned"—Proposals will be received at this office until MONDAY the TWENTIETH day of JUNE next, at the hour of 12 o'clock, noon, from persons willing to place and run a STEAMER or STEAMERS on the said Rivers, under contract with the Government of this Colony in terms of the said Act. The contractor to have the exclusive right of running one or more good and sufficient Steamboat or Steamboats for the use and accommodation of the public between CHARLOTTETOWN and MOUNT STEWART BRIDGE on the Hillsborough River, touching at the respective Wharfs on the north and south side of the said River, at McConnell's Ferry, on the way up and down said River; and between CHARLOTTETOWN and ROCKY POINT WHARF on the south side of the Elliot River, the said Steamboat or Boats to be bound to run at least twice, that is to say, on Tuesday and Friday in each week, between Charlottetown and Mount Stewart Bridge on the said Hillsborough River, touching at each of the Wharfs above mentioned, on the way up and down said River; and twice on each of those days weekly between Charlottetown and Rocky Point Wharf, on the Elliot River, from the opening of the Navigation to the close thereof in each and every year (commencing from the opening of the Navigation in the year 1865) during the continuance of such contract. The sailing of the Steamboat on said routes to be regulated thus:—

The Boat to start from Mount Stewart Bridge on the mornings of Tuesday and Friday, at such an hour as to enable her to reach Charlottetown at or before 9 o'clock, a.m.; having landed her passengers and freight at Charlottetown, to leave there not later than a quarter past 9 for Rocky Point Wharf. To leave Rocky Point Wharf no later than 10 o'clock, a. m., for Charlottetown.—To leave Charlottetown at 3 o'clock, p. m., for Rocky Point Wharf, thence returning without delay to Charlottetown; to leave Charlottetown at 4 o'clock, p. m., for Mount Stewart Bridge, and arriving there the same evening.

The Contractor to have the privilege of running said Steamboat or Boats on any of the intermediate days, namely, on Monday, Thursday and Saturday in each week, on either of said Rivers; it being understood that should said Boat or Boats run upon the Elliot to a point above McEwen's Wharf on the south side of said River, such Boat or Boats shall touch at that Wharf, and also at McEachern's Wharf on the north side on the way up and down said River.—Proposals to specify the rates of fare or charges at which the owner or owners of said Boat or Boats will agree to convey passengers, luggage, and freight upon each of the said Rivers or routes respectively, from the different points or places to Charlottetown, and vice versa. The Contract to be entered into to contain such clauses, stipulations and agreements as may be deemed by the Executive Government necessary or desirable for the security of the passengers and property to be conveyed in and on board of such Steamboat or Steamboats, or which may, in any way or manner, tend to the convenience or accommodation of the public. The Contractor to be bound to convey mails by such Steamboat or Boats if required by the Executive Government, or the Post Office Department so to do.

Proposals to state the length of time proposed to run the Boats, the Act being limited to ten years. The Contractors to give Bonds with two sufficient sureties for the due performance of such contract as may be entered into.
